The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVIII, No. 80 — TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1949

Million 'Lunge Fry In Local Lakes

More than 1,000,000 maskinonge fry in 1948 were put into the Peterborough County waterways by the Department of Lands and Forests, Fish and Wildlife Division according to a letter received by the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association.

In addition there were 36,450 maskinonge fingerlings planted and slightly more than 100 adults.

Also included in the 1948 fish plantings were 39,000 smallmouth bass fingerlings, 10,300 speckled trout, 30,000 lake trout fingerlings, 100,000 herring fry, 12,000 brown trout yearlings, and 40,000 largemouth bass fry and 94 adult.

The Peterborough Fish and Game Association was responsible for the large bulk of these requisitions, and private individuals for a smaller amount. According to Cam. Rowatt, president of the Association, it is now trying to get local resort owners to order through the Association so there will be no duplications in the requisitioning.

Such a move, it is felt, would be in the interests of all concerned—the resort owners, the Association, and the Department.

This year's requisitions are already in and they are about the same or even more than last year, Mr. Rowatt told the Examiner.

SPRING TIME IS MOVING TIME for some people, and occasionally houses. On Monday snack bar owner Tony Marino moved his business lock, stock and barrel from his old site on the corner of Perry and George Sts., to a new site one block south on Lake St. It was accomplished with a minimum of work and traffic congestion on busy George St. South.

Deprived Twice Of Site By Zoning Bylaw

Wilfred Lunn, 656 Park St. south, complained to the council Monday night that the zoning bylaw had twice deprived him of the use of property he bought for a service station.

And not only that, he said, but the bylaw has not been passed, has no legal effect, but has been pursuing him with an energy that appears real. First he bought a lot on Park St south, expecting to realize his dream in a smart appearing "gas" station. It transpired that he was urged at the city hall not to invest in that property because gasoline pumps were not highly regarded in planning quarters as fit companions for other business premises.

Finally, it dawned on Mr. Lunn that he was excluded from the new Park St. About that time he enquired as to where the next neighborhood business spot might develop, and the Cameron-Monaghan Road section was mentioned. Mr. Lunn bought himself a gas pump site at the southeast corner, believed that he was all set, but for some reason he did not get about building. Then that section of the township was annexed, and it was in the city, and the town planning ideals reached into that area, and put the finger on the Lunn gas station project.

The question Mr. Lunn asked the council was more or less: "I'd like to know where I stand."

Mr. Lunn knows that the zoning bylaw has not been passed, and also the other circumstances of people generally accepting the spirit of planning and zoning even when their interests were materially affected.

In the words of Ald. Doug Miller: "By this time he must be getting browned off."

Mr. Lunn's request was referred to the town planning committee in a motion by Aldermen Young and Burrows.

Ald D. Miller: "In view of the fact that town planning is as is, where does Mr. Lunn stand if he chooses to go ahead?"

JP For 5 Counties

James J. Fleming, Justice of the Peace for the County of Peterborough and Clerk of city police court, has, by an order in council, been appointed a J.P. for the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, the County of Victoria and the provisional county of Haliburton in addition to Peterborough.

Firemen Agree To Undertake Minor Repairs

Maintenance duties, minor repairs and "alterations as agreed upon by Chief George Smith and the Union" is the phrasing of the work clause in the proposed agreement between the council and the Firemen's Union.

The new condition in that defining is set out in the words following "alterations" — to be agreed upon by the Chief and the Union. Objection of the men was to the latitude of the unrestricted term,—the possibility of its embracing some major construction. Their recent statement to the council was that they were not opposed to the ordinary work, including minor repairs, but the draft agreement was too inclusive as it was written.

Ald Doug Miller informed the council Monday night that "the color scheme has been straightened out with the Firemen's Union," a reference to the arrangement for holidays, "and the wording in the agreement has been changed to 'minor repairs, maintenance and alterations as agreed upon by the Chief and the Union.' The executive of the Union are going to put the changes to a general meeting for approval. I feel sure they'll finally accept it."

American Doctor Dies Wife Local Singer

Funeral service for the late Dr. Heber H. Ward, 67, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was held on Saturday in the Memorial Chapel of Cypress Hills Cemetery. He died at his home on March 31st from a heart ailment.

He was born in West Virginia and received his medical training at Louisville University. He practised in Mexico and in cities of many European countries. In London, he married the former Lavina Hallihan of Peterborough, a singer of some repute, who at one time took part in performances of opera in London.

Dr. Ward was a member of Kings County and the American Medical Societies and was formerly on the staff of the Brooklyn Hospital and latterly the Good Samaritan Hospital, where he specialized in children's ailments.

His wife, Lavina Hallihan Ward, survives him. She is remembered locally as a soloist in R. J. Devey productions like "The Geisha" a generation ago. A brother, Oscar Hallihan, of the Customs House, lives on Perry street.

Mrs. T. Curtin Funeral

Funeral for the late Mrs. Thos. Curtin, of Maniece Ave., was held on Saturday from the Lane Funeral Home to the Immaculate Conception Church. The Rev. J. Killan said requiem mass and pall-bearers were Wilfred and Robert Curtin, William Dolan, Sr., and William Dolan, Jr., Michael Pearson and Daniel Creely. The Rev. J. J. Greenan conducted the graveside service and burial was at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mrs. Curtin died last Thursday in hospital following a lengthy illness. She was born in Kinmount, Laura, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNamara, and had lived in Peterborough for the past 12 years. She was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Three Girls, 14 Wanderlusting Found In Town

Two Toronto and one Lakefield girl, all aged 14, were found by Peterborough City Police late Monday night after they had been missing from their homes since Friday. Irene Curtis, 359 Brock Ave., Toronto; Dorothy Thompson, also of Toronto and Violet Irwin, Lakefield, were located by Constables Victor McConnell and Edward Niziol in a restaurant on Peterborough city outskirts.

Mrs. Curtis who left her sick husband in Toronto to come to Peterborough in search of her daughter, has taken her back to Toronto. Violet Irwin has been taken by relatives in Lakefield and Dorothy Thompson was held at the Shelter awaiting the arrival of relatives.

Mrs. Curtis told city police she had been endeavouring for a long time to separate the three girls. She thought they had only a dollar each when they left on Friday. They were known to have left Toronto Saturday and were seen in Buckhorn by relatives on Sunday. It is believed they travelled from there by bus to Peterborough in search of work.

Police Charge Attempted Rape

Leo Webb, 28, Smith Township, faced charges of attempted rape and indecent assault before Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. at city police court today. Bail was set at $5,000 after he elected trial by a higher court.

Webb was arrested Monday by Constable Claire McGillen shortly after police were called to the home of a woman in Otonabee struggling against a man later struggling against a wan later identified by her as Webb.

When Constable McGillen arrived at the house a young mother of a two and a half year old baby told how she had struggled for two hours before she had been able to send the accused away from the house.

The man had called at the house to ask to use the telephone, she told the constable. He had given his name as Dennis McCarthy. She said she gave him the telephone book and when he asked her to take a look at it, he attacked her. She struggled as the man removed clothing and tried in vain to lift the telephone receiver, in the hope that her baby's cries would be heard.

The man left after remaining in th house for two hours and neighbors, whom the woman called, telephoned the police.

On learning that the assailant had been given a lift in a truck, Constable McGillen drove to Lakefield and met the vehicle two miles outside the village. The driver told him that he had given a man a lift and had let him out on the Nassau Rd.

Constable McGillen arrested Webb in a field beside his house on the Nassau Rd.

H. G. Douglas of Knox United Church of which Mrs. Brown was a member. Interment was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Andrew Jackson, Alex Clark, Douglas Hutton, Byers Smith, George Siddall and Frederick Storey.

She leaves to mourn her death: two sons, James and Andrew of Peterborough. Her husband predeceased her in 1929.

Out-of-town friends who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Esther Jones and Mr. John Donaldson of Hamilton; Mrs. Shaw and daughters Nellie, Annie and Mary of Toronto.

Abandon Action To Assess Federal Lands

On the advice of City Solicitor W. F. Huycke, K. C., city council voluntarily abandoned Monday night their action to assess and collect taxes on four Crown properties occupied by Trent Canal employees.

The recommendation of Mr. Huycke was based on an Appeal Court judgment given March 16 in a similar case. Its effect was to confirm the contention of the Canal Department that no lands belonging to the Dominion of Canada shall be liable to taxation.

The government employee tenants in this case were: Eric Kimble at No. 7 lock; Alex McIlvena and Bruce Clarke at the Liftlock and J. P. Francis on Armour Road south.

Mr. Huycke reviewed the circumstances of this case which he said had been "batted around for quite awhile," especially in the claims of the assessment department that the canal department properties were taxable by the city.

"The houses owned by the Crown were placed on the assessment roll in 1948 as liable to be assessed. Court of Revision confirmed the assessment. The tenants appealed to Judge Smoke, and His Honor, by written judgment Jan. 3, also confirmed the assessment.

Test Removed

The test was, did the occupants hold the lands in question in an official capacity under the Crown? This test was removed by the Ontario Legislature in 1946-47, and section 38 of the Assessment Act was redrafted to read: "The tenant of land owned by the Crown where rent or valuable consideration in respect of such land is paid in respect of such land, is assessed in the same way as if the land were owned by him as a private citizen."

There had been deductions from the pay of each of the Peterborough lockmasters in the sum of $5 a month which, on the paysheets, had been shown as 'house rent', and it was on that fact that Judge Smoke based his decision. The Lockmasters then appealed to the Ontario Municipal Board.

On January 16 a case was heard in the Ontario Court of Appeal which was practically identical with the Peterborough action.

In the township of Middleton two employees of the Experimental Farm near Delhi in the tobacco country were assessed by the municipality upon the interest of the two men in the premises they occupied. One was the senior official in charge of the farm and the other was a teamster. The township's assessment was upheld by the court of revision and the county judge.

"Each man was paid by salary and received the use of a house, and there was deducted from the salary of the man in charge the sum of $30, and from the teamster's salary, $15 a month for the use of the respective houses they occupied as employees of the Experimental Farm. The assessment was appealed. The Province of Ontario was represented by counsel on this appeal, and argued that the 1946 legislation was within the powers of the province."

Allow Appeal

The Court of Appeal Mar. 16 gave judgment allowing the appeal with costs. The Judges of the Court of Appeal held that the official in charge of the Experimental Farm and the teamster were not tenants but merely servants of the Crown, and also that section 38 of the assessment act as it now stands is ultra vires (beyond the authority) of the Legislature of Ontario, as it is contrary to section 125 of the British North America Act which reads: "No lands or property belonging to Canada or any province shall be liable to taxation."

"All three judges gave written judgments, and this being so I consider it quite impossible to endeavor to hold our present judgment. I advise, therefore, that the appellants be notified accordingly. Up to the present no costs have been given against the loser as is the practice, but from now on the general practice is that the loser pays.

"I really regret to advise throwing up a case which I have won to date, but I have read the statement of facts and law presented to the Court of Appeal by John Cartwright, KC, and W. P. Mackay, KC, counsel for the respective parties, and also the reasons for the judgment in the Court of Appeal, five or six times, and I think that by so doing the city will avoid paying some fairly heavy costs."

The council's motion adopting Mr. Huycke's report was presented by Aldermen Anglesey and Burrows.

35 Garage Operators Favor Present Regulations Eight Others Are Opposed

Of 46 operators of local garages and service stations who were recently questioned regarding their hours of business, 35 replied in favor of the present regulations, 8 were not in favor of them, and three did not reply. This was the substance of the answers to a questionnaire sponsored by the Peterborough Garage Operators' Association as reported to the council Monday night by Mr. George R. Melton, president.

"We do not presume to speak for all the operators in the city because many are not members," Mr. Melton wrote. "The questionnaire was designed to solicit information which would ensure to City Council the co-operation requested to provide an honest and adequate service to consumers, both local and transient."

"It will be seen that a fraction over 76 per cent. are definitely in favor of the bylaw, while 17 per cent. are opposed and nearly 7 per cent. are doubtful."

"As the regulations apply at present, gasoline is available from retail outlets between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. on week days, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays. No operator is eligible to provide a 24-hour emergency road service as defined by the bylaw, since none qualifies."

"It would appear from the information provided by a majority of the operators that this association is not authorized to take any action involving the replacing of the present bylaw with a new one, it being understood that an amendment is out of the question, and, therefore, not to be considered."

Factors Considered

"In arriving at this conclusion the following factors have to be considered:

(1) A large majority favor control enacted by the existing bylaw.

(2) A majority oppose any arrangement which permits gas being sold from pumps through a complete 24-hour cycle.

(3 No restrictions have been imposed upon the trade with respect to maintenance or repair work, other than those provided by the Department of Labor.

(4) Towing service on a round the clock basis can be and is being provided by several operators in the city.

(5) It is generally conceded that the motoring public are being served fairly, and that early closing regulations have the support of the vast majority of the public and are in line with similar regulations which make for betterment of employment in all classes of industry."

Willing To Reconsider

"Notwithstanding what has been stated, this association is prepared seriously to consider any proposal which may be put forward by the legal committee which, in the opinion of the committee, would provide a service which the motoring public, local and transient require."

"If such a proposal is favorably received by a suitable majority, we will again sponsor a petition for a new bylaw, providing an assurance is given that the existing bylaw will not be repealed in the interim. As previously stated, this association does not include in its membership certain operators who answered the questionnaire. We have no authority to speak for them other than to provide this summary of their convictions combined with that of members of this association."

Failed To Remain

A charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident on which Maxwell Austin, 100 Kent St., was remanded at city police court today, followed an incident at the Stewart and King Sts. intersection late Monday. Austin was arrested by Constable Victor McConnell shortly after his car and a car driven by Samuel Vint, 553 Roger St., had been involved in a collision.

The right fender of Mr. Vint's car was damaged, the right front fender of Mr. Austin's car was dented and the leadlamp broken.

Probing Police Retrieve Cottage Loot

Good progress is being made in the intensive investigation now going forward into the series of summer cottage break-ins in the Pigeon and Buckhorn Lake areas which were discovered last weekend, Provincial Police authorities stated today. They announced that a considerable quantity of the large amount of goods stolen in two of the biggest breaks has been recovered. The loot was taken to headquarters of the force on Charlotte street where it awaits identification by the owners.

Completing Probe.

Police officials said that they were hopeful of being able to complete their investigation by nightfall today. Provincial Constables Hanson and Grayling, who worked on the cases all day Monday, left for the scene of the breaks again this morning to continue search for missing goods and clues as to the identity of the perpetrators.

Effects recovered so far belong to Syd Black, 598 Donegal street, E. W. Watson, 720 Stewart street, and W. E. Ferver of Pittsburg, Pa., U.S.A. Two sons of Mr Ferver arrived in Peterborough on Monday to assist police in identification of goods taken from their father's camp, which consisted almost entirely of personal clothing.

It is believed that the number of cottages burglarized may run as high as ten altogether, with several located in the vicinity of Gannon's Narrows being among those entered.

Twelve Alleys To Be Built

Ross Wright, 567 McKellar ave., received from the council Monday night permission to construct at George and Perry Streets accommodation for twelve bowling alleys.

The property has a 120-feet frontage on George St. and 114 feet flankage on Perry St. Dimensions of the building are 72 feet on George St. by a depth of 111 ft., leaving a 40-foot strip for parking space.

Work on the building is to be begun at once. The old shop at the corner which was finally used as a refreshment stand was moved down to the southwest corner of George and Lake Streets.

SOUTH MONAGHAN COUPLE, Mr. and Mrs. James Hilliard Caldwell, celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today. Prior to 1941 they lived in Hope township for many years.

Monaghan Couple Celebrate Golden Anniversary Today

Mr. and Mrs. James Hilliard Caldwell of the hamlet of South Monaghan celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today with a gathering of relatives, including 11 grandchildren, and many friends.

They have been residents of South Monaghan for only the past eight years, having come there from Hope township when Mr. Caldwell sold his farm that was handed down to him from father and grandfather. Born on the home place 73 years ago, son of the late James Caldwell and Ellen Mitchell, and as his father and forefathers had done before him, worked the land well and provided himself with a good living.

He married Lena Cooper, who lived on the next concession in Clark township and they raised a family of one son and one daughter. They are James Caldwell of Cobourg who is superintendent County Home Farm and Mrs. Fred Lawrey (Olive) of Millbrook. They attended the Presbyterian Church in Garden Hill for many years where Mrs. Caldwell played the organ. Previous to her marriage she also played in the Kendall Presbyterian Church.

They sold the homestead in 1941 and moved to South Monaghan where Mr. Caldwell bought a chopping and sawmill from Sherman Cooper of Cobourg. He disposed of the sawmill unit and continued to operate the chopping mill for the next five years. For a man of 65 to learn this new trade was just a matter of application and hard work, according to Mr. Caldwell. He had to give it up due to his health and they have been living quietly in the little hamlet ever since.

Rented Manse

They were fortunate in being able to rent the Presbyterian Church manse, a fine large place on the west side of the highway and are content to keep the acre of grounds in good order.

They have frequent visits from their children and grandchildren and occasionally from his two brothers, Roderick and George, and a sister, Miss Isabel Caldwell, all of Port Hope.

In discussing his wife's talent for playing the organ, Mr. Caldwell said he thought if the same educational programs were available in his day that are practiced now, he would have liked to study some sort of music. As it is, he enjoys the radio and listens especially to sports.

Fraserville News

The final progressive euchre party of the season was held this week by Fraserville club. Seven tables were played and prizes were won by Miss Mae Moncrief, Miss Olive Moncrief, Mr. P. Monchief and Mr. L. Hewitt. A pie and ice cream lunch followed.

Women have a longer life span than men, according to official figures.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

As his part in the Central Home and School Association's program on character building, the Rev. Dr. James Semple chose "Chief Concerns of a Boy's Life" for the subject of an address at the Monday evening meeting.

"These concerns are six," he said, "health, home, work, citizenship, leisure and religion." Dr. Semple enlarged upon each topic with inspiring thoughts. "Health of a boy is wealth of the nation," he quoted, and stressed that bad health is a serious handicap.

"Teach boys how to work. A lazy boy is a liability no matter where he is," he said. "Remember they are citizens now as well as in the future. Fill their leisure hours with some form of recreation. Loafing is a bad habit."

In conclusion Dr. Semple pointed out that Christ should be presented to boys as a companion and a guide.

Introduction of the speaker was made by Mr. K. McKee of the teaching staff and appreciation was expressed by Mrs. E. A. Outram.

Two vocal solos by Mrs. Wallace Andrew, who was accompanied by Mrs. C. D. Munro, were much enjoyed. Also piano duets by Miss Dorothy White and Mrs. Allan Milburn.

An interesting film about Scottish Crofters was shown by Mr. L. Bird.

Mrs. S. Malsch, president, took the chair for the business session and made special mention of Canada's new province, Newfoundland.

Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. T. Pritchard and assistants.

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL

Miss Esther Deyell of the teaching staff received the members and guests of Queen Mary Home and School Association at the meeting Monday evening. Mrs. C. G. Collins, president, presided.

Guest speaker was Miss Norah Lee of Toronto, who is executive secretary of the Protestant Children's Homes in Toronto. After a short address on this subject, Miss Lee had a film shown, "Who is My Neighbor?", which was made at the request of the Canadian Welfare Council and was taken by the National Film Board. It was in three sections: 1st, the evolution of social work in this country from pioneer days; 2nd, social work as it is today where the social worker is trained and showing her at work in the field and how they work along with the community chest; 3rd, what takes place when a social worker goes into the home.

Miss Lois Holman entertained with two excellent piano selections, "Giga" by Paradies and "Airs and Variations of Haydn."

Parents' attendance award was won by Miss Deyell's room.

Mrs. G. H. Hutchinson and Mrs. E. S. Kingdon received the members and guests at the door. The meeting was opened with Mrs. George Gatfield reading the Home and School prayer.

The program featured several choruses by the senior choir under direction of Mr. Jack Telford Community singing was also enjoyed with Mr. Telford leading.

DOROTHY DIX

Marriage May End Thrills But What Does It Matter

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for five years and during that time I have been blissit is, but that indefinable "something" is missing. The thrill seems to have gone from my life. fully happy. But something has happened to my marriage. I don't know just what My husband feels the same way about it. He has become restless and baffled.

Dorothy Dix

What is it all about? And what is the remedy?

WORRIED COUPLE.

ANSWER: What has happened to your marriage? Nothing at all, except that you have quit thrilling at each other's touch, and no longer have palpitation of the heart at the sound of each other's footsteps. But what of it? What does it matter? Nothing. Absolutely nothing. By its very nature a thrill is bound to be evanescent. Repetition inevitably takes the edge off of it.

You can't be startled by anything happening the second time. You are prepared for it and you are no longer surprised, but that doesn't keep you from enjoying it. Your pulse may not skip a beat at the approach of one you love and see every day of your life, but that doesn't keep it from being the dearest thing in the world to you.

The trouble with so many young people is that when they cease thrilling after marriage they decide that they have fallen out of love, and they go seeking these thrills in forbidden places, and that is fatal. For no kisses thrill for long, and no human being can long exist in the rarefied atmosphere of passion. We have to come down to earth.

Horse Sense Needed

The remedy for your case is a little good, hard, horse sense that will enable you to meet with philosophy a situation that occurs in every marriage. And a little change, getting away from each other for a little while, will keep you from wrecking your lives.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My mother and father accuse me of being ashamed of them because I object to their sitting in the living room whenever I have company. It isn't that at all, because I love my parents and am proud of them, but don't you think that a girl should have a little privacy when she entertains her boy friends?

SALLY.

ANSWER: I certainly do, and I don't think any girl's family is giving her a square deal unless they provide her with some place where she can receive her beaux out of earshot of her curious relatives, and safe from the maraudings of little brother and sister.

It isn't that the young people if left alone would do or say anything wrong. It is just that the presence of their elders cramps their style. They want to be silly and giggle and laugh, and they can't do that with the family gallery all about.

The parents who are not willing to give up the living room to Sally may well reflect that they are doing all they can to make her an old maid, for no youth is going to pay a return call on a girl when he has to spend the evening in the bosom of her family.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am engaged to a wonderful girl. We would be so happy except for my mother, who never leaves us alone a minute that she can help. She has three other sons, but she concentrates on me and clings to me like a leech.

Now I love my mother dearly, but I would like to be able to go out with my fiancee alone, without Mother always tagging along. My girl friend says that she is fed up with Mom's company, but what can I do to shake Mother? I don't want to hurt her feelings.

A SON.

ANSWER: The only thing you can do is to have a very frank talk with your mother and tell her that she is ruining your life. Tell her that you want to be alone with your sweetheart. Ask her if she doesn't remember her own courting days when three was a crowd?

There is no more insoluble problem in the world than the mother who is a spiritual parasite on her children.

Local Protests UE Suspension From CCL Council

A resolution protesting the suspension of the UE from the Executive Council of the CCL was passed on Monday night at an executive meeting of Local 524 UE-CIO.

The recording secretary, Cyril O'Donnell, was instructed to write to the CCL registering the protest and asking for the union's immediate reinstatement.

"We feel we should have representation on the executive," Jack Morton, president of Local 524 told the Examiner today. "On behalf of the workers I say we do not want to be expelled."

Explaining the action of his local Mr. Morton said "we want the right of free speech."

But according to the recording secretary, Mr. O'Donnell, this does not mean a blanket endorsement of UE policy.

"In taking this action the executive wants it to remain clear that it has never endorsed all aspects of UE policy," he said.

At the same executive meeting it was also agreed that a letter should be sent to the Ontario Federation of Labor protesting its action in failing to notify the UE of its proposed brief to the Ontario Minister of Labor.

C. R. Sullivan, district representative, told the Examiner that it is the laid-down procedure for the Federation to send each affiliate a copy of its proposed brief to the Minister. The Federation's brief deals with the labor situation in the province generally.

"The Federation acted as though we were already suspended," commented President Morton.

Write Protest Letter

Local 527 UE-CIO also denounced the UE's suspension from the Executive Council and instructed its recording secretary to write a protest letter to the CCL. A letter is to be despatched to the Ontario Federation of Labor strongly criticizing its action in not keeping the UE informed on contents of the brief.

A joint board of GE-UE locals, including delegates from Peterborough, Cobourg and Toronto, on Monday sent a sharp protest telegram to Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the CCL.

The telegram read in part: "Six thousand GE employees protest the action of the CCL Executive Council in suspending the UE from representation on the Executive Council and demand reinstatement and preservation of the rights of criticism, opposition and minority views within labor's parliament."

It was claimed in the telegram that these "rights" were essential "to safeguard democracy, unity, and freedom of the whole labor movement."

Gets 8-Day Remand On Murder Charge

SUDBURY, April 5 —(CP)— Handcuffed, and wearing prison garb, Albert "Punch" Quesnel of Espanola, appeared in Sudbury Magistrate's Court this morning facing a charge of murder. He was again remanded eight days on request of Crown Attorney E. D. Wilkins. No evidence was taken and Quesnel was not represented by counsel.

The murder charge against Quesnel is the aftermoth of the sex-slaying of 71-year-old Mrs. Harry Cleland at Espanola on the night of March 25. Mrs. Cleland was returning to her home from a bingo party in Espanola when she was attacked and dragged into a swampy bush. Her body was found the following morning by two Espanola children playing in the vicinity.

Reach Agreement

DETROIT, April 5 (AP)—Possibility of the lay-off of 15,000 workers at the Chrysler Corporation was averted Monday night when an agreement was reached in a threatened strike at the Midland Street Products Company. The Midland firm supplies the Chrysler Corporation with automobile body frames. The Midland dispute involved the discharge of 11 employees. Under the agreement they will be reinstated.

Face Eight Charges

TORONTO, April 5 (CP) —Toronto's so-called "Mutt and Jeff" robbers—arrested last Friday in Montreal—will face eight charges of armed robbery here, police said today. During a two month spree, Joseph Forsythe, 23, of Toronto, and 25-year-old Ralph Pyne, formerly of New Brunswick, netted some $1,490 in cash, they told police, most of which they spent on liquor. Neither had a previous police record.

Sues Over Sore Foot

NEWARK, N.J., April 5—(AP) —Mrs. Evelyn Brander Monday was awarded $2,000 in damages because a clerk wedged her foot into a too-small slipper. She had sued a shoe store because the clerk "failed to use reasonable care, skill and judgment in fitting shoes" resulting in a torn ligament in her foot.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

At Port Arthur, Brandon Wheat Kings crept to within one game of winning their best-of-seven Western Canada junior semi-final series against Port Arthur Bruins by defeating the defending Memorial Cup champions 5-2 in the third game Monday night. The Wheat Kings need one more win to meet either Calgary Buffaloes or Moose Jaw Canucks in the Western final.

Benny Civitello, 18-year-old apprentice jockey from Newark, Del., equalled a Maryland mile horse race track record Monday by riding six straight winners in eight races at Bowie. The famed Earle Sande first accomplished that feat at Havre de Grace in 1919. Civitello's string was one short of the United States record of seven winners in one day held jointly by Joe Sylvester and Herman Phillips.

At Kingston, Gananoque Legionnaires scored a 5-3 victory on Monday night over Midland Sailors to take the first game in the best-of-three semi-final series for the Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate A title. Fair and Jackson each tallied twice for Gananoque, with Atkins scoring the other. Ambueau started the Midland scoring in the second period and Toole and O'Hearn added the rest in the final period.

Finds Premiere On Broadway Much Quieter

By BOB THOMAS

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP). — How does a Broadway first night compare with a Hollywood premiere?

Now I've seen both. I attended the opening of Thomas Mitchell and Walter Abel in "Biggest Thief in Town," which seemed to me a slow-starting but amusing comedy. The other show on the theatre side of the footlights was just as interesting to me.

A Broadway opening seems less frenzied than filmtown blowouts. I counted but four cops outside the Mansfield Theatre and less than 50 rubbernecks. A delicatessen opening draws more than that in Hollywood.

Of course, there were no searchlights; they don't seem to be used in New York at all. I saw only one autograph seeker and one amateur photographer. They found little game. The only names I spied were Boris Karloff and Roland Young.

Fewer Beauties

The audience dressed better than those at Hollywood premieres, but there were fewer beauties. Only a few showed up in formal jackets and moccasins.

For what it lacks in glamor, the New York opening makes up in excitement. There's a thrill about a first night, the sport of watching whether a show will be a hit or flop. There doesn't seem to be an in-between.

The critics occupy the centre of attraction. Their grins or frowns can make or break a show. Their counterparts in Hollywood have less importance. A picture can be a success without critical acclaim. A play usually can't.

Hick's Impressions

A Hollywood hicks impressions of a first visit to the Big Town:

The dazzlement of the Times Square signs, each trying to outdo the others . . .

The massive backstage of the Radio City Music Hall, more like a factory than a theatre . . . the friendliness of the natives. And its supposed to be a tough town!

After 4 Years London Still Sits On Bombs

By H. L. JONES

LONDON, April 5 (CP). — Almost four years after the end of the war London still finds itself literally sitting on a load of high explosive — five tons of it.

The TNT is contained in 19 unexploded German bombs of varying sizes still to be dealt with by bomb disposal squads. Dropped by the Luftwaffe between 1940 and 1944, they lie buried in back gardens, recreation grounds and fields in the Greater London area.

Since the start of the war London's No. 2 Bomb Disposal Company of the Royal Engineers under Major F. Knight have dealt with more than 1,700 bombs and never lost a man.

Now the job of these men — and the former German prisoners-of-war volunteers who help them — will soon be done. It's expected the remaining 19 bombs will be disposed of in a few months and the squad disbanded.

Under Power Station

Largest of London's last surviving bombs is one believed to be a 2,250-pounder under the power station at Ripple Way, Barking, Essex. Another monster lies beneath the back garden of a house in Bermondsey, Southeast London.

More than a dozen other known bombs in various parts of Greater London have still to be located.

No one ever thinks much about bombs any more in London. But the bomb disposal men still like to talk about the 600-pounder they removed last year from the quayside at Surrey Commercial Docks where it had lain buried since May, 1941.

That was the bomb squad's day. Hundreds were evacuated from nearby houses and offices, ships were moved from their docks and passing trains were slowed to a speed of five miles an hour while the bomb men did their work.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S NEW PREMIER, Joseph R. Smallwood, is interviewed by newsmen, including James Cooper, representing the London Daily Express and The Toronto Globe and Mail, after confederation ceremony in St. John's.

Appeals Made To Clergymen Prove False

A woman who has been telephoning Peterborough clergymen during the past two months making pathetic appeals for money on a number of pretenses has admitted obtaining the sum of $70 in amounts of $5 and $10 by false pretences.

Monday she admitted to city police that she had telephoned clergymen a number of times during the past two months telling stories of hardship and appealing for money. She had given many stories arousing sympathy — she had a sick child or a sick mother whom she wanted to visit but had not the fare, or needed money to look after her children — and in a variety of ways, obtained the sums.

Whenever the woman telephoned for money she always said she was in a hurry and would send a taxi to collect the money or would send someone else for it, and in that way it was not discovered until recently that she was staging a hoax.

Police say she has agreed to make restitution and no charges are to be laid.

Say Duplessis' Dictatorial Handling Strike

OTTAWA, April 5 — (CP)— Charges that Premier Duplessis of Quebec was using "dictatorial" methods in his handling of the Asbestos strike at Asbestos, Que., were heard Monday ni the Commons.

Joseph Lafontaine, Liberal member from the Quebec Eastern townships riding of Megantic-Frontenac, levelled the charge and described the strike, under way two months, as "just."

The discussion was provoked by Claire Gillis (CGF—Cape Breton South), who quoted reports from French-language newspapers which he said "are not carried in the English-speaking section of our press." He said Quebec provincial police in the area were dealing with the public in a manner which "left much to be desired."

He quoted a translation from a dispatch in Montreal Le Devoir which said the Asbestos town council had adopted a resolution protesting that the provincial police, numbering 150, had been under the influence of alcohol, had committed "indecent acts" on the streets of the town and had caused "disorder in public places."

The resolution also charged that the police had "used violence" against maintenance employees and constables of the plant, committing these acts "without warning and with evident thought of provoking trouble."

Taking No Sides

Labor Minister Mitchell said he was taking no sides in the dispute, but he hoped it would be settled speedily and settled with justice to the employees. He hoped commonsense would prevail.

The dispute came completely within the jurisdiction of the provincial government.

Mr. Gillis further quoted Le Devoir as saying the provincial police were paid $50 a week by the Johns-Manville Company, in addition to their regular pay from the provincial government.

The kind of thing that was taking place in Asbestos was at least 30 years behind the times. The workers were members of the Catholic Syndicates. They were not radicals or Communists. They were part of the regular labor movement.

He believed it was time for Mr. Mitchell to investigate what was going on in Asbestos. The way the provincial police were being used put them in the category of "armed thugs."

He felt Premier Duplessis should be made to realize that he is living in Canada and not in some totalitarian state.

Removed From Job

SOFIA, April 5 (AP)—The Central Committee of the Bulgarian Communist party said Monday it had removed Traicho Kostov as Deputy Premier. Kostov, a leading Communist party member, has also been removed from the Politburo, the highest body of the Communist party in Bulgaria. The Central Committee of the Communist party said Kostov had been removed for an insincere and unfriendly policy toward the Soviet Union, gross political and anti-party errors, incorrect methods of leadership and nationalistic deviations.

Sets Divorce Aside

CLEVELAND, April 5 (AP)— A judge Monday set aside a 1948 divorce of a former United States women's skeet champion, thus giving her two husbands. On grounds of public policy and fraud, Judge Samuel H. Silbert voided the decree obtained by Mrs. Patricia Jelm Helbig, 28-year-old Akron beauty, from Charles R. Jelm, 27. She won shooting titles as Miss Pat Larson. Judge Silbert ruled the woman had defrauded the court by concealing material facts.

TORONTO, April 5 (CP)—Martin F. White, 62-year-old clothing salesman, Monday was fined $200 or two months for selling mining stock while unregistered with the Ontario Securities Commission as a salesman. Women's Institute Plans to Hold Tea

NORWOOD, April 5— (ENS) —The April meeting of the Norwood Women's Institute was held in the Library basement Friday afternoon with 20 members in attendance and Mrs. A. Gill presiding.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Burtt, Mrs. Wm. Golloher was appointed to act.

Plans were made to hold an afternoon tea and bazaar Saturday, April 30. Tea convener will be Mrs. Fred Gardner and home baking convener Mrs. Roy Baker. It was also decided to put another card of thanks in the local paper and the names of the donors, but not the amounts of the Pee-Wee sweater fund. A balance of $23.50 is on hand. This will be used as a stocking fund, to be procured if possible before next hockey season.

It was unanimously agreed to present the institute book, "Fifty Years of Achievement," to the Library. Further discussion regarding a donation to the Library was left in abeyance.

A splendid paper on "Newfoundland," prepared by Mrs. H. J. Ford, was presented by Mrs. Robert F. Barrett.

A meeting will be held Tuesday evening to appoint a nominating committee. Tea hostesses for May will be Mrs. Gordon Parker, Mrs. Harry Pearce and Mrs. MacPherson. Mrs. Wm. Golloher read a chapter from the Institute Book from "Sea to Sea."

Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. G. Oitment and Mrs. A. Gill.

MPP's Attack Charities Bill Once Again

Cabinet Prejudiced Against Star Liberal Member Says

TORONTO, April 6 (CP) — Eamon Park (CCF-Toronto Dovercourt) today renewed the Opposition attack on the Ontario Government's Charities Bill.

He told the Legislature the effect of the Bill would be to force sale of the the Toronto Daily Star. The only persons who could afford to buy it would be "financial interests who can acquire monopoly control of the newspapers in this city."

The Bill requires charitable foundations such as the Atkinson Foundation, owners of the Toronto Daily Star and Star Weekly, to dispose of all but 10 per cent of interest they may hold in any business.

Mr. Park said the CCF's main objection to the Bill "stems from the fact that the Bill will have the effect of destroying only one foundation," the Atkinson Foundation.

Persons who chose in future to leave their estates to charitable foundations could have their lawyers draw their wills "in such a way as to avoid the penalties of this act."

Mr. Park said it was his information that a Toronto lawyer, John S. D. Tory had been consulted in preparation of the Bill and that Mr. Tory had acted for George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, in the purchase of the Toronto Telegram.

Ross McEwing (Lib-Waterloo North) said the Bill "limits the rights of free people and in its far-reaching effects limits the rights of the free press."

The Progressive Conservative government had a "definite prejudice" against the Star and its former owner Joseph E. Atkinson.

Former Premier George Drew had referred to Mr. Atkinson as "a very evil old man" and "an incorrigible liar," Mr. McEwing said.

"Ridiculous," Claim

W. E. Hamilton (PC-Wellington South) described as "ridiculous" the opposition's "hypothetical assumption" that present directors of the Atkinson Foundation would lose control of the newspapers.

If the 90 per cent excess shares were widely distributed among a large number of charities it was "reasonable' to assume that the charities would not interfere with the operation of the papers by these working newspaper men.

Providing that a business is well run "only a handful of shareholders" ever attended meetings or even voted by proxy, Mr. Hamilton said.

58 Women Clerks Plan To Strike

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP) — Fifty-eight women clerks in 28 Toronto stores, operated by the Langley Cleaners and Dyers firm, will take strike action unless the management agrees to a conciliation board recommendation.

Miss Mary McNab, international organizer of the Retail Clerks' Union (AFL), said today the board proposed that a temporary two-cent hourly increase be granted the clerks until findings of an arbitration board, nivestigating demands of the company's factory workers, are announced.

Miss McNab said the average gross wage of the clerks is $24.50 a week. The two-cent increase would give them less than a dollar more a week, she added.

Hon. Russell Kelley Suffers Heart Attack

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP).— Hospital officials said to-day that Hon. Russell T. Kelley, Ontario Minister of Health, probably will be confined to bed in hospital for three weeks and will have to rest about four months after returning to his home at Hamilton. The 72-year-old minister suffered a "slight heart attack" in his office Tuesday and was removed to the hospital on a stretcher.

Ask UN To Study Church Leaders' Trials

Hungary Charges Such Action Violation Of International Law

NEW YORK, April 6 (CP)— Consideration of religious freedom in Eastern Europe today was the scheduled subject of the first east-west clash in the reconvened United Nations General Assembly.

Australian and Bolivian requests asked that the 58-member "town meeting of the world" decide whether any human rights were violated in the Communist prosecution of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and 15 Protestant church leaders of Bulgaria.

Shortly before making the opening address Tuesday, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australia's External Affairs Minister and President of the Assembly, received a protest from Hungary.

The Communist state contended that the attempt to place the subject on the Assembly agenda was a violation of international law.

Evatt devoted his 15-minute speech to a spirited defence of the U. N., which he said is not responsible for post-war international difficulties.

Instead, Evatt claimed, "nearly all these difficulties have been caused by great-power disagreements outside and independent of the United Nations." He demanded that all regional treaties be subordinate to the U. N. Charter.

George Ignatieff, principal adviser to the permanent Canadian delegation, was unanimously elected chairman of the administrative and budgetary committee.

Fernand Van Langenhove of Belgium also received a unanimous vote to head the political committee in place of Prime Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium.

McNeill Wouldn't Take Keays

BELLEVILLE, April 6—(CP).—G. A. Monahan, an investigator for the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons, testified today thatthe Hastings county Crown Attorney made no attempt to oppose the arrest of Ernest M. Carefoot for fraud in 1946. Constable J. E. Keays has accused the Crown Attorney, B. C. Donnan, of obstructing the arrest of Carefoot, a disqualified doctor.

Mr. Monahan said the Crown Attorney was "a little bit alarmed" when he and Constable Keays asked for warrants to arrest Carefoot and search his home, but there was no opposition by the Crown Attorney.

The allegations against Mr. Donnan in connection with the Carefoot case, form a major part of Constable Keays' 25 allegations of fraud, perjury and maladministration of justice against Mr. Donnan and seven Ontario Provincial police officers.

The officers are Commissioner W. H. Stringer, Inspector W. A. Page, Inspector T. W. Cousans, Sgt. J. A. Stringer, Col. Sam Ervine, and Constable G. R. Purdy and J. B. Driscoll.

Mr. Monahan said he had originally planned charges against Carefoot under the Medical Act, but Constable Keays suggested fraud charges. Carefoot was acquitted of fraud and awaits a new trial on narcotics charges.

He said he believed convictions could have been obtained under the Medical Act.

Mr. Monahan came to the stand after Inspector E. V. McNeill, head of the Ontario Provincial Police in the Peterborough district.

Mr. Monahan told Mr. Donnan he now was satisfied he could have obtained a conviction if he had proceeded with five charges under the Medical Act rather than fraud charges.

He said the Crown Attorney offered no opposition to Carefoot's arrest, but had urged caution in the execution of the search warrant.

Dr. G. A. Stewart, a Belleville dentist, was the next witness and testified that Cons Keays had once given him a .32-.20 calibre revolver. The constable came back a few days later, with a letter demanding return of the revolver, and took the revolver back.

Elmer E Bowen, a former Provincial Police officer in the Belleville detachment, was next witness.

He was called by Malcolm Robb, counsel for five of the seven police officers named by Constable J. E. Keays in sweeping allegations of fraud, perjury and maladministration of justice.

British MP's Near Blows After Bitter Meat Debate

LONDON, April 6—(Reuters).—Parliament had one of its stormiest sessions in years Tuesday night as members nearly came to blows after a bitter debate on Britain's dwindling meat supply. Several Labor members dashed across the floor of the House of Commons and took up a threatening attitude in front of Opposition members.

Some Conservatives restrained a Labor member who tried to reach the Opposition back benches where angry shouts had touched off the uproar as Food Minister John Strachey defended his Ministry's meat policy.

As members streamed out of the chamber to cast their votes they broke into vehement arguments. The more belligerent were restrained and order was restored before any blows were struck.

The government was upheld by 247 votes to 185 on a Conservative motion to reduce Strachey's salary. On Opposition victory would have amounted to a vote of non-confidence in the government's food policy.

Offers Support

Opening the debate, Anthony Eden, the Conservative Deputy-Leader, offered the government full support in the critical meat negotiations with Argentina. But some Conservative speakers accused the government of trying to drive too hard a bargain.

Strachey, winding up the debate, accused Opposition critics of showing their political prejudices were stronger than their patriotism.

Martin Lindsay, Conservative, immediately arose and asked whether it was in order for an "ex-member of the Fascist Party to cast aspersions on our patriotism," causing angry outbursts from both sides of the House.

Pass Purchase Bill

OTTAWA, April 6 — (CP) — The Commons Tuesday night adopted a privately-sponsored bill giving statutory force to the purchase by the City of Ottawa of the Ottawa Street Railway system. Thomas Reid (L—New Westminster), who raised a storm last week with his criticism of the Ottawa city council, said as the bill went through that he wanted to repeat that the streets and the car tracks in the city were not in keeping with Canada's capital city.

2 Badly Burned In Explosion

HAMILTON, April 6—(CP)— Two workmen caught in the searing explosion of a transformer in a downtown Hydro-Electric substation today lay in hospital in serious condition.

Hospital officials said the condition of Harold Wagner was "only fair," while his fellow worker, Frank Thompson, was in "fair" condition.

The two were working on the transformer, which had developed trouble, when it exploded Tuesday. The blast cut off power throughout the central business section for 32 minutes. The heat melted and twisted copper sheeting on a skylight, 20 feet above the transformer.

Hydro officials were unable to give a cause for the explosion in the 1,500-volt transformer, one of 12 in the building.

Charles Delsey, working a block away from the sub-station, was one of the first to reach the two men. He found Thompson in a dazed condition with his clothes in blackened shreds.

Delsey said Wagner's clothing "was nearly burned off and his skin was brown as though it had been roasted." He was found on the second storey, trying to climb out a window.

The blast had ignited pans of oil used for insulating the transformer and both men were enveloped in the sheet of flame which shot up. Firemen extinguished the blaze before it ignited the building.

Former MP Dies

WOODSTOCK, April 6—(CP) —Hugh Allan, 83, Liberal-Progressive member of the House of Commons from 1926 to 1930, died at his home at nearby Drumbo Tuesday night. He was born in Blenheim township, Oxford County, and was appointed clerk there in 1905. Funeral will be held Friday.

Allies Seeking To Settle Three-Power Control Split

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)— The United States, Britain and France are undertaking a major effort to iron out their differences over three-power control of western Germany.

State Secretary Acheson, Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Schuman held preliminary talks on the German problem last week while Atlantic-power Foreign Ministers were gathering here to sign the North Atlantic Treaty.

Bevin is prepared to remain here until next week, if necessary, for the success of the talks, Schuman is reported prepared to remain indefinitely, if need be.

Diplomatic informants said the preliminary talks had pointed up four major issues.

These basically involve the questions of what kind of government the Germans themselves should be permitted to set up over the American, British and French zones, and what kind of controls the western occupation powers should exercise.

The issues, as authoritatively reported, are:

(1) The extent of occupation machinery over western Germany in connection with proposed merger of all three zones.

(2) Development of an occupation statute.

(3) How to vote in the three-power control agencies. Many experts consider this the key question.

(4) Centralization versus decentralization within the proposed new German government system. Essentially the question is whether Germany should have a strong or a weak central government.

Band Of Dogs Mangles Child

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP) — Her head swathed in bandages, little Anna today completed a 1,000-mile trip from far Northern Quebec to undergo treatment at the Sick Children's Hospital here.

The seven-year-old Eskimo girl suffered serious head injuries March 25 when attacked by a band of dogs in her tiny home village, 50 miles north of Port Harrison on the shores of Hudson Bay.

The child was accompanied by Mrs. B. H. Harper, wife of the federal government doctor at Moose Factory, Ont.

It is not yet known how long the child will be in hospital, but Mrs. Harper said it may be "several weeks." Her head badly mangled when set upon by the crazed animals. Anna was saved from more serious injury due to the fact that her body was well-bundled in heavy Eskimo attire.

The girl was flown from Port Harrison to the James Bay settlement, 500 miles south, and was immediately taken here by train.

No Big Cuts In Taxes Cripps Warns

Tax On Beer Reduced By 1 Penny a Pint; Defies Trades Union

LONDON, April 6 (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, today sentenced the British taxpayer to another 12 months of hard labor.

He presented the House of Commons with a 1949-50 budget denying any substantial tax cuts and raising the basic prices of some kinds of strictly-rationed food.

He defied the powerful Trades Union Congress, one of the Labor Government's principal supporters, by declining to lower the country's stiff purchase taxes. These range from 33 1-3 per cent to 100 per cent on a vast number of things sold at retail.

But Sir Stafford helped the little man by cutting one penny (1 2-3 cents) a pint from the tax on beer.

He also lowered duties on imported wines by two shillings (40 cents a bottle).

Sir Stafford estimated his new budget will bring in a net surplus of £14,000,000. The surplus in the year just ended was £353,000,000.

Explaining his financial proposals for the next 12 months, the Chancellor said he proposed to reduce the amount of money paid by the treasury in subsidies to hold down the price of rationed goods.

As a result, he said, the price of cheese will go up four pence (about six cents) a pound, meat will go up the same amount, butter will rise two pence (slightly less than four cents), and margarine one penny.

He said the import duty on tea will drop by sixpence and on sugar 1¼ pence—but it won't help the housewife. The cuts would be applied to reduce subsidies on those commodities.

Doubles Allowance

He doubled the industrials' tax-free allowance on wear and tear on plants and machinery, making it 40 per cent of the cost of reolacement.

In his budget, Sir Stafford declined to take even a penny off the stiff cigaret tax, which now makes a pack of 20 cost 3s 6d (70 cents).

This has been one of the most popular hopes for relief.

His worst news for the ordinary householder was the price hike in foods. Sir Stafford said the price increases—and presumably any ration adjustments it makes necessary—will be enforced by the food minister "at an early date."

Refuse To Surrender Nanking Government

NANKING, April 6 — (AP)— Acting President Li Tsung-jen to-night was reported to have rejected a Communist ultimatum for the virtual surrender of the Nanking Government.

Li also was said to have turned down a proposal that he go to Peiping, where peace talks now are in progress.

While the peace talks took a turn for the worse, the Red radio kept up its attacks. An editorial broadcast by the station demanded he immediate surrender of the government.

The report of the Red ultimatum circulated in Nanking a few hours earlier.

Pleasure Expensive In Britain Last Year

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, today gave the House of Commons these figures of money raised by taxes on betting, smoking, drinking and the like:

Tobacco Tax — £604,000,000 ($2,416,000,000).

Liquor Tax—£418,000,000.

Betting—£23,500,000.

Totalizators at dog tracks—£9,500,000.

Tax on "football pools" (weekly bets on soccer matches)—£12,250,000.

Catch Deserter

TORONTO, April 6—(CP). —A 27-year-old Welland man who has been sought two years by army authorities for being absent without leave, was arrested here Tuesday. Army personnel tracked him down after he had obtained jobs through selective service. The man joined the permanent army in 1947 and served only three weeks before he left. He will be tried by military court.

Surprise Witness Introduced In Carr Trial

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP)—The Crown produced a sensational surprise witness in the Sam Carr case today—an American named M. M. Kreiger who testified that a man named Ignacy Witczak assigned him in 1940 to go to Japan to do conspiratorial work for Russia.

The Crown alleges that Pitczak was a Russian agent for whom Carr obtained a false Canadian passport in 1945.

Kreiger, an optometrist from Los Angeles, said he had met Witczak in 1938 when they were both students at the University of Southern California.

He said that Witczak had sworn both Krieger and Krieger's wife to an oath of loyalty to Russia before they took a boat. Witczak also gave him instructions on how to make contact with certain people in Japan and with the Russian Embassy.

However, the couple never reached Japan because of the American-Japanese tension. They were removed from the boat at San Francisco by American officials.

Asked To Travel

Grieger testified that Witczak later asked him to go to South America as a Russian mail courier and had also asked him to allow Witczak to set him up in an optometry office "as a front." In both cases, Krieger said, he refused.

However, he had acceded to a request from Witczak for a report on United States Army Air Corps training. Krieger said he was in the Air Corps briefly in 1940 and was discharged honorably for health reasons.

Krieger, said Witczak described himself as a Canadian citizen. He also said Witczak was a brilliant man with both a master's and doctor's degree.

Car Badly Smashed But Driver Uninjured

A motorist had a miraculous escape from death and even escaped uninjured when his car was wrecked while taking the bend at Scott's Corners, No. 28 Highway at 4.30 a.m. today.

The car was proceeding along the highway during the snow storm which hit this part of Ontario early today. The driver lost control of the car at the corner and the body of the car was wrecked. The roof was pushed on to the front seat of the car but the driver crawled out from the debris unharmed.

Provincial Police Constable R. A. Feeley, who arrived on the scene shortly after the incident, was amazed to find the man unharmed.

Death Toll Climbs To 69 In Illinois Hospital Fire

EFFINGHAM, Ill., April 6—(AP)—The toll of known dead and reported missing in the nation's second most tragic hospital fire was placed at 69 today by hospital officials.

They said 55 bodies have been recovered—two still unidentified —and 14 persons are listed as missing in Tuesday's fire at St Anthony's hospital.

National Guardsmen (Militia) patrolled the hospital, area and huge searchlights during the night lighted up the blackened rubble still believed to be concealing the bodies of many victims. Only the naked walls of the 3½-storey brick building stood. The hunt for additional bodies was retarded Tuesday as fire officials feared the walls might fall upon firemen.

The list of dead or missing was compiled by Associated Press reporters at the scene, with the aid of official sources.

Records at the hospital, the only one in this south-central Illinois community of 8,600, were lost.

However, the hospital believed there were 124 persons—patients and staff members—in the 62-year-old institution operated by the Roman Catholic Order of St. Francis, when the fire broke out.

The number of survivors was estimated at 55 by the Red Cross. Firemen said most of the survivors suffered in some degree from burns and smoke, but only one was reported in critical condition.

Among the survivors was Sister Cecily, 32, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jordan of Regina.

Effingham, stunned by the disaster, planned a day of mourning tomorrow.

Two Ships' Officers Beaten As Strike-Bound Boat Boarded By Mob Of Seamen

30 Members Of Rival SIU Attacked In Hotel Room; Longshoremen Seek Ban On CSU Says Labor Minister

HALIFAX, April 6 — (CP). — Violence flared briefly in Halifax early today and two ships' officers were admitted to hospital after being attacked by an unidentified mob. The men, identified only as Charles Caddell and Harold Syversen, are engineers aboard the strike-bound freighter Sun Prince, one of 11 vessels tied up by a Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) deep-sea shipping strike.

It is believed about 20 seamen boarded the freighter, scene of an earlier disturbance, and took the engineers ashore either by force or persuasion. Later, they were beaten up. The face of one man was smashed up quite a bit and his companion limped.

RCMP dispersed the mob but aside from confirming that a fracas did occur, gave no further details. It was not known whether any arrests were made.

There were no official reports that members of the rival Seafarers' International Union (AFL) had yet arrived in this port.

The SIU last week signed working agreements with Canadian flag-owners. This contract precipitated the CSU walkout.

Tuesday night, at the rail town of McAdam, NB, about 30 members of the SIU, believed heading for Saint John to man ships covered in their contract with the Shipping Federation of Canada, were attacked by a group of seamen from Saint John. The latter were believed to be CSU sympathizers.

Held for Questioning

RCMP held 25 Saint John seamen for questioning, but later they were released. The SIU crews remained at McAdam after the flare-up.

But for the incident aboard the Sun Prince, the Halifax waterfront remained under an uneasy calm throughout the night.

First disturbance aboard the Sun Prince occurred on Tuesday when a group of unidentified seamen boarded the freighter. However, they left when a ship security guard sounded the alarm.

Political Expenditures Limited By House

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP)—With scarcely a word of discussion, the Commons Tuesday night gave second reading—approval in principle——to a bill to limit political expenditures sponsored by Hon C. G. Power, former air minister.

The House unexpectedly gave the measure a rapid-fire second reading and committee-of-the-whole approval without firing a single query at the sponsor.

Many members were ready to give the bill third reading on the spot, too, but the necessary unanimous consent was not forthcoming.

The brief measure would call for disclosure of the sources of political party campaign funds and would limit election expenses in a constituency to 20 cents for each name on the voters' list in that riding.

Federal Election May Be Held During June

OTTAWA, April 6 — (CP) — Rumors—strictly without confirmation—floated Tuesday about the corridors of the parliament buildings that a general federal election will be called for late June or early July.

For weeks election speculation has been a favorite after-dinner topic among parliamentarians. The guesses range from June to October, with June appearing to have a slight edge.

The man who pulls the trigger —Prime Minister St. Laurent— has kept mum. He has told reporters he doesn't know the date. Mandate of the government expires in mid-1950.

The Commons is scheduled to adjourn April 8 for a two-week Easter recess, reconvening April 25.

Mr. St. Laurent will tour Western Canada during the period and George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, plans to visit Newfoundland and the Maritimes. M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, also likely will make some speeches.

The speculation has it that Liberal members of parliament will guage the feeling of constituents during the recess and report back to the government.

Those daring to go out on a limb say, if the reaction appears favorable, Mr. St. Laurent will dissolve parliament late in April with voting 60 days later, the time necessary to get election machinery into operation.

Saves Aged Man In House Fire

LINDSAY, April 6 — (CP) — Dreaming that he was in some sort of haze, 19-year-old Bill Goodhand jumped from his bed early today when smoke filled his bedroom. He found the kitchen a blazing inferno and had time to waken his partially paralyzed grandfather, C. H. Goodhand, and escape into a heavy snow storm.

Quick action on the part of the Lindsay fire department and the presence of mind of young Goodhand in closing the kitchen door saved part of the two storey cement blockhouse. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

Has Burglar's Tools Toronto Man Arrested

TORONTO, April 6 (CP) — Arrested Tuesday night for possession of burglar's tools, Joseph Naulls, 47, will be questioned about a $15,000 jewel theft in Winnipeg five months ago and a series of car thefts in North Toronto, police said today.

Naulls was arrested after police noticed a man "moving around" parked cars.

In the Winnipeg robbery last November, a jewelry salesman lost a tray of rings valued at $15,000. Police said a number of the rings have turned up in Toronto pawn shops.

2 Die In Rail Crash

GEORGE, South Africa, April 6 — (Reuters). — An engineer and fireman were killed on Tuesday night when three runaway tank cars collided with a freight train near this station in Cape Province. Onlookers were unable to rescue the men because of the heat from blazing gasoline from the tank cars.

Rye Shipments To U.S. Show Large Increase

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP) — A big jump in exports of Canadnai rye in the United States is in the making this year.

Although the export year doesn't end until July 31, considerably more Canadian rye has already been sent to the U.S. than in the full 1947-48 period.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures show that up to the end of February—covering the first seven months of the crop year—more than 2,000 bushels of Canadian rye went to the U.S. This compared with only 41,460 bushels for the whole of the previous year.

Most Canadian rye goes to Europe where it is used more for food than is the custom in North America. In Canada and the U.S. most eof it is used for distolling.

Last year Canada sent more than 10,000,000 bushels of rye to the European market, compared with the 41,460 bushels that went to the United States.

This year the difference has been sharply reduced. Up to the end of February about 4,500,000 bushels had been exported of which slightly more than 2,000,000 was directed to the American market.

The big increase in rye sent to the US this year ties in with a large increase in the production of rye in Canada. The 1948 harvest—now in the process of being distributed—was 25,340,000 bushels compared with 13,217,000 the year before.

Active Demand For Grain And Young Pigs

Farmers throughout Ontario are waiting for favoring weather conditions for a comparatively early opening of their spring seeding program. Haldimand mentions one field of oats sown in ground that was in good condition. Enquiries for registered seed and also for pasture mixtures are active.

Some of the seed growers in Ontario county say they are sold out. A typical comment is the Prince Edward report that "demand is keen for seed grain."

Demand for hogs and weanlings is lively across the province. Huron uses the phrase "extremely great" in reference to enquiries for breeding stock and young pigs. Ontario county: "Demand is good for bred sows; little pigs sell at $12 to $14 each according to quality." Frontenac: "Very few weanling pigs are being offered for sale, and few are being offered at $14 to $15 each, or $25 a pair."

Flow of sap in the eastern counties ranges from light to fairly heavy. Glengarry says sale of baby chicks is one-third more than a year ago. Creameries in Renfrew have notified farmers that they will not be in a position to accept any second grade cream this year, because second grade butter cannot be sold in competition with margarine. Prince Edward: "Demand is keen for pure bred cattle for export. Price remains about the same."

Cattle have wintered well and fall wheat looks strong. As for farm labor, Wentworth says there is little demand at present, and Durham: "Satisfactory single help seems almost impossible to obtain."

Dundas and Leeds expect a greater flow of milk to cheese factories this season.

MPP's Attack

Tuesday night Labor Minister Mitchell disclosed that the powerful anti-Communist International Longshoremen's Association (AFL) had put pressure on Canadian shipowners to ditch the CSU.

A report on the strike given the Commons by the minister indicated the ILA had threatened indirectly to have its US membership refuse to handle cargo from CSU-manned vessels.

H. C. Meade, regional director, CSU, sand he was "convinced the men who boarded the Sun Prince and attacked two officers were not members of the CSU."

"The attack has all the marks of imported American goonism," he added.

Halted Transfer

He said he had asked Commissioner W. H. Stringer to halt a proposed transfer of Constable Keays to his district "because I felt Keays would be a disturbing influence."

Inspector McNeill said he was "aware of the trouble in Belleville." Under cross-examination by Constable Keays he said he formed his opinion "on what he heard."

Mr. Monahan said he was sent to Belleville in March, 1946, to investigate the activities of E. M. Carefoot.

Constable J. E. Keays charges that Hastings County Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan interfered in police investigatings of Carefoot, who was acquitted of fraud and is awaiting trial on narcotics charges.

He alleges there was no opportunity for Mrs. Carefoot to telephone a lawyer the night her husband was arrested and that a lawyer and bail were arranged by the crown attorney before police had a chance to question Carefoot.

Mr. Monahan said Mrs. Carefoot used the telephone three times during the search of the house.

He said Constable Keays had advised him to charge Carefoot with fraud rather than with offences under the Medical Act.

Learns of Association

Mr. Monahan said he learned that Carefoot and the crown attorney had been "associated."

He said Mr. Donnan was "a little bit alarmed that we wanted a search warrant" to search Carefoot's home. He recalled Assistant Crown Attorney S. G. Robertson making some remark like "I don't want to be a sucker in this thing."

When the warrants were obtained, Justice of the Peace Mary Butler told them it was "about time" something was done about Carefoot.

Carefoot was released on bail before he had an opportunity to question him, Mr. Monahan said.

"Were you satisfied that Carefoot was a charlatan?" asked Constable Keays.

"Well, he was certainly different from most of the medical profession that I've contacted," Mr. Monahan said.

He agreed that machines with which Carefoot claimed to treat cancer comprised "two electric light bulbs and a Ford coil."

Constable Keays repeated the question several times and Mr. Monahan insisted it was an unfair question.

Mr. Justice MacKay reminded the constable that a jury acquitted Carefoot.

East) said: "One doesn't have to be smart at all to realize that George Drew hated the Star."

"It leads one to think he would do anything he could to frustrate the intent of the owner of the Star.

"I think George Drew had a great deal to do with this bill."

Provincial Treasurer Frost asked Miss Macphail to accept his assurance that Mr. Drew "had nothing to do with it."

Miss Macphail: "I'm not naive, whatever else I am. I think the two Georges (Drew and McCullagh)—sometimes called the Gold Dust Twins—have had and are having a great deal to do with this bill."

T. K. Foster (Lib.—Bruce) said the Atkinson foundation should be given "a little time—five years if need be—to live up to the terms of the will."

If the foundation had failed to do so "then would be the time to bring in a bill so drastic in content."

H. L. Walters (CCF—Toronto Bracondale) said public opinion was something a legislature should be concerned about.

"In the 40 years I have been following politics I never met a piece of legislation that was so universally condemned."

G. T. Gordon (Lib.—Brantford) spoke briefly against the bill before the luncheon adjournment.

Give Tax Relief On Farm Homes

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP)—Income-tax allowances on farm homes were announced in the Commons Tuesday by Revenue Minister McCann.

Retroactive to 1948, the minister said, farmers residing on the farm may claim depreciation on the cost of the farm home at one-quarter the usual depreciation rate and also may claim one-quarter the cost of repairs to the home besides the full cost of light, power, telephone, fire insurance and other taxes.

(Depreciation is the estimate of annual wear-and-tear on a property; along with other items; the depreciation allowance would be deducted from the farmer's taxable income).

The revenue minister said the new system was going into effect because of the "large part which the farm home plays in the conduct of the farm business."

Britain. The current ration—lowest in history—is eight pence worth a week to each person. It was not clear whether the price rise would mean in effect a new cut in the ration or whether the ration-value would be increased slightly along with the meat price.

Phone Calls Up

Telephone calls will be more expensive, the chancellor announced. A surcharge of 15 per cent levied on local calls will be raised to 50 per cent.

The tax levied on football pools —weekly bets on soccer games— will go up from 20 to 30 per cent of winnings.

Sir Stafford dismissed expectations of income-tax reductions with the brief statement he could see no room for any substantial down-grading of taxation.

However, he exempted from taxation unemployment, sickness and maternity benefits paid under the national health insurance scheme.

No Tax Credits

Income-tax credits for payments into these funds—which amount to it 7d. (32 cents) a week—will no longer be permitted.

The tax on matches is being raised by 5s 5d. ($1.08) a gross of boxes, said the Chancellor. These boxes—the size of the familiar one-cent box in Canada—now sell for 1½ pence. The new price will be two pence (3½ cents) a box.

He exempted from taxes gifts of money and property up to a limit of £500. The previous limit was £100. The tax on gifts above that is the same as the death duty or inheritance tax, which ranges up to 95 per cent.

Charges for registering letters and parcels, now threepence (5 cents) a letter exclusive of postage, will be raised one penny.

The Chancellor said he is repealing legacy and succession taxes, combining them into a new scale of death duties. The new scale will result in "a moderate increase" in duties on estates above £35,000 ($140,000) and stay about the same on estates of less than that amount.

About 40 stamp duties will be repealed, he said, because they are "obsolete . . . and produce little or no net revenue." These include stamps on marriage licences, passports, birth certificates, and death certificates.

Sir Stafford repealed the licence taxes on real-estate agents and auctioneers, and an old 1892 land tax which yields only £600,000 a year.

Sir Stafford, guide of Britain's recovery efforts, told the Commons that "there is no doubt whatever" that Britain must have continued United States aid this year.

He called for strenuous efforts to increase British sales in Canada and the United States, as the only means of permanently balancing Britain's trading books.

British experts have previously estimated Britain's 1949-50 dollar needs at $940,000,000.

Production Soars

Sir Stafford said the most notable features of 1948-49, were "the rapid increase in our production and the arrest of the inflationary tendency in our economy."

But he warned that the continuing failure to earn as many dollars as the country needs to buy food and raw materials is "serious and baffling."

He said a solution must be found by 1952, at the latest, when the United States plan for aid to Europe ends.

Dollar deficits during the calendar year 1948 totalled $1,692,000,000, the chancellor said.

Sir Stafford said the "heavy pressure of inflation has been easing off" in Britain.

But he warned that "we have just as much need for a policy of restraint today as we had a year ago."

Unemployment had fallen from 375,000 in January to 340,000 in mid-March, in a working population of a little more than 22,000,000.

Sir Stafford said there is already a "degree of disinflation" in the United States and that "these indications in other countries are important matters for us."

Less employment and falling prices in the United States might mean a shrinking American market for British exports.

Sir Stafford said the Marshall plan has helped Britain reduce her national debt by £453,000,000 ($1,812,000,000) during the year ended March 31. Marshall-Plan counterpart funds had accounted for 107,000,000 of the debt reduction.

Sir Stafford said Britain's financial situation is "far healthier" than a year ago when he introduced a "disinflation" program to siphon off excess spending by high taxes.

Although there is no longer such an urgent need to check inflation, he said, he could not yet change his policy although he was alert to the dangers of a deflationary tendency.

"Next year the national health service is estimated to cost for 12 months £260,000,000. It is not possible to get increases of benefits of such an order and at the same time experience decreases in taxation."

Believes Russia May Invade Europe In 1949

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—Stanislaw Wojcik, self-exiled secretary-general of the Polish Peasant Party, said yesterday he believes Russia plans to invade Western Europe this year.

Wojcik arrived here last week from Warsaw by way of the underground. He spoke at a press conference arranged by Stanislaw Mikolajczy, former Polish prime minister.

The peasant leader said underground leaders with whom he talked on his way out go even farther than his prediction of an invasion this year. They believe it is coming quickly, he said, in retaliation for the Atlantic pact and because Soviet leaders feel that time is running out for them.

Wojcik said there were 300,000 Red Army troops in Poland and Eastern Germany a year ago, and estimated that the force in Poland had been more than doubled. He described a steady flow of Red Army transport trains to the west and said the Soviets have taken over and rebuilt several airports in recent months.

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP).—The United Nations said today 426 correspondents from 36 countries and the western zone of Germany have applied for credentials to cover the General Assembly which opened yesterday. Eleven are from the Soviet Union, two from Yugoslavia and three from Poland.

Council Alarmed At Filth Behind Stores

COBOURG, April 6 (ENS) — Filthy conditions behind the north side of the business section between George and Division streets were the subject of comment when the council met. Mayor Joe Smith displayed eight photographs taken a few days ago behind the stores and declared that they showed conditions of "utter filth" that were not only dangerous to health but constituted a white fire hazard.

Councillors looked over some of the pictures, some of them stating that they had no idea such conditions existed and it was decided to forward the photos to A. R. Willmott, KC, town solicitor, for an opinion as to how the problem could be met. It was pointed out the municipal garbage collection did not include refuse from stores, as it was a commercial matter.

Mayor Joe Smith said that it might be advisable to take it up with the counties health unit and also to see if the Ontario Fire Marshal's Dept. would investigate the fire-traps. The photos showed a condition of rubble and refuse that looked like a bombed out area, with tin cans, cardboard boxes, piles of garbage against a background of ramshackle wooden shacks that resembled derelict structures of a ghost town. A pile of inflammable material in one case was only about four feet from a wooden shed.

Health Insurance Demand Made By Coldwell

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP) — A day-long debate on national health insurance in the Commons Tuesday ended inconclusively in a standard pattern of this session—the rehashing of the record of the Dominion-Provincial Conferences.

A wrangle over health proposals of the 1945-46 sessions was touched off by a demand by CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell for a pre-election statement on any government health insurance plans.

Health Minister Martin, joining in the debate said the Dominion still adhered to its policy of 1945, when it proposed grants for health planning and organization to the provinces provided that they adopted compulsory health insurance.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, followed the Minister with a call for the reconvening of the co-ordinating and economic commitees of the Dominion-Provincial conference with a view to gathering facts for establishment of a national health plan.

In turn, Mr. Drew was attacked by Defence Minister Claxton, who challenged the opposition leader's statement there had been full agreement among the provinces on the principle of a health insurance plan.

No Agreement

Mr. Claxton declared that at "no stage" of the conference had there been agreement on health insurance. Quebec opposed it, he said.

Mr. Drew retorted the agreement had come at a closed and unrecorded meeting so the Minister would not find it in the record.

To that, Mr. Claxton—who had presided at the economic committee sessions—replied he had been at the meeting and Mr. Drew had not.

Later — just at adjournment time of the night session—a furore developed when Donald Fleming (PC — Toronto Eglinton) sought to read excerpts from the same record in answer to what he claimed were "distortions" by Mr. Claxton.

Cut off when Speaker Gaspard Fauteux declared adjournment time had arrived, the member hotly accused the presiding officer of caling time before the Commons clock had hit 10.30 p.m.

Mr. Coldwell said the country wanted to know if the government favored national health insurance and when it was going to take the initiative to bring it about.

Mr. Martin said the government's policy had been one of "constant advance," though perhaps it had not moved ahead as quickly as some would have liked.

Health was the responsibility of the provinces, and the Dominion did not want to interfere. The health program now in effect could succeed only if the Dominion respected provincial rights and obligations under the constitution.

Mr. Martin said there was need for a "preparatory state" in getting a national health plan under way, and that was in progress now. All provinces were co-operating fully.

The preparatory steps were necessary, he said, so that a hospital and medical care program could be worked out under the constitution in such a way that it would be efficient and not break down in its early stages.

Cobourg Stalled On Memorial Centre Project

COBOURG, April 6 (ENS) — It is a case of "where do we go from here?" in regard to the site of the recreational centre. Mayor Joe Smith told the council that his investigation into the possibility of acquiring land back of the business section for the recreation centre, with an entrance off main street, had not produced encouraging results.

Most of the owners of the land were willing to co-operate, one or two of them being willing to donate land but two would not make their land available for that purpose and so the idea was abandoned. The situation at present is that no immediate site is under consideration.

Council approved the seven members of the recreation commission, which will work with the advisory board of the recreational director's program, to be instituted shortly. Members of the commission are George Mitchell, representing the high school board; Reg. Gardiner, the public school board; The Rev. P. J. Collins, St. Michael's Parish; the Rev. H. Bedford-Jones, the Ministerial Association; Charles Chidley, the Parks Commission; Miss Madeline Rooney, Business and Professional Women's Club and Mrs. Jane Allen, Girl Guide groups.

Council decided to contact the consulting engineer in the recent sewer installations to ensure that streets broken up will be restored promptly

Hope To Improve Jail Conditions

By The Canadian Press

Nova Scotia is considering ways of improving the lot of prisoners in its jails.

A few months ago the province took part in negotiations aimed at establishment of a central Maritime penitentiary to bridge the gap between the common jails and the big federal prison at Dorchester, N.B., serving the Maritimes. But the effort fell through and the Nova Scotia government turned to doing something on its own.

Attorney-General L. D. Currie told the Legislature at Halifax that his department, seeking $10,000 for prison reform this year, is considering setting up a prison farm, possibly in conjunction with the Nova Scotia Agriculture College at Truro. Meantime, the province is trying to encourage the municipalities, which control the county jails, to improve facilities.

Extension of the federal price support policy for New Brunswick potatoes was sought in a notice of motion given in the legislature at Fredericton. It suggested that the support be given potatoes in frost-proof storage as well as to potatoes now covered by the program.

A suggestion that trade unions in Canada should be free from United States control was raised in the Manitoba Legislature. L. St. George Stubbs, Independent member for Winnipeg, wanted the House at Winnipeg to go on record as expressing that view but debate on his resolution was adjourned.

Foundations For Charities, Research And The Arts

An interesting element has been injected into the discussion of the Charitable Gifts Bill by Dr. H. M. Cassidy, the director of social work of the University of Toronto; the effect of the Bill, says Dr. Cassidy, would be to discourage the establishment of foundations for social welfare. Already Canada has been forced to beg from foundations in the U.S.A. to carry on necessary work here, and no one can say that it is desirable that our country should rely upon the wealth of a friendly neighbour in this matter.

* * *

Much admirable work is done under the direction of American foundations which have been set up under the wills of rich men, to serve as memorials to themselves, and to assist mankind. In the Middle Ages a rich man who wished to be of service to his fellows and to provide a memorial to himself, might build a church, or a monastery, or build and endow a school or a college. In our time many rich men have set up foundations which provide money for works of charity, or for research in medicine, physics, social studies or some allied science, or for the encouragement of arts and scholarship. Charitable foundations are many; the Rockefeller Foundation is perhaps the most famous of the research trusts; among the trusts which encourage the arts the Guggenheim Foundation is outstanding. The Rhodes Trust, which sends young men to European universities on Rhodes scholarships is famous throughout the world. We have never heard it seriously suggested that these trusts were anything but beneficial to mankind, directly and indirectly. It would be sad to think that the Charitable Gifts Bill, in the wealthiest province of Canada, prevented the establishment of a humane and enlightened trust in this country.

* * *

Not every good work can be done by a government. Not only does a government lack the money for such projects as those we have mentioned above, but they also lack the will and the special knowledge which lead to the establishment of such benefits. Great trusts grow out of the special interests and enthusiasms of wealthy men. Contrary to a widespread belief, wealthy men do not spend the bulk of their money on themselves; according to their cast of character, they spend their fortunes on projects which they believe to be good, and as they are often men of broad vision and unusual capacity, these projects are often remarkably deserving. Many rich men devote great stores of time and money to charity; others support research projects, and flights of scholarship which universities cannot afford unaided; there are other rich men who leave money to be devoted to the formation of great collections of pictures, great libraries, or to be expended in grants-in-aid which enable artists and musicians to travel, or to live quietly while they produce new works. Governments rarely contain men who are interested in such things. Furthermore, governments must be elected by popular vote, and they must therefore make a show of economy; it is always easy to economize on projects of scholarship or charity which a majority of voters do not understand or value.

* * *

If the Charitable Gifts Act will have the effect of inhibiting the generosity of enlightened and public-spirited men, it will be a bad Act indeed. And, as we have pointed out in a previous editorial, it is possible to protect the people of Ontario against the cunning of unscrupulous testators by legislation which is not nearly so far-reaching and repressive as that contained in the Charitable Gifts Act.

Cost Of Living A Steady Cost

The Bureau of Statistics has made public its assessment of the cost of living in Canada during the month of February. The check in the rise of prices first noted in December has been maintained. There has been a slight drop—three-tenths of a point—to 159.2, which followed an earlier slight decline in January of one-tenth of a point. The chief reason for the steadiness is that commodities and services other than food have held their levels since the first of the year, and the cost of food has dropped.

The present tendency is wholesome. Further rises such as this country suffered in 1948 would dislocate society and industry. A too sudden decline, which would be welcomed in some quarters, and would itself not be baneful, would be an indication of a dangerous condition. A sudden general fall in prices can be worse than a large increase.

It may be that now, three and a half years after the war, a new norm is being established. After the first war prices never went back to the pre-1914 levels as a normal condition, nor did wages. The whole level was raised. The painful abnormal Depression years scuffed the national economy and had dire social consequences. The post-war inflation we have recently gone through has been much easier to bear, more easily managed, in spite of the pinch of the high cost of living and the high taxation. We need not expect, and perhaps should fear, a return to 1939 levels. We can look with satisfaction on what seems to be a new normal level now being established. The drop in the taxation rates recently announced by the Minister of Finance is in keeping with this new condition, as well as an aid to it.

Directory To Ontario

We have been examining a 175-page, yellow-covered booklet recently issued by the Department of Travel and Publicity of the Ontario Government. It is called "Directory and Guide to Services of Ontario Government". The booklet is not the sort of thing calculated to entertain general readers or likely to be useful to them. It is, however, an excellent compilation for people who have dealings with various government offices and officers, and is a good current reference manual.

Most of its pages list the various offices (even to their room and telephone numbers at Queen's Park), the office-holders, and the kind of work each department and branch does. That is, it is both directory and guide. It also lists the publications of the various Ontario departments, and gives a thumbnail sketch of Ontario's history. If, for instance, you want to know who was Premier of Ontario during the first war, you can read that it was the Honourable Sir Wm. Howard Hearst, Conservative, October 2, 1914—November 14, 1919, and that he was born on February 5th, 1864, in Bruce County. The list shows, by the way, that all the fifteen Premiers of Ontario have been born in Ontario. You can read that in 1941 ½ of one per cent. of the people of Ontario could speak neither English nor French. You can find out that of the total population (675,494) of the Province in 1941, 37,317 people had obtained seventeen or more years of schooling. Such facts are incidental to the main purpose of the booklet, and no one is advised to acquire it for them alone. They are found in the last six or seven pages, and we have given you here the more impressive ones.

Getting Under The Duty Wire

The union of Newfoundland with Canada has offered opportunties for quick profit or the building up of cost-saving hoards of goods, to individuals and businessmen. For instance, we hear that many Newfoundlanders stocked up on cigarettes and rum — attics and cellars full of the stuff—before April 1st brought the Canadian taxes on these commodities. On the other hand, many types of goods which are cheaper now in the Island, were in short supply long before March 31st. It works both ways.

Some bigger business concerns have been trying to make it work one way, their way. Before Union, Newfoundland was a separate country with its own tariffs. Canadian and Newfoundland business firms laid down large stocks of goods brought into Newfoundland from foreign parts, goods which entered Newfoundland duty-free, or on which there was a small duty, compared with the Canadian duty. On April 1st these goods entered Canada with the Island on which they were stored, and entered duty-free. It is a highly specialized brand of smuggling, the opportunity for which arises once in an aeon. So far as we know, the dealing was and is perfectly legal. Now the goods can be shipped anywhere in Canada without let or hindrance from customs men. This sort of affair must be to a business man what creating a sonnet is to a poet.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Windsor Star carries an editorial headed "When To Feed Pigs". We thought pigs just ate one eighteen-hour meal a day.

A Montreal man named De Maisoneuve Robert says that if you know food values you can feed yourself healthily on 30 cents a day. Healthily perhaps, but appetizingly, no.

London Stage In Spring

By J. C. TREWIN

A WHITE rabbit once led Alice to Wonderland. Another white rabbit now leads Sid Field, one of London's finest clowns, into a comic wonderland of his own. The whimsical farce, Harvey, by an American dramatist, Mary Chase, has been running for years in New York and it has been awarded a Pulitzer Prize. If it is not likely to run so long in London, it will at least have done a service in giving to an expert vaudeville and revue comedian his first part in the theatre of "straight" comedy.

✧ ✧ ✧

AND yet the part is not so straightforward as that. Some critics, I know, have complained that Elwood P. Dowd, the principal figure in the play, offers Field too few opportunities. Field is an exuberant actor with a wide range of voice as of facial expression. It has been curious to see him on the stage throughout the evening with only one voice instead of the half-dozen cheerfully-varied accents of revue, and with no opportunity for much of the rapid facial play that has delighted his admirers in the past. Yet because these things are absent it is not to be supposed that Field's part is easy. It is uncommonly difficult. By his restraint, his loyalty to his author, and his resolve to create a recognizable character, Field has increased the admiration of many playgoers for a resourceful and unspoiled comedian.

✧ ✧ ✧

ELWOOD P. Dowd, the leading personage, is a dipsomaniac in a Far Western town of America. His family, for his own good, tries to get him sent to a sanatorium. Put as badly as that, the plot might appear to be distasteful, but it is nothing of the kind. True, this is not a good play. It is, indeed, often laboriously farcical with dialogue that rarely touches wit. Even so, it has one rich comic idea and one rich character, and for these it is likely to be remembered when many wittier and more technically ingenious pieces are forgotten.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE root idea is one that the whimsical dramatist, Sir James Barrie, would not have despised. Elwood Dowd believes firmly that he is accompanied everywhere by a white rabbit six feet one-and-a-half inches tall. He chats to the rabbit. He buys theatre and railway tickets for it. He reads Jane Austen to it. He uses it as a friend and confidant. He imagines, moreover, that everyone else can see it as well and is treating it with similar patience, friendliness, and courtesy. This is too much for his family, who try to get Elwood into a home for rest and treatment. What happens after this is the theme of Miss Chase's farce. The performance in London is dominated by the resource and endearing good humour of Sid Field. He proves himself again to be a superb mime. When he is talking to the rabbit (Harvey), nodding in understanding, beckoning, setting a chair, his dumb-show conveys far more than a torrent of words. Elwood Dowd is everyone's friend as well as Harvey's. Who can wonder that people who know Dowd find themselves, against their will, knowing Harvey as well? Sid Field holds the stage with unfailing humour and charm, and the success of the play in London will be due almost entirely to him. I say "almost"; but nobody will overlook the loyal performances of that experienced comedienne, Athene Seyler, as Elwood's sister—anxious and fretful—and of Ernest Hare as the stiff, pompous psychiatrist who runs the sanatorium and who, to his overwhelming alarm, at last sees Harvey for himself.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS is fantasy in the vein of a modern American dramatist. In the same week as Harvey was produced, London saw the revival of another fantastic farce, sixty years old, that bears its age remarkably well. Academic critics through the last decade or so have been scornful of Sydney Grundy's A Pair of Spectacles. But, whatever they may say, the old farce survives astonishingly well in performance. Grundy, a popular London dramatist of the 'nineties, based the play on a French original. His Benjamin Goldfinch, an almost absurdly benevolent Victorian, is obliged for a while to wear the spectacles of his brother, a wealthy miser of a Northern businessman, and changes suddenly from the most amiable of philanthropists to a domestic tyrant. Much of the humour comes from the speed with which Goldfinch's moods change from sweet to sour, and back to sweet, as he flicks his spectacles off and on; and there could be no actor more alertly humorous in this part than Denys Blakelock. He plays old men with remarkable facility: his performance as the centre-pieces of Arthur Pinero's The Magistrate and, later, of Dandy Dick, are still warmly recalled: and in A Pair of Spectacles he obviously enjoys his swift moves from a creamy goodwill to a rasping, ill-tempered snarl. David Bird, too, is excellently in character as the man from the North who believes nothing without proof, and whose persistent "Show me!" became a catchword when the play was first produced by Sir John Hare, in 1890.

✧ ✧ ✧

TWO other plays during the Christmas season were imports from America. The more elaborate, a musical piece, High Button Shoes, depends almost entirely upon its dancing. The humour rests too heavily upon the doings of a confidence-trickster, acted with vigour by an adroit but here unlucky comedian, Lew Parker. There is little in the part to recommend it to a British audience: sometimes it reminds one of O. Henry's famous character of "The Gentle Grafter", but the O. Henry wit is lacking. Thanks, however, to the wild whirl of a comic ballet midway through the evening, the piece is more pleasing than its mild start and it's agreeable but undistinguished score have led one to expect. It may run: and if it does the dancers must have the credit.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER of the London experimental theatres, the Boltons, presented an intimate revue: an achievement indeed on so small a stage. Last year the Boltons Revue had the honour of transference to the West End of London and to the stage of the famous St. James's Theatre. The new edition, though hardly of the same quality, is always gay and civilized, and it gives several rewarding chances to its young company. At the moment the level of British "intimate" revue writing is high. Several men can shape a good topical lyric: Allan Melville, an acknowledged master in this field, has had some capable imitators. Much of the Boltons revue is the work of Michael Treford; it shows that he has ideas and the capacity to express them with wit, economy, and a sharp sense of the theatre.

✧ ✧ ✧

OUTSIDE London one of he year's events—apart from the festivals at Stratford-upon-Avon and Edinburgh—will be the British Theatre Exhibition at Birmingham. This, organized by Sir Barry Jackson in association with a distinguished provincial newspaper, The Birmingham Post, is expected to be one of the most important of its kind yet assembled. During May many lovers of the theatre will probably be moving for a day or two to the English Midlands.

Letters To The Editor

GOVERNMENT SHOULD PAY INTEREST

Sir: Recently, I read in your paper of a man Who Lumped And Lost! As I understand it, this man failed to pay his income tax, before the average man's income tax is due; so the Government charged this man, twenty-four dollars, and some odd cents interest! The Government, had already this man's total income tax for the year in question; then he finds he has broken the law of the land—but has he? And what law!

It's a poor law, that don't work both ways! If a man over-pays his income tax, does the Government pay him interest on this over-payment? As far as I know, they do not! But, why not? If you or I borrow from a loan company, can we get that loan without paying for it? Now, let us get down to brass tacks!

Many people in this country, will have over-payed their income tax by pay-roll deductions this year. As far as I can see, from what I read in the papers, the Government intend to return any over-payment, on or about the time we file our 1949 returns. Does our Government intend to pay the people interest on these over-paid income taxes? And, if not; why not? What's good for the goose, is good for the gander!

On June 15th, in the year of our Lord, 1215, King John of England, was forced to sign, the Great Charter; with bitter anger and protest in his heart. It almost seems, that Magna Charta should be signed over again!

Yours truly,
A READER.

HOW ABOUT WHITE BUTTER?

Sir: White's the cleanest colour there is. Now we've got white margarine, why can't somebody get to work and let us have butter that isn't all coloured up with goodness knows what? I'll venture to say there aren't many people that ever saw good pure cream that's the yellow colour of butter? What happens to it in the meantime? Why can't they leave the good cream colour alone and let us buy butter that looks natural?

"INDIGNANT".

Miss Kelly Was Just Twelve Years Behind Brantford

The Cornwall Standard-Freeholder states that a generation now slipping gracefully into middle age will regret most ardently the death of Miss Annie Kelly, an eighty-seven-year-old resident of Joliet, Illinois. Miss Kelly's fame, our contemporary claims, rests on the fact that in 1907 she invented the ice cream soda, by hitting upon the idea of mixing soda and ice cream.

Nonsense! Ben Foster of Brantford was serving ice cream sodas, big, frothy ones flavoured with fruit juices, in his up-to-date ice cream parlour as long ago as 1897—and for a nickel.

It looks as if the Telephone City can add another invention to its list, which includes the telephone and the dial telephone—to wit, the ice cream soda. Then, of course, there is the Massey-Harris binder and the Cockshutt plow.

Furthermore, Brantford was one of the very first cities in Canada in which moving pictures were shown. The theatre was the old Wycliffe Hall.

It's quite a city, Brantford.

Bible Message

And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed; and not on the sabbath day.

The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him. (Luke 13: 10-17.)

IODE Members Hear Talk On Newfoundland

LAKEFIELD, April 6 (ENS)—Highlight of the April meeting of the Catharine Parr Traill Chapter IODE was an interesting address on Newfoundland, given by Mrs. T. W. Chaplin.

The speaker took her audience on an air journey over Newfoundland, Canada's tenth and newest province.

Newfoundland, the most easterly part of North America was discovered by John Cabot in June 1497. As a reward Cabot received pounds, she related.

Newfoundland, Britain's oldest colony has an area of 43,000 square miles. Formerly the inhabitants depended solely on the fishing industry for their livelihood. The development of air transportation has meant much to the country. Gander Airport has reported as high as 1,000 landings in a month. St. Johns, the capital, the oldest city in North America, has a romantic history.

It was not without many heated discussions that Newfoundland eventually joined the Dominion on March 31, 1949, the speaker said.

The Regent, Mrs. E. H. Northey presided for the meeting held in the Parish Hall on Monday night.

Mrs. J. McKerchar gave the treasurer's report. It was moved by Mrs. McKerchar and Mrs. L. Quackenbush that all outstanding bills be paid and Mrs. W. O'Brien allowed $3 petty cash for editing the bulletin.

Purchase Food

Mrs. Quackenbush, convener of post-war work stated the food had been purchased for shipment to Britain but had not been sent yet.

Mrs. Ray Jackman, program convener led a sing-song, accompanied by Mrs. McKerchar. Mrs. M. Douglas read the poem from which the chapter's motto, "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you," is taken.

It was decided to take up a 10c tea collection at each meeting to pay the sexton for lighting the fire and to buy food.

Budgeting Talk

Mrs. Jack Richardson of Peterborough gave a talk on budgeting. Mrs. W. O'Brien introduced Mrs. Richardson who was thanked by Mrs. W. Todd.

Mrs J. Huddant, convener of the ways and means committee, suggested the chapter start a travelling grocery basket to raise money.

The chapter decided to have a travelling bridge on April 25. Each member to have one or more tables of bridge in her home, and all to meet for lunch either at the Grove School or Memorial Hall. Mrs. L. Bailey, Mrs. C. Hunter and Mrs. J. Arnott were named to convene the bridge.

Five new members were inducted, Mrs Walter Killoran, Mrs. John Browne, Mrs. Allan Graham, Mrs. Donald Marr and Mrs. Mary Martin.

Lunch was served by the social convener, Mrs. Alex Aiken and her assistants.

Can't Broadcast

BUENOS AIRES, April 6 (AP) —Herbert M. Clark, correspondent for the American Broadcasting Company, said Tuesday he is no longer able to make news broadcasts from Argentina. Clark said there is no regulation preventing such transmissions but that since March 9 all Argentine radio stations to which he has applied have refused to let him use a studio microphone. Before that date, he added, he was always able to borrow or rent a microphone.

King Turns Historic Documents Over To Archives Of Dominion

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP) — Former Prime Minister King announced Tuesday that the collection of files and documents he acquired in nearly 30 years as leader of the government or of the Opposition has been placed in the Canadian public archives "practically in its entirety."

He said the transfer of this huge accumulation of records began in 1946.

At the same time he began distribution of personal books, records and documents he had collected, to various departments of governments which might be interested.

Mr. King issued a general statement on the subject of documents in his possession.

He had hoped, he said, that retirement would give him an opportunity to put these documents in such form that those likely to have "an enduring value" might become a permanent possession of the nation and made available to the public at as early a date as possible.

No Indication

"I had also hoped that retirement might afford opportunity for recording some of the experiences of a long and eventful life," he said. However, the statement gave no indication of the progress he has made on this subject.

He said the conditions of transfer of documents and such material to the archives were stated in a formal exchange with the Dominion archivist. Mr. King stated the intention of the transfer in these words:

"My intention in transferring this part of my correspondence to the archives is to have this correspondence, in whole, or in part, and such additional correspondence, as for a similar reason, I may feel it desirable to send on to the archives, placed permanently in the archives."

"The purpose in having the transfer made, even before I had had an opportunity of looking it over myself, was that it might be examined, without delay, as to those portions which might be deemed to be of permanent national interest and value.

"Reservations, customary in cases of the kind, were made as to the correspondence being held in trust until such time as a formal transfer of ownership might be made.

Money Abhorrent

"The thought of the possibility of my being paid any sum of money from any source for this vast accumulation of personal papers and records for any portion of them, or of their becoming a matter of bargain or sale, or of their being allowed to pass out of the possession of Canada, is something that would be abhorrent to me....

"F. W. Gibson, formerly of Queen's University, has, under the direction of the Dominion archivist, been engaged over the past 2½ years upon the work of examination and classification of the correspondence sent by me to the archives. His task is still far from complete.

"I have hoped that by not delaying transfer of this material to the archives, such value as the correspondence and documents may have to students and others might thereby be materially expediated."

Plan Aviation Talks

OTTAWA, April 6 — (CP) — Preliminary talks towards drafting a new civil aviation agreement between Canada and the United States may start early in May, it was learned Tuesday night from government officials. They were commenting on a Washington report in which Garison Norton, assistant secretary of state for communications in the U.S. government, said renegotiation of the agreement was an "important outstanding problem." At the same time it was also understood Canada was preparing to bring up to date its civil aviation agreement with the United Kingdom.

Fred Atkins, the "hard rock from down under", is coming to the Brock Arena this Friday (not Wednesday this week) night to tackle the Masked Marvel in the main pro mat bout. The driving Australian, who holds the British Empire heavy title, should be just the guy to rip the hood off the mystery man's noggin. And give him a thorough pasting into the bargain. All of which would please the customers considerably as the Mask is a powerful and brutal grappler who knows no law but that of might. Atkins is tougher than three barrels of nails, when you can get them, and plenty ring-wise. Frank Valois goes in the semi-final against the Cardiff Giant, whilst Pat Flanagan faces bearded Ben Morgan in the prelim. Quite a card.

Preparations roll right along for the annual Ontario Baseball Association convention in Peterborough this week-end. It opens Friday afternoon and concludes Saturday night, the general meeting being on Saturday aft. Delegates from all parts of the province will attend for the election of officers, presentation of reports and the making of diamond laws for the coming year. No less than 27 amendments to the rules to be dealt with, while 17 names have been submitted for the executive, including that of Cy Whatley of Peterborough. A civic dinner will be tendered all delegates. It'll be a hefty convention.

A Crown At Stake

Hockey interest is hitting a new high around here now as the local Legionnaires prepare to step into Lindsay on Friday and Saturday nights to open OHA senior "B" finals with Sarnia Sailors. First two of the best-of-five series in Lindsay and then the remaining three games (if necessary) in Sarnia the following week-end. After a grind of more than three months, the end is in sight for Legion now with a provincial crown at stake and they'll shoot the works in an effort to capture it. The Scugog arena should be jam-packed for both games of the big series.

Legion have come a long way since they formed an intermediate club four years ago just to keep the boys in hockey. If we recall rightly, the only ones playing that season who are still with the club as players were: Joe Rochetta, Bill Crowley, Bob Parnell, Doug Mortimer, Deotch Vitarelli and Johnny Godfrey. Mick Magee was playing but now is assistant coach. Others came along the next season or since, and it is a starry squad at present, right at its peak. A solid goalie with four efficient defencemen — including playing coach Ned Vitarelli—and three hustling young lines. Lots of speed and fight there, players that go both ways all the time, and a team that wears a "hungry" look out there on the ice. They'll be tough to stop now.

Tucked It Away

Juvenile PCI-ers left no doubt as to their cage superiority last p.m. as they knocked off the Sudbury Airwaves 49-41 to take the all-Ontario series by 21 points. Good stuff. And now Coach Bev Goulding's smart team takes on the Quebec winner for the Eastern Canada title. PCVS senior boys, as well as the junior and senior PCVS girls' teams, are in COSSA playoffs up Toronto way this week-end as the hoop season rolls toward the finishing line. A change has been made in the local Girls' Basketball League playoffs, putting on three games at the YW this Friday evening, starting at eight, to wind up the three series. CGE plays Collis first, Nurses meet Neill's next, and then Lockeys tackle Normals. Collis are 19 points up, Neill's lead by three, and Normals are in front by 13.

An item out of Napanee in a Toronto sheet says: "Napanee's intermediate baseball team may move up to senior ball this year if Belleville can be persuaded to join the COBL, Joe Killorin, manager and coach, said yesterday. Kingston, Oshawa, Batawa and Peterborough made up the senior loop last year and it is hoped to have two sections if Belleville comes in. Baseball is booming in Napanee." A decade or more ago, Ernie Gibbard had a good Napanee entry in the COBL. We have our doubts about Belleville coming in this year, though they have a fine setup there insfoar as a lighted park goes. But Batawa cashes in on it, and the Quinte fan interest.

Here and There In Sport

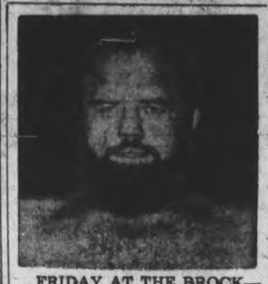
By The Canadian Press

The National Boxing Association Tuesday classed Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold as logical contenders, in that order, for the heavyweight title vacated by champion Joe Louis.

In the NBA's quarterly ratings released at Washington, issued by Vice-President Fred J. Saddy, Gus Lesnevich is rated at his own request as No. 1 contender for the light heavyweight title.

Two Canadians were listed as "outstanding boxers" in their divisions. They are Johnny Greco of Montreal, welterweight; and Li'l Arthur King, Toronto lightweight.

Montreal Royals trounced Ihkerman Rockets 8-1 at Montreal Tuesday night in the third and final game of the best-of-five Eastern Canada Memorial Cup semi-final series.



The Montrealers now move against Barrie Flyers in a best-of-seven series for the right to meet the western winner for the junior championship.

Regina Capitals moved to within one game of the Western Canada senior hockey final Tuesday night when they defeated Trail Smoke Eaters 8-4, their third victory in as many starts in their best-of-seven semi-final series. The win was the 15th consecutive game Caps have played without a defeat.

The series winner will meet either Winnipeg Nationals or Fort Frances Canadians for the western title and the right to enter the Allan Cup final.

Sam Breadon, 72, former owner of St. Louis Cardinals, is seriously ill at St. John's Hospital in St. Louis his physician reported Tuesday. The nature of his illness was not disclosed. "There is nothing critical about his condition at this time, but it is serious," said Dr. Robert Hyland. Breadon sold his majority holding in the St. Louis club for more than $3,000,000 in November, 1947.

At Detroit, Irish Jimmy Sheets, 174, of Chicago, Tuesday snapped the 23-fight winning streak of Domonic Berardo, 174, of Windsor, Ont., as he stopped the Canadian boy via a KO in the sixth round of a scheduled eight-round main event at Arena Gardens. Sheets cut Berardo's eye in the sixth round and had him helpless against the ropes when the fight was stopped.

FRIDAY AT THE BROCK—Something is due to break when British Empire Champion Fred Atkins and the Mask collide in the no-time-limit match in the Brock Arena on FRIDAY night. Both men are big and hardy but Atkins would appear to have a slight edge. Atkins has crushed all his opposition since he defeated Whipper Watson a couple of months back and he will be in no mood to stand for much of the Mask's stalling tactics. The Champion makes it very plain that he will defeat and dehood the Mask on Friday but the hooded grappler things just the opposite.

PCVS Cagers Sweep Series To Take All-Ontario Title

Defeating the Sudbury Airwaves 49-41 at the Collegiate on Tuesday afternoon, the PCVS boys captured the all-Ontario juvenile basketball championship before 500 noisy fans. It was the second game of the two-game playoff series, PCVS winning the first 58-45 and taking the round by 21 points.

The Tuesday tussle was fast and rugged with Peterborough having a scoring margin and Sudbury an edge in ball-handling. Poor shooting by the visitors cost them the game as PCVS proved careless when up 15 points and failed to cover under the basket. Clever passing by the line of Northcott, Griffin and Thompson of PCVS enabled them to break fast. Pylko, Shoveller and Iwanicki stood out for Sudbury with their offensive and defensive play.

Started It

Griffin, on a passing play with Northcott, drew first blood in the game. Shoveller and Pylko evened it up for Sudbury shortly. The zone defence held the northerners out but finally, led by Burton, they began peppering the home hoop. It got away a dozen shots but only one hit the mark, and the first quarter ended 8-7 for Collegiate.

Bev. Goulding's team, led by Griffin, pulled away in the second stanza. Passing plays caught Sudbury up the floor and PCVS rammed in 15 points to seven with Griffin getting the easiest points of the series when Iwanicki mistook him for a teammate and tossed to him under the basket. The losers were not getting the rebounds on PCI shots, and the half arrived with the count 23-14 for the homesters.

Danger Man

In the third, Iwanicki was the danger man, scoring eight points with a swell hook shot, but it was not sufficient as the PCVS first line again tallied 15 points to keep nicely in front. Grafstein shone on guard for Peterborough, as Burton checked well for Sudbury. It was 38-27 for PCVS at the three-quarter mark. Stopped by the zone defence in the fourth, Sudbury tried long shots but the aim was poor. Dinsdale and Grafstein at guard picked the rebounds off to pass up to forwards who scored. Iwanicki and Burton tried hard to tie it but time ran out on them.

Two tall, blond No. 4 players, Griffin of PCVS and Iwanicki of Sudbury, were leading scorers with 19 points each. Thompson got nine and Burton eight. Sudbury attempted 83 shots, making 16, as PCVS got 38 points on 73 shots. They made 11 of 23 foul shots and Sudbury made good nine of 16. Referees Ron McComb and Bob Dyer handled the game well. The PCVS cagers now meet Quebec in Eastern Canada playoffs.

Lineups:

PCVS—Dinsdale 5, Northcott 7, Young 2, Hall, Griffin 19, Bailey, Thompson 9, Grant, Evans 2, Ackford, Grafstein 4, Sergeant 1.

Sudbury — Burton 8, Iwanicki 19, Chmara, Shoveller 6, Pylko 5, Sinclair, Campbell 3, Black, Fordy.

Providence Reds Trim St. Louis 3-2 In Playoff

By The Associated Press

Terry Reardon, player-coach of Providence Reds, is 30 years old today and the popular skipper has plenty of reasons to celebrate.

The Reds presented Reardon with a pre-birthday gift Tuesday night by nipping the St. Louis Flyers at Providence 3-2, to move into the final round of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup playoffs.

Winners of the eastern division's pennant in a breeze, they take on Hershey Bears in Hershey Thursday night in the first game of the best-of-seven final series.

Reardon helped the cause by scoring the first goal of Tuesday night's game before a record crowd of 7,450 fans. Eddie Kullman poked home the winner in the final period of the deciding game of the best-of-seven series.

After Reardon opened the scoring late in the first stanza, Vic Grigg tied it up for the Flyers in the second. Jackie Hamilton shoved the Reds in front again early in the final and, after Barry Sullivan counted for St. Louis, Hamilton set up Kullman with the winning goal.

Hershey finished second to the Reds in the regular season and gained the finals by beating Indianapolis and Cleveland.

Red Wings Beat Canadiens 3-1, Meet Leafs Next

DETROIT, April 6 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings prepared here today to make their second straight bid for the Stanley Cup against Toronto Maple Leafs.

They earned the right to meet the defending champions Tuesday night when they scored a 3-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens in the final game of a best-of-seven semi-final playoff series.

Last year Detroit lost out in the final round by losing four straight games to the Leafs.

Coming through in one of the toughest series in modern National Hockey League playoff series, the Detroiters battled fiercely to gain the decision over the Montrealers Tuesday night.

Again big Gordie Howe proved the Hero. He rapped home his team's first goal after three minutes of play in the first period.

A tower of strength to his team, the 21-year-old native of Saskatoon, Sask., scored his eighth goal of the series when he unleashed a sizzling 20-footer at goalie Bill Durnan.

Rearguard Leo Reise rapped home the winning counter midway through the second period just after Glen Harmon of Montreal had put the teams back on even terms. Jerry Couture's tally late in the same period clinched the game for the Wings.

It was the fourth straight game of the series that was decided by a 3-1 score.

Both Man Short

Both teams were a man short in the first period when Sid Abel sent Howe through the Montreal defence to score the first goal at the 3.17 mark.

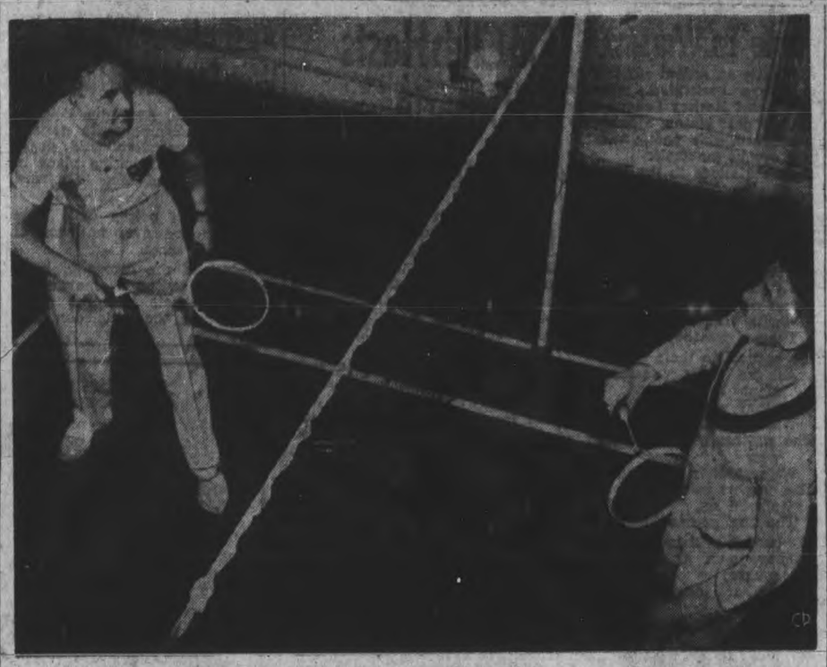
The teams were again playing a man short when Harmon tied it up early in the second period on a 50-foot screened shot.

Less than six minutes later Reise intercepted the puck in the Montreal end and fired a 40-foot backhander that dropped behind Durnan. Couture notched the clincher with less than two minutes remaining in the session. His goal came while big Butch Bouchard of Canadiens was serving a holding penalty.

Clarence Campbell, president of the NHL, announced after the game that the first two games of the final series would be played in Detroit Friday and Sunday.

Coaches Dick Irvin of Canadiens and Tommy Ivan of Wings agreed that their series was decided on "breaks."

"If we had them we might have won," Irvin said in the hushed Montreal room.



"We got them because we made them," added Ivan.

St. Paul Beats Tulsa

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 6 — (AP).— Tulsa Oilers and St. Paul Saints were en route to Tulsa today, each with a victory in their best-of-seven United States Hockey League playoffs. St. Paul squared the series here Tuesday night by holding Tulsa scoreless after the first period. The Saints won 4-2 on two third-period goals by Hary Bell and Mitch Pernet.

CUTTS TRIUMPHS—World badminton champion Stan Cutts, left, of Toronto, keeps his eye firmly on the birdie in a world-champion test-of-strength against Doug Grant of Montreal. Cutts retained his title by vanquishing Grant in two straight sets in Ottawa, 15-3, 15-2.

Sudbury Whips Scotch All-Stars

PAISLEY, Scotland, April 6—(CP)—Sudbury Wolves, Canada's touring hockey team, Tuesday continued their winning streak by edging a Scottish all-star team 4-3.

Paced by Jim Russell who scored two goals, the Canadians, led throughout the game. Tom Russell and Johnny Kovich notched the other Canadian tallies.

Chick Mann scored two of the All Stars' goals with Andre Girard getting the third.

The victory was the third straight for the Canadians in their current Scottish series.

Three of the Wolves, Kovick, Barney Hillson and Tom Russell, are reported to be considering offers from Ayr Raiders to remain in Scotland after the Wolves embark April 14. The trio are sought to play the rest of the Scottish season which winds up late this month.

Sammy Hackett Won 27 Fights Without A Loss

A former professional boxer and champion of Canada Sammy Hackett is foreman of the plastering crew at the new Civic Hospital.

When a boy of 15, he weighed only 93 pounds. His father decided something should be done to put weight on the boy in order that he could hold his own with boys of his age. Mr. Hackett sent Sammy to the Classic Athletic Club, Toronto. There a Toronto city champion took the boy under his wing.

Red Gallagher, coach at the Classic Club, saw the boy sparring in the ring and entered him in the Ontario Flyweight Championships of 1925. Sammy weighed only 107 pounds, but he won the Ontario title. In 1927 and 1928 Mr. Gallagher entered Sammy in the Featherweight Championships of Ontario Sammy took the championship both years.

Won 27 Fights

Mr. Hackett was in the amateur ranks until 1929. He fought 27 fights in a row without being defeated. Finally in a British Empire Lightweight Championship, Al Foreman brought him to the canvas. This string of wins has yet to be equalled in Toronto. Sammy Hackett tipped the scales in the fight at 126 pounds.

During the depression Mr. Hackett fought in the bootleg bouts in New York for a winter. He then fought a few bouts in Toronto. From Toronto he went to Timmins where he worked in the mines. While there he fought a few bouts, his trainer being his present boss, W. J. Crowe, plastering contractor.

Sammy Hackett's greatest achievement came in 1931. In March of that year he floored Kid Roy to become the Featherweight Boxing Champion of Canada.

To Assist Local Boys

His interest in boxing has not faded. He plans to help with the training of boys under the Peterborough Administrative Boxing Committee. He is willing to donate two or three nights to teach the boys the ins and outs of the sport.

Boxing is not the only sport in which Mr. Hackett participates. He plays a steady game of golf, loves fishing and bowls a terrific game.

Friday night in the committee rooms of the city buildings the representatives of the organizations behind the Peterborough Administrative Boxing Committee will meet. Fred Steele, who will be the new Ontario Athletic Commissioner succeeding Syl Apps, will be present.

Curlers Have Voice In New Arena Plans

MILLBROOK, April 6 (ENS)—Curling is to be a feature of the proposed Memorial Ice Arena. This was decided recently by the officers after it was revealed that a number of residents had made it a condition of their financial support to the project.

The canvass for both village and township began this week and will end April 16. It is hoped to raise $20,000.

After dinner speakers at the meeting of officers were Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the building committee for the Civic Arena, Peterborough, and John Black, chairman of the finance committee. Information given by the speakers included how to go about raising the necessary funds; discouragements that will likely be encountered and how to overcome them; facts about the building as to size, construction and other details, as well as replies to questions asked by local canvassers.

Tribute To Warsaw

Evidently an ardent admirer of the Warsaw hockeyists, winners of the Rural Hockey League title again the past season, a feminine fan sends in this poetic tribute, which speaks for itself:

Congratulations to the Warsaw Flyers
Who Came forth once again
To win the Tedford Trophy
For Nineteen Forty-Nine;
It seems they've got just what it takes
To stand it to the end.
These players smile and skate with vim,
Their rights they will defend.
We appreciate their efforts
As the team was short of men:
How they played together
Was remarkable, and then
The protest games were even won
With another player gone—
The cheers went up, the lads played on,
The final games they won.
We hand it to them one and all,
They won them fair and square;
The other teams were really good,
But the Flyers were right there.
We like to see good sportsmen,
After all it's just a game:
So, fans, just take a tip from me:
Congratulate the Warsaw team!

Firemen Use New Equipment

HAVELOCK, April 6 (ENS)—The recently-organized volunteer fire brigade under Fire Chief Bell did good work on Tuesday afternoon when fire broke out in the property occupied by Mrs. Robert McMillan.

Within a few minutes of the alarm the fire fighters were on the job. The fire was in the attic and walls and is presumed to have been caused by overheated pipes. Within an hour it was brought under control, although the building and contents were badly damaged. The new pump and fire hose purchased by the council was used for the first time and proved very effective. No estimate of the damage has been made as yet.

Australians Wage War On Wild Dogs

BRISBANE, Australia, April 6 —(CP)—A campaign to destroy dingoes (Australian wild dogs) from the air is taking place in Queenland and the Northern Territory.

Millions of poison baits have been dropped over an area of 160,000,000 acres.

Object of the campaign is to check the continual movements of the animals into the sheep ranches from the cattle country. It is estimated that at least 500,000 sheep have been killed yearly in Queensland alone by dingoes over the last five years.

Last year government-sponsored aircraft flew 42,000 miles dropping baits on remote land between the sheep and cattle ranches of Queensland.

The poison bait being used is a small dried piece of beef with a strychnine pellet inserted in the centre. It is wrapped in a greaseproof paper so that each bait falls separately.

The dingo is believed to have come from ancient Egypt and India. Aboriginal folk-lore indicates that they were in Australia when the aborigines arrived countless years ago.

Raps Indian Dept.

YORKTON, Sask., April 6 (CP) —Magistrate S. H. Potter criticized the Federal Government's Indian affairs department Monday when he sentenced a 17-year-old girl of the Crescent Lake Indian Reserve to one month in jail on a charge of drunkenness. "It is a pagan situation and a matter of supervision for the Indian Department who appear to treat these people like a bunch of wolves or a sack of potatoes, the Magistrate said.

100 NEW AND ENLARGED BUILDINGS help provide more and better telephone service

IN THREE SHORT YEARS, despite labour and material shortages, we have put up 50 new telephone buildings and greatly enlarged 50 others. Altogether we have added 444,000 square feet of space to help in the big expansion and improvement program which is making your telephone service better all the time.

Building costs have gone up 45% in these three years. Yet, up to now, despite rising costs on all sides there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records, but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever — to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

Year To Live But Won't Give Up

OKKLAHOMA CITY, April 6 (AP)—It's a woman's prerogative—so Mrs. Heart changed her mind.

"Because," she says, "maybe my heart condition can be cured after all. I'm going to see some more doctors."

Mrs. Heart is the moderately wealthy widow with a year to live—and $10,000 to spend.

She had decided against further medical aid—"you wouldn't have any fun, and you'd probably die anyway."

But she didn't know how to spend her money. So she appealed to the public—originally through the Daily Oklahoman—for advice.

She received prompt answers to her plea. The newspaper estimates it received more than 12,000 letters since it first published her story last Thursday morning.

Mrs. Heart—she is identified only as 51 and a retired business woman—left here to rest at an undisclosed spot.

The suggestions ranged from playing the horses—"it will do you good to get outdoors"—to "come live with me and I'll help you spend your money."

But most of the advice was sincere.

And Mrs. Heart says she's found her plan, her purpose.

"I asked for advice. And I'm accepting what, to me, seems the best," she explained.

"So many people wrote that heart ailments were supposed to kill them years ago. That proves doctors can be wrong.

"....Perhaps they are wrong in my case now."

Sees No Red Danger For India In Future

MONTREAL, April 6 (CP) — Communism has no future among the Indian people, Maj. J. W. Hughes told members of the Welsh colony here Tuesday night.

Maj. Hughes, a prominent member of the British Liberal party in Wales, said Communism and chaos would have engulfed India if Great Britain had held onto the east by force, he claimed.

Toronto Member Has Altercation With Speaker

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP) — A stormy scene blew up in the Commons on the stroke of adjournment Tuesday night with Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) angrily charging that Speaker Gaspard Fauteux had clipped off his time on the floor.

Amid an uproar from Liberal and Progressive benches, Mr. Fleming was trying to make a reply to an earlier speech of Defence Minister Claxton when Mr. Speaker declared 10.30 p.m.—adjournment time—had arrived.

The Toronto member, already angered over a forced withdrawal of his claim that Mr. Claxton had "deliberately distorted" the record of the Dominion-Provincial conference, hotly took issue with the Speaker.

"The clock does not say 10.30," he shouted.

Then, when the Speaker said that Mr. Fleming would adjourn the debate, the member declared: "I have not moved adjournment. You have no right to put words in my mouth."

At that, Mr. Fauteux sternly told Mr. Fleming to take his seat or "he knows what I will have to do"—presumably, have the member ejected.

Mr. Fleming subsided then, but again told the House it was not 10.30.

As Mr. Speaker once more observed that Mr. Fleming was moving adjournment, the Toronto member said he was not moving it.

"Well, I'll move it," said Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre).

BBC Overseas Building Taken By London Society

LONDON, April 6—(CP)—Yet another link with wartime Britain will disappear when the London Co-Operative Society takes over 200 Oxford Street, headquarters of the BBC's overseas service since 1941. In the darkest days of the war many people came to know a narrow bricked-in doorway near Oxford Circus with the number 200 painted on a small square board outside.

In and out of it scurried a miscellany of people suggestive of the Arabian Nights—Indian girls in saris, Hindus in turbans, Arabians in flowing robes, Chinese, Cypriots and Negroes; service man and women wearing the flashes of every Dominion and Colony in the Commonwealth.

At almost any hour Young might see J. B. Priestly, Leslie Howard, Vernon Bartlett or Canada's Matthew Halton turning in out of the black-out to do a broadcast.

All round the clock transmissions went out to almost every part of the Globe. While Britain was beleaguered, blockaded and bombed, her radio voice was calling night and day from underground studios in the Prosaic Building that had once been a departmental store.

Rows of Bunks

For broadcasters on 24-hour call, or unable to reach their homes, there were rows upon rows of bunks in the basement, safe from the crash of bombs outside.

"Security was the watchword when number 200 was being adapted for wartime broadcasting," a BBC official said, "and for a long time the general public had no idea where the station was located.

"There wasn't much comfort, but at that time it was more important to be safe, and the spirit of comradeship prevailing among wartime broadcasters would be hard to equal today."

Number 200 was acquired by the London Co-Operative Society more than three years ago. Just when it will be taken over and converted into a co-op. department store is not yet known, but the change is expected some time this year. Meantime the CBC and some sections of the BBC continue to use the building.

To Offer Commissions

OTTAWA, April 6—(CP)—Active service commissions in the Navy, Army and Air Force will be offered again this year to selected university students veterans, Defence Minister Claxton announced Tuesday. Last year the army commissioned 119 student veterans, the navy took 15 and the air force 72. This year the army will accept up to 75, the navy 30 and the air force 75.

Canyon Party Costs Mitchum About $25,000

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (AP)—That little party up in Laurel Canyon last September cost Robert Mitchum about $25,000.

This is one of the things the actors disclosed as he returned to work after serving 50 days in jail on a marijuana conspiracy conviction. He shrugged off the sum.

"What's 25 grand?" he said. "I'm broke all the time, no matter how you look at it."

Mitchum's first morning at work was as though he had never been gone. He kidded with the crew as usual. He greeted welcomes with "nothing to it." His first scene for "The Big Steal" had him walking down a hotel hallway, pulling out a pistol and entering a room.

After he finished the scene, I asked him if he had made any resolutions. "Resolutions!" He said in denial.

How did he think the jail term would affect him?

No Affect

"Personally—not at all, except that I can't act like a scoutmaster anymore. Professionally—that's someone else's problem, not mine."

Mitchum has been reading some of his vast mail. He said it is mostly sympathetic.

He seems to be the same Mitchum as before, though perhaps a bit more cautious. As for his future plans, he leaves soon for location shots in Mexico. After that comes a film with Jane Russell, to start in June.

Plan Rental Aid

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP) — Further government aid for low-rental housing may be undertaken, Reconstruction Minister Winters indicated Tuesday night to the Toronto Junior Board of Trade. Mr. Winters said assistance was being given in meeting the needs of veterans and potential home-owners, and the outstanding problem now was to provide low-rental housing for non-veterans.

Will Canvass School Sections For Membership

Organization of Kawartha Co-Operative Medical Association advanced another step in its preliminary phase at a largely attended meeting of promoters Tuesday night in the office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The recruiting of its rural members is to proceed generally on the basis of school sections with the requirement that at least 40% of the residents of a section should sign applications. That was the form of group admission that has been adopted in most of the counties of Ontario in which this rural plan of hospital services has been set up.

In the meantime the provisional directors are to remain in charge of the ground work until the paid membership warrants the calling of a general meeting for the election of the inaugural directing board and other initiating business. These directors are: Stewart Nelson, Dick Stewart, Mrs. Herb McFarlane, Mrs. Ernest Thompson, Milton Clarke, Alex Huston, David McIntyre. Miss Olive Bell is secretary.

The association is being sponsored by the Federation of Agriculture. Mr. G. D. Hughes of Toronto, explained the details of establishment.

In another month or two, Mr. Hughes said, only four or five counties in the province will lack the co-operative medical plan, and it is expected that before long the whole province will be within the fold. Even the organized districts like Temiskaming, Muskoka, Thunder Bay and Algoma have organized. Rainy River is next on the list. Even Pontiac county in Quebec received their charter last week after adopting the Ontario counties' scheme, and extension of the movement is expected in that direction. Enquiries have been received from sections of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Something Big

"You should know that you are in something that is likely to become pretty big," Mr. Hughes said. "Our oldest medical co-operative has had only six years' experience, and on Jan. 1, 1947, there were only nine counties organized. Since then we have had 39 come in."

As an expression of preference, the meeting indicated desire for drafting two plans costing $18 and $24 a year respectively. Mr. John Edmison was assigned the field work of obtaining memberships, and it was understood that he would follow the school section method of grouping.

W. W. Dawson presided over the meeting which outlined the immediate procedure of securing rural members in a sufficient number for the holding of a general meeting.

Postpone Decision On Thursday Stores

WARKWORTH, April 6 (ENS) —The closing of stores on Thursday nights during the summer season was discussed by the Business Men's Association and after lengthy discussion it was decided to settle the matter at the next meeting to be held April 21. Meanwhile stores will be closed Thursday nights, but will be open April 14, the day before Good Friday.

It was also decided that at the next meeting there would be no speaker in order that several outstanding matters may be discussed.

Dr. Robertson, of Cobourg, was the guest speaker at the last meeting and was introduced by C. O. Dudley. His subject was Our Responsibilities as Citizens and Our Responsibilities as a Nation. A vote of thanks was proposed by Elgin Edgar.

Unemployment Here Less Than U. S.

A release from the Department of Labor shows that unemployment in Canada has been relatively less than in the United States during each of the post-war years. This is the reverse of the situation which existed before 1939 when Canadian jobless were greater.

Although American statistics are available on a monthly basis and Canadian on a three-month period, estimates were established to show the comparative unemployment standing of both countries.

Taking the month of February for the 1949 and the preceding three years, figures show that in 1946 Canadian unemployment was 4.7 and American, 4.9. In 1947, Canadian was 3.0 as against 4.3, and in it was 3.2 compared with 4.4 in the States. This year Canadian statistics were 4.2 and American, 5.3.

Director Denies Provincial Police Paid Extra

MONTREAL, April 6 (CP) — Director Hilaire Beauregard on Tuesday said "that is false," when queried in connection with a story that provincial police at Asbestos were paid $50 a week by the Johns-Manville Company in addition to their regular pay. The Montreal newspaper Le Devoir was quoted in the House of Commons Monday night by Claire Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South) as having said police were paid by the company, whose workers are on strike at Asbestos.

"No payment of any sort has been made to the provincial police for services rendered to the town of Asbestos in the maintenance of peace and order during the strike that commenced Feb. 13," an official of the Johns-Manville Company said Tuesday.

"Nor is any payment to be made by the Company to the provincial police or to the government for their services," he added.

Mr. Gillis referred to this story, among others, in quoting from French-language newspapers reports which he said "are not carried in the English-speaking section of our press."

(All points touched by Mr. Gillis, with the exception of the allegation in connection with police payment, had been covered from the strike scene by The Canadian Press).

Ontario Gets Ottawa Grant For Physical Fitness

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP) — Ontario has signed an agreement with the Federal government under the terms of the National Physical Fitness Act, Health Minister Martin announced in the Commons Tuesday.

Under the Act, passed in 1943, the Federal government makes available to the provinces $225,000 annually to assist them in development of fitness and recreation programs. The amount is divided on a per capita basis with Ontario's share amounting to $74,063.

The Federal grant matches provincial expenditures up to the $74,000 maximum.

The agreement with Ontario is on a yearly basis, the minister said.

All provinces except Quebec and Newfoundland have agreements under the Act.

"For some years Ontario has had a fitness program under its Department of Education, but outside the scope of the National Physical Fitness Act," Mr. Martin said. "The adherence of Ontario is a step in which we feel will be of substantial mutual advantage."

Community Programs

At Toronto, Education Minister Porter told the Legislature the grants will be used by the province in its community programs activities.

Mr. Porter said a Department of Education staff administering the community programs was trained to deal with recreation, music, rural programs, drama, citizenship crafts, adult education and radio. The physical fitness branch of the community programs dealt with training of camp counsellors, citizenship, corps training. For these combined activities the department had appropriated this year $682,000.

Bylaw Changes In Plumbing Said Retrograde

Omission of main traps and breather pipes in domestic plumbing systems was regarded as a retrograde step in building by Percy H. Dunford, master plumber, in a protest to the Council Monday night.

He said the reported claim of $65 saving in the average house job was too large in his figuring. His estimate was $35 to $40, and he quoted some other plumber's $44. Mr. Dunford said his interest was not selfish, because he believed the plumber would make as much or more from the change the Council was putting into effect.

"I am convinced that plumbing system in the house is far better and healthier with the main trap and breather," Mr. Dunford said. "It has long been recognized that the codes in Toronto and Peterborough are the best in the Province. The Toronto code was the masterpiece of its plumbing inspection department. We adopted it here, and it has been a great advantage."

Provide Fresh Air.

Mr. Dunford said it was unfortunate that the ordinary person did not understand the purpose of the main trap and breather in the domestic plumbing system. The breather in the wall or above the lawn was to provide an intake of pure air into the plumbing system. It was one means of protection against sewer gas getting into the house. The main trap was another. "It is a safety valve on a plumbing installation, and its place is to prevent sewage gases."

Approved By Board.

Amendments of the plumbing bylaw, recently recommended by the board of works, were adopted in its report read by Ald. Hurrell Dodds. The clause which drew Mr. Dunford's opposition is an optional premission as follows: "That the installation of the main trap and breather pipes in either new buildings or alterations to existing structures be made at the discretion of the owner or builder." The changes came from a subcommittee of which Ald. Doug Miller was chairman, and were incorporated in the board's report to the Council.

In supporting the recommended change, Ald. Miller read to the Council the approval of Dr. A. E. Berry, director of the Sanitary engineering division of the Ontario Department of Health.

Dr. Berry wrote that the trend today was away from the main trap in plumbing. It was not required in the code proposed for Ontario. But, if a municipality wished to retain the trap, it had also to include a vent or breather.

"I feel certain very few municipalities in future will require the main trap..... The decision to use or omit this trap has depended on some person in that municipality. At one time it was felt this trap was necessary, but there have been a number of reports against it, and certainly the various municipalities now do not feel the expense is justified."

Ald. Miller cited Brantford, Guelph, Ottawa, St. Thomas, Fort William and other cities has having dispensed with main traps and breathers.

EXPLAINS COMMUNITY FUND

Ross L. Dobbin, chairman of the Red Cross and Community Fund, gave a brief address to the Allied Labor Council on Tuesday night on the purpose and organization of the Fund. He informed the delegates that the fund allocated money to the various agencies after an audited statement from the previous year had been submitted and the current budget had been carefully scrutinized. The allocation may be for maintenance costs and operating expenses but not for capital expenditures, he explained. After his address he answered questions and distributed copies of the 1948 statement.

Most Exciting Exhibition Ever To Hit Peterborough

By T. J. ALLEN

Go up to the gallery of the Public Library and have your eyes blasted. That is the first effect of the loan exhibition from the National Gallery of the Canadian Group of Painters which has now been hung in the local gallery and will first be on public view Thursday. As far as my memory and records indicate this is the finest exhibition of paintings which Peterborough has ever had. It is certainly the most exciting. Now, a few hours after a quick preview of the show, I am still pop-eyed, and a calm review must wait a later time and a second and third look. It will, I wager, arouse more discussion among people who have eyes in their heads than anything that has come to Peterborough since the first automobile. It should.

There are 34 canvases representing a great array of well-known painters and younger ones now gaining reputation. Among them are Andre Bieler, Fritz Brandtner, A. J. Casson, Henri Masson, Will Ogilvie, R. York Wilson, Lawren Harris Jr., David Milne, Bertram Brooker, Louis Muhlstock, Alex Colville, B. Coghill Haworth.

Large Canvases

As you enter the main gallery the first thing to hit the eye is E. J. Hughes' "Indian Church at North Vancouver," a large, sharply-delineated and boldly-coloured work which takes the breath until you glance over to the east to have it blown right back by "The Age of Anxiety," equally large, totally different—it is a sort of mural, representational yet rigidly patterned, massive and intense. Incidentally this canvas is priced at $1,000.

There is no end to the explosions until you have made the complete tour of both rooms. There are quieter paintings interspersed between the ones which leave you wall-eyed with wonderment, but there is little to remind you of the Group of Seven of which the Canadian Group of Painters is the inheritor, except Lismer's "Canadian Jungle," Casson's "October Snow" and Kathleen Morris' "Cab Stand, Quebec City," reminiscent of Cullen in subject and of J. W. Morrice in colour and brush work.

There are landscapes, but these are in the minority, and there is nothing of mere politeness or pretty transcription in them. For instance, Henri Masson's "Autumn" is a recognizable landscape, but as vivid and vibrant as autumn itself. One of the finest Andre Bieler's I have ever seen is in the anteroom, his "Bronco Riders." Will Ogilvie's "Two Figures" is outstanding for its grace among other paintings which are at least loud.

Something of Everything

There are abstractions, some social comments, surrealist fantasies, something of almost everything except Gordon Webber, whose one design in the show (a kind of mathematical emptiness in space) had to be shipped back to Ottawa as it was being unerated for somebody had bought it.

Mr. William Graff, Peterborough Librarian, and others who made possible the bringing of this show to Peterborough, are to be thanked. So also are Jack Hamer, Gertrude Cox and Al Hatton, the only three who turned up to hang the paintings.

It is an exhibit which all but the weak of heart for whom the stairs would be too much, or the faint-hearted, for whom the canvases would be too much, should see. It comes down in only three weeks. The gallery is open during the day until 9 p.m. There is no admission fee.

Two Entertaining Plays Presented At Grove School

LAKEFIELD, April 6—(ENS).—The Grove hall was filled to capacity Monday and Tuesday nights when the school presented two plays.

The first, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern," was produced and presented by Grove Little Theatre group. It is a tragic episode in three tableaux, founded on an old Irish legend by W. S. Gilbert and was exceptionally well presented. G. S. Knighton as Hamlet gave a realistic impersonation of the mad archbishop. Gordon Mills acting as Rosencrantz was excellent.

King Claudius (Mr. C. M. Serson), when a young man, wrote a five-act tragedy which was damned, and all reference to it forbidden under penalty of death. The King has a son, Hamlet (G. S. Knighton), whose tendency to soliloquy—that is, talking to himself about himself, has so alarmed his mother, Queen Gertrude (Mrs. C. M. Serson) that she sends for Rosencrantz (Gordon Mills) and Guildenstern (R. Shaw) who are attending university, to arrange some court revels for Hamlet's entertainment. Rosencrantz is a former lover to the court censor's daughter Ophelia (Mrs. W. E. Rashleigh), to whom Hamlet is betrothed and they plan how Hamlet may be put out of the way. Some court theatricals are in preparation. Ophelia and Rosencrantz persuade Hamlet to present his father's tragedy before the King and court.

Hamlet, unaware of the law forbidding it presents the play with Gerry Staples as first player, Mrs. A. Kembar as second player and he is banished by his father, and Rosecrantz is happily united to Ophelia.

Gay Musicale

"Trial by Jury" was a gay musicale produced and directed by Mr. C. Gledhill, B.A., M.A., Mus. Bac. (Oxon), with Mrs. Agnes Logan Green, ATCM, as pianist.

Edwin is being sued by Angelina for breach of promise of marriage. The usher instructs the jury that "from bias free of every kind," the trial must be held, adding that they need pay no attention when the ruffianly defendant speaks.

The judge, a complacent man, is enraptured when beautiful Angelina, the plaintiff, comes in with her bridesmaids. The note he had sent to one of the bridesmaids he has re-routed to her. Angelina reads it, kisses it passionately, and places it in her bosom.

The gallant jurors heap imprecations on Edwin and call for substantial damages.

In vain Edwin pleads for mercy for one who loves this young lady today and another tomorrow, and offers to marry Angelina today and another tomorrow. But the plaintiff's counsel, upon referring to a law book discovers that to marry two wives at one time is a serious crime.

While Angelina embraces Edwin maintaining that she loves him, Edwin repels her energetically, protesting that he is a bully and a sot. All is confusion until the Judge can stand it no longer, bids the lawyers put their briefs on the shelf and he will marry her himself.

Do Good Job

A. Binnie as the attractive blonde Angelina, sings his part in a remarkably sweet soprano voice.

Morgan Bonney as the defendant, in a gay green checked suit acted his part exceptionally well.

Peter Ward as the judge complete with wig and gown, played his part in really courtly style.

Other members of the cast were P. Sherwood as the usher, F. Gibaut as counsel, B. MacNaughton as foreman of the jury.

The four pretty bridesmaids in long satin gowns were: J. Delamere, M. Haig, W. Rashleigh, and A. Ryder.

The jurymen were: C. Mainguy, W. Lauter, W. Hill, R. Derry, J. Corr, V. Boyt, Mr. William Rashleigh and Mr. Hugh Ketchum.

The spectators, half of whom were attired as pay ladies of the court were: N. Powell, R. Kembar, H. MacDonald, P. Carroll, P. MacGillivary, F. Pearce, M. Brine, K. Little, C. Colin-Smith, W. Wilson, M. Roell, G. Meek, S. Beal, D. Ross, A. Hutchison, R. Labatt, D. Dale, D. Coleman, T. Wilkes, P. Saunders, M. Gordon and G. Fenny.

Headmaster G. Wender Smith spoke briefly thanking the audience for giving the plays such a splendid reception. Mr. Smith also thanked Mr. Michael Saddler for assisting with the make-up, Mrs. Green for accompanying the boys, and Mr. Gledhill for producing the last play.

The chorus work in "Trial by Jury" was exceptionally well done and merited a great deal of praise for both the boys and Mr. Gledhill.

Labor Council Opposes Bill

Peterborough's Allied Labor Council on Tuesday night went on record as being strongly opposed to the controversial Charitable Gifts Act, now before the Ontario Legislature.

The motion which passed unanimously was introduced by Harold Dormer, Local 248, ITU, and Villiam Gunn, Local 293, UPWA.

"That Act is certainly hitting at the Toronto Daily Star and nobody else," commented President Alfred Barber as he signified his approval of the motion.

"Not even all the Tory papers are in favor of it," said an unidentified delegate from the floor.

The full motion was as follows: That the Allied Labor Council go on record as being strongly opposed to the Charitable Gifts Act, and that the secretary be instructed to write to Attorney General Leslie Blackwell, Provincial Treasurer Leslie M. Frost, and the local member, the Hon. Harold R. Scott, expressing the Council's views.

Fewer Men Switching Jobs 511 Reported On List At Employment Service

An interim report on the unemployment situation in Peterborough was brought before the Allied Labor Council on Tuesday night by Phil Knibbs, corresponding secretary. According to the figures of William Mellis, manager of the National Employment Service, as of March 28 he had 921 unemployed males and 330 females. There were claims for 850 males—511 of them from the Peterborough and the other 339 from the postal district which covers the counties of Peterborough, Durham, and part of Northumberland.

The balance of 71 males was made up of "unemployables": i.e., men between the ages of 50 and 78 whose insurance had run out and employers would not hire them. Of the 263 females who were claiming insurance 217 were from Peterborough and the rest from the rural areas. Unemployables among the women were mainly cafeteria help.

Mr. Knibbs related that he had been told unemployment figures this year were somewhat higher than last year at this time, but not seriously so. Most of those out of work, Mr. Mellis had assured him, were seasonal workers such as construction workers, those in the building trades generally, and railway track men.

Take Up Slack

Their numbers on the unemployment roll should dwindle rapidly within a few weeks, Mr. Mellis had said.

Mr. Knibbs said it was apparent that the easy switching from job to job which has been a practice among some workers for the past few years, "is now drying up." Men are hanging on to their jobs, he stated.

The General Electric Co. has not hired a man through NES since last November, Mr. Mellis told Mr. Knibbs. According to a list of new employees available to the UE there have been about 40 hired at the CGE in that period the later stated.

"It looks as though the GE is by-passing the Employment Service," he commented.

Not Optimistic

Alfred Barber, president of Local 210 UPWA and president of the Allied Labor Council, said that the killing of hogs was far below the level established in 1948; and he was not optimistic about the employment picture in the meat packing industry.

President Barber then strongly condemned employers who hire as part-time help men who already have steady jobs. He was joined in this criticism by George Sibley, Local 527 UE-CIO.

"It takes all the guts out of the labor movement when part time labor is allowed to do others out of a job," said Mr. Knibbs.

He said the UE (Local 524) was going after the 40-hour week this year for two reasons: "first, because we've always believed in the 40-hour week to give the worker more leisure time by shortening his work day, and second, we've been faced with small layoffs; in a case like that we have to fight for a shorter work week for our own members."

"We want to prevent two men doing three men's jobs," he stated.

A five-man committee, with the president ex-officio member, was appointed to inquire further into the problem of unemployment in the city. Included on the committee were John Rowley and Phil Knibbs, UE organizers, Harold Dormer, Local 248 ITU, E. L. Bebee and William Triggs, Local 293 UPWA, and President Barber.

Request Report From Engineer

Following an appeal by Mr. W. B. Gordon, city council has requested City Engineer A. E. Chalmers to make a further report on the possibility of immediate accommodation for the contractors Steele and Ephgrave in their Cameron St. housing project.

The council also received the report of the board of works with this clause: "That the building contractors Arnold Steele and Don Ephgrave, be informed that this board regrets that it cannot construct a sewer to serve the property south of Cameron St. and east of Monaghan Road this year."

Mr. Gordon reminded the council that the contractors own the land and wish to build on it 35 to 40 houses, beginning as soon as possible. If houses are constructed without sewer connections they will have to be equipped with septic tanks which would require larger individual lots, and generally a waste of ground.

The site of this project is north of Riverside Drive and Crawford's Grove. It is at the southeast corner of Cameron and Monaghan Road.

City Engineer Chalmers has already informed the council that the laying of a sewer on Cameron St. to the Monaghan Road area should be extended further to the west, and the planning should be considered over a larger area than the new Steele-Ephgrave lots. Pressure of other work has made it difficult for Mr. Chalmers to find time for this job involving surveys to the west of the Riverside Drive block.

BOARD HERE APRIL 14

Ontario Municipal Board is meeting at the city hall Thursday, April 14, at 2 p.m., to hear any objections to the Council's action in permitting funeral homes on the east side of Rubidge St., between Simcoe and Charlotte Sts. The particular purpose of the lifting of residential restrictions in that area is to enable the Comstock funeral home to be moved from Water St. to the corner of Rubidge and Simcoe Sts.

Ontario Laws Inadequate SPCA Inspector States

TORONTO, April 5—The almost incredible cruelty that still lurks in corners of the human mind is the daily routine for Inspector C. W. Morris.

As chief (and only) inspector of the Ontario Society for the prevention of the Cruelty to Animals, he covers the entire province and investigates reports of maltreatment to animals on farms, in bush camps and riding academies and on trains and trucks.

Last year, he inspected 10,504 animals. Using his police authority as an inspector, he had 38 cases of cruelty brought into court and won convictions on 26.

But the horrors he has witnessed in various corners of Ontario have given him a dissatisfaction with the law as it exists.

"I feel that a magistrate should be given authority to order lashes for a man convicted for a second time of wanton cruelty," he says. "There would be a measure of poetic justice in that."

Some of the cases he describes, with the aid of notes from a brief case, and illustrated with photographs which he took for court evidence, seem evil enough to warrant his proposal.

Cruelty at Worst

"The worst case of wanton cruelty I have seen," he says, "was in the Orangeville area. On a farm there, a man had 12 head of purebred Jersey cattle. Of the 12," he glanced at his notes, "nine had fractured tails—twisted until they broke. The tail of one had dropped off through dry rot. Ten had been jabbed with a pitchfork. The eye of one had been put out with a pitchfork. Another had been bludgeoned about the eye. One had its back laid open with a shovel. I laid seven charges against that man and got seven convictions.

From his brief case the inspector can produce almost endless stories of cruelty: a man who left a horse standing out in 20-below-zero cold without food for three days, and then tied it to the back of his car, so that it trotted behind him the 12 miles into town—and then died; a riding school where a pony with a serious internal injury was still trying to carry customers about; a roadside zoo where a captive bear had all its claws and teeth removed by a crude "operation" with two rocks.

"See what I'm up against?" the inspector asks. 'Is it any wonder I get angry?"

To give authority to his anger, the inspector has full police powers. He can arrest people, take out warrants, and he wears a police uniform not unlike the Provincial Police, only in a drab olive shade.

Carries Weapon

He carries a gun, to use in destroying animals whose suffering has gone too far, and also to defend himself if he should have to, against the people he calls his "reluctant clients."

The inspector's job takes him mainly to the outlying parts of the province. The local Humane Society, of which he is an official, cover the cities and in the country, take care of smaller animals like dogs and cats. They also care for sick, injured and strayed larger animals. Beyond these limits, Inspector Morris tried to cover the province.

One of his biggest jobs is inspecting animals on their way to slaughter houses and stockyards in trucks and trains. His car is equipped with a police siren and "Stop!" flash, and he accasionally gives chase to trucks which he suspects of being improperly loaded with living cargo.

"Gasoline station operators tip me off, often," he says, "and then I'm on the lookout all the time I'm traveling."

Chief offenses he finds on the road are overloading any improper handling of cattle, but he also checks pigs and poultry.

Checks Camp Horses

Part of last year he devoted to a stay in the northland, where he made a series of checks on the way horses were being looked after in bush camps. Here the horses are usually rented for the work, and set to the task of hauling logs to the river.

"One case last year was due to the driver's own ignorance," he recalls. "There was a driver who didn't know how to start a team properly. When he couldn't get the horses going, he stopped, unhooked the chain from the harness and in a blind rage, beat the horses over the head with it. He put out the eye of one of them. He was convicted."

Besides giving nearly all his time to the job, Inspector Morris dips into his own private income for doing his work. The salary he gets from the Society doesn't begin to cover his expense, which last year totalled $7,000. But then the Society itself is chronically short of funds because it gets a grant of only $1,000 a year from the provincial government and has no other source of revenue besides gifts.

All Benefited

"And we're not only protecting the animals, we're protecting a lot of valuable property," he argues. "There was a case of a man with 54 hogs, which he was starving. Four were lying dead when I called on him. I charged him and came back again a month later. The four dead were gone, but there was another dead. . . he still wasn't feeding them. After he saw that I meant business he buckled down, and the last time I was there these hogs were getting 40 pounds of mash a day.

"The point is, those hogs were valuable to him and to the rest of us, too. They represented an investment of about $3,000 for the farmers, and for us, they represented a lot of good food that was going to waste.

"When we got him straightened away, he benefited, and so did the rest of us. But you can see what I'm up against."

Foster Fathers Form Group To Aid Orphans

MONTREAL, April 6—(CP)—A unique organization came into being in Montreal recently when the men who undertake to improve the lot of the city's orphans banded together to form the Montreal Foster Father's Association.

The main purpose of the group is to provide an opportunity for the foster fathers to meet at regular intervals and hold group discussions concerning the problems presented by their wards.

Everyone, the men reasoned in forming the society, knows about the role foster mothers play in the rearing of homeless children, but few, if any, ever consider the part played by a foster father.

And so, 50 of these "neglected" fathers decided to join together to act as representatives of the 591 foster fathers in this area who look after some 1,000 homeless youngsters.

An Important Job

Mrs. Muriel McRae, executive-director of the Protestant Foster Home where the initial meeting of the association was held, told the assembled male parents that their job was an important one.

A friendly home life, she claimed, was essential to the proper development of a child. It prepared the boy or girl to take a proper place in the community later on and become a good citizen.

Mrs. McRae stated that the need for foster parents had been increased tremendously with the forward steps made in child psychology during the last few years.

At one time, she said, children without homes were placed in a large institution, but now the plan is to provide them with a good home.

Indicative—and smiling, living proof—of how well this system works is J. Clarke. A genial, slight man with white hair, he has been father-by-proxy to 20 children during the past quarter-century.

Pianist Dresses For Music's Mood

YORK, England, April 6 (CP)—Eileen Joyce, well-known London pianist who dresses to suit the mood of the music she is playing, was criticized by some concert-goers here for appearing in three different gowns at a Chopin recital.

She began her program with a group of scherzos and impromptus, for which she wore an emerald green gown adorned with brilliants. For the more sombre "Funeral March" sonata she changed to a sheer white gown trimmed with sequins. Finally she wore a rich peacock blue dress embroidered with brilliants.

"We thought is unnecessary for such a brilliant artist to waste her brief leisure moments changing when she could have been resting," said one woman concert-goer.

"It took away the stability of art and brought in too much glamor. We are northern people and we know good music when we hear it. That sort of thing might be all right in London, but not here."

A Yorkshire Post critic said: "Eileen Joyce could not have looked more lovely. The delicate colors of her gowns suited admirably the particular mood of the piece she was playing. As she returned from the wing with different-colored gowns, the audience gasped with delight."

Dorothy E. Pearson Bride Of Albert V. Mason

A charming spring wedding, which took place in St. James United Church Saturday, united Dorothy Elfreda Pearson and Albert Victor Mason of this city. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Pearson and the groom the only son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Mason.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. W. Craik, and wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. C. Renaud. Baskets of snapdragon in mixed colors and fern decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an afternoon dress of bride's blue crepe with hat of blue lace straw trimmed with pink and blue flowers and veiling and had accessories in navy. She carried a matching satin muff covered with Rapture roses, sweet peas and stephanotis.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Kay Tully of Toronto who was wearing an afternoon dress of navy with matching hat trimmed with tiny pink flowers and navy accessories. Her muff of pink satin was covered with pink carnations, sweet peas and stephanotis. Four-year-old Donna Jane Pearson, niece of the bride, was a charming flower girl, dressed in pale pink organdy with pink eyelet embroidery and velvet bows in deeper shade. She had a wreath of pale blue flowers in her hair and carried a nosegay of sweetheart roses, forget-me-nots and sweet peas.

The groomsman was Mr. Vern Ferguson. Ushers were Ivan Pearson, brother of the bride, and Edward Bedding.

Tulips and snapdragon decorated the Kawartha Room, Empress Hotel, for the reception which followed the ceremony. The bride's mother received, wearing a dress of Queen's blue, matching hat with pink flowers and veiling, navy accessories and grey squirrel neckpiece. Her corsage was of Johanna Hill roses. The groom's mother assisted in receiving and was gowned in beige with brown hat and accessories and brown furs. Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Later the bride changed to her going-away outfit, a suit of skipper blue, hat of flamingo straw with navy taffeta trim, flamingo scarf and navy accessories, and she had a corsage of Serenade roses with sweet peas.

On return from a motor trip to Niagara Falls and United States Mr. and Mrs. Mason will reside on Chesterfield Ave., Brookdale.

Aussie Woman Has 100-Monkey Circus

SYDNEY, Australia, April 6—(CP)—Only woman monkey-trainer is Australia, Mrs. Blanche Cells has her own monkey circus. She keeps about 100 monkeys at Aquaflora Park, Sans Souci, 20 miles from here.

Before she married about 30 years ago, Mrs. Cells was a trapeze artist in a travelling circus. A young man who had a monkey act in the show told her that no woman could train monkeys successfully. So Mrs. Cells set out to disprove his theory. She has kept monkeys ever since, and regards them both as pets and as a commercial enterprise.

Her two sons go overseas on buying trips for the valuable Rhesus monkeys, for which Mrs. Cells pays about £70 ($210) each.

Mrs. Cells says that her monkeys are clean and gentle. She trains them entirely by kindness, rewarding them with sweets and cakes when they "do their act" well.

A female monkey, Minnie, wears a smart blue dress and hat, and does a balancing act. Aby, another of the monkey family, fires a toy gun, or snarls and bares his teeth at a word from his trainer.

Mrs. Cells says that each of her monkeys has a definite personality and enjoys the performance as much as she does.

Manning, wife of the premier of Alberta, broke the traditional bottle of champagne with a lucky swing Monday as she christened the new supertanker "Imperial Alberta" at the Chester, Pa., shipbuilding yards. The big ship when completed will carry enough oil to fill a train of tank cars 10 miles long and will compare with the world's largest in size and speed. Assisting Mrs. Manning is John Pew, Sr., president of the shipbuilding company. Standing in the background is H. H. Hewetson, president of Imperial Oil.

DOROTHY DIX

Says Luxury-Loving Maiden No Good to Thrifty Man

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am just an ordinary fellow of 21, making a small salary. I am engaged to a girl and have been trying to save up enough money to marry her, but here's the rub: My girl friend is not willing to help save.

Dorothy Dix

She is an only child and is badly spoiled. She demands that I take her to the most expensive place, send her flowers and give her gifts. When I try to explain to her that I can't spend and save at the same time, she pulls a tantrum and we quarrel violently.

I am getting fed up on this kind of thing. Do you think I am in honor bound to marry her?

DISGUSTED

ANSWER: I certainly do not think that you are in honor bound to marry this selfish girl. But if you have any compunction about the engagement, get her to do it. That, in your case, will be the easiest thing in the world to do, because her love of luxury will soon make her tire of any man who cannot indulge her in the things she desires.

A few months of your refusing to take her anywhere except to a neighborhood movie, of treating her to nothing more expensive than an ice cream soda, will turn the trick, and she will pass you up for some man who s a better spender.

You may justify yourself in forcing your girl's hand by the certainty that if you married her she would be utterly miserable as a poor man's wife, and she would soon leave you for some other man who made more money.

Act Now

Better make the break now before you are dragged through the hell of a marriage with a whining, complaining, dissatisfied wife who is always having hysterics to get her own way and raising ruction because she hasn't all the finery she desires.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Can a girl tell whether she is immune to love? I am 26 years old, well-educated, good-looking, and have a very wonderful position which throws me in contact with some very eligible men. A few of them have found me to their liking and have asked me to marry them, but while I enjoy the society of men I can't bring myself to consider marrying.

Yet at the same time I would certainly hate to be an old maid. What do you think about me?

BETTY H.

ANSWER: Most likely the reason you haven't fallen in love is because the man hasn't come along who possessed that intangible something that set your pulses tingling. What this mysterious quality is you do not know, but one day a man crosses your path who is no better-looking, no cleverer, no tender, kinder, more considerate than other men, no whit superior to the men you freely his feet all the treasures of your heart that you have refused to other men

Of course, there are some women who are celibate by nature. They are incapable of any feeling for a man stronger than friendship. They often marry because they fear the loneliness of spinsterhood, but they make cold and unloving wives, and always find their husbands a bore and a burden.

Nothing but a great love offsets the inevitable sacrifices of matrimony, so I think you would be wise not to marry until you are sure that you have found Mr Right.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Why does a mother sacrifice her daughters to a son who is a black sheep? My mother is an intelligent woman, but she has made my sister and myself work to support our lazy drunkard of a brother. Why are mothers like this?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Because they are mothers. Perhaps it is pity. Perhaps it is shame. Perhaps it is a mother's recognition that she is to blame, to a certain extent, for the sins of the prodigal son, but always he is the one for whom the fatted calf is killed and to whom the good ones in the family are sacrificed. It is always the black sheep that is mother' pet lamb.

Social Situations

SITUATION: A close friend invites you to a party to meet a friend who has recently moved to your town.

WRONG WAY: Feel that you are not obligated in any way to the newcomer.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that you are being invited to meet the newcomer in the hope that you will make some friendly move toward her. A call and then an invitation to your home is really expected of you under the circumstances.

Wounds Politician

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — A gunman stepped out of a rush-hour crowd on a Staten Island street Tuesday and shot and seriously wounded former Republican representative Ellsworth B. Buck. The assailant was identified as Charles Van Newkirk, 57, a former merchant marine engineer from Amherst, N. H. Van Newkirk was quoted by officers as saying "I had my own personal reasons" for the shooting.

Given 2 Months Theft Of Parts

Gordon Thompson, who sells scrap iron and metals in Peterborough, was accused by Walter Hargreaves, owner of a gravel pit in North Monaghan, near the city dump, of stealing cast iron machine parts valued at between two and three hundred dollars.

The accusation was made in city police court when Thompson faced a charge of stealing machine parts exceeding $25 in value. Hargreaves had identified parts of the vice which he said said had been letf outside his repair shop and claimed that 360 lbs. of cast iron machine parts sold by Thompson to a Peterborough junk dealer had been taken from his gravel pit. Thompson said that he had taken it from the city dump.

The magistrate found Thompson guilty of stealing machine parts from Hargreaves which he valued at less than $25 and sentenced him to two months in jail. Thompson admitted a previous conviction for theft in Lindsay.

Additional Charge.

Two other men were charged with the same offence. After hearing judgment of Thompson's case, James McGarth elected trial by judge and jury. Crown Attorney then laid another charge of stealing machine parts valued at less than $25. W. C. Grant, defence counsel, objected to the second charge being laid and the case was adjourned for a week in order to allow both counsels to file written arguments as to the right of the Crown to lay the second charge before proceeding with the preliminary hearing of the first case.

The case against Manly Clarke, charged with the same offence was also adjourned for a week.

Strike Ties Up Two Newspapers

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP). The surprise walkout of pressmen on Tuesday which left Washington without morning newspapers drew an ultimatum from publishers to-day.

Contract negotiations will not be resumed until the men return to work.

Failure to agree on a new contract was the reason given by Local 6 of the Printing Pressmen's Union (AFL) for walking out at 6 p.m. (EST).

The work stoppage was called "unauthorized" by the union's international representative, L. A. Lopez.

Publishers of the four Washington papers in a joint statement early to-day said negotiations for a contract were under way, and that the pressmen violated the old one by walking out without notice.

The union is demanding shorter work week, better wages, and longer vacations and other privileges. It turned down a compromise contract similar to one that has been accepted by the Columbia Typographical Union and the Washington Photo - Engravers Union, publishers said.

The work stoppage caused the Washington Post and the morning edition of the Times-Herald to miss today's issues. Local president George Walker said it was "safe to assume" that the Evening Star, the News and the evening edition of the Times-Herald would not come out, either.

WHERE MISSIONARY LIVED — With greater concern for his Eskimo parishioners than for himself, Rev. Joseph Buliard toured the Northwest Territories this winter visiting isolated settlements. Last week, senior priests of his Roman Catholic order became alarmed as they had not heard from him in weeks and sent a search plane piloted by Gunner Ingebrightson, veteran northern airman, into the north to search for Father Buliard, Oblate priest. The flier, aided by information from Eskimo bands, located the missionary living in this igloo suffering from frozen hands and feet received during his winter travels. Ingebrightson stands beside the igloo just before flying the priest to Churchill, Man., for treatment.

Two Indo China Missionaries Describe Work In Far East

The Rev. Walter Pister, missionary in French West Africa, and Mrs. I. R. Stebbins, a missionary in French Indo-China, are the guest speakers at the 55th annual missionary convention of the Alliance Tabernacle. The convention is being held in the city from Monday until Sunday.

Thirty years ago last September Mrs. Stebbins started her work in Indo-China at Tourane with a Mr. and Mrs. Frank Irwin of Toronto. On the boat going out she met Mr. Stebbins whom she later married in Canton, China. French laws prevented them from being married in Indo-China.

Her husband, who is on a tour similar to hers in the States, was the first missionary in Saigon. Together, they began missionary work among the Khalo tribe in the mountains of Indo-China. Since then they have spent most of their time around Hue, capital of Annam, a province of Indo-China, Tourane, and Saigon, where there is a population of 1,250,000. They are returning to Saigon in July. In Saigon at the present time Mrs. Stebbins said there are only two missionaries.

Conditions Worse Now

Conditions, Mrs. Stebbins said, are worse now with civil war than when the Japanese were there. In Saigon it is dangerous to go out in the streets after 8 p.m. To go outside the city one must go in a convoy, she said. The Stebbins make all their trips by French Airlines, who are equipped with American planes. They are personally acquainted with Bao Bai, the emperor who abdicated when the Japanese moved in. Mrs. Stebbins said the people believe Ho Chi Minh, leader of the Nationalists to be a Communist.

Since 1933 Mr. Pister has been a missionary in French West Africa. He has return three times since then. He can speak three languages, French, Bambara and Red Bobo. He explained that the three languages are different in every aspect. After he left the States in 1932 Mr. Pister had to spend a year in Paris, France, learning French.

After Paris Mr. Pister went to Sikasso, centre of the Senefou tribe, with his wife, to do work amongst the 350,000 people there. Even now there are only two missionaries there. From there they went to the Bambara tribe in the Soudain. They conducted Bible classes in the French language with the children, constructed a church, and conducted a missionary tour all in a year and a half.

Founded Mission School

Four years ago he helped found a French mission school at Dedougou. They have an enrollment of 50 students there now. Thirty miles away another mission station was founded amongst the same tribe. A native pastor is in charge there now as the missionary is on leave. In the past year Phillippe Kansama, the pastor, made 200 converts and conducted a short time Bible school.

Mr. Pister expects to return to French West Africa in six months.

In 22 fields of the world the Christian and Missionary Alliance have 600 missionaries.

Charity Bill Would Force Some Religious Groups To Run Businesses, Charge

Measure Given Second Reading 47 To 33; Amendments Put Forth By Government; Bill Passes Committee

TORONTO, April 7—(CP).—The Ontario Legislature passed the Government's Charities Bill through the committee stage today in less than 1½ hours. The second reading debate which ended Wednesday took 27 hours, and finally passed on a 47 to 33 vote. The bill provides that charitable foundations such as the Atkinson Foundation, owners of the Toronto Star and the Star Weekly, may not hold more than 10 per cent. in any business.

The committee today approved the bill as reprinted, including amendments described during second reading by Provincial Treasurer Frost. Further minor amendments were passed clarifying particular section of the bill.

William Dennison (CCF—Toronto St. David) said the bill would force some religious organizations to run businesses to obtain funds.

The bill exempts religious organizations from its terms. Mr. Dennison said, however, that religious organizations which at present are receiving funds from charitable foundations which operate businesses would be forced to run the businesses themselves to guarantee a source of revenue.

C. H. Millard (CCF-York West) said terms of the bill included foundations operated for "public" as well as religious, charitable and educational purposes.

Hamper Operations

He suggested this would hamper operations of private organizations which did valuable work in the public service during the recent war.

Leslie Wismer (CCF-Toronto Riverdale) suggested research foundations such as the Ontario Research Foundation should be exempted from the bill's terms.

Mr. Blackwell said a "bona fide research foundation" should not be concerned in "the ordinary commercial operation of a business."

CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe said the bill provided foundations must comply with its terms within seven years "or within such extended period as may be determined by the Supreme Court."

Mr. Jolliffe said the court's authority in this respect would be "very limited."

Negative Attitude

The court would take the attitude: "It is not for this court to pass on matters of public policy in this regard."

The only occasion in which the court was likely to extend the period would be to allow the public trustee to arrange a better sale.

C. C. Calder (Lib.-London) suggested this power of extending the time limit be vested in the public trustee and not the court. The public trustee who is charged with scrutiny of foundations accounts would be more closely in touch with the circumstances.

Mr. Blackwell said the public trustee was a senior civil servant and must be relieved of "any question for political consideration."

Mr. Jolliffe asked if the Act provided that the public trustee at his discretion might withhold

Keays Questions Commissioner On Complaints

BELLEVILLE, April 7 (CP).—Commissioner W. H. Stringer of the Ontario Provincial Police today was questioned by Constable J. E. Keays before a Royal Commission investigating the constable's allegations against police and Crown officers.

Cross-examination began after the Commissioner read numerous letters dealing with complaints he received about Constable Keays during his 12 years on the Provincial Police Force.

Commission Counsel C. P. Hope produced a letter Constable Keays wrote Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell last fall before he sent in the 17-page letter of resignation that led to the Commission's appointment.

Opening his cross-examinaion, Constable Keays said the Commissioner had referred only to five complaints about him. The Commissioner said he had also received numerous complaints from Aurele Boulanger, former Liberal member of the Legislature for Prescott.

"Constable Keays appeared to be sandwiched between two groups," the Commissioner said. "The one, including myself,

Two Vessels Collide In Fog

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 7 (CP)—The freighter Fortwildock of the Paterson Steamship Lines was brought to port today by the United States coast guard cutter She was damaged Wednesday in a collision in a fog with the freighter McAlpine 42 miles above Whitefish Point in Lake Superior.

The Fortwildoc suffered some damage in the collision and it is expected she will discharge part of her cargo at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., so extent of damage can be determined.

The McAlpine, owned by Brown and Company of Buffalo, continued on her way to the head of the lakes where she will undergo examination before taking on a fresh cargo there.

The accident, first of the lake shipping season, was followed by a second this morning in the lower St. Mary's river when the Benson Ford ran aground in West Neebish channel.

Twelve-Year-Old Boy Prevents Train Wreck

KINGSTON, April 7—(CP)—A 12-year-old boy prevented a possible train wreck near here Sunday, it was learned today.

The boy, John Graham Doran, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doran of nearby Collins Bay, was coming home from Sunday school when he noticed that a section of rail longer than his foot was missing from the south rail of the Canadian National Railways track at Britt's crossing. Knowing the Toronto-Montreal pobl train was du› in a short time, he ran to the station a quarter-mile west of the break.

Alex. Boswell, CNR section man, got a flag and flares and jogged three-quarters of a mile west on the track. There he flagged down the noon train.

When the train had halted, a section crew repaired the break in 45 minutes.

Seriously Injured

OSHAWA, April 7 (CP).—William Westfall, 23-year-old Trenton youth, was seriously injured here Wednesday night when he was pinned beneath his automobile which went out of control and overturned after striking a pole and a tree. He suffered concussion and deep neck cuts, but his passenger, Albro Sprague, also of Trenton, was uninjured.

Chinese Reds Expected To Renew War

NANKING, April 7 (AP)—The Communist radio tonight laid the ground-work for immediate resumption of China's long and bloody civil war.

In a broadcast heard in Shanghai, the radio charged the government with using the long truce to build up its armed might.

The only course open to the Reds "is to cross the Yangtze, wipe out the Kuomintang bandit army and capture alive every war criminal," the radio said.

It did not say whether the Reds would move before the expiration of their ultimatum to the government to surrender by Tuesday.

Earlier, acting President Li Tsung-jen reportedly rejected the Red ultimatum in its present form. If he is unable to wangle concessions, the war may be on again.

Li has ordered Premier Ho Ying-chin back from Canton to help him frame a formal reply, which must be given by Saturday.

Gloom pervaded the capital. The ultimatum fell like a bombshell Wednesday. Many were shocked and resentful, as peace talks were supposed to be under way in Peiping.

Foreign diplomats informed their governments of the sudden demands.

To Cross River

Red troops will cross the Yangtze river into south China if the terms are not met, the Red ultimatum said.

Observers give the Nationalists little chance to stop them.

Li is said to have informed the diplomats that the opposition ultimatum amounted to virtual surrender. He could not accept it in that form.

Political observers speculated that even if Li gave in he could not deliver the 200,00-man garrison in the Nanking-Shanghai-Hangchow triangle.

The garrison is commanded by Gen. Tang En-po, whose loyalty is to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, not Li.

Shielded by the triangle is the retreat of Chiang at Fengwha, 100 miles south of Shanghai.

Observers said if Li surrendered Chiang might emerge from his retreat and lead the final struggle against the Communist tide in South China.

Li then would be in a position to surrender only the somewhat smaller force guarding the Central Yangtze front around Hankow.

Receives Copy

Gen. Pai Chung-hsi commands there. Pai is said to have been given a copy of the Red terms by Li, who later rejected them.

Government quarters said the Red ultimatum actually was directed mainly at gaining control of Pai's troops, the best left on the government side.

Dumps $690,000 In Bonds In Water To Spite Bankers

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—Before bank official Richard Crowe fled to Florida he paid 100 debts and dumped $690,000 in bonds into New York harbor, a Federal official said Wednesday night.

At Crowe's arraignment here, Irving Saypol, Chief Assistant United States Attorney, gave details of the looting of $883,660 in funds from the National City Bank.

Saypool said the 41-year-old Crowe had packed his bag with "as much currency as he could carry $193,600 in cash—from the vault of the branch bank where he was assistant manager.

Crowe, with only some small change in his pocket, was returned here by plane Wednesday from Florida, 10 days after he disappeared. He was captured in Florida by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation earlier this week.

Sun-browned and glum as he stepped from the plane, he said he did not want "to talk to anybody."

At his arraignment he said "I plead guilty," but Judge Alfred Coxe told him he did not need to plead at that time if he waived a preliminary hearing.

Crowe said he would waive the hearing, and bail of $100,000 was renewed. A Grand Jury now must act on the Federal embezzlement charge.

Earlier, Crowe was reported as saying he threw the bonds into the Atlantic Ocean to spite bank officials.

When arrested, he still had $54,798 in his suitcase.

Group Going To Dance; Car Wrecked

Side Of Car Torn Off By Terrific Impact; 3 Young Girls Victims

BRANDON, Man., April 7—(CP—Seven persons—four men and three teen-age girls—were killed three miles south of here Wednesday night when their automobile crashed into the rear of a stopped snowplow.

Dead: Alvig Grieve, 20; Elmer Grieve, 17; Bernice Jackson, 16; Jean Karnes, 17; and Pearl Stevens, 18, all of Brandon; Jack Hodgins, 22, believed of Killarney, Man.; and Kenneth Foster, who lived near Treherne, Man.

Members of the party were last seen together at 9 p.m. Wednesday night at the home of Miss Karnes, where it is understood, they planned to go to a dance south of Brandon.

RCMP early today traced the owner of the car, a 1939 sedan, as Alvin Grieve.

Police said the car, travelling south on the highway, pulled to the right hand side of the road as another car approached from the opposite direction. It struck the rear of the stationary rotary snowplow parked on the shoulder of the highway and also facing south.

The vehicle was extensively damaged and all of the victims badly mutilated, making identification difficult. Police said one side of the car was torn off by the terrific impact. The left wheel of the plow also was ripped off.

Miss Stevens was reported to have been alive when passing motorists arrived at the scene of the crash, but died en route to hospital. She suffered severe head injuries and lacerations.

Greeks Request U.N. Protection

ATHENS, April 7 (Reuters).—The Greek Government today appealed to the United Nations special committee on the Balkans for "protection against unprovoked attack" from Albania and Bulgaria.

In forwarding the request, the Greeks gave details supporting their charges of Albanian participation in the Communist guerrilla attack in the Grammos area of northwestern Greece, and of Bulgarian support for new threats in eastern Macedonia.

The note conveying the appeal said Greece's neighbors had not respected the UN Assembly's recommendations of last November calling on Greece and her neighbors to establish diplomatic relations and renew earlier frontier conventions.

Alleging Albanian aid to the guerrillas attacking in the Grammos area, the note said at least 3,000 re-armed Communists had entered Greece through passes along the Albanian border.

Abducted Greek youngsters had been compelled to enlist with the guerrillas, the note stated, and preparations were being made behind the Bulgarian border for further guerrilla action in eastern Macedonia.

Two Freight Trains Collide, Two Injured

WOODSTOCK, April 7 (CP) — Considerable damage resulted when two freight trains collided head-on just east of the Woodstock Canadian National Railways station today. One man, brakeman F. T. Clarke, of London, was taken to hospital for X-ray examinations and a checkup. It was thought his injuries were not serious.

Railway officials launched a probe into the accident today.

Another man, Leslie Stanhope of Toronto, also was taken to hospital for examination of an ankle injury suffered in stepping off a train.

The locomotive on both trains were damaged at the impact but both remained upright. The drive wheels of one jumped the tracks. Four box cars were toppled over. The track was not damaged to any extent.

Britain's Defence Budget Biggest In Peace Time

LONDON, April 7—(CP).—Britain will spend £760,000,000 ($4,040,000,000) for defence in the fiscal year beginning April 1, the largest peace-time military expenditure in the country's history. Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons Wednesday in his annual budget message that this sum was necessary because there can be no increase in defence expenditures "for some years, unless there is a complete change in the international situation."

"Indeed, we may have to face some increase as a result of our co-operation in making the defences of western Europe more effective and efficient," he said.

The 1949-50 military budget is almost 10 per cent greater than '48-49 when total costs were £692,000,000.

Britain plans to spend a total of £701,450,000 for her three armed service—the air force, army and navy. Armed manpower will be smaller but more than £200,000,000 will go into a major re-equipment program including fighter planes and radar.

Expenditures for an up-to-the-minute air force will be £207,500,000, an increase of £18,000,000 over last year. Cost of running the army will be £304,700,000, a decrease of £300,000. Navy expenditures total £189,250,000, an increase of £36,250,000.

Says Universities Overrun By Socialists

TORONTO, April 7—(CP).—The Ontario Liberal Association heard today from one of its members that Canadian universities are overrun with Socialists and Socialist teachings and that the association ought to pay more attention to their university student members.

Mrs. F. S. Greenwood of Toronto, formerly of St. Catharines, the only woman to speak on a constitutional amendment which would add members of the five Ontario University Liberal Clubs to the Provincial Liberal Association Executive, said "our universities are spreading the doctrine of Socialism."

"We now are getting the benefit of the London School of Economics, whose former students are sewing the seeds of Socialism in our universities."

She named only one professor, Frank Scott, who studied at the London school and now is lecturing in economics at McGill University, Montreal. He is active in the CCF.

Burmese Rebels Agree To Lay Down Arms

RANGOON, April 7 —(AP)—Karen Rebels, fighting under banners of the Karen National Union, will lay down arms throughout the country tomorrow morning, the government announced today.

The surrender will be made by Saw Ba U Gyi, Karen president, at a ceremony in shell-torn Insein, 10 miles north of this capital city. Insein has been the scene of grim fighting between government troops and the Karens since early February.

The Karens went on the warpath last Jan. 31, demanding their own separate state, including the richest agricultural and mineral production areas of Burma. They also demanded Rangoon, its best seaport. Spokesmen said new negotiations concerning the Karen demand for a separate state would follow the surrender.

Labrador People Starving Nurse Sends SOS For Immediate Supplies

Newfoundland Prepares To Send Food By Plane To Badly Stricken Area; Babies Eating Flour And Molasses Water

By JOSEPH MACSWEEN

ST. JOHN'S, April 7—(CP).—The threat of starvation in an isolated part of Labrador was reported today by an International Grenfell Association nurse in a telegram to authorities here. The nurse, identified only as Miss Jupp, said that "to avert starvation of people food must be got here somehow." The number of people involved or extent of the area was not known exactly but the location was near St. Mary's River. The nurse said babies "are being fed on flour, water and molasses-water as there is no milk or rolled oats." There was no milk, meat, vegetables, butter or tea.

Newfoundland's new provincial government was making immediate arrangements to fly food into the stricken area.

Need Immediate Help

Miss Jupp said in her message "a large number of expectant mothers and babies need immediate help. I appeal to you to use your influence to save fishermen and their families before it is too late."

St. Mary's is about 100 miles southeast of Goose Bay. The message was sent to J. R. Smallwood, who was sworn in as Newfoundland's interim premier last Thursday.

Have Schools For Revolution

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—A witness who said he joined the American Communist party as an under-cover informant for the Federal Bureau of Investigation testified Wednesday about classroom instruction in "violent revolution to be carried out by bands of armed workers."

Defence counsel at the Communist conspiracy trial here objected—without success—that the revelations came with "unfair surprise."

The witness, Herbert A. Philbrick, 33-year-old Boston advertising executive, said he was a Communist member in good standing at the time he took the witness stand to reveal secrets learned in nine years of investigation.

Philbrick testified that he attended a Communist school for teachers in Boston where doctrine of armed revolt was taught. The pupils ranged from high-school age to about 30.

He said two "mobilizations" of party members were held last year in Massachusetts for training "in case of emergency."

Labor Fears Grim Budget May Hurt Election Chances

LONDON, April 7 (Reuters)—The Labor party, shaken by the unremitting austerity of Sir Stafford Cripps' budget, awaited the result of today's vital London County Council elections with trepidation.

The party, which before Wednesday's budget statement had a buoyant hope of preserving its five-sixths domination of the London Council, was plunged into dismay by the severe budget.

Informed Labor quarters pinned their faith to the constancy of the Labor vote and public appreciation of Sir Stafford's "realism."

But party workers realized that the outcome of today's struggle might have vital repercussions upon the local elections now proceeding throughout Britain, and upon the party's prospects of return in the general election next year.

The 129 seats in the London County Council, where Labor has held a majority for 15 years, were being contested by 129 Labor candidates and 126 Conservatives.

Before today's election Labor held 90 seats on the LCC and the Conservatives 28.

In the local elections, on the basis of returns up to Wednesday night, Labor conceded a net loss of 25 County Council seats in 21 of the 62 elections taking place this week

Leger Nominated PC Candidate At Wild Session

KAPUSKASING, April 7 (CP) —Marcel Leger, 32-year-old relief inspector at Hearst will represent the Progressive-Consrvative party in a by-election scheduled in June to select a successor to the late J. P. H. (Johnny) Carrere as member of the Ontario Legislature for Cochrane North. The vacancy occurred when the second World War flying hero was killed last fall when the car he was driving was struck by a freight train.

Mr. Leger was chosen by a large and at times stormy convention held at Kapuskasing yesterday. Old-timers described it as the largest and most enthusiastic convention ever held in the constituency. More than 300 persons attended.

Five candidates were nominated. Thomas Moore of Smooth Rock Falls declined to stand on the ground that he was not bilingual.

Mr. Leger won on the third ballot. On the first Joffre Carrere was eliminated, Oscar Morel of Cochrane was dropped on the second ballot and the final voting was between Mr. Leger and Arsene Grenier, Kapuskasing businessman.

Joffre Carrere, brother of the late member and an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination, charged that an "unscrupulous group" in the riding association is attempting to seize control of the riding and tried in vain to keep him from attending the convention.

In reply to a delegate who shout "you are lying," Carrere's father, Ernest, jumped to his feet and said: "Joffre is telling the truth. He is not lying."

McGill Sponsors King Memoirs

OTTAWA, April 7 — (CP). — Former Prime Minister Mackenzie King today announced that he would write and publish his memoirs under sponsorship of McGill University and financed by the Rockefeller Foundation of New York.

The foundation trustees, at a meeting Wednesday, voted an appropriation of $100,000 to McGill University to be used over a period of three years for this purpose, the former Prime Minister said in a prepared statement.

This fund would be used "exclusively in the study and preparation of materials in my possession by persons specially qualified for such work," the statement added.

Mr. Mackenzie King said he had yet been unable to "make a beginning on anything in the nature of memoirs" because of his illness and other reasons.

Russians Partly Lift Ban On Western Mark

BERLIN, April 7 (AP)—The Russians lifted partially today their ban on the use of the western mark in Berlin. They permitted Soviet-controlled railways to accept the western marks at stations in the western sectors of the city. This development followed the unexpected appearance Wednesday night of high Russian officers at an American army reception for the first time since Berlin was divided in halves.

Drew Demands Resignation Of Claxton For Giving Wrong Facts On Planes

Minister Apologizes For Error, But Denies Attempt To Mislead House; Drew Seeks Inquiry Into Defence Set-Up

OTTAWA, April 7—(CP).—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, demanded in the Commons Wednesday that Defence Minister Claxton resign because he had given the House wrong information about the storage or RCAF planes. Mr. Claxton said he had been partly in error in denying on Tuesday Mr. Drew's charge that new RCAF transport planes had been "inhibited, stored and dismantled." He made the admission after Mr. Drew produced a copy of a Toronto paper and pointed to photographs showing four RCAF North Stars in hangars, with propellers, wing edges, fins and tail pieces off.

The Minister said the planes were being held in reserve, as planes always were, for emergency use. The Air Force always had in reserve a number of planes of each category to replace those lost or being overhauled.

He said on investigation he had found that he was in error when he denied that planes were stored. He was surprised, he said, that anyone would suggest that he had sought to mislead the House. If he made a mistake, he was the first to admit it.

It was not always possible to be up to date on every piece of equipment in the defence department.

Should Respect System

Mr Drew charged that Mr. Claxton had sought to "mislead" the House and demanded that he resign his portfolio if there was no other explanation and if he respected the parliamentary system.

The exchange occurred during continued debate on 1948-49 supplementary estimates of the defence department. Speakers included Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC—Nanaimo); John T. Hackett (PC—Stanstead); T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) and Wing Cmdr. Lawrence Skey (PC—Toronto Trinity).

The planes in the Toronto photographs were in hangars at Downsview, near Toronto. Mr. Claxton said removal of wings and tails were necessary to make economic use of space. As for the removal of instruments, they were being replaced with modifications because "some trouble" had been found.

He would admit, he said, that the planes were "inhibited", which meant movable parts were greased and covered with paper to prevent damage through lack of use.

Mr. Drew said Mr. Claxton had himself, by his denial, given the "best possible reason" why a Commons committee should be established to inquire into the defence situation, with particular reference to the state of the air force and its equipment.

Wing Cmdr. Skey also urged that a defence committee be established immediately.

"Incompetent" Charge

Gen. Pearkes charged that Canada's military forces were "incompetent" to meet a diversionary thrust by Soviet Russia.

Gen. Pearkes said there was a "good deal of uncertainty" in the country about the efficiency of the services. This could be alleviated by "frankness" on the part of the government. A "smoke screen" had been drawn across the service picture.

He warned it was not impossible that an hostile airborne force might fly across Canada's Arctic wastes and land troops at northern airfields, such as Whitehorse of others such as Gander, Ffld. He did not want to see those names become synonymous with that of Pearl Harbor.

Young Liberals Ask Bill Dropped

TORONTO, April 7 (CP) — Members of the Ontario Young Liberal Association Wednesday unanimously passed a resolution "wholeheartedly condemning the Ontario government" for introducing the Charities Gifts Bill and demanding "its immediate withdrawal."

The resolution, one of five approved by the annual convention, was drafted Wednesday as a special addition to a prepared list of 10 resolutions considered before the meeting, and was passed Wednesday afternoon without discussion.

Other resolutions approved called for:

1. The Ontario Liberal party to work for the simplification of the Canadian tax structure and "to co-operate, immediately upon coming into office, with the Dominion government in reaching a financial agreement (for renting certain tax fields to the Federal government.)"

2. The reduction and standardization of University fees in Ontario by the use of government grants and the aiding of needy and worthy students by a system of government-financed bursaries and scholarships.

3. Amendment of elementary school curriculums to contain "more thorough courses in English, French and History" and the extension of vocational training schools to cover smaller as well as larger urban centres.

4. The "immediate establishment of contributory old-age and medical-care insurance schemes for all employed persons in Ontario," extension of the existing old age pension to cover age 65 without a means test and increased assistance to unemployed blind persons.

Vernon Singer, 29-year-old Toronto lawyer, was re-elected president of the association and Miss Joan Stark of Toronto was re-named treasurer. Douglas Annett of Kitchener was elected secretary.

Hopes Alliance To Do Away With A-Bomb

WASHINGTON, April 7—(AP)—The North Atlantic alliance is a step toward maintenance of world peace without the need for dropping another atomic bomb, President Truman said Wednesday night.

But he warned that if the decision to use the atomic bomb had to be made "for the welfare of the United States," or if "the democracies of the world are at stake," he "wouldn't hesitate to make it again."

Speaking in the same hotel room where he entertained the pact signers Monday night, Truman told a group of congressmen that he made the decision to drop atomic bombs on Japan during the second world war in the interest of saving 200,000 American lives, and perhaps 300,000 to 400,000 of the enemy.

He added: "I hope and pray that will never be necessary."

The object of Wednesday night's gathering was to get new Democratic congressmen better acquainted with the president and more in sympathy with his legislative program, which has been bogged down during the current congressional session.

Truman asked their support for "peace and the welfare of every nation and every race in the world."

The Atlantic Pact was "a step that will prevent our having to make a decision" to use the atomic bomb.

Charity Bill

from the charities a proportion of the foundation's profit to take care of depreciation or expansion.

Mr. Blackwell asked that consideration of this section of the bill be postponed.

Wants Stature Defined

Mr. Jolliffe suggested that any person appointed by the Treasurer to investigate charitable foundations as provided by the bill be a judge "with the stature of a Royal Commissioner."

On the suggestion of J. G. Brown (Lib.-Waterloo North) Mr. Blackwell amended the bill to provide that profits be determined each fiscal year rather than by Dec. 31 and that the trustees may make allowances for expansion and depreciation before turning over profits to the charities.

Mr. Jolliffe suggested the bill be amended so that it become law when proclaimed rather than when given Royal assent.

"At least you will have one avenue of escape from what looks like the wrath to come."

H. C. Nixon, (Lib.-Brant): "Yes. You could file it away and forget about it."

The bill was passed through committee stage.

Foundation Not Target

Debate in the committee is not expected to be anywhere near as lengthy as the fight on second reading. That debate was ended with a half-hour speech by Mr. Frost Wednesday in which he denied charges that the bill was aimed at the Atkinson Foundation. Earlier, opposition members had charged the bill was designed "to legislate a political opponent out of existence," that it "violated sacred wills" and "threatened freedom of the press."

Mr. Frost said: "There is every indication of an epidemic of such foundations in which I am quite satisfied the operation of businesses will be primary, and charity will be secondary."

These foundations would create conditions unfair to business, unfair to charities, unfair to taxpayers and would create "chaos in the free enterprise system on which the future of this province depends."

Mr. Frost said: "The farthest thing from my mind and from the mind of the government is that there should be discrimination against the late Mr. Atkinson because of his political views."

The bill was "not retroactive. It does not change a word or a punctuation mark of any will."

During the 27-hour debate on the bill's principle, opposition members described it as "iniquitous," and 'vicious;" that it was a threat to the freedom of the press; that it was inspired by George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail and the Toronto Telegram, and by former Premier George Drew, and that it interfered with "sacred wills."

Wednesday's speakers included Eamon Park (CCF-Toronto Dovercourt), Ross McEwing (Lib-Wellington North), W. A. Hamilton (PC-Wellington South), Agnes Macphail (CCF-York West), T. K. Foster (Lib-Bruce), H. L. Walters (CCF-Toronto Bracondale), G. T. Gordon (Lib-Brantford), H. C. Nixon (Lib-Brant), L. F. K. Fell (CCF-Toronto Parkdale), Robert Thornberry (CCF-Hamilton Centre), G. I. Harvey (CCF-Sault Ste. Marie), Leslie Wismer (CCF-Toronto Riverdale) and T. D. Thomas (CCF-Ontario).

Mr. Frost, closing the second reading debate, said the principle of charitable foundations "operating great businesses in Ontario is quite inconsistent with present-day public policy.

Big Sums Involved

"Tremendous sums of money" in the exemptions would be paid to these organizations "to create conditions unfair to business, unfair to charities, unfair to the taxpayers and creating chaos in the free enterprise system upon which the future of this province so greatly depends."

"I greatly regret that the cases should be two foundations both involving newspapers, one Liberal—the Toronto Star—and one Progressive Conservative—the Sudbuhy Star."

A "more dispassionate consideration" could have been obtained if other types of business were involved.

Agnes Macphail (CCF-York West) said she thought the bill was inspired by "the two Georges"—George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail and the Toronto Telegram, and former Premier George Drew, now national Progressive Conservative leader.

Mr. Park said the bill would force sale of the Atkinson Foundation's newspapers and that they could be bought only by "financial interests who can acquire monopoly control of the newspapers of this city."

Mr. Nixon asked that the government remove the "retroactive" aspect of the bill and amend it to apply only to charitable foundations set up at least six months after the bill became law. He also suggested that the period in which foundations must comply with the Act be extended from three years to seven or 10.

The bill made directives of the will of Joseph E. Atkinson, late owner of the Toronto Star and the Star Weekly, "impossible to carry out."

If, as the government anticipated, there would be a "rash" of charitable foundations they should be dealt with by general legislation, he said, but existing foundations, whose founders were dead, should be exempted.

In Unholy Hurry

The government was "in an unholy hurry" to pass this bill.

The bill provided for a fine of $5,000 or one year in jail or both for violation of the Act. "Why should we single out people who are interested in charities for these terrible penalties," Mr. Nixon asked.

backed him up, the other, including two members of the Provincial House, against him."

Asked for his impressions of Constable Keays' allegations, Commissioner Stringer said he believed: "Your major complaint was against the Crown Attorney."

"I suggest to you," said the constable, "that Keays' main and only complaint was that he had lost his status as a police officer and wanted to get a letter, which menaced his integrity in the witness box, rescinded."

"You never lost your status as a police officer," Commissioner Stringer said.

Commissioner Stringer said he had told the Attorney General that Keays had caused dissension in the Ottawa district that "he had caused dissension in Belleville and was about to cause dissension in Niagara Falls."

"May Have" Told

He said he "may have" told Mr. Blackwell that the constable had changed his name from Soubliere to Keays in 1945.

The Commissioner said he "accepted" an unsigned statement from Sgt. J. A. Stringer on his actions in killing John Miki near Ottawa in 1940 after Miki had murdered Constable Harold Dent.

The statement was taken by former Deputy Commissioner H. M. McCreedy and "should have been signed," the Commissioner said.

"I ordered the Deputy Commissioner to make an investigation in conjunction with the district inspector (T. W. Cousans) and was recommending Sgt. Stringer for promotion and a medal.

Deputy Commissioner McCreedy did not tell him, the Commissioner said, about Constable Keays "theory" that Sgt. Stringer lied to a coroner's inquest about the shooting.

No Intention Of Causing Property Injury

"We have no intention in our swimming pool project to do anything detrimental to property in the neighborhood," said J. D. Anderson, chairman of the Lions Club swimming pool committee.

"We discussed it further with the council Wednesday night, the agreement with the city has been drafted and is ready to be signed. The front building will be set back from Burnham St. as far as possible and still provide connection from the toilets to the sewer on Burnham St."

Mr. Anderson said the general layout of the project would be moved ten feet north of the original position to leave room for a road replacing part of the present one leading west off Burnham St.

Mr. Anderson and Ald. Doug Miller arranged to call on Mr. H. C. Benson, Burnham St., tonight and explain the plans and placement as revised. Mayor Swanston said today that the proposed agreement with Lions Club had not been reviewed by the committee of the whole council, and that it could not be signed until the members had considered it and declared themselves in favor of it.

Stock Prices Weaken On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, April 7 (CP)—Action slowed as prices weakened on the Toronto Stock Exchange today on widely scattered small losses. Industrials held firm while the remainder of the market bucked selling pressure. Golds backed down steadily from early firmness and western oils continued Wednesday's late easier trend. Base metals were in their easier path, prevalent in recent markets.

Industrials showed some moderate gains, led by Winnipeg Electric at a new high.

Refuse To Lower Voting Age To 18

By The Canadian Press

Arguments on youth were heard in the Manitoba Legislature Wednesday as a bill to reduce the voting age from 21 to 18 was denied second reading, by a vote of 31 to 15.

The bill, sponsored by Donovan Swailes, Winnipeg CCF member, was supported by many other Opposition members. Mr. Swailes said many young men and women of 18 held responsible positions; men went into the services at that age, were permitted to marry and become taxpayers. A Government supporter, N. V. Bachynsky (Lib. Prog.—Fisher) said, however, it would confer "duties without privileges."

Premier D. L. Campbell said Alberta has reduced the voting age to 19, and Saskatchewan had reduced it to 18. As far as Manitoba was concerned, the Government would introduce such legislation when it was ready to do so —and not before.

Opposition speakers wound up their side of the budget debate in the New Brunswick House with Hugh Mackay, leader of the Progressive Conservatives, charging the Government had increased net liabilities by $65,000,000 while claiming a surplus each year. Premier McNair winds up the debate Friday.

Truck, Car Collide At Reid Intersection

A car and a truck collided at the intersection of McDonnel and Reid Streets shortly before noon on Wednesday. A door panel of the truck driven south on Reid Street by Ernest C. Lummis, 285 Park Street, was dented and the running board was turned up as the front of the car, driven by Donald Cameron, Indian River, and the side of the car met. The headlamps, grill, hood and fender of the car were damages. The accident was investigated by Constables Leo Murphy and Jack Morrow.

Sues For Turkeys

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Apr. 7— (AP) — Farmer Nicholas Holmes has sued the Monongahela Power Company for $10,000, charging that 660 of his turkeys died of cold last year when the company let the power go off for three days. Holmes' brooders were electrically heated.

Sea Wins Last Round

GLOUCESTER, Mass., April 7—(AP)— Mario Rinzi, a Boston fisherman, was swept to his death Wednesday by a giant wave minutes after he had cheated the sea. Rinzi had been knocked into the water from his lookout perch on the trawler San Antonio. Other crew members pulled him back aboard. Then a second wave swept the craft and Rinzi was carried away.

Verdict Of Insanity

BRIGHTON, Colo., April 7 —(AP)— A jury Wednesday night returned a verdict of insanity in the murder trial of Mrs. Jennie Barker, who shot and killed her husband, Lloyd (Red) Barker of Denver. After the slaying Barker was identified as the last of four sons of "Ma" Barker, crime leader of the '30's.

Approve Annexation

THE HAGUE, April 7 —(AP) —The Netherlands Lower House Wednesday passed a bill approving annexation of a small border strip of Germany. It is part of the 52 square miles of West German frontier territory the Western Allies decide last month to award to the Netherlands, France Belgium and Luxembourg. The shifts are designed mainly to tion.

Report Rebellion

MEXICO CITY, April 7 —(AP)— Word of a rebellion in Guatemala which may have deposed the Government of President Juan Jose Arevalo spread along the Guatemala-Mexican border today, without confirmation from Guatemela itself. Communication companies said they had normal contact with Guatemala and had heard nothing of an uprising there.

Arena Carrying Load For Centre

LINDSAY, April 7—(ENS).—A financial statement on the Lindsay Arena and Recreation Centre submitted to Council this week shows that the Arena is producing a revenue, but that the Recreation Centre drains it off very rapidly.

The Arena's report shows receipts of $3,307.62, $3,030.52 and $5,347.89 for January, February and March respectively. Payments for the same months were: $3,322.83, $3,430.46 and $3,817.16 respectively.

Total receipts shown in the Recreation Centre statement for three months (inclusive of $2,600 from the Arena) are $4,043.48. Total payments for the same period are $4,101.31.

Mayor Moore said the Arena expected a good month in April because there were several scheduled games which should prove money-makers.

Alderman Butler criticized the financial statements and said: "They were about as clear as mud."

Poor Brakes Charged In Hastings Accident

HASTINGS, April 7 (ENS) — Howard E. Lee of Minden, was charged with failing to have adequate brakes on his motor vehicle after being involved in an accident on Bridge Street, Hastings.

Mr Lee was proceeding south on Bridge Street when he collided with a motor cycle driven by Joseph Yzerees of RR 3, Hastings.

The accident was investigated by Constable Robert Kemp and damage was estimated at approximately $25.

$200,000 Blaze

MONTREAL, April 7 —(CP)— Loss was estimated at $200,000 today after fire swept through a four-storey building on East-End Prince Arthur Street. The building housed five manufacturing concerns, a billiard hall and the Polish War Veterans Hall.

Guilty Of Son's Act

WINDSOR, April 7 (CP) — A father was placed on suspended sentence in county court Wednesday for an offense committed by his 15-year-old son. The father, A. D. Allan of nearby Maidstone, pleaded guilty to careless driving even though he was not in the car when the accident happened. The charge was laid against him since he is the owner of the car. The youth drives the car on a special permit.

Slow Progress In Prison Reform

Very few Canadians ever enter the doors of a prison, even as visitors; fewer still have been in our penitentiaries. And, for good reasons, those who have been in these places as inmates say little about their experience when they come out. Indifference toward prisons and prison reform is the popular attitude, and this accounts for the slowness with which the recommendations of the Archambault Report of 1938 are being put into effect. But as the Archambault Report says in its conclusion, the first purpose of a prison system is to protect society; if the prisons are to be anything better than training schools for criminals, and hotbeds of disaffection among the criminal classes, they must be run on the best lines that we know, and they must give chances of reform to such criminals as are reformable.

• • •

There are signs that the recommendations of the Archambault Report are being put into practice, although slowly, and these signs may be detected in the 1948 report of the Commissioner of Penitentiaries, which was tabled in the Commons recently. The Commissioner is Major-General R. B. Gibson, an able public servant who appears to be breaking down the spirit of indifference which has plagued our penal system for many years. Perhaps the most encouraging thing in the report is the news that a school for penal officers is being established. These men set the tone of our penitentiaries, and the sucess of our system stands or falls by them. Too often our penitentiaries have been managed by those who understand discipline, but who know nothing about education or reform. Discipline is important, of course, for penitentaries are not country clubs for criminals. But discipline must be more than an adherence to rules; it may be itself an instrument of reform. The Collins Bay institution near Kingston is now used exclusively for first offenders, for these are thought to be most amenable to reform. Understandably the discipline there must be of a different character from that which is demanded in prisons for "repeaters".

• • •

Education is being given a larger role in prison life. Libraries, correspondence courses and tutoring now help men to improve their education while in prison, and vocational training is helping some prisoners to find work which is more attractive than crime. The progress so far is not great, but at least an attempt is being made to act upon the recommendations of the Archambault Report.

• • •

We have not a high incidence of crime in Canada, compared with other countries. The increase in our penitentiary population after the war was 23 per cent. as compared with the increase of 42 per cent. after the war of 1914-18. But unfortunately the number of young people—under 21—is rising. We can assume that most of these young offenders are not hardened criminals, and can be reclaimed if we use reasonable methods to re-educate and help them. It is good to know that a beginning has been made in this work.

Smaller Countries Sign

The fateful North Atlantic Treaty was signed in Washington on Monday by Canada, Britain, the U.S.A., France, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Norway, Italy, Denmark, Portugal, and Iceland. Twelve nations thus are formed into what amounts to a Grand Alliance, unitedly resolved to defend their own and each other's ways against any and all comers. The great importance of the treaty is attested by that array of names alone.

It is significant that the list includes smaller nations like Luxemburg, Portugal, Denmark and Iceland. They are vital to the success and the intention of the treaty. Luxemburg is of course one of the Benelux countries, already united more closely than the Atlantic Treaty terms provide. Portugal, for a century a treaty-ally of Britain, was a harbour for Allied shipping and people during the war, a foothold on the continent when there was none other. Denmark is important as a member of the Alliance for herself, her contiguity with Germany, her physical and trading position in relation to Britain, and her ownership of Greenland, which lies within Canada's Arctic orbit. Until 1943 Iceland was a Danish province. Now it is a separate Republic, and a member of U.N. The position of Iceland across the sea and air routes of the North Atlantic make it a specially valuable signatory of the new Treaty.

That these smaller countries should accept the invitation to membership in the North Atlantic Alliance shows not only that they realize their need for allies, but recognize the essentially pacific, non-aggressive nature of the treaty and its chief signatory countries. They have not been deceived by the growling of the Russian bear. They know its meaning.

Licensed To Kill

Some weeks ago we wrote in these columns about the need for greater discretion in licensing drivers and their vehicles. One reason for so many accidents is that there are too many incompetent, infirm or untutored drivers on our streets and highways. Ten or twenty years ago they took elementary tests, and were granted their first operator's license. This has been automatically renewed year by year, upon payment of the fee. Another reason for the large number of accidents is that vehicles are likewise licensed automatically year by year. It is left to the police who make spasmodic road-checks to order any decrepit or dangerous cars off the road, if these are found before accidents happen. The Ontario system of licensing might be called, for these two reasons alone, licensing to kill—legal permission given on the payment of a few dollars.

A small and fortunately not grievous accident in the Brantford area gives support to our argument. A one-armed, one-eyed driver aged 83 pleaded guilty to a charge of "careless driving". What happened was that a truck had to take to the ditch, where it toppled over, in attempting to avoid a collision with the car driven by the one-armed, one-eyed octogenarian. He was fined and ordered to surrender his operator's permit. Why was he given the permit, apparently as recently as this year?

Election Time

Predicting election times is good clean fun indulged in once every three or four years by political wiseacres and others not so wise who are just putting in their conjectural mites to keep rumour alive. We have pondered for fully three minutes the arguments, proofs, reasons and wishful thoughts which have been floating from Parliament Hill west to the Rockies and east to Cape Race, Canada's new most easterly point.

We find them interesting but notice curious omission. So we add our tit-bit to fill in the hole. The new province of Newfoundland has now its own, though appointed, Provincial Government. It will soon hold Provincial Elections. It has, however, no representative in the House of Commons. Our Twentieth Parliament now in its fifth session cannot go on and on, legislating for all of Canada, including the new Province, without representation from Newfoundland. Therefore, there must soon be by-elections in the Island, or there must soon be General Elections. Since there has been little indication that by-elections will be held cannot early General Elections be assumed—to take place as early as June?

NOTE AND COMMENT

An Ohio woman recently took a bath in maple sap, mistaking it for rain water. If she wasn't anybody's sweetie before, we'll bet she is now.

A note from England says that the old windmill is passing. But the Canadian windmill (sometimes laughingly called the Houses of Parliament) is still in full operation.

The people of Thibet are reported to drink between 30 and 50 cups of tea apiece each day. What's more, they put an evil-smelling goo like rancid butter in it. Has any health addict a comment to offer?

Moscow asserts that Russia has a citizen who is 147 years old. This ancient must have some disturbing recollections of the bad old days of the Czars, when a Russian could slip over to Paris for a holiday whenever he felt like it.

The Guelph Mercury enquires sadly: "Would there be less talking if there were fewer fools?" Undoubtedly, and less listening, too.

An all-male English jury has sent a man to prison for five years because he murdered her for nagging. The severity of the sentence suggests that he used unnecessary cruelty in performing this disagreeable but necessary task.

From The Critic's Notebook

YOU MUST SEE CANADA by Cecil Carnes (Ambassador Books). This is another in the growing number of tourist books on Canada. Whether such books bring the tourists or the tourists create the market for them, it is at least good propaganda to have these books available. This one is written by an American, a professional traveller and observer whose technique of writing guide books is sufficiently skilful that he can take a vast and varied country like Canada, squeeze it into 192 pages and still leave a reader with more than a hazy and a not unduly distorted impression of the Canada many Canadians mistakenly think they know. The usual C.N.R., C.P.R. and Government Travel Bureau photographs of the usual picturesque spots are inserted throughout the book.

Since it is a book designed primarily for tourists, the odd, the colourful and the spectacular are emphasized above the ordinary, and the writer skips over the prosaic with wide leaps. For once in such a book Quebec or B.C. do not overshadow Ontario. In the section on Ontario he has this to say which may hit some of us on the funny-bone: "A Canadian does not take a vacation; he takes a holiday; he posts a letter; he doesn't mail it. He goes into the bush, not into the northwoods. He lies about catching a three-pound trout, not a twelve-incher. He rarely does his buying in a store, he goes to a shop. The things which keep up his trousers are braces, not suspenders; crackers are biscuits and what Americans call Canadian bacon is back bacon to a Canadian. When you ask a Canadian a question which he mutfs he says, 'Eh?' In the mass this sounds like a group of sparrows quarrelling among the eaves. It contrasts strongly with the American 'Huh?' which has the blunt finality of an overfed woman plopping her chassis into a subway seat."

All of which may be true, eh? Part of the pleasure of leafing through a book like this is the fun of seeing ourselves as others see us. I hope the book has a good sale in the United States, for it is written in such a lively, enthusiastic fashion that once an American reads it, he should be inspired to hop the next train (or step on the gas in his own car) for the "world's Greatest Tourist Attraction" which he "must see". A good book to send to American cousins if you wish to entice them here. A good one to have available in our tourist hotel lounges patronized by Americans to interest them on infrequent wet or arid days. Hotels, roads, and places to eat are mentioned. So are Peterborough and the Kawartha Lakes. T.J.A.

AND THEN YOU CAME by Ann Bridge (Clarke, Irwin). Miss Bridge has turned to a West Highland county of Scotland for the locale of her latest novel. The material of the first part of the book, the social life of the great families of the district under modern conditions, being rather dull, the writer has catapulted her characters into the distant past. This she does through the introduction of an archaeological project.

A niece of one of the ancient families arrives on the scene from London, with a professor of Archeology who is a specialist in Celtic lore of pre-Christian times, and they enlist all the younger member of the gentry for their summer excavating operations. Incidentally, there is a good deal of authentic information on ancient forts, Highland history, folklore and language development which would be of interest to those of Highland background, and the passages descriptive of the country are probably the best of the writing. All this is connected with the ancient story of Deidre when the young people meet a second party of archeologists, consisting of a fabulously beautiful young women and three young men, corresponding, rather crudely, to the figures of the Irish legend, and accompanied by a sort of latter day Merlin.

This sort of thing has to be done most skilfully, and Miss Bridge has not a light enough touch for fantasy. She is more at home among her modern aristocrats in their very material world. So the latter part of the story bogs down in a rather murky Celtic twilight, and reminds one somenow of that famous cartoon by Max Beerbohm in which W. B. Yeats is introducing George Moore to the Queen of the Fairies. H.T.K.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN by F. B. Gilbreth and E. Gilbreth Carey, (Ambassador Books). This is a rollicking family story of the "Life with Father" variety. Father, in this case, Mr. Frank Gilbreth, was the originator of motion study in American industry, and mother too was an industrial engineer. One of their joint projects was raising twelve children, and to this enterprise father applied his efficiency methods with frequently hilarious results.

A quick-witted robust extrovert, father was kept on his toes by his enterprising offspring. They did not mind being used as guinea pigs for his experiments as long as they were not exploited too far. When they were, they usually found a way, not always subtle, to short circuit his ingenuity. Father liked to make use of what he called "unavoidable delay", and to this end he installed gramophones and language records in the bathrooms to teach his children French and German between rising and breakfasting. After some years the children were able to converse in a homemade mixture of languages which father couldn't understand.

Kidding the birth-control advocate was also fun for all.

Reading and enjoying the merry adventures of this large and unusually bright family whose activities and education pivoted so largely upon their father's attitude to the efficient use of time, the reader may wonder what made father tick. Why did he want to help people save time and energy? For what purpose? The answer is given in father's words: "For work, if you love that best, for education, for beauty, for art, for pleasure." He looked over the top of his glasses, "For mumblety-peg, if that's where your heart lies."

This story, really a collection of anecdotes, is guaranteed entertainment for anyone who has ever had a family, has a family, or knows a family. H.T.K.

SASSAFRAS HILL by Charles Allen Smart (Random House). This story is woman's magazine fiction in what must be one of its lower forms. Restless naval veteran turns wandering artist to cure war nerves. In order to live he takes a job as manservant in a broken-down farm home owned by attractive widow of forty. (This seems to broaden Balzac's theory a bit.) Widow's household consists of three children, her mother (respectability), highly educated brother (tone) and various genteel connections. Of course, she is of Good Family and has had Money, but is temporarily down on her luck. Hero has been around. His past includes Good Schools, various Important Jobs, and the inevitable wife and child he left behind long ago. You know the rest girls, but lest there be any doubt, be assured that Chastity is preserved. There are two weddings for good measure.

Just to prove that he was in the navy, the hero calls the local hotel a "flop-house" and "bears a hand" with the chores. Other more important elements of the story are about as authentic as a pair of gay deceivers. The writer seems to assume, that although the people who read his novel will be ladies, they will not be as prissy as ladies used to be, so he allows his dashing hero to use a Bad Word now and then, and sometimes even a Vulgar one. The writing abounds in cliches and poor construction.

One might have to read "Tobacco Road" to get over the effects of "Sassafras Hill". H.T.K.

THE ARGONAUTS

Return Of The $1,000 Car?

(NEW YORK POST)

THIS story is starting round Wall Street's inside circles: The "Big Three" and at least some of the automobile independents finally are working out plans for a car in the $1,000 price range.

Each of the companies is experimenting in utmost secrecy, of course, and between the Big Three—General Motors, Chrysler, Ford—and the rest of the manufacturers, there is no inclination for sharing trade secrets.

But the report is that one or more of these low-priced cars may even reach the market in late 1949. And next year is definitely mentioned as time for the shift.

If it's true, it'll be the tip-off to the automobile industry's realization that after years of fantastic unbalance between demand and supply, it is re-entering an era of intense competition.

It'll be proof that the automobile men recognize that from now on, they'll be competing more and more not only among themselves for a slice of our dollar but also with many other industries for that same slice of our dollar.

And it'll be dramatic evidence that they know their continuing prosperity rests on their understanding of our wants and their willingness to fulfil those wants on our terms.

The return of the $1,000 automobile may not be nearly as far off as is generally believed.

I think it's true—for the simple reason that the story makes such complete sense.

Despite the public protests of the automobile men that they couldn't and can't give us a cheaper-priced car, I've always thought they could and they can. And these new reports imply that, maybe in private, they're no longer so sure about their protests either.

For one major factor in the high prices of automobiles since the war has been the high cost of materials going into automobiles.

But material costs are going down. According to U.S. Steel's executives, the grey market for steel has virtually disappeared. And for the first time in years metal prices are softening. Steel scrap is down from $42.50 a ton to $33.50; lead scrap is down from 29 cents a pound to about 14 cents; the same trends are showing up in brass and copper-wire—all basic industrial commodities.

Another major factor in the high prices of automobiles has been the high costs of labour—intensified by low labour productivity right after the war and strike interruptions.

But labour's productivity has been rising rapidly and steadily—which means labour costs per automobile are lower. As for strikes, we seem to have weathered the worst storms and while this Spring's negotiations in the automobile and steel industries may be bitter and tough, a new strike wave is not feared.

A third factor in the high prices of automobiles has been the gadget craze of the manufacturers—their loving (but to me, infuriating) concentration on offering us a de-luxe de-luxe regardless of our indifference to or distaste for the fancy trimmings.

But many of us would happily dispense with the doo-dads if we could get a car at a price within our ability to pay. Here is a place car prices can be cut overnight.

And a fourth factor has been the inefficiency of the manufacturers themselves—men grown soft with rush years of war and post-war business. Surely, some assembly line operations can be streamlined; surely, there are more efficient ways to build in car windows, put on car handles, mold car bodies. And I've a strong suspicion that the industry has many efficiency ideas it could take off the shelf this minute.

Competition—healthy, tough competition—has stimulated some of our best industrial advances. So, when I hear that in its competition for my dollar, an automobile company is coming up with a 1949 version of the 1929 Model T, I'll know that company has accepted the challenge and won.

And I'll wager that challenger makes a fortune.

Bible Message

Then came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem....And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them. Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand: there is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man....For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:

All these evil things come from within, and defile the man. (Mark 7: 1, 14, 15, 21-23.)

Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law....

Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. (I John 3: 4, 7, 8.)

Unconsidered Trifle

The vicar had notified the school-mistress that he would be coming to the school to catechize the children in religious knowledge. As he always asked the same questions, she thought it best to prime the children with the correct answers.

"When the vicar comes," she said, "he will say: 'Boy Number One, who made you?' and you must answer, 'God, sir.' Then he will say: 'Boy Number Two, who was the first man?' and you must say: 'Adam, sir'." And so she went on through the class.

When the vicar arrived Boy Number One was absent from his place, as he began with Boy Number Two and asked: "Boy, who made you?"

"Adam, sir," replied Boy Number Two.

"No, no, my boy," said the vicar, "it was God who made you."

"Please, sir," he replied, "the boy God made is out of the room washing inkpots."

Hopes To Make Speech In Lords At Age Of 100

LONDON, April 7—(CP)—Fortified by his snuff-box—"snuff keeps colds away"—Lord Maenan, born in 1854, looks forward to making a speech in the House of Lords when he reaches 100 years.

At the moment he is a "new boy" in the halls of parliament and his maiden speech, made last summer, was a model of brevity.

Although he is part of modern life, he is also history in the legal world. Every law student knowns he is judge who made the shortest summing up on record. When the evidence had been heard, he turned to the jury and said, "well, gentlemen?"

"It would be quite amusing to when I am 100 — if I had the nerve," said Lord Maenan make another speech in the Lords

The first speech took three minutes.

Rather than speak of his long career as barrister and judge, he would talk about snuff—"It's a fine thing for keeping one awake after a good lunch."

Traces Genealogy

Then there's his Welsh. He has become interested in his family history and remembers his Welsh ancestors were named Kyffin. When he was Sir William Francis Kyffin Taylor and busy at the law he had no time for study of history but now he thinks it is only right he should trace the Kyffins' story with a knowledge of Welsh.

So every morning he starts his day with a study of books of Welsh and a Welsh-speaking tutor comes to see him once a week.

Then there's his memorizing. Every day this silver-haired man picks up a book and commits a passage to memory.

"It strengthens the fibre of the brain."

He was the oldest man created a peer the last oldest to be granted a pension, given at 94 because he was the last surviving member of the old railways and canal commission abolished last year.

"If the government offers me any great position you can say that I will certainly consider it."

PICCADILLY WAS THRONGED with Londoners over the week-end as electric lights, most of them switched off or their power cut during and since the war, were switched on full force, bringing out some of them famous commercial signs in the neighborhood. Among the large crowd which gathered were children who were born during the war and had never seen the brilliant night lights.

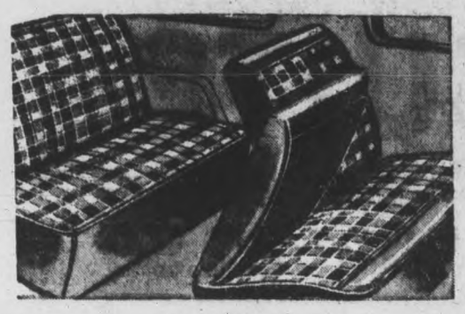
Arena Project Extended To 1950



MILLBROOK, April 7 (ENS)—Included in the items decided on at the last business meeting of the officers and directors for the proposed Memorial Arena for Millbrook and Cavan, besides the addition of curling facilities, was the extension of the project until September 1, 1950. An Old Boys and Girls Reunion is mooted for that year, and it is thought this would be an excellent time for the official opening.

It was also felt this would give sufficient time to determine whether the project is to be successfully carried through. If it is evident the objective of $20,000 will not be reached, money subscribed will be returned to the donors 100 per cent Subscriptions will not be held indefinitely.

Another decision was to hold an auction in September, 1949, when donations of goods, farm products, and other articles, will be sold, to add a substantial amount to the funds.

Canvassers are now making their rounds, and will call at every home in the township and the village. Canvass closes April 16. The president, P. E. Hamilton, has appealed for a kindly reception and generous response when individual homes are visited.

Port Arthur Bruins Shut Out Brandon 7-4

PORT ARTHUR, April 7 (CP)—The threat of elimination inspired Port Arthur Bruins Wednesday night to outscore Brandon Wheat Kings 7-4 in the fourth game of their best-of-seven Western Canada Junior hockey semi-final series. The Manitoba club won the first three games.

Outscored 2-0 in the first period although they held an edge in territorial play, Port Arthur broke through Brandon's defence in the second to count four times while allowing Wheat Kings a single goal. In the third they scored another three to the Manitoba champions' one.

Fifth game will be played here Friday night.

Alf Childs was top man for the winners with two goals. The other Port Arthur markers went to Alex Delvicchio, Bill Davidson, David Whalen, Gil Carison and Barton Bradley.

Frank King notched the first of Wheat King's four goals, followed by Walt Pawlyshyn, Glen Sonmor and Bob Chrystal.

The final standing will be published next week. The annual banquet and election of officers will be held on Wednesday night, April 20, at 6.30 p.m.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Tomorrow night in the YWCA gym, the Girls' Basketball League starts a triple-header sharp at eight of the clock. Final games in three series for the loop titles. CGE and Collis juniors go in the first one, Collis toting a 19-point lead at present; they're followed by Nurses and Neill's seniors, with Neill's only nursing a three-point margin; and the nightcap has the intermediate Lockeys playing Normals, the latter being up 13 points. Oodles of hoop action assured. Senior PCVS boys as well as the junior and senior Collegiate colleens reach trail's end this week-end in Toronto in COSSA playoffs. Juvenile PCI-ers still have another playoff, that with Quebec shortly.

Secretary Bill Snyder of Hamilton has been returned by acclamation to his old OBA post. But there'll be lots of election talk just the same at the two-day OBA convention here Friday and Saturday. Prexy Fred Bradley of Hamilton and Fred Young of Chippawa are running for president, with the latter, along with W. F. Nickel of Stratford and Gar Frankland of Toronto after first vice-president. Frankland and Nickel have their names in, too, for second vice-prexy. No less than 17 after an executive spot, including Bob Smith of Napanee, Al Walker of Oshawa, and Cy Whatley of Peterborough. Delegates from all parts of the province will be on deck for the convention.

Ready For Big One

Legionnaires are as ready as they'll ever be for the big series. They tackle Sarnia Sailors at 8.30 tomorrow (Friday) night in Lindsay, and the same teams clash there again Saturday eve. First two of the best-of-five OHA senior "B" finals, remaining games being in Sarnia the following week-end. Don't pass these two Lindsay scraps up, folks, as they're sure to be outstanding tilts with so much at stake. As the Quinte columnist puts it: "Legionnaires have played brilliant consistent hockey from the time the first puck was dropped until they hoisted high the gonfalon of semi-finals victory. They've come up the hard way and a lot of their friends down this way are pulling for them to win provincial honors."

Comes this clipping from the Brantford paper: "The Grimsby Peach Kings took their defeat by Peterborough the hard way. It was tough to see all their good work eliminated in just three days. It doesn't take long to drop out. Jack McGregor, the Grimsby scribe, was bitterly disappointed. He spoke of the Peach Kings having gotten over the hardest hurdle in putting the Nats out and then wrote disparagingly of the Petes. The Petes took the marbles in two games inside of three days. Maybe the Nats softened the Kings down to deuce size. It happens to the best of them. It is no time to brag when the playoffs are due." You said it, chum.

Telling Them Off

Glad to see members of the Ontario amateur Boxing Association telling the American Amateur Union to mind its own business. To clean its own house first before interfering with Ontario matters. The AAU banned Ontario fighters from appearing on their cards, and also stopped US boxers from fighting in Ontario, claiming the boxers were being paid off in cash. The Canadian promoters point out that when their scrappers show in the States they are paid off in cash, too. This is nothing new—boxers always did get paid whatever the promoter could afford, as any number of Peterborough pugilists will verify. The Ontario prexy also claims that the AAU imposes and lifts suspensions on boxers to suit itself.

* * * * * *

Another important point coming out of the meeting of the Ontario mitt moguls was a vote in favor of using 10-ounce gloves instead of the usual eight-ounces. Also the meeting went on record as favoring the Ontario Athletic Commission ruling concerning the compulsory eight-count for knockdowns in amateur bouts. In other words, amateurs must wear 10-ounce gloves in future and must remain down for a count of "eight" if knocked down—no jumping right up before the head has cleared. More stress should be laid too on conditioning and in having boxers thoroughly examined by a doctor before a fight. There are too many ring accidents entirely.

Time Limit Is Removed For Friday's Main Bout

British Empire wrestling champion Fred Atkins is making no bones about his intention to defeat and unmask the Masked Marvel in the main bout at the Brock Arena tomorrow night.

The Cardiff Giant

Shifting the date to a Friday enabled Manager Jim Laidlaw to sign Atkins for the Mask's opponent and the rock-ribbed Australians says that he will not let Peterborough fans down on this job. Since there will be no time limit the iron-muscled Atkins will have plenty of time in which to carry out his plans. The match may produce the hardest battling of the year before it is finally decided. If the Mask loses he must unveil that secretive face at last and it will terminate a two-year reign in dozens of United States and Canadian cities in which the mystery-man has lost only two matches, both to Whipper Billy Watson, the former British Empire Champion. Atkins has defeated Watson, so he should be able to cope with the Mask.

The Cardiff Giant (a 330-pounder) takes on Frank Valois in the semi-final and Big Ben Morgan (only 313 pounds) will try to flattened the clever Pat Flanagan in the first bout.

Ottawa Defeats Sherbrooke 4-3

OTTAWA, April 7 (CP) — Sherbrooke Red Raiders and Ottawa Senators will be on even footing when they meet tonight in Sherbrooke for their fourth game of their best-of-seven final series for the Quebec Senior Hockey League championship.

The Senators, who led the league throughout most of the season, squeezed out a narrow 4-3 win here Wednesday night to square the series with one win each and a tie. The fifth game will be played here Saturday night with the sixth at Sherbrooke the next day.

The survivor will advance into the Allan Cup Eastern Canada Senior final round against either Toronto Marlboros or Sydney Millionaires.

The Senators, setting a fast pace in the initial period, slammed home two counters, but faltered early in the middle frame and allowed the visitors to even the count. From there on it was a nip-and-tuck contest, with the Raiders threatening to knot the count again in the dying minutes of the game.

The goals were well distributed on both teams. Tony Demers, Marcel Filion and Kelly Burnett were the Sherbrooke snipers, while George Greene, Buddy Hellyer, Eddie Emburg and Emile Dagenais registered for Ottawa.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Alf Crooker, outside wing, has definitely signed for another year with Hamilton Tigers of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, it was disclosed Wednesday. There was some talk that he had decided to switch allegiance to the Hamilton Wildcats.

Merle Hapes, former New York Giants professional star, has never seen Canadian football and before he lines up with Hamilton Tigers next fall plans to pick up some tips from Bob Masterson, University of Toronto coach. Hapes, suspended from U.S. football in 1946 for failing to report a bribe offer, signed as a backfielder with Tigers for the next Ontario Rugby Football Union season. He also expects to be asked to help with coaching chores.

Boston Bruins reported Wednesday their "muscles line" had signed contracts for the 1949-50 National Hockey League season. Paul Ronty, Kenny Smith and Johnny Peirson all were reported to have received raises after their good work this season when they scored 62 goals.

New York Yankees will attempt an experiment today with the reconversion of outfielder Johnny Lindell into a pitcher. The 32-year-old Lindell has been named by Manager Casey Stengel to pitch in an intra-squad game here. His future as a hurler undoubtedly will depend upon his showing.

Dick Fowler, tall Philadelphia right-hander from Toronto, limited New York Yankees to four hits Wednesday as he paced the Athletics to a 6-1 triumph before 3,263 fans at Lang Field. It was the Yanks' last game at St. Petersburg, Fla., for the season and the loss snapped a six-game winning streak.

Twenty more entries for the 53rd Boston Marathon April 19 were received today including that of Percy Such, veteran runner from Windsor, Ont. The nominations boosted the field to 40. Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., the 1948 winner, also is entered.

Bert Jeffcote, managing director of the Hinckley, England, soccer club, Wednesday night indignantly denied a report that team members would be hypnotized to give them "the will to win" a match April 19 with a team from the Bringham area.

Marlies Beat Sydney 4-2 Only Tie Game From Final

TORONTO, April 7 (CP)—Toronto Marlboros are only one tie game away from the Eastern Canada Senior Hockey Finals, thanks to a lanky leftwinger from South Porcupine, and a coolheaded netminder from Montreal.

The Toronto Maple Leaf farmhands stepped into the driver's seat by defeating Sydney Millionaires 4-2 here Wednesday night. The triumph was largely fashioned by the acrobatic goaling of Howie Harvey, a Montreal product, and the blazing stick of South Porcupine-born Johnny McLellan.

The shifty McLellan turned in the hat trick as the all-Ontario champions scored all their four goals in an opening period rush. From then on, it was mainly Harvey who stemmed the tide as the Maritime champions kept play almost constantly in the Toronto zone.

The triumph left Marlboros needing only a tie in the fourth game of the series here Friday night to advance into the Allan Cup semi-final against the Quebec champions—either Ottawa Senators or Sherbrooke Red Raiders.

Under Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Rules, the best-of-five series is decided on a point basis. One point is given for a tie and two for a victory, with the first team getting six points declared winner.

Have Five Points

Marlboros now have five points by virtue of Wednesday night's win, a 5-3 victory Saturday night and a 1-1 overtime deadlock in the series opener. The Millionaires, who won 5-4 Monday night could force the series to a sixth game by winning Friday night, however. It would be played here Monday.

Though Harvey picked the puck off Sydney sticks at times, the Millionaires in Wednesday night's game helped beat themselves. Several times they seemed to be in scoring position, only to miss by making one pass too many instead of shooting.

Little Bruce Gallagher, 23-year-old Toronto-born right winger, was the pick of the Millionaires. He scored the game's opening goal at 3:07 of the first period and helped Johnny Arundel set up veteran Paul Platz for the second Sydney goal—the only score in the last two periods.

McLelland's outburst came after Al Buchanan, former Winnipeg Monarch junior, tied the score at 9:45 of the opening frame. Defenceman Bobby Robertson fed McLellan passes for his first two tallies within 20 seconds during the 11th minute of play. His third came at 19:30, with Johnny McCormack and Alex Davidson drawing assists.

MEMORIAL CUP FINALS

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Wednesday announced dates of the best-of-seven Eastern Canada Memorial Cup finals between Barrie Flyers and Montreal Royals.

The series opens in Toronto Saturday night, April 9. Further dates: at Montreal, April 12, 14 and 21; At Toronto, April 16 (afternoon), 19 and 23.

The winner goes into the Memorial Cup final against the Western Canada champions.

Sudbury Wolves Tied 4-4 With Scotch Team

PERTH, Scotland, April 7—(CP)—Perth Panthers came from behind in the last period to hold Canada's Sudbury Wolves to a 4-4 tie in the last period in an exhibition hockey game.

After a scoreless first period, the Wolves tallied three times in the middle session on goals by Kokick, Joe Dibastiani and Bill Dimock, while coach Bill Roger scored for the panthers.

In the final period Ken Doig, Lorne Goddard and Chris Fox stormed the Sudbury nets to score and give the Perth team a 4-3 lead until Dimock provided the equalizer with his second goal of the game.

END OF THE LINE for the coal-burners in an Iron Horse graveyard like this one at Conway, Pa., where the Pennsylvania Railroad picks over the bones of steam locomotives for scrap and spare parts. They scrap 18 a month at this yard alone.

Diesels Send Steam Locos To Scrap At Record Rate

By NEA Service.

CONWAY, Pa.—(NEA)—They got another diesel on the Salt Lake line, and like Casey Jones, the Iron Horse is heading for the graveyard.

Big eight-wheelers (like the one Casey rode to fame and death) and others on the more recent roster of steam locomotives (Pacifics, Mikados, Consolidations, Mountains and Mallets) are puffing into yards all over the country to find a scrap heap at the end of the line.

On nearly every railroad, as the diesel locomotives take over, the coal-burners are doomed. Few new ones are being built. But the Iron Horse still is useful; its bones make top-grade scrap for steel mill furnaces.

In Conway, a railroad town on the banks of the Ohio 20 miles from Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania Railroad has its own graveyard. In it, 16 locomotives are chopped up every month. The Pennsy retired a total of 565 steam engines last year, many being sold outright to scrap yards, as against only 244 in 1947 and hardly any in 1946.

At Modena, Pa., on the banks of Brandywine Creek, a 100-acre graveyard is operated by Luria Brothers, one of the biggest commercial scrap dealers. Two hundred and fifty steam engines were scrapped there in 1948.

To build an Iron Horse from blueprint up takes more than 80,000 man-hours. It can be broken up in about eight hours.

Superstructures are cut away with acetylene torches. Then the boilers are stripped of sheet iron and asbestos and fed into 100-ton alligator shears, and the underframe is cut loose. Chopped into fragments, what's left of the Iron Horse is loaded by magnet to be hauled away to steel mills.

The locomotive graveyard go the slaughterhouse one better. They use even the whistles; along with other trimmings, like the bells, gauges, valves, rods brake-parts, and other still-useful items, they're saved for use as spare parts for steam engines that still survive.

Even some of the bones that go to the mills as scrap eventually find their way back to the high iron as tangible ghosts of Casey Jones. They're turned into steel plates, rods and casting used in making—among other things—the diesel engines that are sending the Iron Horse to the graveyard.

JAILED FOR 12 YEARS

MONTREAL, April 7 (CP) — Paul Dufour, 30-year-old father of five children, Wednesday was sentenced to 12 years in penitentiary after pleading guilty to a charge of having carnal knowledge of his 12-year-old adopted daughter.

Charge Untrue Declares Tory

TORONTO, April 7 (CP)—John S. D. Tory, Toronto lawyer, Wednesday night called "completely untruthful" the statement in the Ontario Legislature earlier in the day by Eamon Park, CCF member for Toronto Dovercourt, that Mr. Tory had been consulted in preparation of the Ontario government's Charities Bill.

In the Legislature, Mr. Park also linked Mr. Tory with George McCullagh, publisher of the Globe and Mail and the Toronto Telegram, in a statement that Mr. Tory had acted for Mr. McCullagh in the purchase of the Telegrom.

Mr. Tory said the first he knew of the Charities Bill was when he read about it in the newspapers. "I didn't draft the Bill nor help the government draft it," he said. "I was not engaged in connection with it and I did not advise on it in any way."

BUILD A BRIDGE WITH A BILL

Prove How Corrugated Steel

GIVES "Straight-Edge" SHAVES

Try this on your friends. Place a crisp bill across two glasses, like a bridge. Tell your friends they can't rest a fifty-cent piece on the bill without the bridge collapsing.

Then show them how it can be done. Crease the bill, lengthwise. You're actually "corrugating" your bridge.

Now the bridge will support the coin! This shows how "corrugation" adds strength. This is the principle that makes Corux blades stiffer, so they vibrate less and hold a keener edge far longer.

Do you know why Ever-Ready Corux blades are made of scientifically corrugated surgical steel? Or why Corux blades cut down vibration, and razor pull, give you a cleaner shave, more shaves per blade? Read the answer under the illustrations on the left.

Now, a new invention by Ever-Ready Engineers applies this proven principle to safety razor blades. The result: a stronger, stiffer, more rigid blade—a blade that doesn't vibrate as much—a blade that gives you a cleaner shave, without annoying razor pull. What's more—with Corux you get more shaves per blade! Made in Canada.

COLORFUL NATIVES—A 160,000-mile trek through Africa extending over eight years has resulted in a collection of some 300-odd colorful paintings by Mrs. Margot Moberly-Perrin of Toronto and Old Lynne, Conn. Most of the subjects of her paintings had never been photographed or painted before. Forty-two of the most colorful paintings are now being exhibited in New York's Museum of Natural History. These are two of the 42. The painting on the left is a woman of the Timini Tribe in the Sierra Leone region. The woman holding the child in her arms, right, was painted at Katanga in the Belgian Congo.

Portraits Show Darkest Africa Colorful Place

By ROBERT MARX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 7—(CP)—African natives may not wear any clothes, but they're "the world's most perfect gentlemen," says Mrs. Margot Moberly-Perrin of Toronto and Old Lynne, Conn.

She ought to know they've been her hosts for eight years.

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin discounts any dangers she faced during a 160,000-mile trek through the Dark Continent. She says she was too interested in her study of the people to worry about trouble from "dangerous savages".

Officials repeatedly warned her against venturing among them. She consistently ignored their advice.

"Why, they are the most gentlemanly people you could imagine," Mrs. Moberly-Perrin says. "I was always treated with the greatest consideration and hospitality."

The result of her study, a selection of 42 brightly-colored portraits from the 300-odd she painted is being exhibited here in the Museum of Natural History.

"Darkest Africa," as shown in the Canadian-born artists's work, is a colorful place. Racial and tribal characteristics are clearly depicted in her work. Varied headdresses, ceremonial cloaks, dancing costumes and warlike shields background the figures. Accessories show vivid yellows, reds and greens, while faces range from greyish for the Arab traders to chocolate for Zulu girls and fierce black for bushmen.

Accompanied By Son

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin was accompanied on her safari by her son, Peter, who also acted as interpreter. He speaks English, French, Spanish, Arabic and several native dialects. Mrs. Moberly-Perrin speaks only English.

"The natives never had been photographed or painted before. When they saw the finished portraits they were delighted to be able to recognize themselves and their friends," she said in an interview.

The pair travelled when possible by automobile, but often had to resort to river transport and pack animals or trek on foot to reach out-of-the-way villages and settlements.

The Moberly-Perrins were hampered but not interrupted by wartime conditions. Authorities feared the possibility of agitation among the natives and were reluctant to permit foreigners to enter the bush.

Frequently they were unable to cash travellers' cheques, since the local population complained they would not be able to collect until after the war. One British consult was sympathetic but said he could offer no assistance, because he was living on credit himself.

On several occasions disease halted their travels. Cerebral malaria and amoebic dysentery sent both to hospital.

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin was educated at Havergal College, Toronto, and the Ontario College of Art. She is the daughter of Thomas Edward Moberly, formerly editor of the Toronto Mail and Empire.

PAINTINGS EXHIBITED—Mrs. Margot Moberly-Perrin of Toronto and Old Lynne, Conn., whose paintings of African natives are now being exhibited in the Museum of Natural History at New York, thinks darkest Africa is a colorful place. During the past eight years she has travelled 160,000 miles there studying its population. To her African natives are "the world's most perfect gentlemen."

OPEN WAR against communism in Canadian labor was declared by the Canadian Congress of Labor. In a strong statement issued jointly by President A. R. Mosher (above) and Secretary-Treasurer Pat Conroy the Congress stated that the CCL has taken and will continue to take definite action to combat communism and to isolate its activities. Already some 40,000 workers of the CCL's estimated membership of 365,000 have felt the brunt of the labor organization's discipline. The statement followed hard on the heels of a recent decision by the CCL at Ottawa to expel one affiliated union from its ranks and deprive another of the voice it held on its executive.

Cathcart Farm Chosen For Grassland Day

The Harold Cathcart farm south of Springville on Highway 28 will be the scene of the first Grassland Day in Central Ontario June 29.

It was one of the first locations considered. Another was the Henry Batten farm west of the Kawartha Golf Club. Robert McAdam informed the Examiner that a deputation from the local committee visited Mr. Cathcart and his son Manson, Monday, and were cordially received.

The visitors were: Wellington Sutton, Alex Huston, Cliff Curtis, Vern Campbell, Art McIntyre, Mr. McAdam, and Stewart Hall. Mr. Frank Paterson, agricultural representative, called later in the day.

The big acreage of the Cathcart farm with its highway frontage were two features which appealed strongly to the Grassland Day promoters as they looked around for a place.

According to Mr. McAdam that detail of grounds and fields has been determined, and the remaining plans will be focussed on that location.

Three or four cars of committee members are going to Guelph next week to enquire further about the details of planning this event. Peterborough applied to the Ontario Department of Agriculture for the first Grassland Day in the Central counties, and its local committee has so far been busy about organization.

Famous Actor Dies In Britain

FLEET, Hampshire, England, April 7 (Reuters)—Sir Seymour Hicks, British actor famous in comedy parts, died at his home here Wednesday at the age of 78.

He began his stage career at 16 at a salary of one shilling (20 cents) a night.

Born in Jersey in the Channel Islands, he rose to be a leading figure in the British theatre, wrote 64 plays and did notable work for films and radio. He was knighted in 1935.

He married ENaline Terriss, daughter of William Terriss the actor who was stabbed to death at a London stage door by a madman.

Sir Seymour and Lady Hicks, from their earnings in the long series of successful plays in which they appeared together, built the Aldwych Theatre and the Hicks Theatre, now the Globe.

Sir Seymour's theatrical activities fill five closely-printed columns of "Who's Who In The Theatre."

A born comedian, he was equally at home in tragedy and high sensational drama—and in Ellaline Terriss he had the ideal leading lady.

The plays that he wrote ranged from musical comedy through fairy plays like "Bluebell In Fairyland," to serious comedy like "The Miracle Man," "Man Of Money" and others.

He also produced many books of reminiscences abounding in stories of great actors and actresses and all imbued with the atmosphere of the brilliant reign of Edward VII.

Bancroft House Falls Flaming To Highway 62

BANCROFT, April 7—(ENS)—Fire early today completely levelled the two-storey farm dwelling of Owen Conlin of L'Amable, situated about five miles south of Bancroft on Highway 62. Damage is set at $3,000, and the loss is partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. Conlin and her 15-year-old daughter Marion who were sleeping downstairs when the fire was discovered, escaped without injury.

After lighting the wood fire in the kitchen early today Mr. Conlin left for the barn to do the chores. The fire, believed caused by overheated pipes, broke out in an upstairs bedroom directly over the kitchen.

Despite the efforts of neighbors only some clothing and furniture in the downstairs portion of the house were saved. There was no firefighting equipment available, and despite the efforts of a bucket brigade the house soon crumbled in flames.

Provincial Constable Douglas Ketcheson of Bancroft was called to direct traffic when part of the burning second storey crashed onto the highway. The house was a five-room frame structure, formerly the property of Dr. Levitt.

As the wind was slight there was little danger of sparks igniting the barn about 150 feet away, and the dozen or so neighbors that gathered concentrated their efforts on salvaging what they could and fighting the flames.

It is believed that the fire got a head start before it was observed as none of the family was upstairs where it broke out.

Main Street Topics

AMAZED PEDESTRIANS

People on George St. about five o'clock Wednesday night were amazed to see a man on the street who seemed to be the giant from Jack and the Beanstock. He stood seven feet, seven inches. He was a member of the Spike Jones' Revue.

DOG KILLED

Early Thursday morning a small brown spaniel puppy was killed by a car at the corner of Charlotte and Water Streets. The dog was pulled to the side of the road and left. Finally someone took the dog away.

THOMPSON FUNERAL CORRECTION

Burial for the late Mrs. Delphine Thompson of 450 Rubidge St., will be held on Friday morning at Trent River Cemetery instead of Trent Valley Cemetery as stated in Wednesday's obituary notice.

METER POSTS LOOSE

Police department has reported 38 parking meter pedestals loose in the pavement. The reference was intended for the City Engineer Chalmers' department. Frost and the weather and occasional bumps by fenders appeared to account for the need of tightening the roots of the meter posts.

HOLD MEETING

Members of the Peterborough Administrative Boxing Council will meet in the committee rooms of the City Buildings Friday night at 7 p.m. Fred Steele, who is succeeding Syl Apps as Ontario Athletic Commissioner, will be present.

IN BAD CONDITION

After the mild winter some of the city streets have become quite bumpy. Three of the worst stretches are Monaghan Rd. below Charlotte, Aylmer St. hill, Park Hill Rd. between Reid St. and Park St., and the Ashburnham South bus route.

6,000 SEAT CENTRE

Kitchener has decided to engage architects to design a 6,000-seat rink and auditorium. Ratepayers voted in 1945 $450,000 for the war memorial project, but booming costs delayed action. The auditorium committee said today it had decided to wait no longer for a decision respecting new armories which, it was expected, might be combined with the memorial.

NO LETTER DELIVERY

Wickets at the Post Office will be open from 8 a.m. until 10 a.m. Good Friday. There will be no letter delivery, but the regular evening collection from the street letter boxes will be made. On Easter Monday letter carriers will do the morning delivery. The wickets will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

CARS COLLIDE

When two cars collided at the Aylmer and Romaine St. intersection Wednesday, the front of a car driven by Layton Green, 517 Glengarry Ave. was damaged and the radiator of a car driven by Frederick McMullen, 364 Grady Ave. was broken and one fender dented. Damage to Mr Green's car included a crumpled fender, and broken headlamp, broken radiator, broken bumper and damaged steering.

AT LIBERAL CONVENTION

Peterborough Liberals attended three conventions in Toronto today and Wednesday. Mr. John Wolff represented the Young Liberals at their provincial convention Wednesday. Mrs. C. M. Scott and Mrs. B. McNeeley were at the meeting of the Ontario Liberal Women, and today A. H. Lewis, P. D. Scollard and A. L. Elliott, K.C. were attending the convention of the major association. Mr. Elliott and Mr. Scollard were members of the committee on resolutions.

Threaten Action If Pools Built On Burnham Street

W. J. Arthur Fair, K.C., has notified the council that court action will be taken against the city to protect the values and the rights of certain Ashburnham citizens if the Lions' Club is given permission to build a swimming pool near the Burnham St. street line.

In a letter to the council, similar in its general tone to one received some weeks ago from T. J. Carley, K.C., Mr. Fair wrote that the residents of the Burnham-Robinson Streets area contend that there is ample room on lower reaches of Riverside for swimming and wading pools.

Mr. Fair gave notice that he was retained by citizens who are seriously concerned about the prospect of a nuisance in their neighborhood during the summer months. "There can surely be no question of the fact that there is plenty of space for a building and pool further to the west and south of the Hunter St. park, in which a location would be safer for children and less objectionable in appearance."

"Always keeping in mind that a swimming pool serves its usefulness two months in the year and then for ten months is an eyesore, it is hardly fair to expect these citizens to have to put up with it when they could enjoy the shade and grass for six months."

"The people are serious in their protest over this present plan of location, and should the city grant such a concession to the Lions' Club, they will have no alternative, but to proceed to secure such relief as may be granted by the Court."

In the discussion of what the council's position was, Mayor Swanston said he was the first president of the Lions' Club in Peterborough and had been a member ever since, but his first duty in the council was to the citizens.

"I took an oath to do a job as far as I can, and I don't care who gets hurt, or if it costs some people something. I want to know where we are and have my eyes open."

Mayor Swanston was referring to the detail of future cost of maintaining the swimming pool. He contended that the council should require from the Club an agreement covering future costs. Personnel and executive of a club could change in a few years, and only the council would be left presumably to assume maintenance expense that was not undertaken by it in the first place.

J. Doug Anderson of the Lions Club wrote that an "aqua show was scheduled for the opening of the pool July 1" and the element of time was now a primary factor.

Already Has Permission

Mr. Anderson affirmed that the Club received written permission from the council last October to build the pool to the south of the softball diamond and immediately west of Burnham St. "We started making plans and gathering materials. The information was published and we had the ground surveyed. There was absolutely no question about the location until some weeks ago, after all the plans were made."

If the location had to be changed "it would be a costly procedure. We are most anxious to start excavating for this project immediately, and want to clarify this point. It is quite definite that the Lions Club will build, supervise and maintain this project with absolutely no expense to the city, and we are prepared to sign such an agreement."

Council directed that an agreement should be drafted by City Solicitor Huycke and P. D. Scollard of the Lions Club particularly providing for future maintenance of the proposed swimming and wading pools.

Revise Budget To $78,000 For 11 Agencies

The Board of Directors of the Red Cross and Community Fund on Wednesday afternoon decided that the recommendation of the budget committee to pay the 11 agencies $74,950 should be revised to $78,000.

Ernest Braund and George Macdonald had previously moved an amendment that the Red Cross receive its full allocation and that the other 10 agencies have their allocations scaled to conform with the budget committee's recommendation of $75,950. Gordon S. Matthews and Mrs. Paige Rowell moved a sub amendment to return the budget to the committee and increase the sum to be distributed among the agencies to $78,000.

The sub-amendment which carried also left the committee to re-allocate the extra $3,050 among the various agencies as it saw fit.

Decrease Reserve by $7,000

William Richardson, chairman of the budget committee, stated that even with the figure at $74,950 it would be necessary to dig into about $4,000 of the reserve fund this year. The recommended increase will probably decrease the reserve by about $7,000.

The declared objective of the Campaign this year was $75,000 and to date $75,580.21 has been collected in cash and subscriptions While this more than meets the declared objective it is about $5,000 short of the amount asked for by the various agencies. And it also is short of what Campaign officials expected.

"I feel we should pay out $80,000 this year, not $74,000," said Mr. Matthews.

Mr. Richardson then explained: "The budget committee did not feel disposed to recommend more money than it was going to get. It is not the job of the committee to draw on reserves, but that is for this executive."

Critical of Action

Both Mrs. Rowell and Mrs. W. E. Fanning were mildly critical of the decision to campaign for $75,000 instead of the required $80,000.

"We should go out for the actual amount we want after it has been approved by the budget committee," said Mrs. Fanning.

"Have we not an obligation to the agencies when we do not go out for the full amount"? asked Mrs. Rowell. She said that it was an important meeting as a policy for later years might be formulated.

"We will have to make a further cut of five per cent if we are to come within the cash receipts and subscriptions for 1949," said Mr. Richardson.

Mrs. Charles Ray of the Red Cross Society then said that the Red Cross could not afford a further cut. Already, she said, it had slashed the budget from $30,000 to $20,000.

Provide for Lean Years

Mr. Macdonald was not in favor of touching the reserves. "I understand we are keeping the surplus to provide for lean years. The question is are we on the verge of lean years or not?"

He seconded an amendment proposed by Mr. Braund that the Red Cross receive $20,000 and that apart from this the budget committee report should be accepted. It was defeated by the sub-amendment.

According to T. A. Mackay, treasurer, the Fund has a reserve consisting of a $3,700 cash carryover from the previous year and $15,000 in bonds.

Before the meeting ended it was decided that with the exception of the Cancer Society and the Navy League each should receive half of it 1948 budget. The payment to the Cancer Society and Navy League was withheld but was to be paid on demand.

Curlers attended the regular meeting and dinner of the Orillia club at night.

Truck And Taxi In Collision

A taxi and a truck had a broadside collision at Charlotte and George Sts. shortly before 8 a.m. today. The front of the truck, driven by Maurice Fraser, on Charlotte St., hit the side of the taxi travelling on George St., which was driven by James Jacobs, 229 King St. After the impact the taxi dragged the truck six feet along the road. The left rear door and front and back fenders of the taxi were crumpled, the side of the grill was broken and the undercarriage was damaged. The right front fender of the truck was crumpled, a headlamp was knocked off and the front bumper was bent.

The accident was investigated by Constables Jack Morrow and Edmison.

Ignoring stop signs and automatic signals appears to be the most common fault among drivers. There were 19 summonses for such offences for which fines and costs ranged from $6.50 to $3.

There were 11 convictions for speeding for which fines and costs ranged from $7.50 to $12.50.

There were five parking offences, three convictions for inadequate lighting, two for driving without brakes and one fine of $2 was imposed for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

Expect Hydro Bill Down $455 In Lindsay

LINDSAY, April 7—Lindsay's 13th hydro bill is expected to $11,600 down $455 from last year, it has been announced.

The reason for the reduction is that the Ontario Commission is carrying on a large-scale expansion program, coupled with the drop in power consumption occasioned by the power cut-offs last fall. The 13th bill is an adjustment to local commissions between a rate set for the purposes of accounting and the true rate determined after the actual cost of power for the year has been determined.

King Of Corn Band, Revue Spray Kernels

Mother's washboard, automobile horns, bells and guns were the material for the funniest, noisiest vaudeville show to come to Peterborough in years. Spike Jones, the "King of Corn," was at the Summer Gardens Wednesday night with his "Musical Depreciation Revue."

At the front of the band was Spike's collection of odds and ends. In the pile there were washboards, horns, bells of all sizes (all tuned), guns, whistles, toilet seats and practically everything else which could be used to make noise. The orchestra were in the second row, 12 in all. They wore pink, green, yellow and orange suits. Spike had a red suit with a blue stripe. In the back row were the comedians with broken horns and vividly colored suits.

George Rock, "All I want for Christmas is my Two Front Teeth" man, was given a boisterous ovation by the 2600 people. Dr. Horatio Q. Birdbath, Sir Charles Gas, Bill King and Doodles Weaver were other shockers who rocked the audience. Mr. King, a juggler, put on his famous flaming torch, juggling 12 burning torches.

Began as Hobby

In an interview with Spike an Examiner reporter discovered the idea of using washboards and other utensils started as a hobby with Spike. He said the various "instruments" were collected in cities on their tours and by fans sending them to him. The ideas for the songs are got when five or six members of the band have what Spike Jones calls "a thinking session." For the weekly program they have their own writers.

Spike explained his nickname saying his father was a station agent for the Southern Pacific Drummer Jones with the clicking rails and beating drumsticks soon became nicknamed "Spike."

His first success was the song "Der Fuehrer's Face" in 1942. Since then his band have made thirty records. The best seller for the band is "Cocktails for Two." "Redwing" was the first record cut by hand. Best of the future releases, according to Spike's taste, is "Dance of the Hours" and the "Fourth of July Polka."

Likes Others' Music Too

Sitting at home in California, Spike likes to listen to the music of Duke Ellington, Percy Faith, Ray Noble and John Scott Trotter. In his climb to fame he has played the drums for Victor Young, Dave Rubinoff and John Scott Trotter.

A drummer, Spike's first set of drums was a Christmas gift from his mother and dad. He played in the grammar school orchestra and a local dance band. He then jumped after having several small bands of his own to the Ray Best orchestra, then to Rube Wolf and Victor Young.

After talking for 15 minutes Spike took a deep breath, looked at his watch and sighed. It was 25 minutes before another show. He played in Ottawa to 10,000 "music lovers" and in Montreal, Monday night, to 12,000. Thursday night he is in Toronto with his show. Friday night, Hamilton and Saturday in Boston for his weekly program.

Although this was his first trip to Peterborough, he has been in Canada before—to Calgary, Vancouver, Toronto, Montreal.

On the question, Are Canadians music lovers? Spike replied:

"Sure they are. They have to be to understand our music and they seem to be doing just that."

Frank Lawless Laid To Rest

The funeral of Frank Lawless from the family residence, 597 Douglas Ave., Wednesday afternoon, was attended by a large number of friends. The service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Pallbearers were U. E. Waterman, Jack Armitage, Russell Reid, Edward J. Collins, sons-in-law, A. J. Acnott, brother-in-law, and Walter Hughes who was long associated with Mr. Lawless in armature department of Canadian General Electric Company.

Mr. Lawless had been a resident of Peterborough 51 years and was a valued and skilled employee of CGE Co. 47 years.

His old department and the Quarter Century Club were represented at the funeral and in the wealth of floral beauty that was a testimony of his friendships and place in the community. One of the flower designs was a remembrance of small boys of the Douglas Ave.-Monaghan Road neighborhood. Among the CGE representatives at the funeral were Mr. Ian F. McRae and Mr. J. E. Girven.

Mr. Lawless had resided all his years in Peterborough within an area adjacent to his late home. He had retired from active work a few years ago. His interests outside his work and his home were in the outdoors, and especially at this time of the year approaching the trout fishing season.

Friends present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jeffries, St. Catharines, James Arnott, Port Credit, Mrs. E. A. Armitage, Toronto. Interment was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Personnel Work Aid To Industry, Its Employees

The importance which personnel work can play in bringing about better relations between employers and employees in industry was discussed by Harold L. Armstrong, president of the Toronto Personnel Association and personnel director of the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., Toronto, in an address he delivered Wednesday night. Mr. Armstrong was speaking to the newly organized Personnel Association of Peterborough at a banquet in the Empress Hotel. Greater part of his address was devoted to advising the Peterborough group on proper methods of organization and future programs.

The speaker was introduced by Robert Hardie, of the personnel department of the local CGE plant, and a vote of thanks was moved by Stewart James, of the Quaker Oats Company. Others seated at the head table were: George Barns, of Canada Packers, president, who presided; and, Al Thompson of A. Wander, Ltd., secretary.

Mr. Hardie in his introduction of the speaker referred to Mr. Armstrong's long experience in personnel work and his lengthy connection with the Toronto Personnel Association, in which he is a charter member. Mr. Armstrong conducted a question and answer period following his address during which he gave the local personnel men much valuable information.

Among those from out of town present were F. K. McMahon and W. R. Hoffman, of Port Hope. Mr. McMahon, of the Matthews Convevor Company, is a director of the Peterborough Personnel Association.

Mr. Armstrong visited several industrial plants in the Peterborough area during the afternoon and expressed his appreciation of the many courtesies extended to him on the tour.

Reg. Reid, of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co., vice-president of the Association, has been appointed chairman of the program committee. His committee is lining up some interesting programs for future meetings, announcement on which will be made at a later date.

PIG No. 311, a 4-month-old shoat weighing 50 pounds when it was found swimming in radioactive waters of Bikini Lagoon after the first atomic bomb blast in 1946, is now a 600-pounder bound for National Zoological Park in Washington, The zoo requested the porker when it learned that the Naval Medical Research Institute at Bethesda, Md., had concluded its scientific observation of her. Her only claim to abnormality has been her failure to bear offsprings, but radio-biologists say that is not necessarily caused by irradiation. The little pig shown here with her is a grandchild of another surviving pig, but no relation to No. 311, the last surviving Bikini pig.

Voters To Decide Negroes' Rights In Restaurants

DRESDEN, Ont., April 7 (CP) —Should restaurant proprietors be compelled to serve all patrons regardless of race, creed or color?

Electors in this small Kent County town, 12 miles north of Chatham, will vote on the question April 19. The 300 negro residents among the population of 2,000 are pressing the issue because, they claim, three of Dresden's five cafes discriminate against negroes.

Mayor Walter S. Weese said on Wednesday the referendum "may settle nothing."

"Even with an affirmative vote," he said, "I doubt if a by-law could legally be passed compelling a restaurant owner to serve a man, woman or child he does not wish for a customer."

Leader in the campaign against discrimination is William Joseph Carter, who lives with his wife and four children in one of the most modern farms and homes in the Dresden district.

Citing several alleged cases of discrimination, Carter said his wife recently went to a Dresden hairdresser, but was refused an appointment when another customer in the shop said: "She's colored."

Backing Carter's claims, Councillor W. M. Fry said the land for a park in Dresden was donated many years ago by a negro.

"And he did not stipulate that white children should not be allowed to play in it."

Fire Toll Now 74

Bodies of seven others remained unclaimed and five others listed as missing are believed buried in the wreckage.

Check On Leaflets

OTTAWA, April 7 (CP) — RCMP officers Wednesday were sparked into action by a board of trade declaration that Communist agents were using Ottawa children to disseminate leaflets terming the North Atlantic Treaty a "suicide pact." A spokesman for the RCMP said the leaflets which have been discovered in government offices, mail boxes and in parcels purchased from a downtown store were "definitely subversive."

Alcoholics Anonymous Plans To Mark First Anniversary In Peterborough

Alcoholics Anonymous is this week celebrating its first anniversary in Peterborough and has planned a rally in the PCVS auditorium on Sunday evening to which the public is invited.

The work of this organization is confined to those who are afflicted with alcoholism. But with alcoholism becoming a greater social problem, the Peterborough branch feels that its duty is to give the public at large, alcoholics as well as non-alcoholics, an opportunity to come and learn the methods of recovery used.

"Medicine science and religion have not been successful in finding a permanent remedy. Penal institutions have failed. Men and women often imprisoned for three to six months are released at the end of their terms, only to be arrested a day or two later for the same offence of drunkness. Why then, have approximately 100,000 men and women in Canada and the United States found contented sobriety through Alcoholics Anonymous? What causes it to be so effective? What is it based on? These and many other questions will be answered on Sunday night," the branch announces.

The speaker will be Dr. George of Toronto and other workers of several years standing in A. A will accompany him. Dr. George is the man who brought the message of Alcoholics Anonymous o Canada seven years ago.

Alcoholics Anonymous is not affiliated with and sect, creed or denomination of offers any views on any controversial matter such as politics, religion or alcohol reform. It stands ready to help any and all who suffer from alcoholism if they so desire its assistance.

Preheat oven 450°F. Use a 9-inch pie pan and only standard level measurements. Sift 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour and ½ tsp. salt in a bowl. Cut ⅓ cup Swift'ning into flour with pastry blender or 2 knives until particles are size of small peas. Sprinkle cold water, a little at a time, over different parts of flour mixture, tossing lightly with a fork. ☛ Use as little water as possible—just enough to make dough hold together (3 tbsp. or less!) Place dough on waxed paper. Press gently with the paper into a ball. Let stand at room temperature for a few minutes.

☛ Cover board with pastry canvas and rolling pin with knitted cover, both lightly floured. Roll dough in circle, ⅛" thick. Use light strokes, work from center out. Lift rolling pin as it nears edge. Invert pie pan on dough, cut dough 1¼" beyond edge of pan. Fold dough in half; lay fold in center of pan; unfold. ☛ Fit pastry in pan, pressing with finger-tips from center out to remove air bubbles. Prick with fork in several places. To form standing rim, double under the pastry extending over edge of pan. Flute with fingers. Cut 10 leaves from remaining crust. Bake until light brown, allowing 12 to 15 minutes for pie, about 5 minutes for leaves.

LEMON FILLING

Soak 2 tsps. unflavoured gelatin in ⅓ cup cold water about 5 min. Put 3 slightly beaten egg yolks, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup lemon juice, ¼ tsp. salt in a double boiler. Cook over boiling water until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add gelatin, stir until dissolved. Add 1 tbsp. grated lemon rind, remove from heat, chill until beginning to set. Beat 3 egg whites until fairly stiff; gradually add ½ cup sugar, beating constantly. Fold into cooled gelatin mix. Pour into cooled pie shell; chill till set. Trim with prepared strawberry halves or other fruit, and the pastry leaves sprinkled with green-colored sugar.

Digestible—nutritious too!

Chapter News

MAJOR BENNETT CHAPTER

Miss Joyce Alexander, regent, presided for the meeting of Major Bennett Chapter, IODE, held in the YMCA club rooms Tuesday evening. She introduced the guest speaker Miss Greta Giles who gave most interesting book reviews.

Miss Giles brought to attention of members the wide variety of reading material available in Canada in comparison with the American and British markets. The books she reviewed were "Lucinda Breyford" by Martin Boyd, a novel of Australian and English life in the 18th century; "Southern Cross" by Bridget Knight which has its setting in South Africa, and "Because of the Lockwoods", an English novel by Dorothy Whipple. She chose these particular books because they portrayed the living conditions and people in different parts of the vast Empire.

Miss Joan Rahmel, convener of the rummage sale, asked for assistants to be at the sale in Bert Austin's former store on April 22. Members agreed to buy infants' vests, towels and washclothes to send to Queen Elizabeth Hospital for Children in London, England.

JEANETTE SCOTT CHAPTER

Members of the Jeanette Scott Chapter, IODE, were entertained by Mrs. F. E. Hooper, honorary regent, at her home for the regular meeting, held Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Les Welsh, Empire study convener, gave an interesting talk on Newfoundland, tenth province of Canada. Mrs. Ken Robertson read a letter from provincial post-war convener requesting garments for children in Queen Elizabeth Hospital, England, and Royal Hospital for Children in Scotland. The Chapter agreed to comply with this request.

Excellent reports of the recent fashion show were brought forth by conveners, Mrs. R. McWilliams, Mrs. J. Comstock, Mrs. G. Bailey and Miss Margaret McCulloch. Presented by Miss McCulloch they proved the project had been a successful affair financially.

Financial support was voted for one of the local students from funds established through the fashion show.

Mrs. Ross Matthews was appointed to be in charge of a rummage sale in the near future.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Hooper for her hospitality was moved by Miss McCulloch.

Rhythm Band is Attraction At Prince of Wales Tea

That capricious little man who governs the weather exercised his traditional April whims all day Wednesday, but even with what dampness, chill and wind he could muster, he failed completely to spoil an afternoon tea at Prince of Wales School.

Members of the Home and School Assocation had sold more than 300 tickets and most of the holders came for tea, filling the spacious kindergarten room to capacity so that many guests had to line up in the hallway.

An unusual number of children were noted in the crowd and at four o'clock the feature attraction for which they waited appeared. Fifteen younger students, dressed in natty red pillbox hats and capes of navy lined with red, each carrying a type of noise-making instrument, marched onto the platform. At a signal from their leader Barry Hall, the Rhythm Band which won first place in the Kiwanis Festival and approving comment from the adjudicator, commenced to play. Their teacher, Miss Mary Falkner, was at the piano.

Mrs. [illegible] Kearns was in charge of the tearoom where a charmingly arranged table, in central position, was the highlight. A tall bouquet of pink snapdragon, red tulips and daffodils was arranged in a fluted crystal dish which stood on a glass reflector that was edged with frills of green and pink, and these colors were repeated in the candles that were in fancy holders. The lace-edged white linen cloth was beautifully embroidered.

Wives of the men teachers, Mrs. P. D. Windrim, Mrs. Harvie and Mrs H. G. Curry, poured the tea. Lady teachers assisting to serve were Miss F. Bonnycastle, Mrs. G. Samson, Miss V. Burgess, Miss C. Bailey, Miss M. Oliver, Miss D. Shannon, Miss A. Hunter and Miss M. Mutton.

Association members serving were Mrs. J. Morley, Mrs. J. C. Barry, Mrs. G. Hill, Mrs. H. Todd, Mrs. J. Morton, Mrs. H. Waddell and Mrs. L. Smith. The plates were replenished by Mrs. A. Smith and Mrs. J. James.

Mrs. F. C. Gray, president, was inviting guests into the tea room and to visit the bazaar tables, and Mrs. Baggs, vice president, assisted. Mrs. A. Hall was at the treasurer's table.

Two tables were filled with a display of home cooking for the opening but as usual the supply was quickly exhausted. Mrs. J. Goodson and Mrs. C. Gilders made the sales. More than 70 bags of candy were quickly sold at the candy counter, and the demand for "marshmallow bunnies" could not be met. Mrs. J. Donaldson and Mrs. R. Marston were in charge

Mrs Len Hollingsworth attended a table of fancy print aprons and fancy articles of handwork were displayed on tables where Mrs. N. L. Brier, Mrs. C. M. Godfrey and Mrs. W. Amos were in charge.

If Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Self Styled Wise Batchelor Sees Nothing In Marriage

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What does a man get out of marriage? It is easy to see what a woman gets out of it. She gets her living. Her husband is her meal ticket. Taking it by and large, marriage is the best vocation a woman can follow, and the one in which she can get by with the least talent and with the smallest expenditure of effort.

Dorothy Dix

But what does a man get out of marriage that gives him a run for his money? He loses his freedom. His wife takes possesion of his pocketbook and thereafter he is nothing but a bill-payer, slaving for landlords and grocers and milliners and beauty shops. His bride's cooking gives him dyspepsia, and he spends the balance of his life walking on eggs to avoid tramping on her pet prejudices and opinions. So I say, what does a man get out of marriage?

A WISE BACHELOR

ANSWER: Well, marriage—the right sort of marriage, at least—gives a man love. Not the light love that can be bought in the market place, nor the love that depends upon youth and gaiety and physical beauty, but the long-enduring love of a wife that binds a woman to her mate through all the vicissitudes of life.

No man know what love is who has not had a wife's love, who has not known that there was a woman who would always see him as a young godling, no matter how old and fat and bald he got, and who has not known that there was one woman who would never judge him, but to whom he would always be right, no matter what he did.

Man Gets Home

A man gets a home by marriage. The bachelor may have every comfort that the expert service of a fine club or hotel can give. But a home is a thing of the spirit as well as the flesh, and the humble cottage, in which a woman waits with outstretched arms to welcome her man back of an evening, is more of a home than a palace where nobody cares whether a man ever comes back or not.

Marriage gives a man children. Listen to the fathers brag about their sons' achievements at school. Look at the fathers gloating over their pretty young daughters. They are ten years younger and a thousand times happier than the old bachelors who have no one to carry on their names, or do the things that they failed to do.

There is no one so lonely as the bachelor who has nobody to bear him company in his old age.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a problem that has been on my mind for a long time and that worries me a lot. It is this: Every time my husband's birthday rolls around his sister gives him a birthday present, but she doesn't give me one. I don't give her a present either, but it makes me mad because she shouldn't give a present to my husband when she doesn't give one to me.

This causes a lot of hard feeling and quarrels. What do you think of this problem?

PUZZLED

ANSWER: If you and your husband had the same birthday, it would, of course, be obligatory for your sister-in-law to send presents to both of you, but such is not the case. The same rule of returning a gift would apply if both your family and your husband's family had the custom of celebrating birthdays.

But inasmuch as you state that you and your husband never make presents, you haven't any good excuse of griping about your sister-in-law not sending you a birthday gift. Evidently you are a trouble-borrower, one of the women who can find the crumpled rose leaf under her 40 mattresses of ease.

DEAR MISS DIX: Please tell me how to cope with a husband who on one day professes his love for me and on the next tells me that he hates me. I am a good cook and housekeeper and do everything to please him, but in the 25 years I have been married to him I have never been able to do it.

What would you advise me to do?

A FAITHFUL WIFE

ANSWER: If you have stood that sort of domestic martyrdom for a quarter of a century, I should think you would be so hardened to it that you wouldn't know his good spells from his bad spells.

My suggestion to you is to keep your bag packed and, whenever he gets on one of his hate sprees, to leave home until he cheers up

FERGUSON—In loving memory of a dear husband, Lewis Milton Ferguson, who passed away April 7, 1944.

And day by day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone.
—Ever remembered by his wife Annie.

MEEHAN—Norman Carl Meehan who passed away April 7th, 1940.

In silence they suffered, in patience they bore,
Till God called them home to suffer no more.

MAP SHOWS FIVE DELICATE AREAS OF CONTACT between the East and West where Western diplomats are awaiting the next move in Soviet strategy. Musclow Couple Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

BELLEVILLE, April 7—Forty-eight summer suns and winter storms have come and gone since Jesse B. Carr, eighty-one-year-old farmer of Musclow, Monteagle township, Hastings county, took his family to that northern township to make their home.

Hale and hearty, Mr. and Mrs. Carr celebrated on Tuesday their golden wedding anniversary with memories of a full life well and truly lived and with expectations of many more years of marital content in their farm home.

Time has left little mark on this sturdy resident of the north. A farmer for nearly a half century he still runs his three hundred-acre property with a son Murray. Mrs. Carr, as energetic as she was two score years ago, is active and mentally alert. Seventy-three years of age, she has been named a delegate to the Progressive Conservative Convention to be held in Toronto shortly.

Married In Belleville

The Carrs were married in Christ Church, Belleville, fifty-years ago Tuesday by the Rev. C. J. H. Hutton. He worked for the late T. S. Carmen for a number of years, then decided to farm and secured his present property in Monteagle township.

Ten sons and five daughters were born to the union. Three of the boys and one daughter have since passed away. Remaining are seven boys: Ray of Barrie, William, Maynooth; Charles, Toronto; Jesse, Musclow; Murray at home; Dan, Peterborough; and Albert of Whitby. The daughters are Mrs. Thomas Howard, Demorestville; Mrs. Harold Norton, Picton; Mrs. Ralph Ensley, Picton, and Mrs. Garfield Musclow, Musclow.

Rounding out the immediate family are 32 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Carr was born in Thwaite, Norfolk, England, and came to Canada when he was five years of age settling with his parents in Sidney township. Mrs. Carr, the former Annie May Schryver, was born in West Huntingdon.

Despite his heavy daily and yearly routine of life on the farm, Mr. Carr found plenty of time to engage in municipal, political and community life.

A staunch Conservative all his life ("I cast my first vote for Sir John A. Macdonald, and have never missed a vote since") he was president for five years of the Monteagle and Hershel Progressive Conservative Association. He was a director of the Agricultural Society of his district for 40 years and for a decade was a member of the Monteagle Township Council. Prior to that he was the township assessor.

He was employed with the Ontario Forestry Department for a period of thirteen years.

"I well remember that," he smiled. "When the government changed the Grits had me out of office in 24 hours."

Member Of Church

A devoted member of the United Church, Mr. Carr was superintendent of the local Sunday School for 33 years.

He does not smoke nor drink—and never has. He is a staunch believer in clean living and hard wholesome work. "It never hurt anybody," he claims. He uses eyeglasses for reading and writing only.

Except for a slight stroke in 1940 from which is is entirely recovered, Mr. Carr has never known serious illness.

After the celebration Mr. and Mrs. Carr left for Prince Edward county where they are guests of relatives.

WOMEN PAY BIG PRICE FOR POOR "BLOOD MAKE UP"

You women who feel and look "washed out"—limp and droopy—may be paying the price of hemoglobin shortage in the blood.

Nature's regular monthly demands on a woman's system often tend to bring about this shortage of the vital red coloring matter in the red blood cells. Try Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

They help increase hemoglobin where there is a shortage of it due to iron deficiency and help chase away that "leaden" feeling of tiredness so often due to this condition. Start your course of Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. Ask your druggist.

Controls Drop In Britain Austerity Wanes

LONDON, April 7(CP)—April promises to be Britain's brightest month since pre-war days.

Conditions have improved vastly during the last year. Controls are crashing down on all sides. Men and women are better dressed and stores are better stocked.

And—the lights of London and other large cities and towns are blazing again.

Ten thousand electric street lights went on in London April 2. Flood-lit store fronts beckoned to people who had walked darkened streets for years.

Rail fares will be lowered this spring and there will be more train excursions to summer resorts.

Licences and quotas, permits and priorities, all dreaded words to private industry, have been stripped off more than 100 items.

After April 24, children will be able to buy as much candy as they want for the first time since July, 1942.

For the next three months milk will be off ration. Instead of 2½ pints a week, Britons will have all they want.

More Eggs

Eggs are no longer golden nuggets. Sometimes—if you're lucky—you now can buy as many as five in one week. Fresh vegetables are plentiful and fairly cheap.

Such cheeses as Camembert and imported cream cheese are off the point system and you can buy unsweetened biscuits to go with them.

The meat ration is down to 8d (about 14 cents) of fresh meat a week, but it looks as though Britons would rather be angry about it than have what scientists call adequate protein intake. A newspaper poll showed opinion to be 30 to 1, in favor of holding out against paying Argentina more money.

These improvements have considerable significance. Already the Conservatives claim Labor is easing up in preparation for the next general election, expected in 1950.

Another Conservative convention is that none of the improvements would have been possible without Marshall-Plan aid.

Nobody put it quite as fiendishly as David Low, the Evening tured a United States Senate pointing in frozen horror at a group of Brtish parliamentarians whose most conspicuous feature was a set of false teeth provided free under the National Health Service.

"Look at them!" the Senator says. "Gnashing their teeth at us!"

Many Prices Down

ST. JOHN'S, April 7 (CP) — Newfoundland's first week as a Province of Canada is being marked by reduced prices in articles ranging from bologna to cosmetics. There were price jumps, however, in tobacco and cigarets, approximately 10 cents a package.

Tired Out At End Of Day Just Wanted To Sit Down

"Felt As If I Had No Energy Left," Says This Man. Was Nervous, Dizzy; Digestion Poor. Says Syntona Built Him Up. "Feel Fine Now."

Mr. Earl Ryan

"During the last six months I felt so rundown and tired all the time it just seemed I had no energy left,' said Mr. Earl Ryan, 181 Glasgow Avenue, Hamilton, Ontario, in a recent report.

"When I got through with my day's work I just wanted to sit in a chair until bedtime. My nerves were on edge, I couldn't get my proper sleep, and I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells. More recently I began to have a sore backache and pains in my limbs, joints and muscles. I was troubled with sour stomach, heartburn and constipation.

"I tried different things I heard of, but nothing seemed to be helping me, so a few weeks ago I got some Syntona and to my surprise the pains went away in only a very short time. I continued taking it and now my food digests without giving any trouble, headaches, nervousness and dizzy feelings are gone and I sleep better than I did in years.

"Now I do not get tired as I did before and I want to recommend Syntona to other who suffer this way, for I know it is a really good medicine."

Syntona is made from 12 of nature's finest herbs and roots. It acts on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowes, aids in elimination of excess acids and impurities from the system and promotes better assimilation of food for increased strength and energy.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. Find out how it can help you, too. (Advt.)

Labor Party Loses Control Of London County Council For First Time Since 1935

Liberal In Driver's Seat For Three Years As Conservatives, Labor Tied; Believe Severe Budget Influenced Voting

LONDON, April 8—(CP).—The Labor Party lost control of the London County Council today for the first time since 1935. The Council is the most important governing body in Britain next to Parliament. The Conservatives, with striking gains in the Council elections, swept into a tie in the Council, which governs London, leaving the balance of power in the hands of the lone third party representative elected, a member of the Liberal Party.

Final returns from Thursday's voting gave the Conservatives and Labor 64 seats each. This left Sir Percy Harris, the Liberal, in the driver's seat for the next three years.

In the old council Labor had held 90 seats to 30 for the Conservatives. The Liberals and Communists had two each. Five additional seats had been created since the last election.

The ballotting came one day after the announcement of the new national budget by the Labor government, decreeing another lean year for Britons.

Budget Influence

One defeated Labor council man, G. F. Rowe, said 10 per cent of the voters he canvassed Thursday night had turned away from the Labor party because of the high tax budget.

The London County Council administers the 28 boroughs of the city. It is the main central authority, with powers regarding public health, housing, bridges, ferries, streets, parks and the like.

Neighboring suburbs also have switched to the Tories in the elections of the last few days. The elections have no bearing on parliament, but were eagerly awaited as indications of popular feeling and a curtain raiser for the national elections of 1950.

The Communists were wiped out in London, as they had been in other areas.

The Conservatives also won a smashing victory in Middlesex county, which went to Labor by a scant majority three years ago. The Conservatives took 90 seats, Labor 23, and Independents, four. In Berkshire the Conservatives picked up five seats from Labor, in Worcestershire, three.

Railroad Fares Coach-Class Up 15 Per Cent

MONTREAL, April 8 (CP)—A 15-per-cent increase in coach-class fares on Canadian railroads will become effective Sunday, the Canadian Passenger Association announced today. The increase will not affect first-class fares on which the association also is seeking a 15-per-cent increase.

A spokesman for the association, representing all the country's railways, said the increase will become effective without the necessity of approval by the transport board.

He said the standard railway fare in most parts of Canada, as approved by the transport board, is 3.45 cents a mile. For some years the railways have maintained a differential between the standard and coach-class fare which up to now has been three cents. Now they were bringing the coach fare up to the original scale and for the time being the same fare for coach and first-class travel will prevail.

The board has not yet announced a decision on the association's March 24 application for the first-class fare increase.

The increase effective Sunday will not affect coach fares to United States points but negotiations with U.S. railway authorities now are under way on this matter.

The fare increase is equivalent to the tax on transportation tickets repealed by the federal budget last March 22.

Shooting Case Reviewed At Trial

BELLEVILLE, April 8—(CP)—Inspector W. J. Franks of the Ontario Provincial Police Criminal Investigation branch, testified before a royal commission today about his investigation into the death of Jean Badgley of Frankford, in December, 1947.

The death is one of the cases in which Constable J. E. Keays alleges there has been interference in police investigations by B. C. Donnan, Hastings county crown attorney.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

The inspector said Constable Keays told him of a fingerprint taken from the stock of a .22 calibre rifle. He said the con-

Army Units Claim Upper Hand In Revolt

GUATEMALA CITY, April 8—(AP)—Army units fighting to quell Guatemala's 19th revolution in four years claimed the upper hand again today.

The Mexican and Guatemalan governments said the border has been closed, Mexico proclaiming strict neutrality. The objective was to hem in the rebels, and prevent others from coming into Guatemala. The rebels were accused of plotting to depose president Juan Jose Arvalo.

(In Mexico City a manifesto signed by Col. Jose Ignacio Aguilar was circulated quietly among Guatemala citizens giving them 20 days to cross the border and join the revolt in order to be "saved and respected." The manifesto challenged the legality of Arevalo's election on grounds he is "an Argentine citizen although of Guatemalan origin.")

Mother Arraigned On Charge Of Murder

RIMOUSKI, Que., April 8—(CP)—Mrs. Elise Plante Dube of Matane Sur'mer, held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury for the shotgun death of her 18-year-old daughter, was arraigned here today on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Dube, who said at the coroner's inquest that the shooting of her daughter, Irene Dube, Tuesday night was an accident, appeared before Judge Amedee Caron. Judge Caron fixed preliminary hearing for April 12.

Dies Suddenly

Mr. Morris A. Wesley, 536 Gilmour St., died suddenly at his home this morning. He had recently been in hospital and had been able to return to his home.

Accidental Death

LINDSAY, April 8—(CP).—A coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Henry Edwards, at Haliburton, found that the 48-year-old Apsley lumberman was accidentally killed by a jammer pole falling back and crushing him against the fuel tank of the bulldozer he was operating. Cause of death was due to severing of the spinal cord at the top of the neck.

Porter Stands As Candidate For Leadership

TORONTO, April 8 (CP)—Education Minister Porter announced today he will be a candidate for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ontario.

The Ontario Progressive-Conservatives convention meets here April 25-26-27 to choose a leader to succeed Premier Kennedy who has indicated he will not be a candidate. Only other candidates to declare themselves are Attorney-General Blackwell and Kelso Roberts, a Toronto lawyer and former Progressive Conservative member of the legislature.

Mr. Porter said today in a prepared statement that "several of those who have played a prominent part in the government for the last six years will be expected to stand."

"I have been urged by many of my friends to do so. I have therefore decided to allow my name to be put before the convention."

Feels Confident

"In view of the persistence of those who wish to support me I am entering this contest with confidence. There are strong reasons for the election of a young man to this high office. We shall need youth and vigor and a breadth of vision, not only as to the affairs of the party organization itself, but also as to the general issues arising in a changing world."

The 48-year-old education minister is a graduate of the University of Toronto and was called to the Ontario bar in 1926. First elected to the legislature in 1943 to represent Toronto St. George, he acted as parliamentary assistant to former Premier George Drew in the 1944 session and served as planning minister from May 1944 to October 1948 when he was appointed education minister.

Government Silent On Election Question

OTTAWA, April 8 — (CP). — The Governemnt sat tight-lipped Thursday under pressure for an answer to the $64 question—Is the parliamentary session going to run its natural course or will it be dissolved early for an election.

Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) put the question after Health Minister Martin, at a stage where debate on old-age pensions was cut off temporarily, observed that all members would have a chance to talk on the subject during the budget debate.

Mr. Fleming immediately asked if that was a firm undertaking that the budget debate would go on until every member had had a chance to speak, as is customary. He put the question three times, at different points in the passage of an Appropriation Bill.

Police Use Guns, Hoses Against Men

SIU Crews Rushed Aboard Ships; Eight Seamen Injured

HALIFAX, April 8 (CP)—More than 500 rival Seamen's Union men and Canadian National Railways police early today fought a pitched battle on the waterfront. Striking Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) spokesmen charged their rivals of the Seafarers International Union (AFL) and a police escort used buckshot-spraying riot guns and axe handles to take a toll of at least eight injured.

Broken heads and wounded bodies resulted when the SIU crews, flanked by a heavy escort of Canadian National Railways police, charged thin early-morning CSU picket lines to board three strike-bound Canadian National ships.

Once aboard, the new crews, under a barrage of paving stones and other missiles, helped police in playing fire hoses on the CSU pickets, now aided by a mass of reinforcements.

After three hours of this sort of battle royal, cables were cut and the ships moved into the stream. They now are at anchor and there has been no announcement as to the next move.

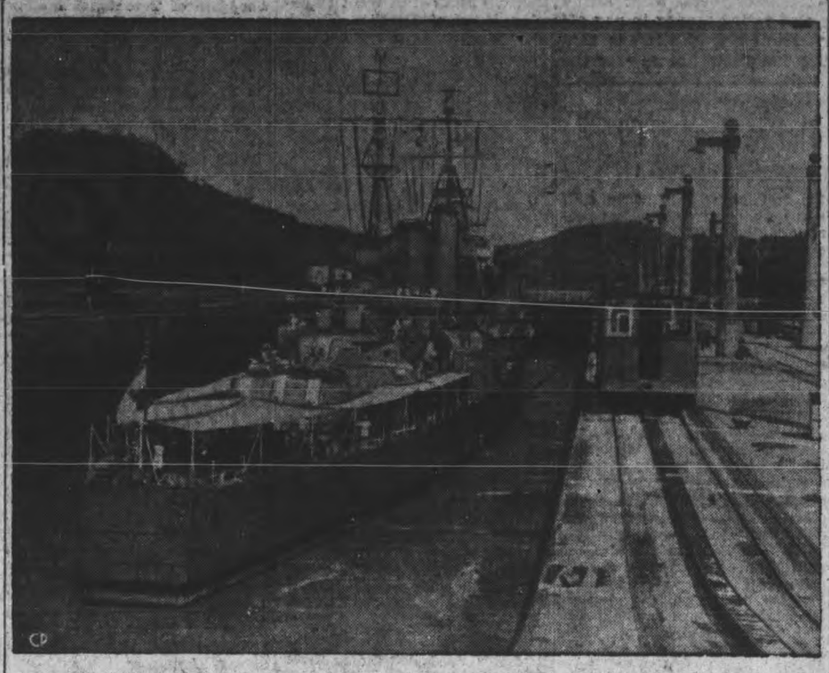
Capture Hoses

When the police retired to the ships they continued to use deck hoses on the howling, rock-throwing pickets, but the pickets captured the shore fire hoses and played them back on the departing ships and their new crews.

A Canadian National officer denied that railway police had used firearms. "Our police did not use firearms of any description," he declared. "There was no shooting from company police who were on hand merely to see that company property was protected."

This was the only statement made by the company and up to shortly before noon no statement could be obtained from SIU sources.

A Canadian Press reporter was attempting to reach the side of the anchored ships in a water taxi. Most watermen, however, refused to approach the vicinity of the ships, saying that already one boat had been fired on by a crew member. They assumed the crew member thought the boat was trying to approach with CSU members.



Eight Injured

Eight seamen suffering wounds of the "face, stomach and bodies" were admitted to the emergency ward of one hospital. One was brought in on a stretcher. A hospital spokesman said only three of the eight brought to the hospital would remain for further treatment. Meanwhile he declared that an investigation of what had caused the wounds suffered by the men was still underway but he could say they were not caused by salt. He would not elaborate.

Labor Minister Mitchell said in the Commons Tuesday that the International Longshoremen's Association, affiliated with the AFL as is the SIU, had put pressure on the ship owners to sign the SIU and replace the "Communist-led" CSU.

No statement had been issued by SIU spokesmen or police and the story of the ship boarding by

Eight Countries Ask U.S. Aid For Rearming

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Eight European members of the North Atlantic Alliance urgently appealed to the United States today for help in rearming. They were told in an official reply that a military aid program is being prepared for presentation to Congress.

The requests came from the five Brussels-treaty countries acting as a group—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—and from Italy, Denmark, and Norway.

In each case, the European allies said substantially the same thing—that none of the countries acting alone can provide an adequate armament for its own defence and for its part in the Atlantic defence system.

The State Department replied to this appeal:

"The Executive Branch of the United States Government is prepared to recommend to the United States Congress that the United States provide military assistance to (name of country asking help) in order to assist it to meet the material requirements of its defence program.

"It will be requested of the Congress that such assistance be in the form of military equipment from the United States required by (that country's) defence program at the provision of some financial assistance for increased military production on (the country's) part required by its defence program. Such assistance would be extended in recognition of the principle of self-help and mutual aid contained in the Atlantic Pact."

Lay Down Principle

The five Brussels-treaty countries laid down this four-point statement of principle in their note:

"A. The armed forces of the European participating countries should be developed on a co-ordinated basis in order that in the event of aggression they can operate in accordance with a common strategic plan.

76 Vessels Lined Up As Ship Finally Freed

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 8—(CP) — The freighter Benson Ford, aground in the downbound vessel channel in the lower St. Mary's River since early Thursday, was freed today.

This opened the channel for shipping which has been held up since the vessel went aground and blocked traffic. Seventy-six vessels which were held up—16 below the Sault locks and 60 above—resumed their journeys to lower lake ports.

The United States coast guard's big ice-breaking cutter, Mackinaw, went to the aid of the Benson Ford today.

Find Carr Guilty Forging Passport

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—An 11-man jury today found Sam Carr guilty of conspiring to utter a forged passport for a Russian agent.

Judge A. G. McDougall adjourned the court until 2:30 p.m. without sentencing Carr. He did so to allow the defence counsel, Joseph Sedgwick, to appear and make an appeal on behalf of his client. Mr. Sedgwick was not in court this morning.

The jury deliberated an hour and-a-half before returning with its verdict of guilty. Carr appeared to take the decision calmly and without any outward reaction.

Expect Russian Veto To Bar Korea From UN

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 8—(CP)—Russia was expected to use the veto today for the 30th time to bar the Republic of Korea from United Nations membership.

Jakob A. Malik, permanent Soviet delegate to the U.N. was expected to cast the veto. Russia's top deputy foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, heads the Soviet delegation to the general assembly; but Malik is considered likely to continue his security-council duties.

Army Control In Germany Nearing End

Plan To Make Switch Just As Soon As Republic Set Up

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France announced today they are ready to end military control over western Germany as soon as a proposed "German Federal Republic" is set up.

Occupation forces would remain in Germany under top civilian control.

A joint communique said "complete agreement" on "the whole range" of outstanding German issues was reached in conferences here among the foreign ministers of the three powers—State Secretary Acheson, Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain, and Foreign Minister Schuman of France.

Harden Differences

The pronouncement appeared certain to harden further the differences between the three powers, on the one hand, and Russia, on the other, over Germany's future. Diplomatic authorities here anticipate it will touch off fresh propaganda blasts from Russia.

With the establishment of the German Republic, the communique said, the military governors in Germany will be replaced by High Commissioners and military commanders will remain only to head the occupation forces.

The high commissioners "will be the Supreme Allied Agency of Control."

The final meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers was held at Acheson's office this morning. They confirmed the agreement already worked out in conferences here Wednesday and Thursday.

The German agreement cleared the boards of the last really major split among the western powers.

Find Reporting Just Like Movies

HALIFAX, April 8 (CP) — Three Canadian Press reporters covering the waterfront melee today, had to dodge rocks, fire-hose jets and what sounded like shotgun fire.

When a sound like a shotgun blast was heard above the din and close to where reporters were operating, they speedily ducked behind molasses barrels and continued covering their assignment.

Regularly they ran for a nearby telephone to dictate a running account of the battle. They escaped with nothing more than a partial wetting from a cross fire of hoses which were not aimed especially at them.

They were approached by striking CSU members leading a bleeding picket and were shown blood-covered pellets which were claimed to be buckshot, size No. 7

Willing To Burn In Oil For Peace Cause

China's Acting President Li Makes Offer To Communist Leader Mao

NANKING, April 8 — (AP).—Acting President Li Tsung-jen today made a dramatic bid for peace in China, offering to be "burned in oil or dismembered" if that would help.

Li's offer was made in a telegram to Mao Tze-tung, Chinese Communist leader.

Li is reported to have rejected an ultimatum from the Communists earlier this week. The ultimatum told the government to surrender its army by Tuesday at the latest.

The unofficial translation of Li's telegram to Mao said in part:

"Now that peace negotiations have started and the government delegation has arrived in Peiping to discuss all issues of your eight conditions in keeping with your invitation, I should like to further express my determination to sacrifice myself to overcome the most difficult obstacle in the peace talks.

(Li apparently referred to the Communist demand that various government leaders be surrendered as "war criminals.")

"I take this step in view of the disastrous results of the Civil War sufferings of the people and mistakes already made.

Accept Punishment

"I will accept without evasion, the severest punishment, even being burned in oil or dismembered as a so-called war criminal, for past mistakes which are still hindering peace."

The Acting President's telegram asserted that Li had "no other wish but that of eliminating war and the restoration of peace so that the people may be rescued from their suffering."

Li's message appeared to be an answer to a Communist ultimatum delivered earlier this week.

This ultimatum called for the creation of a Government-Communist committee by Saturday This was to set up the organization for the transfer of the government's army to Communist control.

The transfer of control had to be completed by next Tuesday. Otherwise, powerful Chinese Communist forces would cross the Yangtze

Rejection of the ultimatum might well mean a resumption of the Civil War, which has been relatively quiet for the last few months.

Commission Suggests Tax To Check Booms, Slumps

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP) — While rejecting general price controls in peacetime, the Royal Commission on Prices today called on the government to use tax and credit powers to check booms and slumps as they arise.

The Commission, whose three-volume report was tabled in the Commons today, urged "positive action" by the government to attain greater economic stability by modifying fluctuations in the volume of private business.

It advocated "fiscal and monetary measures" to "apply the brakes" or "provide stimulus," depending on conditions. However, it did not indicate which course should be followed for conditions of the moment.

The Commission rejected completely the principle of general price controls in peace, though it favored "selective" controls in a few cases and also suggested it might be wise not to let farm prices run unchecked during inflation.

It struck out at "restrictive business practices," such as that of manufacturers fixing the retail price of their products, which the Commission said deprives the consumer the benefits of competition.

It urged that the Combines Investigation Commission, which deals with restraint-of-trade practices, give "careful study" to this problem of "resale price maintenance."

The Commission found that rising wages have an "important inflationary effect" both on the public's spending power and on costs. It noted "real" wages of labor have risen substantially in the 1939-48 period, rising during most of the war years and levelling off since then.

The Commission saw a "danger" of pressure on the government for continuance of its import embargos beyond the period needed to build Canada's foreign-exchange resources.

Burma Truce Fails Planes, Guns In Action

RANGOON, Burma, April 8 — (AP)—Burma Air Force planes and artillery went back into action against Karen nationalist forces today when the deadline for a scheduled Karen surrender passed.

The surrender did not take place, and a dispatch from army headquarters at Gyogon said government forces resumed the war in the Insein area at the end of an agreed cease fire period.

Saw Ba U Gyi, president of the Karen National Union which has been fighting for an independent Karen State, did not show up to fulfil an agreement to surrender his embattled forces. Official Burma government sources said they feared dissidents among his followers might have made the chief a prisoner to avert the surrender.

A three-day cease fire agreement, negotiated as a preliminary to the scheduled surrender, expired at 10 a.m. The Burmese army's high command withheld the signal for a renewal of the fighting.

Canada's Air Force Weak Two MP's Charge; Demand Claxton Resign

Defence Minister Reports 40,000 Men Serving Now In Active Force; Says Dominion Doing As Well As Any Nation

OTTAWA, April 8—(CP).—Parliament today stepped into the last lap before its two-weeks' Easter recess after airing defence problems for three days and voting money to pay off its bills for the last fiscal year. The quickened tempo that precedes the members' departure for their homes saw the Commons late last night voting the final batch of a $100,000,000 series of supplementary estimates for the 1942-49 year. These got royal assent shortly before midnight.

In the defence debate, Progressive Conservative members criticized Defence Minister Claxton, and two of them repeated an earlier suggestion of George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that Mr. Claxton resign unless conditions were improved.

Both war veterans, Wing Cmdr. Lawrence Skey (PC-Toronto Trinity) and Lt.-Col. Alan Cockeram said the Minister should resign if he could not do the job of strengthening the forces and give parliament more defence information.

Lt.-Col. Cockeram quoted from Wednesday's Toronto Telegram which told of five North Star aircraft in storage at the Downsview Airport near Toronto. The newspaper, referring to the aircraft as the "mothball" fleet, had told how the planes were gathering cobwebs and birds' nests.

He recalled how Mr. Claxton had denied Monday that any North Stars were in storage and how he had amended his statement yesterday when he admitted there were aircraft in storage.

Minister Condemned

Col. Cockeram said there was no doubt that the minister stood condemned either for his "ignorance" or for his "refusal" to treat members with candor, frankness and honesty. He also urged that Mr. Claxton resign.

Suggestion that Canada take the lead in initiating a Pacific defence pact was dropped into the debate by Capt. Howard Green (PC-Vancouver South), but Mr. Claxton was non-committal on the government's attitude towards such a proposal.

The minister indicated there was no significance as regards a Pacific pact in the coming visit to Ottawa of Sir Frederick Shedden, secretary of the Australian defence department. That was to be an exchange of views on matters of organization and administration, rather than policy.

In reply to criticism about the armed forces, Mr. Claxton said Canada had made as much progress as any other country in the co-ordination and unification of her armed forces.

He declared the services had just completed their best two months of recruiting since the war. If it continued, there would be enough men to build the forces up to required strength.

40,000 In Active Force

He reported there now were 40,000 men in the active force and 40,000 in the reserve. This compared with 75,000 in Britain's Territorial forces.

Wing Cmdr. Skey called on the government for a stronger force of fighter planes as a first line of defence.

A plunge into the old-age pensions issue late in last night's session saw Progressive Conservative and CCF spokesmen demanding higher pensions. M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, called on the Federal government to assume the full cost of these payments for both the aged and the blind.

The pensions question produced a spirited and involved clash when Health Minister Martin withdrew a $5,500 item on pensions administration, in order to speed the big appropiations bill towards royal assent.

CCF speakers were critical of the withdrawal, terming it a device to shut off debate, though Mr. Martin declared they would have plenty of chance to talk pensions during the budget debate.

Police Use

the SIU came only from CSU witnesses. SIU and police remained inaccessible to reporters on board the ships.

There were doubts whether RCMP had taken part in the rush to get the SIU members aboard the three Canadian National ships —Lady Rodney, Canadian Constructor and Canadian Challenger. Only police visible from the end of the pier were blue-uniformed Canadian National Railways police who have been guarding the ships in increasing numbers since the strikers were removed by injunction a week ago.

Witnesses—most of them CSU members—said the battle began after a special train was whisked quietly into a waterfront siding early today. It discharged more than 200 seamen and perhaps 100 policemen. All wore helmets. Flanked by the police and waving sawed-off axe-handles, the SIU men went aboard the three Canadian National ships on the double.

Constables Swarm In

CSU men said the RCMP constables suddenly appeared "from nowhere," pinned the pickets arms to their sides and quelled resistance while the rival SIU men trooped aboard.

In the early scuffle, CSU witnesses said two of their men were clubbed with axe handles. As soon as the SIU reached the decks of the ships, batteries of fire hoses were used.

When the first CSU picket reinforcement arrived by taxi, police held the drivers and their loads until the battery of hoses were trained. They beat a fighting retreat to the ships, CSU men said.

Reporters were surrounded by about 200 or 300 CSU men but when their identity was proven the reporters were allowed near the ships, along the pier where the Canadian National Lady Rodney, Canadian Constructor and Canadian Challenger were tied up.

One seaman, a member of the CSU, was lying on the pier bleeding profusely.

Can't Verify Casualties

He said he had been hit by a bottle. Another seaman said he had been hit by an ax-handle. There was no way of talking to the police or the rival SIU men on board and stories that their ranks had also suffered in the melee could not be checked.

The CSU pickets, wet through from the cascade of water from the fire hoses, and some of them showing reporters bumps they got in the first clash with police and rival union men, stood on the edge of the range of hoses and hurled invective at the SIU and police, calling them "strike breakers," and "Gestapo."

60 Herefords Bring $22,580 At Sale

Sixty Hereford cattle sold for $22,580 at the consignment auction sale Thursday afternoon at Old Orchard Farms, the home of John Stuart, Jr., east of the Liftlock.

Topping the sale was an eight months old bull calf, Old Orchard Monarch 41st, bought for $1200 by T. J. Carlisle Reid of Moosomin, Sask. This youngster is of the Stuart herd, by Old Orchard Monarch 24th out of WHR (Wyoming Hereford Ranch) Judith 26th. He was born Sept. 1 last year.

Second highest price was paid by Higgins Hereford Farms, Moosomin, at $1,000, for another Stuart bull calf, O. O. Advanced Domino 3rd, born Sept. 7, 1948, by another of the Old Orchard Farms sires, CMR (Circle M Ranch) Advanced Domino. The dam was Old Orchard Ruby Gem, by WHR Monarch 60th.

On the female side of the sale, Old Orchard May, born May 1, 1943, in the John Stuart herd, sold to G. N. Graham of Udora for $580. She is by WHR Monarch 60th out of WHR Sylvia 27th.

Close behind her was the heifer "Jarvis Britishess Mischief 31B" Sept. 1, 1947, bred by F. W. Reicheld, Jarvis, Ont., and consigned by W. J. White of Cairnbrogie Farms, Claremont. She went to S. M. Newcombe & Sons, Northwood, RR 2, for $560.

The average for the sale of the 60 Herefords was close to $380.

First Sale

This was the first consignment Hereford sale in this area, organized by John Stuart, Jr., after the success of his own sale of Old Orchard Farm stock late last fall.

The consignors with Mr. Stuart were: Cairnbrogie Farms, Claremont; Col. F. Everett Birdsall of Birdsall's Asphodel; Indian River Farms, H. J. Hawkey of Indian River; and Mrs. John Stuart of New Orchard Farms. They nominated 62 of their purebred white face cattle for the auction, and disposed of all but two that were withdrawn.

This sale was so satisfactory to the participating breeders that it was announced a similar auction is slated for next autumn, significant of establishment of the Hereford consignment sales in the future.

One of the hopes of John Stuart to be an influence in improving beef cattle lines in this district through the Hereford breed, was realized at Thursday's sale even to a greater extent than at the sale last November, just before the Royal Winter Fair. And as a consignment sale, the offering to farmers was not confined to the Old Orchard Farms stock. The consignment from Claremont included a group of heifers from the notable Reicheld Herefords at Jarvis, Ont., with the animals bred in the consignment herds themselves, including those from the long established herd of the late Col. R. E. Birdsall which is being continued by his son.

Bidding breeders from the district were from Peterborough, Durham, Victoria, Hastings and Ontario counties. Among the buyers were: Mel Edwards of Lakefield; Donald Deyell, Peterborough RR 11; Arthur G. Douglas, Peterborough; Ray Brown of Millbrook; F. Ovens, Newtonville; Roland Tedford, Indian River; H. J. Hawkey, Indian River; Gillson Brothers, Little Britain; R. E. Thurston, Bobcaygeon; Chas. Purvis, Sunderland; Joseph O'Connor, Peterborough, RR 9; G. E. Whitney, Port Hope RR 3; J. A. Rosevear, Tyrone, and others.

Col. Bill O'Neil, Toronto, was auctioneer, with his staff in charge of the sale. Ed. V. O'Toole was clerk. The attendance appeared to be even bigger than at the first sale six months ago, and the arrangements and facilities by Mr. Stuart just as commodious.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Roots Don't Like This Sewer Pipe

Have you noticed how many people building new homes use a white pipe for conveying sewage to the street sewer or septic tank? This white pipe is called Transite—an asbestos-cement house connection pipe made by Johns-Manville. Transite, was designed to minimize stopped-up sewer lines caused by tree roots forcing their way through the joints. It has a special factory-made "Taper-Tite" joint which keeps the line tight and helps avoid troublesome, costly stoppages. J-M Transite House Connection Pipe offers many more advantages. It is tough and strong, yet light and easy to handle. And, its long ten foot lengths make it easy to lay—with minimum disturbance to property. Rescue Planes Standing By To Take Village Supplies

ST. JOHN'S, April 8—(CP).—"Starvation" was the dread report that came from a wintebound Labrador village today. An English-born nurse at St. Mary's Bay, 40 miles north of Newfoundland's northern tip, sent out a plea for help to "avert the starvation" of some 100 fisherfolk, including expectant mothers and babies.

Dorothy Jupp, a native of London, said in her message to Premier Joseph Smallwood that "babies are being fed on flour, water and molasses-water."

Plight of the village was confirmed several hours later by Dr. C. Hogarty Forsythe of Cartwright, 80 miles north of St Mary's. The doctor and nurse both are members of the staff of Grenfell Association Hospital at St. Mary's.

Dr. Forsythe—who apparently was on one of his regular trips along the coastal villages—confirmed that the situation was desperate and pleaded for assistance.

Premier Smallwood's call for rescue planes was foiled by weather and soggy landing strips, caused by the spring thaw.

Pilot Eric Blackwood was all set to take off from here soon if the weather clears today and other machines are being held in readiness at west coast landing strips.

Premier Smallwood was handicapped in his rescue efforts by uncertain telephone service to points outside St. John's. The premier, who took office only last Friday on confederation day with Canada, said he believed the villagers' plight was caused by the pre-confederation collapse of the pit-prop lumber industry on which the community depended to augment their resources.

It was understood that if air rescue failed, an ice-breaker would charge its way through the solid ice that rings the area. Some sources believed, however, that such a method would be too slow.

The big Canadian air base at Goose Bay, only some 100 miles to the northwest, was expected to take a hand if weather permits.

Shooting Case

stable told him that the RCMP fingerprint section said the print was "comparable" to the prints of Harold Hagerman, a friend of the dead girl.

He said Dr. W. L. Robinson, a pathologist, was unable to agree with the findings of the first post mortem. A second autopsy was arranged.

Inspector Franks said Constable Keays stayed at his house overnight while waiting for the results of the post mortem.

Commission Counsel C. P. Hope produced an expense account, signed by Constable Keays, in which he claimed he spent $3 for room rent that night.

Charged Nothing

Inspector Franks said he charged the constable nothing for the room.

Constable Keays diary for that date said the pathologist decided that it was not a case of suicide.

"That is not correct," Inspector Franks said. "Dr. Robinson concluded most definitely it could be suicide."

He said that a chemist later found powder marks on the underlying tissues of the head.

Inspector Franks said there was a big part of the investigation that Constable Keays knew nothing about and the constable began detailed minute questioning about the investigation.

He said Constable Keays drove the car when the two went to Toronto for the second post mortem.

Constable Keays said that during the trip, the pair were stopped and "nearly arrested" at Bowmanville and Trenton because of a "disturbance" caused by the inspector.

"Probably because of the way the car was being driven," the inspector replied. "But I don't remember."

Insisted Case Murder

When Constable Keays denied he had ever used the work "murder" in connection with the Badgley death, Mr. Hope produced a letter from Dr. Robinson, saying Constable Keays had insisted the death was murder.

Constable Keays said Dr. Robinson could not remember details of a conversation two years ago. He said the sole purpose of the letter was to try and discredit him.

Constable Keays said that Chief Inspector Albert Ward telephoned Inspector Franks that night "and told you you'd been on this investigation for two weeks and if you didn't have a report in by Monday you needn't bother coming back to the office."

"That's a lie," Inspector Franks said angrily "absolutely without foundation."

Constable Keays asked if the inspector recalled a brawl in a Trenton restaurant when they drove down to Toronto.

Inspector Franks said he had taken some one else's overcoat for his own and had looked in the pockets for his cigarets.

The constable made repeated references to the inspector's "condition" during the Badgley investigation but did not elaborate.

Betty Ritchie On Trial In Theft Case

SANTA MONICA, Cal., April 8 (AP)—Betty Ritchie, 22-year-old girl friend of Gerard Dennis, accused society burglar, went to trial Thursday charged with receiving stolen property—a mink coat.

The former Toronto school teacher looked more like a school girl, with long dark hair hanging in curls to her shoulders. She wore a close-fitting black dress, and Deputy District Attorney Mervyn Aggeler asked several prospective jurors:

"Do you think she's pretty?"

Six from the panel were excused before nine women and three men were selected. Defense Council Robert A. Schwamb asked if the fact that she had been living with Dennis as his common-law wife would prejudice them, or would they be influenced by the fact she may face deportation.

Most of the prospective jurors were excused, however, because they said they had formed opinions from newspaper articles.

Dennis, a native of St. Catharines, Ont., is accused of some $600,000 in burglaries in near-by Beverley Hills and in White Plains, N. Y. He faces trial in New York. Miss Ritchie specifically is charged with receiving a $3,500 brown mink belonging to Mrs. Waite Phillips, wife of the oil magnate.

Aggeler said his evidence would show Miss Ritchie received the coat from Dennis with instructions to destroy the label, but she saved it. "She either knew or found out later that it was stolen" the prosecutor declared.

Prices Dip Slowly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, April 8—(CP)—Prices slipped slowly downwards in the slowest session this week on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials weakened on widely scattered fractional losses and western oils continued in Thursday's easier vein. Golds and base metals were quietly lower.

Volume for the first three hours was 318,000 shares, about 226,000 shares less than Thursday's similar period.

Papers led the few industrials trading into lower ground. A few utilities were easier but changes were generally held to small fractions as trading slowed on the downgrade.

Consolidated Smelters moved upwards for a gain of ¼ at 95½ in an otherwise weak base metals list.

American 'High Brass' Not Running Canada

EDMONTON, April 8 (CP) — Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chief of the Canadian general staff, said in an interview Thursday that American "high brass" is not dictating to Canada in military matters.

The chief of staff was commenting on a report from Vancouver Tuesday in which Andrew D. MacLean of Toronto, president of Hugh C. MacLean publications, was quoted as saying that top U.S. military leaders are "beginning to push their neighbors around."

Lt.-Gen. Foulkes arrived in Edmonton from Saskatoon to address the Edmonton branch of the military institute.

Watch For Theft Of Milk Money

LINDSAY, Apr. 8—Theft of considerable amounts of money from milk bottles is being investigated by the Lindsay Police Department.

Reports have been received from milkmen and householders that money placed in bottles overnight has been stolen by morning. One irate householder stated that $1.25 put out for milk and butter had been taken.

The thefts are not confined to one part of town but seem prevalent in the area of Kent and Albert. The losses were first reported to the police a week or two ago and since then, a watch has been kept.

Chief of Police, Arthur Webster, has stated that the matter is being thoroughly investigated by the police deparmen.

A short while ago the Chief expressed the opinion that the thefts must be committed either late a night or very early in the morning.

Meanwhile, milkmen are pressing their customers to buy milk tickets in advance. One milkman stated that there would be no advantage in anybody stealing quantities of milk tickets and the purchase of such tickets by customers would almost eliminate theft.

Mr. Russell referred to the writers Shakespeare and Thomas Moore, to the musician Handel and Mendelssohn.

Lowest Death Rate

GENEVA, Switzerland, April 8 (AP)—Large areas of the world are enjoying the lowest death rates ever recorded, the world health organization reported on Thursday.

It said the low death rates prevailing in war-ravaged Europe were "astounding." The reduction in Japan since the war was termed "remarkable."

The organization, which does not have the co-operation of Russia, could not give figures for that country and statistics from some other parts of the world were lacking.

The report gave no explanation for the drop except to say: "One plausible but partial explanation of the falling death rate is that a considerable proportion of the very poor risks from a survival point of view may have been wiped out by war conditions."

Applying Income Tax To Farmers

Of late the government has been stricter in its insistence that farmers should file Income Tax returns, and the farmers have not been backward in pointing out the difficulties of reckoning Income Tax on farm earnings. The government, therefore, has reminded them that they are entitled to put members of their families on the farm payroll, with an earning limit of $500. And because the farmhouse is also the farm office, they are permitted to make deductions for depreciation on their houses, and to charge telephone and light bills and insurance premiums against their expenses. This all seems fair, and should quiet many of the objections which farmers have to paying Income Tax. The basic objection which we all have to this tax—that we would prefer to keep our money—is of course irremoveable.

* * *

A deduction for depreciation on house property is a good idea, and we wonder if it could not be extended to other householders than farmers. As anyone knows who has a family, there is nothing which so quickly depreciates the value of a house as raising children in it. Not merely do they soil and wear out the paint and paper; they weaken the structure of a house as few adults do by jumping, running, using the staircase as a toboggan slide and similar pursuits of childhood. And yet no one can deny that the couple who rear a family of children serve the state well, and in turn deserve well of the state. Would it not be possible to permit householders who have children under twenty-one to make a deduction for depreciation when paying their Income Tax? For there can be no doubt that such depreciation takes place.

High Taxation Is Nothing New

The basic Income Tax in Great Britain at present is eight shillings in the pound, and recently the famous paper The Economist (its chief interest and purpose are explained by its name) said that "there has never been any country in the world that taxed itself to anything like the same extent".

This remark brought an answer from Graham Hutton, a well-known English economist, which we think is of such great interest that we offer no apology for quoting from it at length, thus:

> I would say that history is strewn with the skeletons of countries which overloaded their tax-bearing camels, and so perished with their caravans. That their tax burdens were imposed for differing ends should not obscure from us today that the demands of the state for means—far from rarely causing crashes for countries and civilizations in the past—have more often than not been the chief engineer of disaster.
>
> To take one striking parallel: the "Western Union" of Europe under Rome for the first five centuries of our era—that is, quite recently in history—inflated its money, swelled its legislation and bureaucracy simultaneously, became a paternalistic state, and passed (albeit still majestically) from incentives to disincentives. Thus, the state bought its political support with subsidies to "the masses", composed of armed mercenaries and urban proletariats; the middle class of city fathers, traders and intelligentsia was forced out of public administration and responsibility; the ill-paid bureaucracy became the second biggest "army"; even Roman citizens were, first customarily and then administratively reduced from a position of "contract" to one of fixed "status"; and, finally, even the well-to-do pagans ended by throwing up the sponge and seeking non-material comforts in a religion which, for over three centuries, had been that of the poor, the mean and and the unfree.
>
> Diocletian's attempt to solve the problems of western Europe, to maintain "consumers' services", and simultaneously to prepare defences against the barbarian hordes of Eastern Europe, should interest you, Sir. His state's "overheads" were too heavy. The entire western world collapsed in social and economic ruin. The eastern barbarians won. For a renaissance, as we term it, of individual freedom, learning and mobility Europe waited a millenium.
>
> Recent authorities — Mommsen, Meyer, Brentano, Rostowzeff, Walbank — suggest that the West Roman state required fully 40 per cent. of the average of personal income to run it. Some say more. Indeed, if the show could have been kept going by any degree of taxation, it would not have been necessary to abanddn money and take to barter, or to abandon contract and go over to status, or to give up wide-spread trading and markets and go over to narrow, feudal, self-sufficient units.
>
> The workers fared worse than anyone else during the ensuing millenium. Today, either our trade unionists and their syndicalist leaders ought to remember the rigidities of the feudal guilds, or else our well-to-do ought to copy the few wise Roman rich men who joined the Church early enough — which, today, I suppose, would mean joining the Communist Party and counter-penetrating it!
> The operation of taxing yourself 40 per cent. was often performed in the past. Merely as an operation, it was successfully carried out, frequently enough. The only trouble is that without exception, the patients died.

There are two points which we think are of special interest in this extremely interesting letter. The first is Mr. Hutton's suggestion that another faith from the East may sweep the world as Christianity did 1,500 years ago. The other is that he ignores all the socialist claims that their economy is planned; he assumes that it is a haphazard system of gap-stopping, like the economy of the Roman Empire in its latter days. Perhaps he is unjust; perhaps not. But we must be grateful for his reminder that history repeats herself, although we may suggest that history does not always do so word for word.

Stern But Not Blue British Budget

On Wednesday the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, presented the British people with their 1949-50 Budget in a parliamentary speech which the deputy Leader of the Opposition, Anthony Eden said was "a speech of really outstanding brilliance, even for him". There is little doubt that Sir Stafford is an outstandingly brilliant man among those who think in the English language and that Britain's remarkable strides toward economic health have been in no small way due to his leadership.

He has won the confidence of the British public because of his intellectual capacity, his refusal to pander to voters, and the success of his planning. They therefore accept such a budget as he brought down on Tuesday stoically. There has been almost no reduction in the taxes, the heaviest in the western world. There cannot be at this stage of socialistic Britain's development. Vast social services cost vast sums of money. They are not free. Forty per cent. of the national income goes to and is spent by the Government, many millions of it on the new welfare services the Labour Government has introduced.

Another reason for the high tax rate is that Britain is spending £760,000,000 (more than three billion dollars) on defence, an increase of almost ten per cent. over last year. By comparison, Canada this year will spend something like $250,000,000. That, spread over our total population, is about $18 a head. The rate per person in Britain is about $62. Britain wants to give her people butter (pardon, margarine) and is under the necessity of also giving them guns. She is doing both with remarkable success at this moment. It will be interesting to know the score ten or twenty years hence. For instance, how much truth is there in Churchill's tart, even vindictive statement that "the impudent socialist claim to have mastered the secret of full employment is nullified by the admissions of their own leaders that but for the gifts of capitalist America there would be millions of workers unemployed"?

Death Of A Great Comedian

We are sorry to learn of the death of Sir Seymour Hicks at the age of seventy-eight. He began his career as an actor in 1887, and after a period of apprenticeship he became known as one of the ablest comedians on the English stage, and retained that reputation until recently. His wife was Ellaline Terris, the daughter of William Terris who was for many years London's chief matinee idol, and the "romantic lead" in so many of the productions of Sir Henry Irving. Seymour Hicks was a man of unusual public spirit, and organized entertainments at the front for the soldiers of the First Great War; during the recent war he was Controller of the Entertainment National Service Association, better known as ENSA. As well as his knighthood, he was a Chevalier of the French Legion of Honour.

Many of our readers will recall his visit to Peterborough when he toured Canada in 1925-26. The plays which he brought with him (including his own comedy The Man In Dress Clothes) were considered improper by many connoisseurs of impropriety, but they drew large and delighted audiences. Hicks' charm and lightness of style were exceptionally winning, and many who went to disapprove remained to laugh. He had a gift (deplorable, no doubt) for making irregularities of conduct seem trivial, and even loveable. The message of all his plays, and he wrote many, was that all sins are forgiveable except hypocrisy and hardness of heart. He was a great entertainer, and he brought new gaiety to a world which never has too much of it.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

ALPHA: We have to make out our income tax cheques in favour of the Receiver-General of Canada. Who is that gentleman who by the end of this month will be many million dollars richer?

ANSWER: The Receiver-General and the Minister of Finance are the same, like a two-faced coin, a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, or Janus. And since Mr. Abbott is Minister of Finance, Mr. Abbott is Receiver-General. The Receiver-General is a sort of exalted national cash register.

DEAR ALPHA: I have been waiting with bated breath for the sequel to your identification of Dr. Poole of Poole's History of Peterborough. Several weeks ago you said you had reason to believe that Dr. Poole did not die—as stated by the late F. H. Dobbin—on August 27th, 1905. What is your reason? Please keep me no longer in suspense.

ANSWER: I am gratified by your agitated interest. The reason is that although Poole is reported to have died in Lindsay, he was buried in Peterborough, yet I can find no mention of his death in the daily papers of that time. Which is odd, since I thought that at least the now defunct "Review" would have published the news of the death of its former editor.

My search through old newspaper files has been gappy, and quite overwhelmed by news of a crime in Dummer which filled the papers for weeks and even crowded out serial chapters of Conan Doyle's "Return of Sherlock Holmes" which the Examiner was carrying at the time.

THE DUMMER CRIME was headlined—eight columns of he[illegible] — like this: "One of the Most Atro[illegible]imes Ever Recorded in Canada Was [illegible] Which an Innocent Twelve-Year-Ol[illegible]et Down by a Mob". This occurred [illegible]ust 24th 1905, near midnight. There [illegible] family feud in Dummer, and that evening a group [illegible] arriving in a buggy decided to raise the sleeping household as well as Cain. Taunts were exchanged. One of the young men in the buggy took up a shot-gun and opened fire at a window in the farm-house. The result, as poignantly reported in the Examiner: "the murdered boy who now lies cold and stiff, with the bloody path of the cruel leaden bullet through his body".

The young fellows departed. Next day it was thought advisable locally to take cognizance of the matter. The man who fired the fatal shots, son of a respected family, admitted without too much sorrow, that he had done the foul deed. He had meant no real harm, he said. A coroner's jury sat, and on the same page in which it was recorded that the young man confessed to the killing, this amazing verdict was brought in: "We the undersigned members of the Jury, after hearing the evidence and examining the paths of the bullets find that (the 12-year-old boy) came to his death by a rifle fired by some unknown party. We further exonerate (the man who had confessed to firing the shots) from blame in connection".

This astonishing verdict was too much for the local press to swallow, and Toronto, Montreal and other papers took up the matter. The Toronto Star, for instance, commented: "The Jury seems to have reflected the local feeling that it would be a pity to punish a popular young man for having unintentionally killed a...." (Here was the family name of the dead boy).

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL ordered an investigation. The young man was charged with manslaughter, and lodged in the Peterborough jail for a week or two until $7,500 bail was granted. He was tried in Norwood Town Hall during the October Assizes, and locked up there during the proceedings. He was honized by the crowd, and the jailer apologetically provided his rude bed with "a fur mattress and pillow". On the afternoon of the trial there was a dispute about who should have the use of the hall; the judge lost, so the hearing then was held in the basement, "whose space was further limited by the presence of the village fire engine and hose reels". The "observed of all observers", as the press called the accused man, was found guilty on October 11th, after the jury considered the matter for two hours, and was sentenced to three months in the county jail. So closed the sory of the "Horrible Midnight Murder in Cold Blood of the 12-year-old Son Of...." Mr. F. D. Kerr was one of two defending counsel.

Little wonder I have been unable to find newspaper record of the death of Dr. Poole in papers covering three such exciting months.

SIR: Does the city own Little Lake Cemetery?

ANSWER: Neither the city nor the Council has anything to do with the ownership or management of our cemetery. It is owned by the Little Lake Cemetery Company, with offices on Crescent Street. It is under the general authority of the Provincial Department of Health. The company is made up only of shareholders, and all lot owners are automatically shareholders. It is a non-profit organization. A Board of Directors is elected annually, but through the years there is little change in the directorship for most give long as well as faithful service on it. The present Board is: Mr. James Hamilton (ex-mayor), President; Mr. Herbert Bradburn, Vice-President, and other members of the Board are R. J. Kidd, E. H. Howson, E. Melville Turner, T. J. Carley, W. P. Eastwood, W. Ross Thompson, and H. A. Morrow. The superintendent is Charles F. Kitney, and the secretary-treasurer is Miss E. J. Saunders.

FOR THE RECORD: Saturday night on George Street is a barometer of changing customs. Twenty years ago the street was crowded, the night busy. Shops were open, and people did much of their week's buying then. That was before the days when farmers took a morning or afternoon off at will to come into town. Those were the days when shopkeepers and their assistants put in a twelve or fourteen-hour Saturday, and grocers plied their trade until the town clock ushered in Sunday. Ten years ago George Street on Saturday night was George Street on Sunday. No shops open, few strollers and cars yawning down the empty roadway. Now George Street's Saturday night again bustles. Shops are not open, but our four George Street movie houses are, their lights aflame. A couple of dance halls (some like to call them cabarets, but they are not) and dozens of restaurants cater to merry-makers having a Saturday night bun. Parking space is hard to find, and traffic is heavy. It is likely that because of crowded and inadequate housing more people are going out into the town for their amusement rather than taking it in places which they can hardly call homes.

Incidental to this week's George Street record is the signing by twelve nations of the North Atlantic Treaty last Monday in Washington.

Letters To The Editor

SAYS CANADIAN TALENT WAS USED

Sir: The letter entitled "Why Ignore Canadian Talent" which appeared on March 28th, and written by Marg. Bailey, brings up a question which has been widely discussed, but which we feel should be answered directly by this organization.

We would like to point out to Miss Bailey that we are just as anxious to use as much Canadian talent as possible, but are prevented from doing so to any greater extent because much of the talent of the type needed for our Show is not available in Canada, as this is higaly specialized entertainment. Furthermore, when planning entertainment which is supposed to attract upwards of 60,000 people in a week's showing, we must take the greatest pains that all our acts are of the top material available.

It should not be thought, however, that we have ignored Canadian talent where it is available, as despite Miss Bailey's remarks we filled in wherever possible with Canadians. Tommy McClure (who, by the way, was Master of Ceremonies but had nothing to do with production of the Show) is a Canadian, as are both Fontana and Woods, the younger half of the log rolling foursome. In this connection I would also point out that the log used was bought as timber at Gravenhurst, Ontario, and was lathed and turned in the City of Toronto.

Furthermore, we would point out that both the badminton players were Canadians, as Vaughan Pipes is an ex-Canadian who moved to Boston because of the improved prospects for himself; this besides the fact that Mr. Brand was from Brantford. The fact that Bill Duprez, the commentator, is an American is largely because all other engagements for this act are in American shows.

In addition to the above, the high dive and the comedy swimming and diving were done by Aurel Thomas, who was a former Canadian diving champion, and his assistants, who are all good Canadians from the City of Montreal, so that you can see that a large percentage indeed of our performers were actually Canadians.

We would also like to point out that the huge tank (the biggest in the business) was completely manufactured in Toronto by firms who had never done this kind of work before.

Miss Bailey rather underrates the comedy swimming and roller skating acts, if any indication can be taken from the laughter and applause that greeted both of these acts. We might also state that the so-called mediocre Australian boomerang performer is the finest manipulator of the stock whip in show business today.

As regards the swimming act, we readily admit that the Peterborough Ornamental Swimmers, the Dolphinettes of Toronto and many other Canadian swimming acts could put up a superior swimming drill than the one that we had, but it must be remembered that these acts are not professionals, and it is not very likely that any of the teams would accept a two-a-day engagement for one week, thereby giving up their amateur standing for the small amount of money that was paid. Actually this swimming act was chosen because they had costumes which made a beautiful picture in the black light, and it was for this change in routine rather than for their swimming ability that they were chosen to appear in the stage show.

As regards the retrieving dog act, Miss Bailey should remember that the duck was a live duck, not wounded or dead, and that the retrieving of a diving duck is a terrifically difficult proposition for any group of dogs.

Miss Bailey also accuses us of forgetting our own Indian tribes, when she should know that the village was made up of a group of chiefs and braves from the 6 Nations Reserve at Brantford, Ontario, and were not Senecas in Blackfeet costume as she has stated.

Please be assured that in the promotion of the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show we are doing everything possible to promote Canadiana in every way, and still maintain high quality of exhibition and entertainment that is absolutely essential to keep our Sportsmen's Show truly national in scope.

We would like to have at any time constructive suggestions as to Canadian professional talent that might be available for our type of Show. Yours sincerely,

Canadian National Sportsmen's Show,
LOYAL M. KELLY,
General Manager.

FIRECRACKER NUISANCE AND DANGER

Sir: Your editorial on this subject which appeared on Monday was timely. Whether some parents may have taken notice, or the offenders have run out of money for fireworks, it is something to be thankful for that in the meantime there is an armistice locally.

Bible Message

Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber. And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed: and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up. And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows presented her alive.

And it was known throughout all Joppa; and many believed in the Lord. (Acts 9: 36-42.)

The Sunny South

A lot of so-called "sunny" places are blushing with ill-concealed embarrassment this year. Sunny Southern California in one, and no wonder, because it has been blanketed with snow and shivering with cold almost all winter. Sunny Texas is another well-advertised mecca of sunshine which has suffered a severe blow in its publicity department.

But worst of all probably is sunny Southern Alberta, that Banana Belt of Canada where the chinook wind thrives along with the sunshine, much to the joy and merriment of its happy inhabitants. The weather here has been so miserable and so cold all Winter that most everyone has to console himself by looking up last year's Chamber of Commerce publicity pamphlet to make sure that things used to be better.

It is consoling, however, to know that other "sunny" sections of the land are suffering, too, and there's always the refreshing thought that next Winter probably will be better. It couldn' be worse.

Bury J. McKnight In Millbrook, Dies At Age 85

MILLBROOK, April 8 (ENS)—The death of Johnathan McKnight, 85, took place at his home, Tupper St. on Friday and the funeral was held Monday from the G. T. McPherson funeral home, conducted by the Rev. G. C. R. McQuade. Burial was in the Presbyterian cemetery, Millbrook.

Mr. McKnight was the son of pioneer parents, Robert McKnight and Mary White, who came to this country by sailing vessel more than a century ago, from Ireland, establishing their home in Cavan township.

On the farm, 7th Line, Cavan, Mr. McKnight, who was the last of a family of six children, five sons and one daughter, was born and brought up. Practically all his life was spent in this vicinity.

Mr. McKnight was twice married; his first wife was Emma Clarke, and their only son, Frederick McKnight, was killed overseas in the first world war. Later his father had his son's body brought from England, and a large military funeral was held as he was buried beside his mother in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Mr. McKnight is survived by his widow, Elvy S. Locke, and there are a number of nieces and nephews, grand nieces and grand nephews. He was a member of the session of St. Andrew's United church from the time of Union and also financial secretary of the church for a number of years. Failing health finally compelled him to relinquish these positions.

In 1919 Mr. McKnight retired from farming and came to Millbrook, where he has lived ever since. For some years he was employed at the commercial hatchery but for reasons of health was compelled to give up any form of active life.

Prince Gets Divorce To Wed Rita Hayworth

PARIS, April 8 (AP)—Divorce decree was entered Thursday dissolving the marriage of Prince Aly Khan and his British-born wife.

This leaves the Prince free to marry American film actress Rita Hayworth.

The judgment, signed by court president Marcel Rousselet, said both parties were equally responsible for the failure of the marriage. Requests for divorce had been filed both by the Prince and his wife, Joan Yard-Buller, a daughter of Lord Charston.

Miss Hayworth, former wife of actor Orson Welles, told a reporter April 1 that she and the Prince hoped to be married "within four weeks."

Roy Jarvis Elected Athletic Group Head

BETHANY, April 8—(ENS)—The Bethany Athletic Association held its fortieth annual meeting in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Officers elected were: Roy Jarvis president, Reg. Edmunds secretary, and Bruce Ryley treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the May 24th celebration, and committees appointed to arrange the program details which will include afternoon games of softball and hardball, an evening concert to be followed by a dance. Repairs to the baseball diamond and grand stand were planned.

Broda Declares Rival Real Star

ST. CATHARINES, April 8 — (CP)—In a series often decided by a slight edge in goaltending, the Stanley Cup finals took a strange twist when one of the netminder's in hockey's world series took time out to heap praise on his younger rival.

As Toronto Maple Leafs headed Thursday for Detroit where they started tonight in cup defence against the Red Wings, goalie Walter (Turk) Broda expressed the opinion that before long Detroit's Harry Lumley "is going to be the best in the National Hockey League"

"Take a look at him now," said Turk, "he's only 22 and already he's had four years in the league."

Broda, now nudging 35, didn't come up to the big time until he was 22 when the Leafs bought him from Detroit. Just a year ago Thursday the same clubs started battling for the Stanley Cup and in that series Broda outshone Lumley as the Leafs swept the best-of-seven series in four straight games.

On the train heading for Detroit was Gus Mortson, rushing Toronto defenceman who broke his leg a year ago in the series opener. After Gus suffered his injury, "win the series for Mortson" became the Toronto victory chant.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT AT THE BROCK ARENA when Fred Atkins wrestles the Mask in the no-time-limit main bout. The Marvel has had quite an impressive run hereabout but the British Empire Champion is expected to hand him his final come-uppance in tonight's battle. An all-star supporting card has Frank Valois versus the Cardiff Giant and Pat Flanagan, shown above, meeting big Ben Morgan. It looks like a big night.

Badminton Groups Hold Inter-Club Games

OMEMEE, April 8 —(ENS)— Omemee Badminton Club enjoyed its first inter-club competition when approximately fifteen members were the guests of Downeyville Badminton Club. The afternoon and evening were spent together, supper being served by the Downeyville Club.

Mr. George Stephenson expressed the appreciation of the Omemee group for the generous hospitality extended to them. Plans were made for another friendly game during the Easter week, when the Downeyville club will visit Omemee.

Badminton is played in Omemee each Monday and Thursday evening.

AS WINGS WON—These four Canadiens, Billy Reay, Emile Bouchard, Kenny Reardon and Bill Durnan—had nothing to be happy about Tuesday night as Gordie Howe, wearing white sweater, scored his eighth playoff counter to help send the Red Wings into the Stanley Cup finals by beating Montreal 3-1 in Detroit. This time Howe's shot was wide of the net.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A hearty welcome to delegates to the annual two-day Ontario Baseball Association convention, opening here this afternoon. Mayor Max Swanston—himself a former OBA executive member—will extend the civic greeting at the dinner tomorrow, at which the Ontario attorney-general, Hon. Leslie Blackwell, will speak. Ald. Adam Sands and his reception committee have arranged the dinner in the Empress. But we'd like to add our welcome for these good baseball men from all parts of the province, these officials who work tirelessly and without pay for the good of the diamond game. Have a fine time in Peterborough, men, and come back again.

In Oshawa next Thursday and Good Friday, the annual OASA convention is in session. Scribe George Campbell of that town is after the presidency. Bert Bailey of this borough is running for an executive office again, and he will be [illegible] along with Pat Calladine, [illegible] and Harold Dormer, latter three being voting delegates. With no less than 53 amendments to the rules coming up for decision, there's a raft of work to be done. There'll be 26 chaps running for the executive alone, which means the whisperings along the Genosha lobbies late Thursday will be well-nigh deafening! Some heavy lobbying assured.

Cagers Nearing Finish

A mention again about the basketball setup locally this weekend. PCVS senior and junior girls, as well as the senior boys, are off to Toronto for COSSA playoffs. Whilst the juvenile PCVS boys await word on their Eastern Canada playoffs with Quebec. At the YW tonight, starting at eight, a triple-header to wind up girls' loop playoffs. Collis, up 19 points, go first against CGE intermediates, followed by Neill's and Nurses seniors, with Neill's up three points; and then Lockeys and Normals in the junior windup, Normals having a 13-point lead. Champs of the league will be declared tonight in these three divisions.

Puck fans scarcely need be reminded of the Legion-Sarnia game at 8.30 tonight in Lindsay, with the same squads clashing there again tomorrow night. First, two of the best-of-five OHA senior "B" finals, remaining games the following week-end in Sarnia. And the Legion puckists hardly need be reminded that they've got to go as never before now that the chips are down. With a provincial crown at stake, they've really got to hustle tonight to grab that opener. No excuse for one player on the club loitering for one minute out there on the ice. Or for getting needless penalties. Too much at stake for the whole team. It ought to be a furious fray and, if Legion play their best hockey, they can take it.

As Sarnia Looks At It

This from the Sarnia sheet: "Only one team, Peterboro Legion, stands between Sarnia Sailors and their second straight Ontario senior 'B' hockey championship. While the Sailors are jubilant over their victory against Orillia, they are not making predictions about Peterborough, reputed a clever passing and solid crew, with seasoned players who work well as a team though not possessing any individual stars. 'We expect plenty of trouble with the Petes,' Manager Logie Allen says. 'Don't overlook their record of lopsided scores in playoff games, and the fact that they knocked off Grimsby Peach Kings in two straight games. This was much to our surprise as we know that Grimsby was considerably fortified since last year when we eliminated them in the semi-finals.'" The Sailors have several ex-pros aboard.

Toronto Maple Leafs invade Detroit tonight to do battle with the Red Wings on Olympia ice. First of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup finals, second one being there, also, on Sunday. They move back to Toronto next Wednesday and Saturday, then alternating a game each in Detroit, April 17, Toronto April 20 and Detroit April 23, if necessary. So, it could go two weeks. We still like the Wings' chances as they proved a solid squad all season, but Leafs may be hot enough now to capture the cup once again. However, we'll go along with Jolly Jack Adams and the Red Wings.

Recreational Area In Cobourg West End

COBOURG, April 8 (ENS) — Establishment of a recreational area in the west end is being given serious consideration by town authorities. The west end is without a playground and on account of extensive building in that section, there is a need for recreational facilities for the people residing in that area. The Parks Commission has endorsed the project and the superintendent of the Park along with assistant-secretary Bill McCaig, have been delegated to enquire into sites. Once a suitable location has been found, the playground will be operated through the Parks Commission, the chairman, J. C. M. German, said.

Hershey Swamps Reds 6-1 In 5th Victory

HERSHEY, Pa., April 8 (AP)— Hershey Bears remain undefeated in 1949 post-season competition after taking the opener of the American Hockey League final playoffs from Providence Reds.

The Bears, second club in the eastern division at the end of the regular season, swamped the Reds 6-1 last night for their fifth straight victory in the playoffs.

Hershey previously eliminated Indianapolis and Cleveland in four games to gain the finals.

First-period goals by Roly McLenahan and Mark Marquess started the Hershey victory parade rolling. Frank Mario and Silvio Bettio each added a tally in the second and the final two came in the last period from the sticks of Gordie Bruce and Herb Cain.

Harvey Fraser prevented a Providence shutout with a score in the final 60 seconds of play.

The second and third of the best-of-seven series will be played at Providence tomorrow and Sunday with the teams returning to Hershey for the fourth next Tuesday

Shockey's Take City Title In Bowling Loop

Shockey's are the new City Five-Pin champions and winner of the Duffus Trophy held last year by Fashion Craft. The team, composed of Bud Goodson, Gene Reynolds, Phil Pryde, Bill Harris and Doug Abraham, rolled steady ball throughout the season and are worthy champions. Last night they took four points from DeLaval and had high single game of 1336 while De Laval rolled high pinnage of 3561 beating out Shockey's by 9 pins.

Ostranders and Rileys each scored six-point wins from Sunocos and Esquires to finish in a time for second place, just six points behind the leaders. Fashion Craft lost two games to McCannan Electric to finish in fourth place. Charlotte Credit Jewellers took four points from King George to finish fifth with the King George squad gaining sixth place.

Clappers blanked Empress Old Timers as Cavanagh's and Marinos Lunch scored four-point victories from Russelles and Bond Clothes.

None of the season's individual high scores were broken on the night's play as Jack Wade took high three honors with 884 followed by Bud Weese 824, Alf Pepe 809 and E. Young 805.

Bill Masters made a great bid for season's high single as he rolled 363 for the top single of the night. Bud Goodson had 345, Jack Wade 332, Bud Weese 325, Joe Denault 318, Charlie Clarke and Alf Pepe 315, Bill Martin 311 and Doug Abraham 310.

Midland Flyers Even Semi-Final Series

MIDLAND, April 8 (CP)—Midland Flyers ended their best-of-three Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate A semi-final playoff series with Gananoque Legionnaires at one game apiece by defeating the Legionnaires 6-0, Thursday.

The victory forces a third and deciding tilt on neutral ice Saturday. The site has not yet been decided.

It was a goalies' duel throughout as rival netminders McDonald of Gananoque and Gagnon of Midland were kept busy as the clubs set a wide-open pace all the way. McDonald was particularly good in the middle period when his team was outshot 19-7.

"Fat" Swales paced the Flyer attack with one goal and two assists while Morrison with two goals and Wheeler with one followed closely. Anderson and Fair were prominent for Gananoque.

German Athletes Overcome War's Isolation

By DON DOANE

BERLIN, — (AP) — German athletes are beginning to return to international competition after years of isolation by war and Nazism. But they are not finding the foreign fields very green.

The U. S. venture of Germany's heavyweight boxing champion, Hein Ten Hoff, may be the tipoff of what Germans can expect in the lands of their ex-enemies.

Ten Hoff went to the United States in January with a contract and hopes of a crack at the world title. So far he hasn't been able to get a fight. He is threatening to come back home if he doesn't get a bout soon.

German newspapers say he blames part of his troubles on promoters' fears of anti-Nazi protests—like those which drove pianist Walter Gieseking out of New York and conductor Wilhelm Furtwaengler out of Chicago. Those may have been only isolated incidents which would not necessarily be repeated.

But Hans Kilian, Germany's bob sled champion, took his cue from them. He turned down an invitation to compete in the winter games at Lake Placid, N. Y., —and cited the Gieseking and Furtwaengler cases as his reason.

Ten Hoff was the first German professional athlete to seek foreign gold, and the first German athlete—either amateur or professional—to enter the U. S. since the war.

In other countries, German amateurs have made a more hopeful beginning.

Play in Sweden

Four German tennis players, including the former Davis Cup star, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, recently were invited to a series of club matches in Sweden. Their reception was cordial. Sweden, however, was neutral during the war as was Switzerland.

German skiers have competed in Austria. German bicyclists were recently readmitted to international bicycle races—which are major events in Europe. British military authorities have given permission for German athletic teams to go abroad.

Sweden handball player and Swiss soccer teams have played matches in Germany. A U. S. amateur hockey team included Germany in its European tour.

One of the most hopeful signs for German athletes was the invitation to be represented at the next meeting of the International Olympic Games Committee in Rome, April 24-29.

This will be their first participation in Olympic affairs since the war. It may pave the way for German's return to Olympic competition in the 1952 games at Helsinki.

Plan To Invite Newfoundland To Join Curling

WINNIPEG, April 8 (CP)—Official decision regarding Newfoundland as a replacement for Northern Ontario in the Dominion curling championships likely will be made by the three trustees of the championship trophy before the next Dominion finals.

Senator J. T. Haig of Winnipeg, one of the trustees, said in an interview Thursday that inclusion of Newfoundland always had been kept in mind by the trustees since inception of the national curling competition in 1927.

Northern Ontario had been included to allow a balanced 10-rink schedule, he said.

The trustees who direct the annual championships are Senator Haig, Hon. Thane A. Campbell, Chief Justice of Prince Edward Island, and Thomas Rennie of Toronto.

"We have always agreed that Newfoundland, if it became a part of Canada, should be the 10th rink in the Dominion finals," the Senator said. "However, that has not yet been made official and Newfoundland would have to apply to the trustees to be entered.

"When I go back to Ottawa, I'm going to put in the records of Hansard that Newfoundland should be included in the national curling champions."

Northern Ontario has competed in the curling classic for about 15 years, Senator Haig said. It has never won the Dominion championship although Southern Ontario has triumphed twice.

Newfoundland's entry would mean that each of Canada's 10 provinces would be represented by one rink, the original plan of the trustees.

By The Canadian Press

The championship fever has hit Calgary again.

Two winters ago Calgarians pinned their hopes on Stampeders bringing home the Allan Cup, emblematic of Canadian Senior Hockey supremacy. Stamps did just that.

Last summer the footbal edition of the Stampeders was hailed as the team that could win the Grey Cup. Again the team bearing Calgary colors came through.

Now Calgarians have their sights on the Memorial Cup, symbolic of the junior hockey championship of Canada. Calgary Buffaloes are the team they expect will take the sought-after mug.

The Buffalo boosters are finding plenty of support in the west. One reason is that Buffaloes had things fairly well their own way in the Western Canada Junior Hockey League all season. They ended league play in a top-place tie with Moose Jaw Canucks, then walloped Canucks without undue trouble in the loop final.

In the series for the Alberta provincial crown Buffs came through in convincing fashion against Edmonton Athletic Club. Now they appear headed for the Western Canadian final, leading Moose Jaw Canucks—the same team they defeated in league play—3-1 in their current inter-provincial series.

General Manager Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens said Thursday the National Hockey League club will undergo some "reorganization" next season but emphasized that the changes would not be as sweeping as reported. Selke said he would try to close a few deals with the other NHL clubs but added: "I know they won't give up their top players, and we don't want to give up ours either."

Disqualification of the St. Catharines Lengionnaires from Ontario Basketball Association playoffs was announced Thursday by Dick Leeson, Association President. The Intermediate A title for Southern Ontario thus goes to Brantford Grads, who were beaten by St. Catharines in the finals 89-83.

The Central Ontario Secondary School Association will hold its final basketball tournament at Toronto this week-end.

Girls' teams from the Georgian Bay district, St. Catharines, Peterborough, Napanee and Belleville's Albert College will compete at the Ontario College of Education gymnasium tonight and Saturday afternoon.

The boys' section of the tournament will be held at Hart House, University of Toronto, Saturday afternoon, with teams from Peterborough, Bay of Quinte, Bracebridge, Niagara Falls, Orillia, Stamford and Belleville taking part.

Everton McNichol, 72, one-time noted Canadian paddler, died Thursday at Toronto. Life member of the Toronto Canoe Club, he won the North American single blade championship early this century and later won the Canadian tandem single blade championship with Douglas McDougall, another Toronto paddler.

At Springfield, Mo., a federal court jury turned down Mexican Jorge Pasquel's damage claims against Mickey Owen, and awarded the former Brooklyn catcher $51,428 in unpaid salary.

The former president of the Mexican League had asked $127,500 damages against Owen, who has been barred from organized baseball in the United States for jumping to the Chili circuit in 1946.

The amount was awarded represents the unpaid portion of his salary for 1946 and his complete salary for 1947, 1948 and 1949.

Says Criticisms Of Hollywood Still Hold True

HOLLYWOOD, April 8 (AP)—After living here several months, James Mason finds Hollywood filled with frustrations, "but not uninhabitable."

The free-talking Briton was loved by Hollywoodians last year for panning the town without having seen it. He has penned a magazine article lambasting the movie capital in rugged terms.

Later he came to Hollywood and has been earning a fabulous salary. So I sought him out on "The Blank Wall" set to see if his ideas about the town had changed. They hadn't.

"I wrote that article on hearsay," Mason declared. "Since coming here, I found that most of the things I had heard were true. But I think that Hollywood is not uninhabitable because of them."

Mason claims the picture business is run by a group of moneymen and the creative artist has little freedom.

Concerning the latter, Mason was recently talking to a gifted writer-director. 'How can you do the things you want to do and still works for the big studios?" Mason asked.

Need Hazards

"Why, answered the film maker, "when we play golf, we like to have bunkers and sand traps for hazards. It wouldn't be any fun to drive down a smooth fairmay. It's the same thing in making pictures. The studios provide the hazards."

Frustrating or not, Mason appeers to be settling in Hollywood. He has bought a house and reports that some of his land can be subdivided in 1950. See—he's taking like a native alfeady.

From a money view, there's little reason why Mason shouldn't remain. He admitted to earning $50,000 for a day and a half of acting on "Madame Bovary," plus a half-day's narration. That's about $69 a minute.

However, his average is due for a fall. He has to report for another half-day of narration.

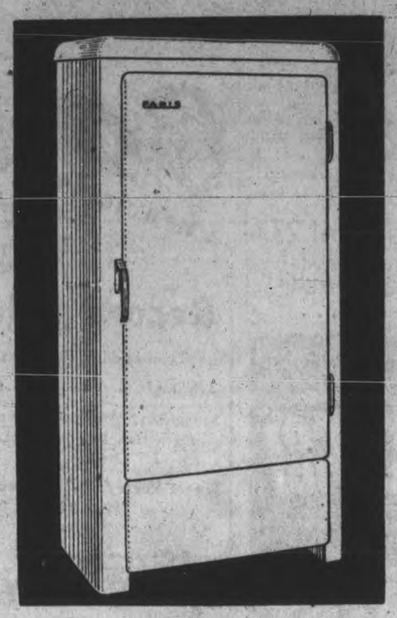
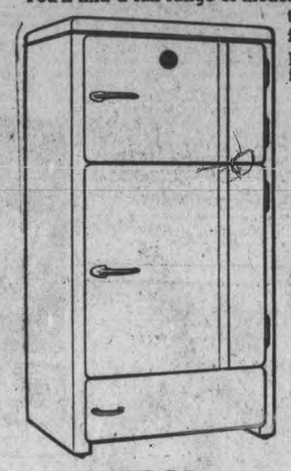
St. Paul Takes Lead Defeats Tulsa 4-3

TULSA, Okla, April 8 (AP)—St. Paul took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series of the United States Hockey League championship playoffs Thursday with an overtime period goal, winning from Tulsa, 4-3.





The sudden death tally, scored by Bing Juckes, St. Paul wingman, was vociferously protested by the Oiler club which swarmed around referee Harry Ornest. Tulsa claimed Juckes pushed the puck by goalie Freckles Little with his hand.

Ontario Liberals Demand Government Investigation

TORONTO, April 8 (CP) — The Ontario Liberal Association Thursday called for an investigation of all provincial government departments to rout any Communists or subversive elements employed there.

In the closing sessions of the two-day annual convention, the majority of more than 600 delegates approved without discussion a resolution calling for such an investigation.

The resolution was presented by Alex Jeffery, president of the London Liberal Association.

Mr. Jeffery, candidate for the London Federal riding, said in an interview after the meeting that the resolution was two-fold: Directed at greater economy in the provincial public service and at weeding out any subversive elements.

He did not say either he or his association suspected there were any unknown subversive elements in the provincial public service.

A second undebated resolution, also presented by the London Association, recommended that the provincial legislature meet twice annually "to reduce the tendency of the cabinet to carry on affairs without reference to the wishes of the legislature for the full 10½ months of each year."

Voted President

Norman L. Matthews, a Newmarket lawyer, was voted president of the Association. He succeeds Norman Hipel of Preston.

In an address before his election, Mr. Matthews charged the Ontario Liberal party with the responsibility of "smashing the Drew-Duplessis alliance."

At the afternoon session's opening, Farquhar Oliver, provincial Liberal leader, pledged his party would repeal the Charitable Gifts Bill which was given third reading in the Legislature Thursday.

Mr. Oliver said "the Liberals will at first opportunity repeal ths iniquitous legislation."

Other Resolutions

During the closing sessions other major resolutions which were approved urged:

1—Immediate action be taken regarding the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes seaway and power project.

2—The present Federal gasoline tax be used for "carrying through the Trans-Canada highway."

3—The Dominion Government extend concessions, now allowed the precious metals industries, to the base metals industries permitting them to get back a portion of their risk capital before it is taxed.

4—The Federal Minister of Justice to review existing law "as it applies to questioning of people under arrest by police."

5—Reduction of the provincial tax on gasoline.

6—Increase of old-age pensions without the means test.

CENTRE OF DISPUTE — Danny Lewicki, 17-year-old hockey player with Stratford "A" club this season is the centre of a verbal dispute between Conny Smythe, president of Toronto Maple Leafs and President Harold Wyatt of the Stratford club. Smythe says Danny, who signed a "C" contract, will play with one of Toronto's pro or amateur clubs next season "or he won't play at all," and Wyatt says he'll let the courts decide.

Family Tragedy Moving Hit Of Four Plays

Curtain time was set at eight o'clock, and at eight the curtain rose. That was the first important recommendation to the audience in the YWCA hall of the four one-act plays which the Twenty Plus Theatre Group presented Wednesday evening. The plays followed each other without unduly long intervals, so that the final curtain came down at ten.

"The Lovely Miracle" by Philip Johnson depends largely on the actors' ability to sustain emotion and imagery. The cast of four—Molly Lenby as Mother, Lindy McIntosh as Daughter (she was an intense bride), Jean Mustard as Neighbour and Frank Booth as Young Man—did a commendably good job, but atmospherics interfered with the atmosphere, and the Lovely Miracle was not as lovely or miraculous as the players and director Dennis Brockman attempted. It is a difficult play to put over, and praise is due the group for the attempt.

Male Skit

The popular H. Kaufman skit "If Men Played Cards as Women Do", also produced by Dennis Brockman, went off with verve, good humour, and to the audible enjoyment of the audience. The players were Harry Tasker, Jim Record, Denis Crowhurst and Ian Clark, who made use of the opportunity for stage "business."

"Meiville Castle," a domestic comedy, has a Scottish connection which may make it read like a good play in Scotland. Whatever is in it was not apparent as played. The players could have been more disciplined and surer of their cues. It was a useful theatre workshop effort, however. The players were Kay Cameron as Meg, Marjorie Stephenson as Grannie, Eleanor Cameron and Peggy Cummings, both youthfully comely as the sisters Belle and Chrissie, and Hilda Northey as the bold servant Lizzie. Production was by Edward Stephenson.

"Undercurrent" Best

The most fully realized play of the evening was the socially significant, tragic "The Undercurrent" by Fay Ehlert. It was done with real emotive force, and fulfilled the function of a good play properly done; that is, it moved the audience. The production showed how authentically a play can be interpreted, even by relatively inexperienced actors on a small stag with strung-together sets. The players were more experienced than most in the three other plays, which partly accounts for its succss. All did well, Vera Tasker as Ma Fishyer giving an exceptional vibrating performance. Sonia Bissett, as the daughter of the contorted immigrant household who had fallen on evil ways, was also able to communicate emotion validly to the audience. Other players were William Wright (Pa Fishyer), Denis Crowhurst (Emil), Jeanne Mustard (Mrs. Floyd), and Elda Bulmer (Miss Page). The play was produced by Peter McCombe. It should be retained in the Group's repertoire.

It is good for the vitality and extension of the group's theatrical work that various members should try their hands at producing, as has been done in these presentations.

This was the first of three consecutive evening performances, ending Friday.

HOOT YANK—Members of the United States Army's first pipe band are bewildered by the complexities of the kilt and the sporran. Some of them are shown in Vancouver as they were issued their new garb. The kilts and sporrans were not available in the US, and the trip to Canada was necessary to obtain them. The way in which these members of the 2nd Infantry Division's band at Fort Lewis, Washington, wore the traditional Scottish garb and played the bagpipes almost broke the hearts of Scotsmen living on the West Coast. "At least they seem sincere," one commented on their playing.

Doreen Clifford Wins Prize For Best Speech

OMEMEE, April 8—(ENS)—The Upper and Middle School Oratorical Contest drew many interested people to Omemee High School Monday evening Doreen Clifford won first prize.

To supplement the oratorical program, students of the Lower School provided several musical numbers consisting of choruses and special numbers.

There was a mixed quartette by Dorothy Smith, Joan Zufelt, Gleh Cornell and Leverne McKee, a sextette by Joan Saulter, Beverly Deyell, Dorothy Smith, Joan Zufelt, Beverly Blakey and Frances McPhee, and two instrumental duets by Frances McPhee and Joan Whitmore and by Zoan Zufelt and John Brown. Joan Whitmore was pianist for the vocal numbers.

There was a pleasing variety in the topics chosen by the six contestants. Margaret Graham was first speaker, having chosen for her subject "Beanery Gang." Her clear voice, pleasing personality and good logic made easy listening. "Citizenship" was Dorothy Connell's subject. It was an all-round good talk and won for her second place.

John Morrissey spoke on "Life in Russia Today" a timely subject. Ernest Raffin's choice of subject was "Neon Signs." "Should Communism be banned in Canada"—was so well handled by Doreen Clifford as to give her first place in the contest. Morley Connell—the last speaker—interested the audience with the scientific discoveries of the noted horticulturist, "Luther Burbank."

Medals will be awarded Doreen and Dorothy.

The responsive reading was given by Mrs. Hess and "The Empty Tomb" was read by Mrs. Thompson with Mrs. Hess leading in prayers.

"That Beautiful Lord" was sung by Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Hess accompanied by Miss Marjory Scriver at the piano.

The president gave a brief report on the joint meeting held Thursday, March 31st at the home of Mrs. B. Preston and also extended a welcome to Mrs. Minnie Bromwell who has rejoined the group after spending the winter months in Peterborough.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Preston. Mrs. Hoarde gave the treasurer's report.

Several women volunteered to meet in the near future to quilt a quilt donated to the group by Mrs. Ethel German.

There will be a special service on Good Friday at 11 a.m. and on Easter Sunday there will be the regular 11 o'clock service and evening service which will be in charge of the Young People's Group of the church.

Many Friends Attend A. Brown Funeral

BETHANY, April 8—(ENS)—The funeral service of William Anderson Brown, 78, was held from his late residence in Bethany on Tuesday, in charge of Rev. W. R. Crandall of the United Church and was largely attended. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery with the service of the Orange Order at the graveside, for which their chaplain, Rev. T. S. Gault of St. Paul's church officiated.

Pallbearers were Walter Price, Andrew Watson, Walter Rowan, Willis Whiteside, Harry Bigelow, all of Bethany and Louis McGill of Janetville.

Bearing the many beautiful floral tributes were Robert Reid, Harry Gillis, Ray Challice, Milton Wright, Bruce Ryley, Chris. Cummiskey, Thomas Staples, Earl Argue, William Rowan, George Waddell, Charles Beaman, George Timms.

Mr. Brown had lived all his life in the community, a prominent figure in many activities. He was employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway and during the construction of the main line, Montreal to Guelph and the Peterborought-Port McNichol route was their property buyer and valuator. He was a member of the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 1022, the Masonic Order and Canadian Order of Foresters.

His father, Andrew Brown, was the first agent of the Midland Railway constructed through Bethany in 1857 and he also organized the local Orange Lodge in 1859, donating the property free of charge for the building of the first Lodge Rooms.

Immediately surviving are his wife, the former Hazel Swanson, and two daughters, Velma and June, all of Bethany; Nelson, the son of his first marriage to Blanche Price (who died in 1916) resides in Nickle Plate, BC; one sister, Mrs. Harry Moorehouse, Detroit, Mich., and two grandsons, Murray and David Brown, Nickle Plate, B.C.

LAST JUNE CHIEF ENGINEER SIGVALD FAINES sailed aboard his Norwegian tanker from Elizabeth, NJ, and left his dog Brownie, who overstayed his shore leave, behind. After nearly 10 months of waiting for his master's return, Brownie is still a one-man dog. He meets every incoming tanker, sniffs at the crew, but rejects an offer of friendship. Nobody knows where Faines is, but faithful Brownie still takes up his waterfront post just in case.

Highways Dept. Hints Court Action In Feud

TORONTO, April 8—(CP)—The Ontario Department of Highways spoke up Wednesday night about a feud with the William Moffat family on the Queen Elizabeth Way two miles west of St. Catharines.

A Department spokesman hinted at possibility of court action unless the Moffats give up their attempt to have a driveway from their farm out to the four-lane highway. He said this was a violation of highway regulations and would be a danger to traffic. The Department paid severance damages to the Moffats when the highway was built and felt the family could use another driveway leading on to a country road.

The Moffats removed fences and sand the Department put at the driveway to block the entrance. In the latest brush this week Mrs. Moffat, armed with a rake, thwarted an effort by Department men to dump sand.

Library Allowed $37,000, Circulation Up

Circulation at the Public Library for the first three months of 1949 is 46,174. This figure was given by William Graff at the Library Board meeting Thursday. This is an increase of 6419 books over the same period last year. In the Adult Department the increase in March was 1396 over last year's figures. The Juvenile Department which was down 855 for the first two months of this year had a circulation of 6,218 for March, being an increase of 711 over March's figures for 1948.

At the Branch Library, Park Street, the circulation in March for the Adult Department was 1,155. The Boys' and Girls' Department had 2690 books borrowed in March.

Mrs. Jean Henderson, librarian at the Branch Library reported that in the 25 days of operation 137 new adult borrowers had been registered. In the Boys' and Girls' Department there are 504 registrations. She reported that there was an average attendance at the film showings of 150 and an average of 75 children at the Story Hour Saturday afternoon.

In a letter from the City Clerk the Library Board were informed their estimates for 1949 had been decreased by $800. They will receive $37,000.00. He suggested that the money be paid in instalments of $3,600 for the first six months, $2,700 for the next two and $2,500 for the last four months. Members of the Board felt they should have had a representative at the meeting when the estimates were reduced.

Sword, Portraits Bequeathed

Mr. Graff told the Board that in the will of Isabella Mary Hall the Public Library had been bequeathed a portrait of her grandfather, John Harvey, a portrait of her grandmother, Mary Morris Harvey and a portrait of her aunt. As well as the portraits there is a sword carried by her grandfather which he used in 1837. Mr. Graff explained that the Harveys were among the first settlers in the Peterborough area. The paintings are by an artist belonging to the Royal Court.

Keith Wightman, chairman of the Board, mentioned the possibility of requiring a second exit at the Branch Library. Mr. Graff was instructed to write Fire Chief George Smith asking him to go down to the Branch Library on a Saturday when the Library there is at its peak hour.

Members of the Library Board present were Mr. Wightman, A. E. Borland, W. C. Ackerman, Mr. Graff, Rev. E. C. Moore and Mr. Richardson.

Burglars Loot Trent Cottages

HASTINGS, April 8—(ENS)—Constable A. A. Kellogg, in charge of the Hastings detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, is now hard at work endeavoring to track down the perpetrators of two summer cottage burglaries which occurred at McGuire's Point on the Trent River in recent days or weeks. In one case goods to the value of over $150 were taken while in the other case nothing was taken, but the bungalow was thoroughly ransacked by the thief or thieves.

The cottage from which the loot was stolen is owned by Thomas Holden, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and goods taken consisted largely of tools and household appliances such as electric iron, toasters and kitchen utensils.

Entry was made in both cases by picking the locks of the front doors, Constable Kellogg said. In the case of the Holden cottage no fishing gear or electric motors were disturbed. Apparently the burglar who entered the other dwelling could not find what he was looking for, but before he left he did a thorough job of leaving the place in a shambles. Name of the owner of this cottage was not available pending his arrival for the summer.

The stolen goods have not been recovered so far and no arrests have been made, but investigation is continuing. Possibility of other breaks in this area exists because if entry is made by picking locks it is difficult to tell if a break has occurred before arrival of the owner.

The various cottages have been checked regularly every three weeks all winter by the Provincial Police.

Citizens More Ready To Aid Humane Society's Inspector

The citizens of Peterborough have shown a noticeable increase in their goodwill and co-operation with the Humane Society, said M. V. Powell, Peterborough president, at the 28th annual meeting in the Public Library Thursday. People are more ready to give assistance to the society's inspector and have shown a willingness to give evidence in prosecutions against people who have ill-treated animals.

Inspector H. Dunford reported that during the year 69 dogs had been killed on the streets, 203 had been found and 182 were returned to their owners; 563 had been destroyed.

The same number of cats had been destroyed, 50 had been killed on the streets, and 42 had been sent to homes. Other animals which had been destroyed included a parrot, seven rabbits, four pigeons, a chipmunk, a hen, a coon, seven skunks and a pig. Seven city horses had been ordered to be shot.

Eleven cases affecting dogs had been taken to court, five of which were in respect of cruelty. In every case there had been a conviction.

In the year 1,083 dog tags had been sold. The inspector had handled 1,671 animals and had visited 18 farms.

City and bush horses had been ordered off work because of lameness and sore shoulders. Several truck loads of stock had been inspected at the market and at Canada Packers plant.

Covers 65-Mile Area

The territory in which the inspector had operated covered an area of 65 miles, including Springville, Manvers, Campbellford, Havelock, Bridgenorth, Selwyn, Douro, Keene, Marmora, Roseneath, Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Dunford, Chandos, Warkworth, Coboconk, Apsley, Haliburton and Jack's Lake. He had attended Peterborough market on Saturdays.

FILM A DISGRACE

Finance Minister Abbott's face, says G. K. Fraser, MP, Peterborough West, must have been the only thing in focus in the Film Board's screening of the opening of parliament in January. Certainly, he says, nothing else was. He told the Commons during study of supplementary estimates for the Board that its film on the parliamentary opening was "a disgrace" for a film-producing agency. "Why, I thought it was wonderful," Mr. Abbott chimed in.

Cost To Canada To Keep Man In 'Pen $25,000

In 95 per cent of the cases of juvenile delinquency it is the parents who are to blame, not the children, nor the conditions existing in the particular area in which a child may live, RCMP Constable Holman, Toronto headquarters, told Peterborough Humane Society Thursday. The constable spoke to the Society Thursday about his work among young people.

The average terms served by prisoners at Kingston Penitentiary was eight years, the constable said and in 85 per cent of the cases the police expected the prisoners to return on fresh convictions within three years of their release. One of the reasons he gave for this was that the criminals associated with undesirable characters there and if they did not "know the score" when they went in, they did by the time they left. He explained that the stigma attached to persons having served a term at the penitentiary was often too great an obstacle to overcome, even though they had endeavored to go straight. Others felt they wanted "to get back at society."

Improvement Shown

In contrast to this less encouraging aspect of police work, Constable Holman told of instances of considerable reductions of juvenile delinquency in certain areas of Ontario. In Dundas the police were holding two courts a day for children's cases. The Chief of Police decided to form a boys' band, which was made possible by private subscription and there were now no juvenile court cases. Now $2,000 was being spent on the band and $1,500 was saved.

Less Juvenile Crime

In Guelph, juvenile delinquency had dropped 85 per cent in three years he said. In a certain section of Toronto the police beats had had to be reinforced threefold on Hallowe'en Night. Since the formation of the Police K Club, named after the Kiwanis Club by whom it was financed, that was the only section which did not have to be reinforced.

Many of the criminals at the penitentiary had been juvenile delinquents. The constable said it cost $25,000 to prosecute and maintain a prisoner at the penitentiary for an average of eight years.

The RCMP film Through the North West Passage was shown after the constable's address. He was introduced by L. H. Bird and F. D. Kerr, KC, proposed a vote of thanks.

"Give your children sensible names when they're being baptized — don't burden them with names which later force them to become boxers in order to defend their honor." The three-week mission, which concludes this week-end at the cathedral, was marked with capacity congregations at all services.

RAILWAY SIGN BROKEN

Harry Seabrook of Fraserville, about 12 miles from Peterborough on No. 28A Highway, reported to the Provincial Police at 8.30 p.m. Thursday that the car he was driving left the road near the railway crossing at Fraserville. In doing so, he said, the vehicle struck a railway warning sign, breaking it off. Mr. Seabrook estimated damage to his car at around $5.00.

Bonds Stolen Last August Cashed In Toronto, Police Hold Jas. Nicholson

James Nicholson, wanted by Peterborough police for stealing one of three $100 bonds and wanted by Lindsay police for theft of a $1,000 bond, was arrested Thursday in a Toronto hotel on a warrant for charges of assault and stealing $16. Peterborough city police were notified by a Toronto bank on March 28 that Nicholson had cashed one of the $100 bonds stolen from Miss Phyllis Morrison last summer from her home, 269 Townsend St.

When Miss Morrison returned from her holiday in August last year, she missed three $100 bonds and three bonds of $50 each.

Nicholson, who was boarding at 263 Townsend St. at the time the bonds were missing, left Peterborough in January this year.

Peterborough police are now issuing a warrant to hold Nicholson on theft of one $100 bond.

Extensive Repairs To Fire Hall Roof

Contract for an extensive repair job to the fire hall roof was let Thursday to Trent Valley Roofing Co. at $164 by the property committee of the council. The work was recommended for immediate attention by Don Ephgrave who is in charge of the other alterations to the building that are now in progress.

In yielding the central office space for accommodation for some of the apparatus, the firemen have had to move upstairs, finally transferring a recreation room to the attic space under the eaves. That ocupancy required cutting dormer windows. Casual examination indicated to Mr. Ephgrave that certain repairs were advisable, and the property committee asked for tenders and let the roof job Thursday. Ald. Grant Miller, property chairman, presided.

Local Military Use Million Dollar Gear

Now valued at well over a $1,000,000 the equipment of the 50th Heavy AA Regiment, RCA, and the 37th Heavy AA Workshop, RCEME, will be rolled to the armouries square Saturday morning. This will be a special parade of the units at 9 a.m. The equipment will remain there for the balance of spring training.

At present the units are engaged in training for the summer camp and the special demonstrations to be held during Army Week, which is from May 15 to 22.

Boy Scouts Fill 6 Cars

Two hundred Boy Scouts from the troops in the city gathered paper until nearly midnight Thursday night. By that time they had filled six freight cars with magazines and newspapers.

From the collection the Scouts expect to have about 125 to 150 tons of paper. Twenty-nine trucks donated by merchants and industries of Peterborough collected the paper.

Dominion Stores Favor Set Back

Dominion Stores Limited are reported favorably disposed to the city's request that they set back their building three feet from the George St. line.

That setback by agreement was the adjourned note when the Municipal Board met here some weeks ago to hear objections to the proposed George St. widening bylaw. It was understood that the bylaw would be amended to apply only to new construction, and in that phrasing is expected to be referred soon to the council for enactment.

Dominion Stores have been planning to get under way early this month. Walter Mortlock, contractor, said today that ground would be broken at George and Sherbrooke streets either next Monday or Tuesday.

Some slight delay was caused, it was said, by the injection of the setback proposal which still lacks the sanction of bylaw.

Announce Transfers Of Three Provincials

Transfers affecting three members of the Ontario Provincial Police were announced today by Inspector E. V. McNeil, officer commanding Peterborough headquarters.

Constable A. W. Watson, for some time attached to the Minden detachment, has been transferred to No. 9 District Headquarters at Belleville.

Constable A. R. Edwards, a member of the headquarters staff at Peterborough, has been transferred to Minden, replacing Constable Watson.

The third staff change was the appointment of Constable A. L. Ketching to the Cobourg detachment, where he will be an additional man. He arrived here a few days ago after graduating from the OPP training school at Toronto.

Furs And Fliers Made Mackenzie Great Waterway

By The Canadian Press

A dour Scottish fur trader 160 years ago discovered a river, one of the biggest in the world. But today not one per cent of North America's population have ever seen the Mackenzie "which sneaks through the heart of a million square miles" of Canada's tundra.

Leslie Roberts, Montreal newspaper man, has written a book that should help readers visualize it. He pictures this highway to the top of the world in "The Mackenzie" (Clarke, Irwin) 37th in the Rivers of America series, and the first to be written by a Canadian.

Using the changes of transportation along the Dominion's greatest inland waterway system as milestones, Roberts depicts the march of northwest history in terms of canoes, York boats, paddle-wheeling steamboats, airplanes, tractor trains, highways and airdromes.

Starting in 1879 when Alexander Mackenzie paddled for 102 days on the river from Great Slave Lake to the Arctic Ocean and back again, he unwraps history of which many Canadians may be unaware.

The most fascinating reading in the 254 pages covers the period from the late 18th century to confederation when "white men travelled with their lives in their hands, not under peril from the Indian population but from each other."

It was a time when the Hudson's Bay Company and the North West Company cracked heads in a bitter fur trade war. Competitive traders "ambushed one another as they travelled over the ice . . . Men were maimed. Loads of furs were captured."

Fur Barons Ruled

The fur barons ruled the northwest with a rod of iron. The domain of the "Bay Company was, in fact, a quasi-military state" with troops and all.

The new empire builders, counterparts of Mackenzie, are the first pilots who flew this wilderness trail—Punch Dickins, Wop May, Leight Britnell and others. Gilbert LaBine who found pitchblende near Great Bear Lake in 1930—and thus provided the mother rock for the atomic bomb of the Second World War and possibly atomic energy for the present industrial age—made a discovery with a world impact.

"Now Canada's government begins to realize that in its frigid back yard lies what may be the richest supply of untapped mineral resources in the world," Roberts says.

The empire of Mackenzie stands on the threshold of the most tremendous development in the history of the country. The result will not be one or more big cities but many small communities grouped about mines.

Develop though it may, Roberts believes this frontier for 160 years "frontier will remain as long as mankind shall endure."

ALFRED WADEY, owner of the Dainty Box Lunch in Montreal, peers into an empty cash register. Minutes before this picture was taken, a man walked into the shop, holding what appeared to be a gun in his pocket and demanded Wadey's money. "I'm nervous," the hold-up man said. "Hurry up or I'll shoot." The bandit's haul, however, was less than $45.

Citizens More Ready

Inspector Dunford said he had attended a school in St. Catharines where he had received a great deal of help from other inspectors.

Mr. Powell explained that the lethal chamber in which the animals were destroyed ensured a painless death and there was no terror for the animal before death. He also said that dog control was entirely in the hands of the police and the bylaws governing animals were not made by the Society. The Society did, however, try to enforce humane methods of tying up dogs. He suggested that leashes should be tied to a ring on to clothes lines where there was shade and room for the dog to take exercise and water should be provided.

Need More Members

The Society was in need of more members, Mr. Powell said. There were usually some 70 members but that was not enough for a city the size of Peterborough. While the money raised by a large membership was appreciated, the Society also wanted members in all parts of the city who would report cases of cruelty. He wanted people who would put in a good word for the Society. It was not a private club but belonged to the citizens of the community. The Society was interested in seeing that animals "got a fair show."

Chief sources of revenue were a grant from the City Council for control of dogs, smaller amounts from the Community Fund, a share of the fines collected in police court and membership fees.

Mrs. M. V. Powell, secretary, reported a "slight" increase in membership. She recalled that a Silver Medal for bravery had been awarded Charles Jones of Burleigh in recognition of his attempt to save a dog from drowning.

The Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals now had a full time inspector, Chief Inspector C. W. Morris, a highly trained man who could be called upon by the Peterborough Society for difficult cases.

Animal welfare work had greatly increased in recent years. No sooner was the solution for one form of abuse found when some new problem arose. Horses had been mainly replaced by machinery but they were more in demand for pleasure. They were hired mostly by teen-agers whose main thoughts were for speed and thrills.

Names Cruel Practices

The Peterborough Exhibition was "fairly" free from objectionable entertainment involving animals and fortunately the rodeo form of entertainment had not recently been booked for Peterborough.

There had been a tendency in some places to have pulling contests which were dangerous to the well being of horses. The terrific strain from heavy loads easily caused cerebral haemorrhage resulting in blindness. Mrs. Powell also explained the cruelty of docked tails on hackneys and heavy show horses and described the evils of set tails. Horses with set tails had been exhibited in Peterborough, she said.

Mrs. Powell spoke in favour of canning horse meat in this country for shipment abroad, rather than shipping the live horses overseas for subsequent slaughter.

Use $300 From Reserve

A financial statement presented by the treasurer, Miss Essie Wood, showed that approximately $300 had been used from the reserve fund. Membership fees had amounted to $68. $1,100 had been received from the city's share of dog control, Peterborough Community Fund had donated $350 and there were other sundry receipts totalling $106.98. There had been a bank balance of $842.10 and the balance at the end of the year was $572.89.

The inspector's salary had been $1,320, there had been a car allowance of $120, out of town calls had cost $125.35 and at the shelter $17 had been spent on lights, disinfectant, etc.

Officers elected were: Patrons. Mayor Max Swanston, Gordon K Fraser M.P., Mr. and Mrs. F. D Kerr and W. G. Ovens.

President, M. V. Powell; first vice-presidents, Mrs. E. Stratford Martin; second vice-president, Mrs. S. O. Shields; treasurer, Miss Essie Wood; secretary, Miss June Fraser; publicity, Mrs. W. A. Young, director and representative to Ontario SPCA, Mrs. Young; representative to Red Cross and Community Fund, Mrs. Shields.

Executive: all officers and Miss M. Denne, membership convener; Mesdames M. V. Powell, F. Holmes, R. N. Stuart, H. Rennie, the Misses Jean White, M. Collins, E. McFadyen, Helen Lytle, and M. Denne.

F. Holmes was thanked for his services as auditor which he gave free of charge.

Princess Margaret Learns What Makes World Tick

LONDON, April 8—(AP)—The world and Princess Margaret are getting acquainted. Both seem downright impressed. The younger daughter of the King is 19 this year. She has had tutoring that equals schooling through four years of college. Now she's put out to see for herself what makes things tick.

Already she has listened to debates in both Houses of Parliament, attended sessions of juvenile and criminal court, visited children's homes, toured shipyards and factories and watched the publication of a London daily newspaper.

There are more such tours to come.

Wherever the pretty young Princess appears, crowds of loyal Britons gather and cheer her. She smiles back, and laughs at the traffic policemen trying to unravel the snarls her appearance inevitably creates.

Buckingham Palace says only "the Princess is getting experience at first hand of various aspects of the national life to fit herself for an adult role as a member of the Royal Family."

To vivacious Maragaret all this is fun. It is relief from the relatively cloistered life of a Royal darling. It is in line with a childhood remark that endeared her forever to Britons:

"I wish we could be visiting these places when Royalty aren't. aren't."

The young Princess became of age last Aug. 21, on her 18th birthday. That meant that if her father and older sister and now her nephew Prince Charles die, she could rule without the appointment of a regent.

Her first official duty was to represent the King—whom she calls "Dad"—at the Coronation of Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.

Palace informants hint there will be more such Royal functions, in which the King will be represented by a blue-eyed, pretty young girl with an impish smile and a keen interest in life.

So far the only romances in the life of the witty Princess are those London gossip columnists dream up.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

At the time of writing the city is being attacked by truck loads of boys out to collect paper from every possible source. One cannot speak too highly of the enthusiasm with which all concerned are getting down to the work.

Camporee—A special meeting is being called of the executive committee to draw up the program for the coming Camporee and it is hoped that copies will be in the mail within one week.

Rover Moot—It is reported that three Peterborough Rovers may be on the list for attending the Rover Moot in Norway this year. We do know that every man-jack of the Crew is working hard to raise funds for this trip.

Canadian Jamboree—No further word has been received about this but one Peterborough firm has stated their willingness to consider donating the district flag for the Troop.

Trinity Pack—It was fun night at the Pack with relay races, moving pictures and the final hot dog, cookie and cocoa feed. But the evening did not pass without honour as Frank Jobbitt presented his son Frank with the Artist badge. Bob Richey, Bert Heubeck, and Grenville Dafoe received their first Star from Akela after which Mr. B. I. Burgess, president of the local association presented the following badges:

Toymaker—Grenville Dafoe, Bob Richey, Bert Heuback.

Swimmer—Ted Spearin.

Artist—Grenville Dafoe.

Sonny Hutton passed his signalling tests.

Trinity Troop—A new lease on life is being recorded at the Troop. Scouter Davis is receiving help from R. Hanson, J. S. Forsyth and John Myall. All are former scouts with John a former King Scout, Rover Sea Scout and Scouter Doug Hancock has been promoted to Troop Leader to fill the spot left by Jack King who has been granted leave of absence for a few months to take up studies. Two investitures took place in the Troop last week at which Paul Sparrow and John Phillips were made full members with Mrs. Phillips and Mr. Sparrow on hand to witness the ceremony. Some tests were passed: Ivan McCovit, Union Jack, Laws and Promise. Jerry Van Hull, Union Jack, knots and repassed all tenderfoot work. It is a pleasure to note that Jerry is a young Dutch lad who is new to this country but wanted to keep his connection with Scouting and was to be reinvested this week.

Salvation Army—29 members of the Pack were present to welcome new Chum John McFadden and also to welcome back a visitor Carl Carlson who is now attached to a Cobourg Pack. Robert Smith, Clark Scholey and Paul Wilforg passed their Tenderpad tests and Kelvin Nichols passed skipping.

St. Paul's—21 members met around the council Rock as the Pack started out along the Jungle trail. Jack Cuffe and Teddy Coulson passed time telling, Ken Sloan, leap frog; R. Law, somersault; Roger Mallory, compass; Bobby Law and Allan Amos, book balancing.

Ask Government To Push Tourist Industry

OTTAWA, April 7 (CP) — A vigorous campaign to build Canada's tourist industry into a "billion-dollar" undertaking was urged Thursday in the Commons by J. W. Murphy (PC-Lambton West).

To this end, he called for the establishment of a permanent Commons committee on the tourist industry to work with and advise Trade Minister Howe, the minister in charge of the government-operated Canadian Tourist Bureau.

He said he was doubtful whether the industry was receiving sufficient attention from the government and urged that it be dealt with in a "more business-like manner."

An effort should be made to "sell Canada's good-will" and a library of Canadian films set up for distribution in the United States.

Howe Agrees

Mr. Howe, reviewing the Board's functions, said he agreed with Mr. Murphys objectives and promised to bring his suggestion for establishment of a committee to the cabinet's attention.

G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West), long-standing critic of the National Film Board, expressed agreement with Mr. Murphy's proposals for showing Canadian films abroad, but said he was not satisfied with the board's distribution of its material in the American market. This should come within the jurisdiction of the provinces.

He placed before the chamber a number of other objections to the Board's activities.

Cigarette Causes Fire

TRONTO, April 8 — (CP).—A smouldering cigarette butt was blamed for an apartment house fire on Thursday which made 14 persons, including eight children, temporarily homeless. Damage to the premises on west-end Dundas Street was estimated at $2,400.

Designers Hold 1949 Secrets

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, 8—(CP)—The newest creations in the 1949 London fashion cupboard will be unveiled next month.

It will be done with appropiate ceremony. Audience will be thousands of foreign buyers come to look, and, designers hope, to buy. Hosts will be British fashion houses and the Board of Trade. And the occasion will be a repeat of Britain's "Fashion Fortnight," first held last year.

The show is regarded as more important than ever this year. The government has emphasized the importance of more exports to dollar countries like Canada which took some $92,000,000 worth of British clothing, textiles and woollens last year. Authorities hope the Dominion will buy even more in 1949.

1949 "Look" A Secret

Last year British designers introduced a "modification" of the "New Look." But what they plan for 1949 will be held under wraps until the two-week show, May 16-27. However, it's known the newest things in London fashions carry the simplification further—to a smooth flowing fullness of line, with "black interest."

The straighter lines cunningly emphasize the quality of the cloth of the garment.

Fabrics themselves are being displayed at the British Industries Fair (May 2-13).

Last year's "fortnight" ended with a buffet luncheon given in the Windsor country house of the Queen's dress designer, Norman Hartnell. Squatting on the grass with drinks and a cold buffet lunch, the buyers were unanimous about the success of the 1948 show.

Export-anxious fashion traders hope they'll remember that when they come back this year.

Decorative Plan Of Modern Rooms Demands Comfort

WINNIPEG, April 8 — (CP).—Miss Yvonne Ring, lecturer in applied art in the faculty of home economics, University of Manitoba, advises home makers to allow their decorating and furnishing to reflect their personalities.

Miss Ring said in an address here that period and contemporary furniture could be used in one room with pleasant results.

"But whatever type of furniture you choose, whatever your color scheme, two things must be watched: Comfort is one of the best characteristics of a room. Secondly, the decorative scheme must not be overdone.

"Our homes reflect our personality, our way of life. The modern treatment is to create a plain, restful atmosphere, an idea of spaciousness where rooms are small. Modern decorators are bold in the sure of color in walls and furnishings, creating a cheerful, airy atmosphere."

There were many things to consider in furnishing the home—color line, form, pattern, texture and space limitations.

Modern Backgrounds

"Perhaps some modern rooms seem rather empty and cold, but they show off the colors in articles of furniture, the texture of drapes and upholstery, as well as texture of tapestry brick fireplaces and so on. Metal furniture is one new thing."

With slides, Miss Ring showed modern homes with large rooms having a dining area at one end and living space at the other. This avoided the use of partitions and small rooms with a crowded appearance.

Open planning showed that many modern homes have no real hallways, the living room extending right up to the stairways.

Other features of modern homes reflecting today's mode of living were built-in furniture, china cabinets, book cases, attractive windows opening an entire side of a room to the light and outside scenery.

Chippendale and Adam furniture of the 18th century often can fit into the homes of today. Miss Ring said. She showed slides of Winnipeg homes, some of them entirely modern, some blending traditional and contemporary ideas in one room.

"More and more custom built furniture made in Winnipeg is providing lovely settings in local homes. The light-colored woods used in modern furniture seem to fit that style best, and the period furniture looks loveliest in its dark, warm-toned woods."

DOROTHY DIX

Warns Marriage Ceremony Is Not a Magic Reformer

DEAR MISS DIX: Lois is a very cuddlesome girl and seems to crave affection, but she tells one lie, then tells six more to cover it up. She swears, drinks, pets, deceives, smokes and tells off-colored jokes. She wants to marry me, but I keep putting her off as I do not know what to do in her case.

Dorothy Dix

Do you think we would be happy together, or is she a person no one could count on, especially as a wife? Please answer soon as Lois is waiting for my answer to her proposals.

DOUBTFUL.

ANSWER: No matter how cuddlesome a girl is, she will not make a desirable wife if she has no moral standards. According to your account, Lois not only is an accomplished liar, but also is afflicted with all the other vices on the calendar. And why any man would dream of tying up with such a creature passes all comprehension.

Whether men believe that the marriage ceremony is a magic that chances a woman from what she is to what she should be, nobody knows. But every day we see highly intelligent men marrying dumb Doras, men of high ideals marrying girls who have no principles at all, honest and honorable men marrying women whom they have seen cheat at cards and have known to "pick up" fine handkerchiefs and furs at big parties.

Man Must Trust Wife

It may seem a chivalrous thing to you, son, to marry a girl to reform her; but it seldom, if ever, results in anything but bitter disappointment. For the women who either through heredity or environment or temperament are liars and cheaters can never be trusted, and no husband can be happy unless he believes his wife as implicity as he believes in God.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTH YDIX: I am a girl 15 years old and have a problem with which I am unable to cope. My Daddy died only four months ago. He left my mother a good amount of money and his business, which she is running with the help of a boy whom she employs.

Now my mother has started going out with this boy who is only 16 years old, and she is acting as if she were only 20, instead of being 38. She is starting to wear make-up and putting on bobby sox to try to look like a kid. The boy steps out with her, but anybody can see that he is only after her money. However, nothing that anyone says does any good.

How can I show her how foolish she is?

ANSWER: You poor little girl-child—trying to solve the problem of how to make a mother, who has gone haywire over her sudden freedom in being left a widow with money, return to sanity! You need the wisdom of 50 years instead of 15 to handle this situation and make your mother see how foolishly she is acting and how certainly she is bringing down disaster upon herself and her children. Nothing is more shocking or more pitiful than the widow who regards her husband's death as her emancipation proclamation.

Yet we see this tragedy happen every day. Old widows who deck thmselves out like young girls and talk about their "boy friends." Widows, who have never had the handling of anything but the grocery money, throwing away their inheritance in extravagant living. Widows who let their children dominate them and ruin them, often letting one child bankrupt the whole family.

And the worst of it is that there is no way of putting sense in a silly woman's head, or keeping the woman who is hungry for excitement from having her fling. Nothing is sadder than the tragedy that befalls a family when a woman who is ignorant of how to handle money, wastes it and leaves her children penniless!

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am often asked why such an attractive girl as I, isn't married. Well, it is because I love my liberty more than I do any man. I ask no one's permission for what I do. I don't have to beg movie money. My employer gives me a good pay envelope. I don't spend all of my free time washing, cooking and slaving while wondering where my wandering husband is.

I'll grant you that life without the right man can be lonely at times; but until I find the kind of a man I want, I am content to write "Miss" before my name.

BACHELOR GIRL.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Fine for you! You have the right dope. There is no adage so true as the old one that says: "It is better to be laughed at because you are not married than not be able to laugh because you are married."

LOW INCOMES

It is estimated that before the war one-third of the U.S. families had incomes under $1,000 a year.

POPULAR IN CHINA

Tea has been cultivated in China for more than 2,000 years.

CANADIAN FASHIONS—Left, pointed lapels and envelope pockets accent this suit which also features centre-pleated skirt. Centre, the Taj Mahal model is of fine Czechoslovakian wool in shades of gold brown and white. Right, a two-piece shantung dress has closing side sweeping diagonally from rolling collar that follows new deep V neckline. Gold rimmed self buttons are balanced with side pockets full of looped bows.

Women's Field In Engineering Rather Limited

By MARIENNE IZSAK

NEW YORK, April 8— (CP)—Women who want to be engineers might do well to start by studying the plumbing in their homes.

Sanitary engineering is the field with most openings and opportunities for advancement, says the women's bureau of the United States department of labor.

"Such problems as water supply and sewage, insect and rodent control, housing and air control seem to hold more interest for women than men," says a recent report.

But there is room for women in other fields of engineering and architecture—if they hurry.

Less than one-third of one per cent of all engineers in the United States are women, says the bureau. Women architects are even less numerous. The catch is that the rate of graduations from universities is so great that the supply of engineers will overtake the demand within a few years. And most of those graduating are men.

There is still some prejudice against women in engineering, the bureau reports. The main reason is that engineering requires much field work and travel to remote sections. A few women have overcome this. Some have stayed with the same organization for years and have developed a specialty; others have become well enough established to operate independently as specialists.

Chief Fields

Women have been numerous in civil, mechanical and electrical engineering than in chemical, industrial, mining or metallurgical branches.

Chief sources for employment in civil engineering are government, public utilities, educational institutions and highway planning.

Because of the number of veterans returning with an interest in mechanical and aeronautical engineering, this field is limited for women.

The picture looks brighter in the field of industrial engineering, the bureau says. During the war, women were welcomed, and they adapted machines and work-processes to large numbers of inexperienced women. In nursing and teaching, where the most effective use of human energy is a problem, industrial engineers can contribute much.

But the report says that, to succeed, a woman needs a considerable amount of work experience and must have "persuasive qualities" to obtain the chance to prove the economic and social value of her skill.

Although there are fewer women architects than engineers, they have been more conspicuous.

Chances in architecture are good because fewer women prepared for the work during the war than before and construction activity is expected to continue at a high level for some time.

Women can fill a special need in the design and remodelling of homes, institutional residences, hotels, dress shops, tea rooms, school and community buildings, the bureau suggests.

Should Cook Eggs, Custard At Low Temperature, Advice

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, April 8 —(CP)—Here's a tip for brides—many a family row has started from nothing more than a complaint by the head of the household that his breakfast egg wasn't cooked properly.

Home economists say a "hard-boiled egg should never be seen."

And by that they mean an egg which has been cooked at a high temperature which toughens the tender albumen of eggs. All eggs should be cooked at low temperatures.

This applies to custards as well. High temperature or long cooking curdles custard because the egg is toughened and separates from the liquid. While such a mistake cannot be corrected if the custard is baked, on the other hand a custard sauce may be reclaimed by turning immediately into a cold bowl and beating vigorously witha rotary egg-beater.

Eggs au Gratin—Ingredients: four cooked potatoes; one-half cup milk; four green onions (one-half cup chopped); salt and pepper; six hard-cooked eggs; one-half cup grated cheese.

Slice potatoes into a greased casserole. Heat milk and pour over potatoes. Cover top with sliced green onions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover and bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 24 minutes. Cut eggs in half—lengthwise. Arrange on potatoes, cover with grated cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 minutes in a moderately slow oven of 325 degrees to heat eggs and melt cheese. Yield: six servings.

Cheese and eggs also go together well in a Cheese Souffle.

Ingredients: four tablespoons butter; four tablespoons flour; two cups milk; two cups grated cheese; one-half teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon mustard; one-eighth teaspoon paprika; one-eighth teaspoon soda; three eggs.

Melt fat in pan. Add flour while stirring. When smooth add milk, salt, mustard, paprika and soda. When thickened add grated cheese and stir until smooth. Pour over beaten egg yolks and when blended fold in egg whites stiffly beaten. Pour into a large greased casserole. Set in pan of hot water and bake in oven of 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 45 to 50 minutes until firm. Serves six.

A Spanish Omelet is welcomed as a supper dish by nearly every family.

Pour the following sauce over a plain six-egg omelets fry eight or nine slices of bacon, then add medium-sized onion sliced. When browned, add three-quarters quart of canned tomatoes, season with cayenne and salt and cook 10 minutes. Then add a small sized can of peas, drained. Mix in the bacon which has been cut in small pieces and small can of mushrooms, cut in half. Cook five or six minutes longer, or until it begins to thicken. Just before removing from fire add 1½ dozen stuffed olives, cut in halves.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are going to the hospital to visit an acquaintance and you are able to take along flowers from your garden.

WRONG WAY: Feel that since you are not a close friend of the person, taking flowers from your own garden would seem too informal a gesture.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that when you are visiting the sick, such friendly informality as taking flowers from your garden shows real thoughtfulness and feeling.

Mercy Flier Finds Babies Dying Of Hunger Adults Starving In Beds

Doctor, Pilot Bring In 910 Lbs. Of Food More Urgently Needed; Say Plight Of 100 Villagers Desperate

ST. JOHN'S, April 9—(CP).—Hunger-stricken residents of the tiny Labrador fishing village of St. Mary's Bay dug into their first fresh food supplies in months today following a mercy flight by a Grenfell Mission doctor and a Charlottetown pilot. Dr. Gordon Thomas, who made the trip with 910 pounds of food Friday, described the plight of the 100 villagers as "desperate." He was flown to the village by Freeman Fleming of Charlottetown, from St. Anthony, the Grenfell Mission post at the northern tip of Newfoundland.

Dr. Thomas, in a telegram to Premier Smallwood, said the situation "is desperate in southern Labrador at Fox Harbor." He said Fleming was making another trip with 1,200 pounds of food.

Dr. Thomas reported babies were being fed on flour and water and were dying. Six expectant mothers were in bad condition and needed milk and vegetables at once.

Bad Weather

It could not be learned here whether Fleming had taken off on the second trip. At Goose Bay, 100 miles northwest of St. Mary's Bay, an RCAF Dakota loaded with supplies was grounded by adverse weather.

Dr. Thomas reported some persons in other communities along the southern Labrador coast were bed-ridden from hunger.

At Booth's Cove, nine destitute families were feeding their children on molasses and water. Four families at Seal Bight were bedridden from malnutrition.

Word that villagers at St. Mary's Bay were starving came Thursday from Miss Dorothy Jupp, International Grenfell Association nurse at the settlement.

In a telegram to Mr. Smallwood, Miss Jupp said babies were being fed on flour, water and molasses. There was no milk, vegetables, meat, butter or tea.

Brought Coat From Canada Teacher Says

SANTA MONICA, April 9 (AP)—Betty Ritchie, pretty sweetheart of Gerard Dennis, accused society burglar, told in court Friday how she got a $3,500 mink coat.

She is charged with receiving it as stolen property.

Miss Ritchie testified she was confused when she told officers who raided her Beverly Hills apartment on Feb. 16 she had brought the coat with her from Canada.

The 24-year-old former Toronto schoolteacher said it was a black Persian lamb coat she brought from the Dominion, not the purloined mink.

She said, "Gerry gave it (the mink) to me" last November. Dennis told her he bought it second hand when she asked him why it had no label, she added.

In addition to the mink, claimed by Mrs. Waite Phillips, wife of an oil magnate, officers found more than $100,000 in a locked closet in Miss Ritchie's apartment. She testified she didn't know what was in the closet.

She told Deputy District Attorney Mervin Aggler she met Dennis in a Hollywood dance hall in January, 1942, and they lived as man and wife after May, 1948.

The trial was recessed until Monday when the case will go to the jury of nine women and three men.

Fire Threatens Pulp Stock Pile

CAMPBELLFORD, April 9—Fire in the pulp stock pile of the Gair and Co. of Canada pulp mill on the east bank of the Trent River threatened thousands of cords of pulp wood.

Campbellford firemen were working against the blaze, but it was thought likely they might need the assistance of other brigades to bring the fire under control.

A previous outbreak in the pulp stock pile lasted for several days.

At first it was thought the Peterborough fire brigade would have to be called, but after fighting the blaze for three quarters of an hour with the town's new pumper, it was brought under control.

The fire was discovered about 9 p.m. by Davis Bowen, a service station operator. It is believed the fire was caused by a spark from the kiln.

31 CSU Men Lodged In Jail

VANCOUVER, April 9 (CP)—Thirty-one members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) today were lodged in city jail following a brief flare of violence Thursday night in the current two-coast deep-sea shipping strike.

Vancouver police swarmed over Lapointe pier after the CSU crew re-manned the freighter SS Riverside and threw off 10 rival seafarer's International Union men who had pulled alongside the vessel in a launch and clambered aboard on Jacob's ladders.

Sixty police officers maintained a two-hour vigil before they finally boarded the ship and quietly took the men to jail.

The "evacuation" was conducted peacably.

Car Kills Deer

BANCROFT, April 9 — (ENS).—It was an expensive night's entertainment for Clifford Shea of Peterborough, when he attended the veterans' Vimy dance at Bancroft Friday. Driving along Highway 28, 17 miles west of Bancroft, his car hit a deer, killing the animal and damaging the car to the extent of $100.

Constable Kills Bandit Using Boy As Shield

VANCOUVER, April 9 (CP)—A young traffic officer whose second bullet hit a frenzied bank bandit in the forehead after the two had exchanged shots outside the Commercial Drive branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce today had Chief Constable Walter Mulligan's word that he was a "credit to the force"—and a promotion from second to first-class rating.

He had also a pay increase of $21 monthly.

The officer—26-year-old Cecil William Paul—drove his motorcycle around the corner in the residentiay district of Grandview Friday just as the bandit, tentatively identified as Robert Harrison, 29, left the bank which he had just shot up and robbed of $3,000.

In the holdup, the gunman wounded C. T. Scanlan, manager of the bank's branch, and accountant Arthur T. Pearson. Pearson was shot in th right chest, his wound is considered serious.

Uses Boy As Shield

As the bandit left, he grabbed five-year-old Ian Eriendson, and held the screaming boy in front of him as a shield.

Paul, rounding the corner at that moment, jumped from his motorcycle and drew his revolver. He fired a warning shot. The bandit returned his fire. With his second shot, Paul—an army veteran — hit the gunman in the forehead.

Bank employees said the gunman, wearing a white handkerchief mask, had entered the bank shooting. One shot wounded manager Scanlan, another Pearson. The gunman fired four more, narrowly missing employees.

Paul said he had "the best excuse in the world" for firing at the bandit. The boy in his arms came ouly up to his chest. "That left me plenty to shoot at." The bandit killing was the first since the False Creek gun battle here two years ago. Officers Charles Boyes and Oliver Ledinghan died in that encounter, together with bandit suspect Douglas Carter.

Tito Intends Deal With West

BELGRADE, April 9 — (CP)—Marshal Tito defiantly served notice today that Yugoslavia feels free to deal economically with the west.

Tito spoke for two hours and 12 minutes before the Peoples' Front Congress in the great hall of suburban Topchidar's tree-lined—and well-guarded—park.

It was his first major address since New Year's Eve. Then he barked harshly at the Cominform neighbors who 10 months ago denounced him for pursuing Nationalist and Trotskyite policies.

Today, Tito hit back again. He was in an independent and defiant mood. He charged that Russia and her Soviet satellites in the Cominform (Communist Information Bureau) were attempting to promote a civil war in Yugoslavia by attempting to persuade his country's mixed population to throw out his regime.

Picton Sailor Beaten By Three Men In Taxi

MONTREAL, April 9—(CP) — Thomas Rousseau, a member of the Seafarers Internation Union, told police Friday he was kidnapped, beaten and robbed shortly after alighting from a bus here. He said he had come from Picton, Ont., and was on his way to join a ship. Police quoted Rousseau as saying he was accosted by three men in a taxi who asked if he was a member of the S.I.U. After he had told them he was, the men overpowered him and forced him into the cab.

Appoint Royal Commission For Cultural Activities

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent has created his promised Royal Commission to investigate all phases of Canada's cultural activities.

The commission officially described as "The Royal Commission of National Development in the Arts, Letters and Sciences," will be headed by Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Chancellor of the University of Toronto.

The commission's field covers Federal Government activities in radio, television, moving pictures, art galleries and museums, archives, libraries, research and scholarships, also relations with cultural organs of the United Nations and national volunteer bodies influencing cultural progress. The commission is empowered to hold meetings anywhere in Canada.

Four commissioners will assist Mr. Massey. They are:

Arthur Surveyer, 71, Montreal consulting engineer; Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, 55, president of the University of British Columbia; Most Rev. Georges-Henri Levesque, 46, Dean of Social Sciences, Laval University; and Dr. Hilda Neatby, 45, acting head of the history department, University of Saskatchewan.

The commission is instructed to examine and make recommendations on which the policy of the government should be based in the fields of radio and television.

It is instructed also to examine and recommend the "eventual character and scope" of a proposed national library.

Rescue Crews Nearing Little Girl

Must Bring Youngster Up Through Pipe No Sound For Hours

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 9 (AP)—Rescue crews today reached the depth at which 3½-year-old Kathy Fiscus is believed trapped inside a 14-inch casing in an abandoned well 120 feet deep.

And men, armed with torches, descended to cut through the casing at a depth of 85 feet.

They are in a 25-foot-wide hole gouged during the night by giant crane shovels under the glare of 50 floodlights.

A smaller hole was dug deeper, but plans to use it to reach the casing were abandoned.

Crews in the bigger hole used crowbars to pry away rocks and dirt to reach the outside of the casing.

Soup kitchens were set up for the grimy, skilled drill crews.

While firemen pumped oxygen into the narrow, 14-inch metal casing, police and other workmen excavated on two sides of the well.

But there was no sound from within the pipe, where at least 87 feet down the child has been wedged since late yesterday afternoon.

Fear Bends in Pipe

Complicating the problem, diggers say, was the possibility the old pipe might have a bend or two, and also might contain some water, although the well has not been used in recent years.

The location of the girl at the 87-foot level was determined by dropping a ball attached to a steel tape. It stopped against something in the pipe at that level and was pulled up dry, firemen said.

But there was no cry from below.

There had been no cry or word from little Kathy since about an hour after she tumbled down the shaft while running after her sister, Barbara, nine, and her cousin, Gus Lyon, five.

"We can only hope Kathy is sleeping," said Police Chief Glen McClung, speaking what was on the mind of every worker and watcher, including Kathy's distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Fiscus. Hundreds stayed on through the night to watch the rescue efforts.

Playing In Lot

Kathy was playing in a vacant lot near her home when it happened. The children were racing from one end of the lot to the other.

When the two older children looked back, they couldn't see Kathy. They started searching and Gus almost stepped in the hole when he heard screams of terror rising faintly from below.

The children ran and got Mrs. Fiscus. She came and shouted down to her daughter: "Can you hear me, Kathy?"

A faint "yes" came between screams.

First officers at the scene lowered a rope down the pipe and said they felt some pressure at

Canadians Snooty About Taking Vitamins

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP). — "Canada approved" flour, an enriched product recommended as tops in vitamin content, isn't selling in the Dominion because Canadians prefer white bread.

Sales have dwindled because consumers generally prefer bread made from the white product of the modern mill, refined to a point that it loses natural vitamin content.

Bakers do not like it because it does not keep as well as ordinary flour.

Dr. C. H. Goulden, Dominion cerealist, noted that in the United States extra vitamins are introduced into all types of flour. Thus the consumer gets his food value no matter what kind of flour he buys.

This enriched or fortified flour is similar to that used in Newfoundland. It was credited in a recent American nutritional survey in that province as being partially responsible for the improved health of the Newfoundland population.

NORWOOD MAIL COURIERS' SERVICE totals 52 years for the three people shown above. Miss Helen Watson, Left, is youngest in the service with seven years. Mrs. Nellie Rogers, extremely well-known, took over the route from her husband, Jack, 17 years ago; he held it for 16 more prior to this. The oldest in service is William Ferguson, Right, with 28 years on his record.

Hold 5 Seamen In Connection With Shooting

HALIFAX, April 9 — (CP). — Five members of the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) today faced charges in connection with a shooting fracas during the Friday's pre-dawn battle on the waterfront here.

The men, all natives of Montreal, were taken off Halifax-to-Montreal train at Moncton Friday night by RCMP Inspector J. C. Cruickshank, who gave their names as Henry Pilgrim, Charles Lima, Paul N. Pavette, Ferdinand Daudelin, and Theodore Lege, all of Montreal.

RCMP gave no further details. However, there were unconfirmed reports that shotguns and shells had been found on the men.

A waiting quiet reigned over Halifax piers after Friday's four-hour battle between the rival unions.

Friday night, steel-helmeted RCMP carrying sidearms, descended on Pier Three, berth of the freighter Sunprince, after there were rumors that the SIU planned a boarding foray. No disorders ensued.

RCMP searched the three CNS ships and held one man for questioning about the morning's alleged shooting. Earlier attempts to load SIU members' luggage were thwarted by CSU pickets.

There were no reports of SIU members appearing in Saint John NB, where three vessels have been immobilized by the walkout. Gang planks of the three freighters were hauled in and the ships moved off a short distance from the pier.

Two Schoolgirls Killed By Car

STURGEON FALLS, April 9 (CP)—Two young Sturgeon Falls schoolgirls, cycling along the highway Friday evening, were struck and killed by a car which drove up behind them.

The girls were Christine Casey, 13-year-old daughter of Frank Casey, Principal of Sturgeon Falls Public School, and her friend Denise Gaudfroid, 14, stepdaughter of Sturgeon printer Florian Dalaire.

Police say the driver of the car which hit them was Oscar Dinelle, Sturgeon Falls plumber.

The accident occurred at 8 p.m. Friday, two miles east of the town on Highway 17. The two girls were cycling towards Sturgeon Falls and Dinelle was travelling in the same direction.

It is understood the driver claims he did not see the two cyclists until he was on top of them. Christine Casey was killed instantly by the collision.

$50,000 Missing

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—A manila envelope containing $50,000 in cash was reported missing Friday from the international airport offices of K.L.M. Royal Dutch Airlines. Police said it was left on an office desk and disappeared Thursday night. An Amsterdam-bound plane that left Idlewild early Friday was held up at Gander, Nfld., in the hope the money might have gone aboard it without being noticed. All cargo was removed and crew and cabin compartments searched without finding any trace of the money, which was in $100 bills.

R. R. Mail Goes Through Thanks To Women Couriers

NORWOOD, April 9—(By Staff Reporter).—Everyone in Norwood and Hastings knows Mrs. Nellie Rogers, mail courier for the past 17 years. She is a vivacious woman who took over her husband's, Jack Rogers, mail route in 1932 between Norwood and Hastings. She bustled into the Post Office on Friday noon, too busy to interview reporters who saw a magnificent story in the making. She wheeled her light truck into the rear entrance and dashed into the sorting room to get about her business. It was quite evident that she disliked publicity of any kind but she was so well known in the village it was not too difficult to piece her story together.

On the 15-mile route between Norwood and Hastings she is known and liked by everyone and she makes a point of going out of her way to accommodate her customers who want errands done. The service of the Post Office is well ingrained in her and she will go to any end to deliver mail, even when she hears that roads are impassable.

Her husband started to deliver mail over the same route in 1916, first using horses entirely, then by car in summer and horses in winter. Mrs. Rogers has not had to drive horses during her time but she gives one the feeling that it is not beyond her ability, by any means.

On Route 33 Years

The Norwood mail contracts are held by A. M. Weir and by his father, John, many years before him. There is the route from to Post Office to the station that used to require four trips a day. Now there are only two each day but the lonely trip on 2:12 a.m. Monday morning is still in effect. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers still go on this trip together and get up at this unearthly hour to take the sacks to and from the station. They report that there has never been any trouble during the last 33 years in anyone trying to molest them. The Rogers have held this sub-contract and the daily trip to Hastings for the past 33 years. As if mail carrying was not enough for one woman to attend to, she has been and still is organist and choir leader at the Norwood Presbyterian Church for many years.

"She goes all out in anything she undertakes," said Mr. Rogers of his wife. This seemed to sum up the lady to her husband and to the citizens of two villages and her legion of friends in the country.

Other Remarkable Couriers

Norwood seems to run to women mail couriers. Miss Helen Watson has been handling another sub-contract west and north of the village for the past eight years. She took it over from her father, Cecil Watson, during war years and gets a great kick out of it. Her route takes her north from Highway 28, along Concession 8 to 6 and south. She says that the normal running time is one hour and in winter it has taken her five hours and that she was still unable to complete all of it.

The story of Norwood mail couriers would not be complete without recording the service of

Judge Sentences Carr To 6 Years

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP)—Two mysteries still hovered over the scene today after Sam Carr was sentenced to prison for six years in Canada's 19th espionage trial.

One was the story behind the surprise witness, Mendel Krieger of Los Angeles, who calmly admitted that he agreed in 1940 to spy for Russia in Japan and who said he gave the Russians a report on U. S. air force training.

The other was the whereabouts of the false Ignacy Witczak, the "very important" Russian agent for whom Carr was convicted of obtaining a Canadian passport and who Krieger said was the "brilliant" man who sold him on the idea of "conspiratorial work."

As for Carr, 43-year-old former organizing secretary of the Labor-Progressive party, he was in jail preparing for his appeal from the sentence imposed yesterday by County Judge A. G. McDougall.

Churchill Home

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., April 9 (AP).—Conservative Leader Winston Churchill returned to England Friday from a speech-making trip to the United States. Coming ashore from the liner Queen Mary, his first question was: How did the Conservatives do in the London county elections? There was cheering word for him—his party was a winner.

Hope 3-Power Agreement Will Aid Russ Settlement

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP).—Officials expressed hope today that a new three-power agreement on Germany, bringing the western powers into closer unity than ever before, may improve chances for an eventual settlement with Russia.

The agreement announced Friday will result in the merger of the American, British and French zones of occupation in Western Germany, with the promise that military control—but not military occupation—will be dropped as soon as the Germans set up their own "federal republic."

The next move is up to Russia, which occupies Eastern Germany.

The agreement, announced Friday, by State Secretary Acheson and Foreign Secretaries Bevin and Schuman, climaxed a 10-day period of diplomatic activity probably unprecedented in Washington's history.

Besides breaking the long disagreement over the former enemy country, those 10 days brought the signing of the Atlatnic pact — which President Truman plans to send to the Senate for ratification early next week — followed by requests from eight member power for American arms and dollars under the treaty.

The Senate topped these events Friday night by giving its overwhelming approval—on a 70-7 vote to another 15 months of Marshall-plan aid for Western Europe.

While few details of the German agreement were disclosed, the heart of the settlement apparently was a compromise between the United States and France.

Chinese Reds Attack On Yangtze

Hurl Veteran Troops Along 650-Mile Front; Nationalists Withdraw

NANKING, April 9 —(CP)—China's Communists put pressure behind their peace demands today by exploding an offensive against Nationalist north-bank bridgeheads along a 650-mile Yangtze-river front.

Red troops hammered at remaining government positions north of the great river in a wide-scale operation which military observers say is setting the stage for major assaults across the Yangtze into South China.

With the heat on militarily, the government's peace delegation resumed negotiations in Peiping. But they were mostly marking time while top Nationalist officials assembled in Nanking for the framing of the final government reply to Communist demands for virtual surrender.

Gen. Tang En-po, Nationalist commander in the vital Shanghai-Hongchow-Nanking triangle, was reported personally directing defensive operations against a Red thrust on an important bridgehead opposite Chinkiang. Chinkiang, 39 miles east and a little north of Nanking, is the capital of Kiangsu province.

Expect Main Drive

The official military news agency reported new Communist attacks on bridgeheads fronting on the Yangtze opposite Wuwu, 50 miles up-river from Nanking. Military observers believe the first main Red drive across the river may be made there.

The official central news agency admitted Nationalist troops were withdrawing before Red columns moving southward from Hankow, Yangtze river port 375 miles up-river from Nanking.

The spotlight on the peace front definitely had shifted for the moment from Peiping to Nanking. The meeting of high government leaders in the Nationalist capital must make its momentous decision before its representatives at Peiping can talk turkey with the Reds.

The Communists demand the government's answer by Tuesday.

Naval Inquiry Held At Halifax

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP).—An inquiry into recent incidents on Canadian naval vessels will open at Halifax Monday, naval headquarters announced today.

The enquiry will be conducted by Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chairman, and two Ottawa lawyers, Leonard W. Brockington, and L. G. Audette, the latter of the Canadian Maritime Commission.

"Because of the various suggestions that have been made as to the causes of the incidents," the announcement said, "it has been considered desirable to appoint as members of the inquiry two outstanding civilians."

Assisting in the inquiry will be W. N. Wickwire, K.C., of Halifax, and Commander P. R. Hurcomb, Judge Advocate of the Fleet.

German Leaders Seek Federal Government

BONN, Germany, April 9 (AP)—German leaders today were called upon to form a West German federal government quickly or "face catastrophe."

The appeal for quick action, following up the three-power Washington agreement on Germany, was made by Dr. Konrad Adenauer, president of the assembly drafting a constitution here.

The West-German political parties have been squabbling over small differences for months and this has held up the formation of a government.

The point at issue is whether major financial control should rest with the federal government, as favored by the Left-wingers, or with the individual states of West Germany, as favored by the Western Allies and the Conservatives.

Plan Club Room For Boxing

A poor loser can be spotted quicker in boxing than in probably any other sport, Fred Steele, Ontario Athletic Commissioner, pointed out at a meeting Friday night of the Peterborough Administrative Boxing Council. A low punch or other foul tactics can be seen readily in the ring, Mr. Steele said, more so than in any other game. The Commissioner has been interested in amateur boxing for many years.

Ron Menzies, temporary secretary, of the PABC., introduced Mr. Steele to the Council members.

In a survey made by Mr. Menzies during the last two weeks, it was found that there are no sections of the city where youth is out of line. He had the assurance of the police department on this, and he felt that one such club as the present one is sufficient.

Two buildings were mentioned as possible boxing club rooms, one in the Exhibition Grounds and the other the Ashburnham community hall. A committee to investigate the latter hall or a secondary site consists of: Constable Reg McMillen and Henry Nokes, with power to add to the membership.

Mr. Menzies reported that Harold Inman and Sammy Hackett had offered to assist in coaching the boys. He said there were also several others willing.

Attending the meeting were: Ron Menzies, Wilfrid Jones, of the Industrial Athletic Association; the Rev. E. C. Moore, of the Ministerial Association; Reg. McMillen of the police department; Isadore Black, service club council; Henry Nokes, boy scouts; Dr. Ralph Honey, of the Board of Education; Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH; Capt. Albert Mason, fire department; and Cpl. L. T. Keeler, provincial police.

Frost Considers PC Leadership

TORONTO, April 9 — (CP).—At least four candidates appear certain to enter the race for the Leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ontario.

The closing day of the spring session of the Ontario Legislature brought an announcement by Education Minister Porter that he would run and Provincial Treasurer Frost said he was giving the matter "serious consideration."

Two other candidates have already declared themselves— Attorney-General Blackwell and Kelso Roberts, Toronto lawyer and former member of the Legislature.

Mr. Frost said he would make an announcement "in a few days."

The convention meets here on April 25-27. It was called to select a permanent Leader to succeed George Drew who resigned after his election as the National Leader last fall. Hon. T. L. Kennedy took the Provincial Leadership and served as Premier on a temporary basis pending the convention.

PLAY IN PARK

Now that the Parks Department has finished its annual cleanup of Victoria Park to remove the winter debris of sticks, stones, paper and other rubbish, the school children are rolling around on the grassy surface as though it were summer. The older generation which frequents the park in summer is apparently waiting for the benches to ge set out.

PROFIT $5,300,078

Net profit for 1948 according to the annual CGE report was $5,300,078, an increase of $2,155,697 over the previous year. It was stated that this amounts to "only five-and-a-half cents out of each dollar of sales." Women Graduates Promote Culture

Peterborough University Women's Club is collecting scientific, educational and cultural publications to be sent to Europe. The Club's main purpose was threefold: to stimulate the interest of university women in public affairs and afford an opportunity for expression of united opinion; to promote higher education of women and encourage research wark, and to facilitate social intercourse and co-operation among women of different unuiversities.

Dr. Moffat said that ten universities were represented in the Peterborough Club. Members were personally interested in the 13th grades in the city's schools and a small bursary for 13th grade girls had been established by the Club this year.

The Club also supported pine other awards and scholarships through the Canadian and International Federations of University Women. The Canadian Federation provided three scholarships and the International organisation maintained one international scholarship and five awards.

Dr. Moffat said that during the war gifts of food and clothing had been sent to university women overseas. Now, she felt, Europe's needs were spiritual and cultural:

Canadian Finals For PCVS Team

Winning the All-Ontario Amateur Basketball Championship this week from Sudbury the PCVS Juveniles will meet the winner of the Quebec-Maritime series Monday and Tuesday evening in the Collegiate gym. This series will be for the Canadian title. The series between the Quebec champions and Maritimes champions will be decided Sunday afternoon in Montreal.

Bev Goulding said Friday he hoped satisfactory arrangements could be made for billeting the boys of the visiting team.

The local boys have defeated three teams in their playoffs, Bracebridge, St. Catharines and Sudbury. St. Catharines provided the only opposition with Peterborough winning the round by a few points.

Players on the team are Dingdale, Grafstein, Northcott, Young, Hall, Griffin, Ackford, Grant, Jopling, Thompson, Sergeant and Bailey. Most of these players are in Toronto Saturday playing with the PCVS seniors for the Central Ontario Secondary School Association championship.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, April 9—(CP) — Oats and barley futures continued to show a good tone, especially in the May contracts, as aggressive general buying came into the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Mills and shippers were active purchasers of oats, while processors and shippers bought barley. Transfer of hedges from the May contracts to the deferred deliveries also was noted. Offerings were light.

Rye scored early advances on commission house demand, prompted by upturns at Chicago, but prices eased off in late trade when commission houses turned sellers on the advance.

Hydro Poles Burn Brigade Fights Blaze

HAVELOCK, April 9—(ENS)—Havelock's recently organized volunteer fire brigade under Fire Chief Bell Friday afternoon extinguished a fire in a pile of Hydro poles in the west end of the CPR yards.

There were 50 poles, 35 to 45 feet long, seasoned and ready for construction work. They were all damaged and appear to be useless. They were recently unloaded from CPR cars.

The poles had been burning for some time before attention was drawn to the huge volume of smoke and flames. The grass had been burned around the vicinity where they were stacked and it is presumed that the grass fire ignited them.

The new fire pump used for the second time proved effective in saving adjoining piles of poles.

Congregation Will Build New Church On Park Street

The congregation of the Alliance Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance have completed plans for the erection of a new church. It is expected that construction of the new edifice will commence about mid-Spring. The church building will be located on Park Street on the corner of Dublin and will be known as Park Street Alliance Church of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance congregation was organized almost 60 years ago as a direct result of the ministry of Dr. A. B. Simpson, a former Presbyterian minister and founder of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. This group was the first Alliance Church to be formed in Ontario, organizing in 1889. In 1896 Bethany Church was built on George Street. For the past two and a half years the congregation have been making plans for a new church in the vicinity of the Parkhill district.

Rev. Ralph Hobson is pastor of the local Alliance Church. Mr. Hobson served for almost four years as pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle in Saint John, N. B. prior to coming to Peteroborugh. He was preceded by the late Rev. R. K. Mills a well known and beloved pastor who passed away early in 1948. Mr. Mills also served as pastor of the church from 1925 to 1929.

Members of the executive committee are Mr. Herbert Pullyblank, secretary, Mr. Dudley Hewitt, treasurer, Mr. Fred. Welsh, Mr. Wm. Welsh, Mr. L. B. Cunningham, Mr. Fred Griffin, Mr. Chas. Collins, Mr. Frank Hollings and Mr. W. Kornelsen.

Three members of the congregation have the distinction of being affiliated with the first Alliance Church in Peterborough. Mrs. David Hooey of 507 Aylmer Street, Miss S. Best, 518 Park Hill Road and Mrs. Fred Kiff, Division Street all attended the first services conducted by Dr. A. B. Simpson about 60 year ago.

Commission Would Like Farm Prices Under Control

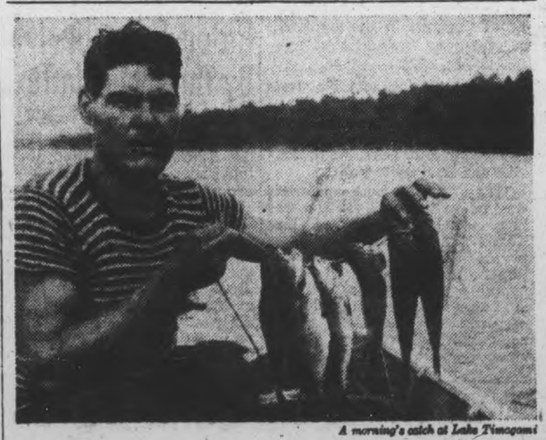
OTTAWA, April 9—(CP).—The Royal Commission on Prices intimated Friday it would like to see prices of Canadian farm products placed under control. "It may not be entirely wise to allow the prices of farm products to be determined completely by the play of a free market," the commission said in a 400,000-word report tabled in the Commons.

The commission maintained that "prices of farm products have been extremely unstable" and that there was both in Canada and the United States a "large body of opinion in favor of moderating the cyclical swings in agricultural prices."

Since "farm prices tend to fluctuate more than the prices of any other products over the business cycle," it was believed by "many farmers and farm groups" that the farmer's position would be "improved by the introduction of more stability into farm prices."

While not suggesting controls directly, the commission noted the actions of the government's agricultural prices support act and its principle of ensuring adequate and "stable" returns through orderly marketing legislation.

The support act can be applied to all agricultural products with the exception of wheat, which falls under the control of the Canadian wheat board. So far, it has been applied only to potatoes and apples.



Keep At Low Level

Discussing agriculture generally on a broad level, the commission noted that Canada's $400,000,000-a-year food contracts with the United Kingdom helped keep the whole Canadian price structure at a low level during the post-war period.

The commission found that farm prices moved upward in response to the acute world shortage of food, an "inevitable aftermath" of the Second World War.

While Canadian farmers could do little themselves to avoid or moderate this rise, the rise was cut to some extent by the food contracts for wheat, bacon, eggs and cheese negotiated with the U.K. by the Canadian government.

"Both these agreements," said the commission, "and the restrictions that were placed on the export of farm products to the United States kept prices from rising to the levels prevailing in export markets."

House Adopts Marketing Bill Before Recess

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP) —With both the Commons and the Senate adjourned for the Easter recess, parliamentary debates will be stilled for the next two weeks, until both chambers reconvene Monday, April 25.

The Commons rose Thursday night after adopting an agricultural marketing bill and giving second reading to another government measure to authorize the laying of oil and gas pipe lines from the Alberta oilfields to Winnipeg and Vancouver.

The farm bill, specifically, will authorize provincial producer boards to regulate the marketing for farm products in the interprovincial and export trade.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced a government decision to buy 5,000,000 pounds of honey to help Canadian beekeepers, faced with losses through a market weakened by surpluses.

In the agricultural debate, Mr. Gardiner said the marketing bill developed largely from requests of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. While the Federation urged that it apply to all "natural" products, the government was confining it to "agricultural" products until more experience is gained.

A Little Late

E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops) said the Progressive Conservative party supported the legislation, though it felt it was "a good many years too late" and that the government was introducing it now only because of the approach of a general election.

Percy Wright (CCF-Melfort) sought to amend the bill to authorize two or more provincial boards to form a central selling agency for their products, but dropped the proposed change when Mr. Gardiner gave assurance that the Dominion would cooperate if the boards indicated they wanted such an agency

Civil Service Quizz College Costs Too Much

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, April 9 (CP)—The lease expires next year on Whitehall's "Quiz College," ending Britain's most ambitious experiment in civil-service selection.

After March, 1950, there'll be no more week-end "house parties" for white-collar candidates.

The decision was announced by Britain's Civil Service Commission. In a report to the House of Commons, it said regretfully that the house-party experiment costs too much money. Instead the commission will seek cheaper premises, with candidates reporting daily instead as government guests.

Most other methods used at "Quiz College," such as personality and intelligence tests, will be retained.

"Quiz College" is the popular name for Stoke d'Abernon, a 22-room manor house near Cobham, Surrey. It was rented on a five-year lease as headquarters for selection boards choosing future ambassadors and senior civil servants.

Tough Week-End

Under the system now in force, some two dozen men and women go to Stoke d'Abernon each week. There each candidate is photographed, full face and profile, before undergoing a 48-hour "personal" examination conducted by a staff of psychologists, observers and examiners.

Press reports have said five of every six candidates fail in the tests.

Criticism of methods used at Stoke d'Abernon came from a parliamentary committee on estimates. In a report, it said costs were excessive and asked why 22 servants were needed to look after 30-odd candidates and examining staff.

Tartly, the commission replied that sometimes as many as 48 persons attended the week-end examinations. Then, it said, the number of cooks, maids and waitresses was "by no means excessive."

In the House of Lords, Lord Cherwell said some of the questions candidates had to answer were "nonsensical."

The last word came from the Daily Telegraph. Its editorial contending that £25,000 a year is too much to spend on Stoke d'Abernon concluded:

"Human character is a thing too elusive in its development to be susceptible of infallible prognostication by scientific methods."

Simonds Relinquishes Army Appointment

LONDON, April 9—(CP)—Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds today relinquishes his appointment as senior army instructor at the Imperial Defence College. He plans to assume the new post of commandant at the Royal Military College, Kingston, in August.

Gen. Simonds will sail from Southampton April 21 aboard the Capetown Castle for South Africa. From South Africa he will go to Australia before returning home to Canada.

Today the military correspondent of the Times comments on Simonds' stay at the Imperial Defence College. He writes:

"Simonds' appointment was a junior one in relations to his rank but it must have provided valuable experience for the task he now is taking up at home.... Altogether he made a name for himself in this country and will take away with him good wishes and confident hopes for his success in his next undertaking."

Senate Has Tough Time Getting Away For Easter

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP)—The Senate had a tough time getting away for Easter this year.

It all started April 1 when the government leader Senator Wishart Robertson, announced that the Upper Chamber had completed a lot of business so far this session and might be able to adjourn until May 2, except for one or two things.

The one or two things were the estimates necessary to supply Newfoundland with interim funds and the 1948-49 supplementary estimates over which the Commons wrangled all this week.

Daily, the Senate met, with a handful of Senators ready to make up the quorum which would enable royal assents to be given to the supply bills in question. Daily, the Commons continued to wrangle. The Senate was forced to meet briefly, day after day, to be informed that "the other place" had not finished with the supplementary estimates.

Senator Robertson, possibly forseeing the delay, gave most Senators fair warning April 1 that it was high time they all went home.

He referred at that time to the fact that reservations for Senators in outlying districts were difficult to obtain, and asked that members closer to home stay to make the quorum.

Asks Senators to Stay

"I would ask those Senators," he said "who live in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec to be in attendance at (the next) sitting. I ask them to co-operate in this way so that those who come from greater distances may have an opportunity to make their necessary travelling arrangements."

The Senate finally completed business Thursday night. But even before that, in their hopes of an adjournment to May 2 had been dashed. The Easter holiday was clipped off at the other end—to April 25, the same date at the Commons.

Senator Robertson announced it was advisable to pass certain bills relating to pipe lines, presumably those concerning the incorporation of five companies which have applied for such incorporation once the government's pipe line legislation is passed.

The Senators ended up with an Easter recess no greater than the one for the Commoners.

Legion Buys Lot For Recreation

MARMORA, April 9—(ENS)—Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion has entered into an agreement with Marmora Village Council for the purchase of the lot on the east bank of Crowe River south of No. 7 Highway, on which a skating rink was formerly located. It is planned to have a recreation park here in some ways similar to the one at Bancroft.

The scheme, which will take some time to complete and will be a costly project, will include the erection of a retaining wall to keep the river from overflowing the land in the spring. It is felt that completion of the project would be an asset to the village, besides providing added recreational facilities for the children.

Caesar Salad Hollywood's Favorite Dish

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 9 (AP)—Want to know about Hollywood's favorite dish; and I don't mean Betty Grable.

I'm speaking of the Caesar Salad, also known by Dicicco California, Golden West and other aliases. It's safe to say that it is the most ordered dish in any of the filmtown's swank restaurants.

Origin of the salad is obscure. Some say it was born in an eatery named Caesar's in Tijuana, Mexico. At any rate, it has taken the classy cafes by storm.

At the risk of being picketed by the home economics department, I offer directions for the Caesar Salad, as Hollywood makes it. We'll make it for two servings.

Have these things ready:

Romaine lettuce, broken into bite and size and chilled.

Garlic oil—drop a cut-up clove of garlic into a small jar of salad oil and let it mellow indefinitely.

Croutons—cut a couple of bread slices (French is best) into small cubes, douse with garlic oil and grown in oven.

Now drop these things on the lettuce:

A couple of sloshes of the garlic oil.

Ditto of plain salad oil and of vinegar (win vinegar preferred).

Sprinkles of salt, coarse pepper and mustard flour.

A few drops of Worcestershire Sauce.

Juice of half a lemon.

Three or four strips of anchovies, chopped fine.

Sprinkles of Paresan cheese (crumbled Roquefort or blue cheese, too, if desired.)

A one-minute egg—this holds the dressing together.

Croutons.

Notes: Toss it well and serve just before eating so lettuce and croutons don't get soggy. Some mix the dressing in a separate bowl instead of on the lettuce, but they are mostly squares.

Arrest Two Hastings Men On Arson Charge

HASTINGS, April 9 (ENS)—As result of an intensive investigation conduoted since last December 11 by officials of the Ontario Fire Marshal's Department, Toronto, into the mysterious burning of a car in a local garage, two men, J. A. Sullivan and Joseph Hynds, both of Hastings, will be arraigned in police court at Cobourg this afternoon on a charge of arson. The pair were arrested on Wednesday afternoon, Sullivan, in whose garage the car was burned, has been free since his arrest on $1,000 bail, while Hynds has been languishing in the county jail at Cobourg.

Owner of the destroyed automobile is A. Sparks of Dutch Line. Several days previous to its destruction Mr. Sparks had been involved in a highway accident, after which the car was towed to the garage of Sullivan, one of the accused. The car was a 1930 model sedan.

On December 11 the Hastings Fire Department answered a call received from the garage. On arrival of the firemen the car was found to be blazing from end to end. Since origin of the fire struck the firemen as of a suspicious nature, investigation was begun by the Fire Marshal's Department. An inspector of the department has visited here on several occasions in the course of the inquiry.

Mr. King's Papers

Mr. Mackenzie King is not going to sell his papers to an American organization, as a spiteful rumour of last week suggested, nor is he, like some other prominent international political personages, selling his memoirs to some American publishing firm for a fortune. He announced on Thursday that he would write and publish his memoirs under the sponsorship of McGill University. The work of sorting, analysing and collating the papers and other scholarly study of them which is necessary will be financed by a grant of $100,000 to McGill from the Rockefeller Foundation of New York. This does not mean that Mr. King will receive $100,000 for his memoirs. The money, spread over three years, will be used to pay secretarial staff and scholars studying the papers.

* * *

It is to be hoped that Mr. King will himself be able to supervise the work, and better still, to write his own account of the momentous quarter-century of Canada when he was its leading political figure and of the imperial and international affairs in which he long took a prominent part.

* * *

Mr. King's service to Canada has been very great, as even his most bitter opponents will admit. Now, after his retirement from the Prime Ministership, the trust he has kept with the Canadian people is maintained as he makes his invaluable papers available for our historical record. One last great service he can give us and our posterity—a memoir from his own hand. This could not be the definitive history which groups of scholars working now and later may be able to produce, but it would have unique value as a personal impression and judgement of the times by the man who played such a large part in them.

The Leased Newfoundland Bases

Now that Newfoundland is a Canadian province, what is to be the fate of the bases such as Argentia, Stephenville and Fort Pepperell in that province, which the British Government leased to the United States during the war for a period of 99 years? It seems unbecoming to Canada's sovereignty that any part of its territory should be under the control of a foreign power. Friendly as relations are between the two nations, it is not right that these areas should be under the American flag, still less that they should be military bases. Foreign countries are likely to look askance at such arrangements, and could use them as pretexts for hurling charges that the U.S. is imperialistic and that Canada is weakly pandering to it.

Mr. Church, the Conservative member for Toronto - Broadview, raised the matter in the Commons several weeks ago. The Prime Minister made plain in his reply that the leases are still in force, and that nothing can be done to change them by Newfoundland, Canada or the British Government except with the consent and arrangement of the United States.

There is, however, a possibility that the terms of the leases may be altered to bring them into accord with the joint declaration made by the President and the Prime Minister on February 12th, 1947. Clause Five of the declaration about the principles which would govern arrangements for military co-operation between Canada and the U.S.A. is: "As an underlying principle all co-operative arrangements will be without impairment of the control of either country over all activities in its territory". The leased American bases in Newfoundland are now in Canadian territory, yet under American jurisdiction.

The Prime Minister said in his reply to Mr. Church's question in the House of Commons: "Those principles were agreed to by the two governments. . . I believe they have received pretty universal approval throughout the United States and Canada. It is our hope that in our negotiations with the government of the United States we shall have the actual exercise of the rights provided for by these leases brought into line with the principles which have been set out in this joint declaration". As the Prime Minister remarked, the practice of the two governments has not been to deal with each other at arm's length, but to try to make arrangements which will give the most satisfaction to both peoples.

The Canadian people cannot in good conscience approve the leases as they now exist. No part of Canada should officially be rented to the United States for even one year, let alone 99. We are pleased to keep the door open to the United States, but should nevertheless expect to be masters in our own house. We hope that mutual arrangements will soon be made whereby the leases will be declared as out-moded as the destroyers for which they were traded.

Equal Pay For Women

Although we were not able to eavesdrop on the private conversation of Adam and Eve, we feel fairly safe in assuming that talk about the rights of women is as old as the discussion about the people in the Garden of Eden. Did Eve, or did Eve not, have the right to listen to the serpent, to eat of the apple before Adam and then to give him a nibble? What claims did Eve make? The subject remains the same through the years, but the assessment of "rights" varies. (Incidentally, men must have no rights, since nobody talks about them.) The right to be unveiled, to work in the fields, to vote, to have equal pay—so it goes through the ages. This matter of the right to equal pay came up in the Ontario Legislature on Thursday, a sort of last-minute fling before the session prorogued. The members had under their notice a C.C.F. bill which would have guaranteed equality of wages for women doing the same work as men.

This whole matter is rather a long, complicated affair, involving important philosophic and social principles. Premier Kennedy moved an amendment which effectively killed the bill, and in so doing made the most remarkable understatement we have heard in recent weeks. He said, "I think there is something in this bill". He added, "We should have more time to look into it". With that we bow ourself out of the subject of the Rights of Women. There seems to be something in it too discursive for this paragraph.

Another Way Of Gagging An Enemy

Last October the government of the Argentine took control of the nation's newsprint and began to distribute it according to its own ideas of justice "so as to assure the appearance of the various publications through the country". This means, in effect, that the newspapers which support President Peron, such as the Epoca and the Critica, have added to their bulk, whereas the independent Nacion and Prensa are cut in two, and continue their existence on a week-to-week basis.

This is a good way of silencing newspaper criticism. Almost a better way, we are tempted to say, than creating cumbrous legislation to kill a critical newspaper. We recommend it to the notice of those who are interested in limiting the freedom of the press.

Some of our Leftists are complaining that Canada is a Velvet Curtain country. That's not velvet, chaps, that's asbestos.

Diary Of An Ornithologist

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Driving this morning near a lake I saw a large group of seagulls swooping and wheeling over its surface. Among the most graceful of birds, they have the ugliest faces; in the countenance of a seagull we observe all the bitter hatred and malignance which we usually associate with the faces of money-lenders or book censors. To my mind the inland seagull is misnamed; it ought to be called a lake gull, and as seagull is commonly pronounced seagle, I suggest that lake gulls be known as lagles. I have several ornithologist friends to whom I shall mention this, but I do not expect that they will pay any attention. Ornithologists like to give birds a Latin name, with a Latin version of their own names stuck on the end. But it is rude, untutored nature-lovers like myself who give birds their common, deeply poetic names, like the Marsh Grommet, the Wheat Teazle, and the Double-breasted Ninnyhammer, or Tailor Bird.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: The papers this morning are full of pictures of "intellectuals" who have gathered in New York for a nice despairing conference about mankind. They have dreadful faces, surpassing even the lagle in horror. Why is it that "intellectuals" customarily look as though they were victims of painful constipation? Even the vapid, doughy, mouth-breathing countenance of the Common Man is preferable to their expression of mingled despair, frustration, hatred, tension, irritation and spite. And what is an "intellectual", anyway? I have my own definition, but the world has not yet accepted it; I always think that an "intellectual" is a man or woman who is clever, perhaps brilliant, stuffed with knowledge and facts, fully equipped with a Cause, and loaded to the gunwales with a Message, but who is not really very wise. Wisdom brings calm, and "intellectuals" are always on the jump; wisdom is tolerant, and "intellectuals" are intolerant even of each other; wisdom sometimes laughs, but an "intellectual" cannot laugh, although he sometimes produces a derisive imitation of laughter. It would be better for "intellectuals" if they would try to be "spirituals,' 'or even just human.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Was still annoyed about the "intellectuals" today and spoke my mind to a man I met. "I gather," said he, "that you think that the world and mankind are not so badly off as many people suppose." "You are right," I replied; "in my opinion the world and mankind are no worse than they have been before, and in some ways they are better; we can all see room for improvement, of course; a little more decency and liberality, a little less perverse moralizing passing itself off as morality, a higher standard of common sense and honesty in politics and business, and a great deal more intelligent appreciation of the arts, including the art of living, would work wonders" . . . But later in the day I heard a Pinhead roaring again "intellectuals." He was all in favor of the old, tried-and-true ideas, mass morality, crepe-and-harmonium religion and the immediate internment of anyone who questioned the status quo. A horrible suspicion assailed me: was I akin to this Pinhead? Is there no middle course between the Charybdis of "intellectualism" and the Scylla of Pinheadism?

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: Met an ornithologist today and as the conversation lagged, I sought to beguile him by talking about his hobby. Dale Carnegie says that you should always talk to people about what interests them, whether it interests you or not, so I began thus: "I saw a funny-looking bird this morning; a blackish bird, or maybe it was a dirty brown; what would you say it was?" He pricked up his ears. "Had it a yellow spot about half a centimetre in diameter under each wing?" he asked. "I am not accustomed to peeping into the armpits of birds," I replied, haughtily. "but it had two feet, instead of the usual four, if that gives you a clue." "What size did you say?" he continued. "Roughly the size of a two-year-old child's shoe," I said after some thought, "but rather a different shape; it was shaped like an ocarina, or a sweet potato." "Was its mate nearby?" he persisted. "I couldn't say," I parried, "but it was on the lawn of a church, and I don't suppose it would go there with anybody else's mate, do you?" "I think you must have seen a squirrel," said he, in what I think was meant to be a satirical tone. And yet I am always nice to ornithologists when they talk about my subjects.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: My dentist told me last week that modern man eats too much soft food, which weakens his bite and loosens his teeth. But this afternoon I bit my tongue with such vigour that I nearly bit it off. I do not understand how anyone could possibly have a stronger or more destructive bite than I have. Probably I am the only writer and critic in Canada of whom it can truthfully be said that his bite is worse than his bark.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Saw a Czech film this evening about Janosik, the Czech bandit and revolutionary of the eighteenth century. It must be a terribly exhausting life to be a bandit and popular hero. When Janosik was not robbing the rich to give to the poor, or walloping the daylights out of wicked landowners, he was singing, dancing, shouting or merely jumping up and down with a strained expression on his face . . . Films like this always puzzle me. The aristocrats are all bad, weak and stupid, and the peasants are all honourable, moral, strong and of brilliant intellect. How, then, do the aristocrats manage to hold their power, and how did they ever get it in the first place? There must have been more to the aristocrats than even clever fellows like Janosik realized . . . Anyhow, I think those peasants had a comparatively easy time. In the film they put up a terrible howl because they had to give a tenth of their possessions to the government; there are thousands of Canadians who have to give far more than a measly tenth, and they put up with it quite calmly. It seems to me that those peasants were stingy rascals, without any notion of what it costs to govern a country.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: To see a performance of Sir Edward German's operetta "Tom Jones" this evening; although it was written in 1907, and shows its age, I think I like it better than "Oklahoma" or "Brigadoon." There is nothing short-weight about it. It has enough plot to last a radio serial for five years and there are twenty-two musical numbers in it, and a cast of twenty-four principal characters, as well as a large chorus of ladies, servants, huntsmen, soldiers and whatnot. And it is not afraid of good honest sentiment. In operetta I like to be sure who loves who, and in a piece like "Tom Jones," where the lovers all get as close together as their chest-expansion will admit, there can never be any doubt. I also like unmistakeable comedians,—good workmanlike fellows who fall on their behinds, pull faces, and always enter or leave the stage shouting loudly. There is an Edwardian opulence and simplicity about "Tom Jones," and for three hours it whisked me to a world where nothing was wrong that a song or a stiff drink wouldn't cure.

LOVE ME, LOVE MY DOG

Letters To The Editor

DEAD CAT IN SANCTUARY

Sir: Having viewed the current display of Art at the Public Library of a Canadian Group of Painters promoted by the National Gallery of Ottawa, I am prompted to express my views on this type of work.

Canada has produced some famous painters, men and women who have given the world true Art well executed. What Paul Peel, Horatio Walker and Russell did for Canada in the way of Art, these so-called painters are destroying. To hang these canvases in any Art Gallery is like throwing a dead cat into a sanctuary.

The pictures exhibited are poorly drawn, (the foundation of any picture is good draughtsmanship), they all lack technique and most of them composition. We seemed to be progressing in the world of Art until Tom Thomson came out of the wilderness of Algonquin Park in 1917 with his palette knife job he called the "Jack-Pine." This was a strange thing to hang in a gallery but a few self-styled culturists cunningly grasped at this chap's work and shouted to the high heavens that Thomson had "found" a new Art in the hidden treasury of the northland. A few feeble painters wearied with the strict curriculum of the Toronto Art College, now known as the Ontario College of Art and a faculty of the University of Toronto, saw ways and means of attracting attention to themselves by going along with Thomson into the park and painting "impressions" of of what they saw. This was to be the formation of the now ragged, Group of Seven. Their pictures all lacked the element of TRUTH so prevalent in British or Continental Art. One painting in this exhibit is called "On The Unionville Road." It is a void, lacking even perspective and painted in "raw" colors; truly a disgraceful article to feature as Canadian Art.

The curator of the National Gallery has placed ridiculous prices on these jobs to impress some people of their value. The Age of Anxiety (and truly it is) is priced at $1,000.00., The canvas and stretcher would be worth about $10, the paint and turps $1, wear and tear on the brushes about fifty cents, and the balance accredited to the talent of a very poor draughtsman and porch floor painter who couldn't meet with the requirements of a cartoonist.

But our government still encourages listless folk like these by purchasing such daubs.

How long are we going to be kidded by people who are not painters themselves but who continue to laud this sort of thing?

Place a Paul Peel (After the Bath, Tired Model, Return of the Harvesters) or any other pieces of his work in the same room with these things and the difference in quality would be obvious.

Art is not such a hideous thing as they want us to believe. Nature is not grotesque and distorted; it is in perfect balance, and is a lovely thing to live with. How long could we live in a world with these horrible forms and people as depicted in this show without going raving mad?

No, they haven't even painted a "design" of nature. No use saying they missed the boat, they didn't even start out to catch it. They're off on the wrong tangent. Let us not encourage such bad taste, let alone call it Art.

A recent exhibit of local painters calling themselves "Amateurs" put on a far better show; at least they are trying to contribute to our culture without being degradingly vulgar.

Thank you,
GORD. BAILEY.

PRISON GUARDS UNDERPAID

Sir: If it is not too late, I would like to make a few comments on Mr. Albert H. Strange's letter to The Examiner on March 23, deploring flogging and the whipping of prisoners. It is amusing how some people feel sorry for the inmates of prisons who are being kept at the taxpayers' expense. To a lot of prisoners it is just a home on the road. They come back again and again. A few floggings would deter them from coming back. Also did Mr. H. Strange read about the brutal attack on a man of 40 years of age by a gang of young punks in Toronto lately? The sooner the public and police get wise and give the punks the thrashings they deserve the sooner the attacks on the public will cease. Mr. Strange claims war veterans are hired because they are hard-boiled. That is not the case. War veterans are given preference on these jobs because they fought for their country and are given first chance on civil service jobs. I do admit though that the salaries paid guards in prisons are very low for such responsible positions. That is why there is such a large turnover in prison guards. In closing, I'm an ex-war vet and I think I'm pretty far from being hard-boiled. Service in the army never altered me any, and when I was a guard after I came out in a reformatory being "soft-hearted" didn't make my duties any harder for me. It was only the poor salary that caused me to leave.

Thanking you for your valuable space.
I am, Yours truly,
EX-PRISON GUARD.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness: I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years. . . Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppressed; undertake for me. . . .

Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back. For the grave cannot praise thee, death can not celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day. (Isa. 38: 9, 10, 14, 17-19.)

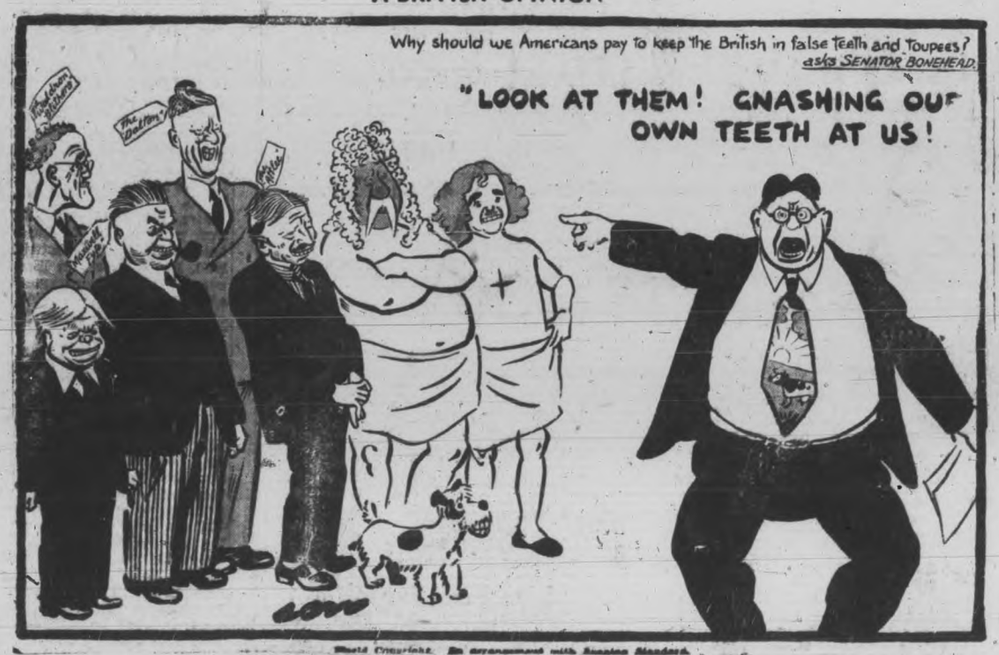
✧ ✧ ✧

The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever. . . .

Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace. (Ps. 37: 29, 37.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart. . . .



Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory. (Ps. 73: 1, 24.)

HIS LOSS

"I hear you are going to California with your husband, Mary," said Mrs. Jones to her maid, who was leaving to be married. "Aren't you nervous about the long voyage?"

"Well, mum," was Mary's reply, "that's his look-out. I belong to him now, and if anything happens to me, it'll be his loss, not mine."

PETERBOROUGH PERSONALITIES

Our Senator Fallis In Red Chamber Is One of Two Holding Fort For Women

SENATOR IVA C. FALLIS

By RUTH V. G. CAMPBELL

"My life hasn't been exciting — nothing in it to make headlines—but it has been a full life." Such is the summation of her busy existence made by Senator Iva Campbell Fallis, one of the two representatives of Canadian women in the Senate.

High Society

Babbitt and Frink sat politely, and politely did Eathorne observe, opening his thin lips just wide enough to dismiss the words, "Gentlemen, before we begin our conference—you may have felt the cold in coming here—so good of you to save an old man the journey—shall we perhaps have a whisky toddy?"

So well trained was Babbitt in all conversation that befits a Good Fellow that he almost disgraced himself with "Rather than make trouble, and always providin' there ain't any enforcement officers hiding in the waste-basket—" The words died choking in his throat. He bowed in flustered obedience. So did Chum Frink.

Eathorne rang for the maid.

The modern and luxurious Babbitt had never seen any one ring for a servant in a private house, except during meals. Himself, in hotels, had rung for bellboys, but in the house you didn't hurt Matilda's feelings; you went out in the hall and shouted for her. Nor had he, since prohibition, known anyone to be casual about drinking. It was extraordinary merely to sip his toddy and not cry, "Oh, maaaan, this hits me right where I live!" And always with the ecstasy of youth meeting greatness, he marvelled, "That little fuzzy-face there, why, he could make me or break me! If he told my banker to call my loans—! Gosh! That quarter-sized squirt! And looking like he hadn't got a single bit of hustle to him! I wonder—Do we Boosters throw too many fits about pep?"

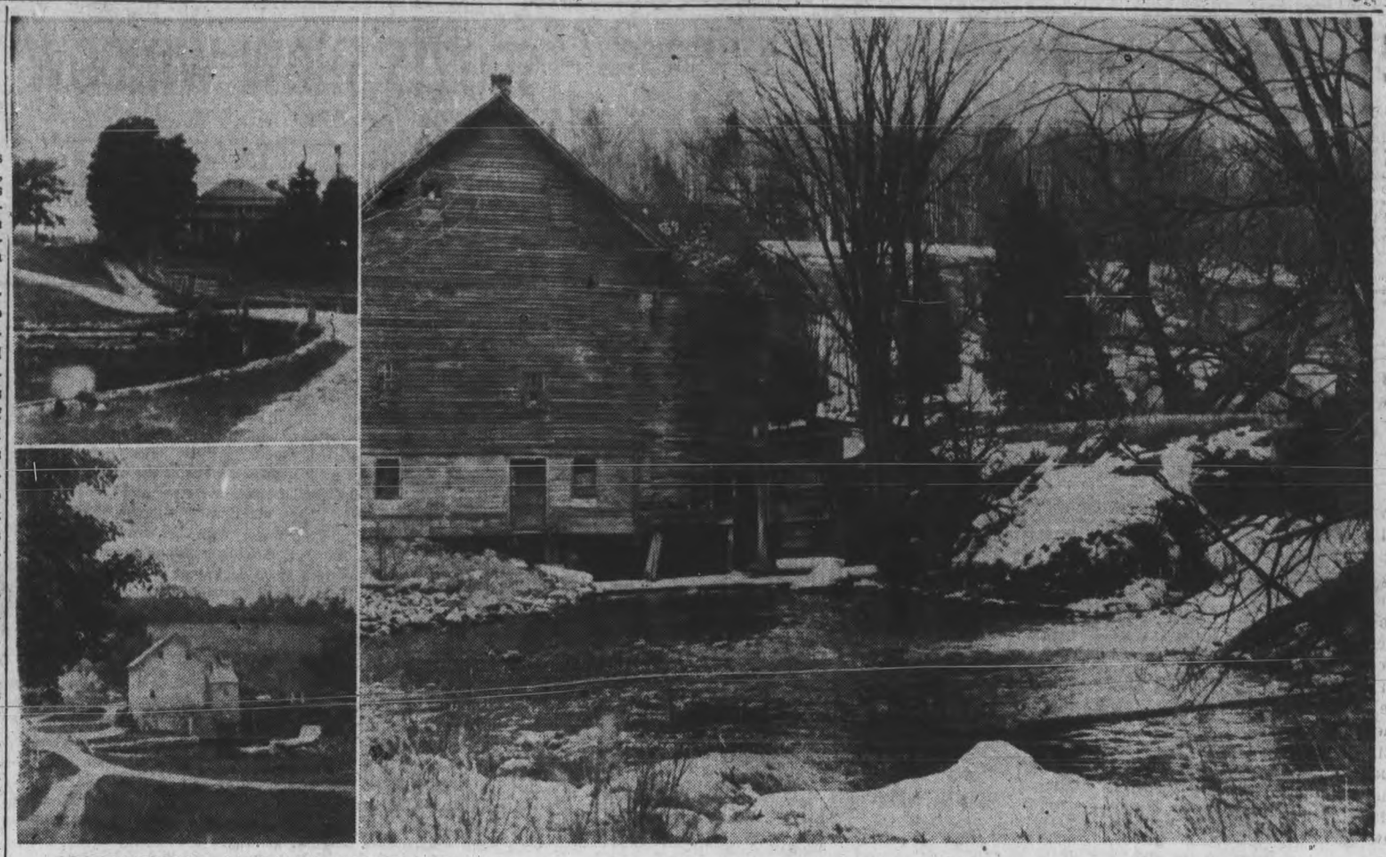
(Sinclair Lewis: Babbitt).

Undoubtedly a full life, as we look back over Senator Fallis's record of achievement, both as a private—but very active woman supporter of the Progressive Conservative Party, and later as a Senator. Perhaps not exciting, from her own point of view—but making headlines more than once — notably on that day in 1935 when the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, then Prime Minister, appointed her as the first Conservative woman to join Liberal Senator Cairine Wilson, the first woman to sit in the hitherto sacrosanct male precints of the Red Chamber.

Not a career woman by design is Senator Fallis, by her own admission. "It just happened," she says of her political progress. But one feels that there must have been a certain element of inevitability about the evolution of a little brown-haired girl in pigtails who listened-in shamelessly to the grownups' discussions anent the welfare of the nation, into this tall, dark woman with the air of quiet assurance, who plays no insignificant part in the sessions of the Upper House.

Interested in matters political since her schooldays in Ontario, Iva Campbell Fallis followed the fortunes of the Conservative Party through her years of teaching and farming on the Canadian prairies, and back to her native heath of central Ontario. It was here, in the early twenties, that she became the first president of the Conservative women's organization in Peterborough and campaigned for the late Hon. G. Howard Ferguson in his provincial election of 1923.

That election was only the beginning of Senator Fallis's campaigning activities, which carried her, in time, throughout Ontario and the Martimes, and to parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, while concurrently she was steadily enlarging her organization experience, passing from local and district, and later provincial office, to the Dominion executive of the Party.



"Yet you never ran for Parliament?" It would have seemed so logical, so much a part of the pattern of Mrs. Fallis's political career, but—that sound commonsense and analytical keenness which have won the respect of her Senate colleagues convinced her that the nomination she was offered before the Dominion election in 1935 was foreordained to defeat at the polls—a defeat which would be laid to a woman's door and end her political career at its very beginning. So the Senate it was— and in that "other place" Senator Fallis has now entered upon her fourteenth session of usefulness.

Equality of opportunity for men and women is one of the causes for which Senator Fallis has always striven, both before and since her appointment to the Upper House. "I don't believe in women asking for special privileges because they are women," she says, emphasizing the statement with a gesture of the fine, small hands which have a character of their own. "All I have ever asked is not to be discriminated against because I am a woman."

Senator Fallis has spoken frequently along these lines, in the Senate and at many of the public gatherings for which she is in such demand in all parts of Canada. The position of women in industry is a national question in which she takes very special interest. "So long as there is full employment this does not present a problem," she admits, "but if a recession should come, and there were not enough work for everyone, once again I feel that there should not be discrimination of sex." The yardstick of employment should be twofold, she goes on: first, the ability of the individual to do the job, and secondly, the need of the individual for that job. "It's surprising," she adds with a quizzical smile, "how many women themselves are narrow minded about it. They just don't realize how many other women have need of work."

What does she do with her spare time? Senator Fallis finds the question rather amusing — and quite simple to answer. There is not much leisure, she regrets, in the busy life of a public woman whose husband is the owner of a big farm outside Peterborough. She takes her duties and responsibilities seriously. "Isn't that a full-time job while the House is sitting?" she demands. Travelling and speaking occupy much of her outside time, and the preparation for speaking is a task in itself—a pleasant task, however, for Iva Campbell Fallis is an inveterate reader, whose wide taste includes "everything—so long as it's worth reading"—through the gamut of fiction and biography, history and travel, poetry and essays.

She is a truly effective citizen, with full realization of women's citizenship duties, whether in private or public life.

Doomed Cavan Mill Built By Adam Scott, Peterborough Pioneer

An airplane flying low under a leaden sky, as it passed over the "Low Mill," one of the oldest landmarks in Cavan Township now almost ready to collapse, weathered as it is with more than a century of use and exposure to the elements, brought out in sharp contrast the difference between modern progress, and the means of transportation when the mill was a thriving centre of rural community life, in pioneer days.

The comparison of "ancient and modern" was noted during a recent visit of the Examiner to the locality, after the sale of the historic building and the property immediately adjoining, to E. H. Mann, real estate broker, formerly of Peterborough, now of Toronto, had been made public.

The owner apparently plans to pull down the three-storey frame mill, now sadly dilapidated with sagging doors, broken windows, and gaping holes in the walls, and somewhere on his new property to build a summer place.

Adam Scott, the first white settler on the site of what is now the city of Peterborough, originally known as "Scott's Plains," built the first mill at what was later called "Slabtown," though it also has the more euphonious name of "Cedar Valley." The latter is actually the correct name for the hamlet, and the surmise that at one time there must have been a saw-mill in the vicinity to account for "Slabtown," has proved correct. Dr. G. H. Needler, of Toronto, recalls that his grandfather, who later became owner of the flour and grist mill, also operated a saw-mill, situated to the north of the waste-gate, and nearer the house. "My very earliest recollection of my grandfather," writes Dr. Needler "is seeing him operating the up-and-down big saw as he ran a log through. I had been, as a small boy of perhaps five, sent down to tell him to come to tea. He died in 1885, when I was off on the Riel campaign."

Adam Scott moved into Cavan township in 1829, and he and his eldest son, also called Adam, built the flour and grist mill that for many years did an ever-increasing business, drawing its patronage from many miles of the country round about. Carrying their grist upon their shoulders, the settlers came by blazed trail through the woods, and went home conveying the flour the same way. Mr. Scott was the grandfather of the late Mrs. Thomas Medd, the Medd family having been among the pioneer families of Millbrook; the late Sidney T. Medd, of Peterborough, was a great-grandson, and Miss Mary Medd of Peterborough and Mr. Scott Medd, of Bristol, England, are great-great-grandchildren.

To procure water for his mill, Adam Scott had Baxter's creek dammed up, forming the rectangular-shaped pond, with its many protruding cedar stumps, which has been the mecca of small boys, and older folk too, for fishing and swimming, probably from its beginning. Family records show that one of Mr. Scott's grandsons was drowned in the pond, and there have been other near-drownings since. Another grandson was killed while sleigh-riding on the hill south of the mill pond, and a third died during an epidemic in the settlement. All three were namesakes of their grandfather.

It was on July 1, 1852, that Mr Walker Needler, who had come to Canada from Lincolnshire, England, some fifteen or sixteen years before, bought the mill from Mr. Scott, and it remained in the Needler family for two generations following. Mr Needler had been living on the Chateauguay River, near Montreal, and in the year mentioned came to Upper Canada to scout for a new mill. Possibly he had tired of carrying on his prosperous milling business on the border line of French population. Anyhow he was fortunate in finding a mill to his liking in Cavan township. The records show that he had the cash with him to pay for his new property, the purchase price being the equivalent in pounds sterling of $16,500. Later on he built a saw-mill as well.

It was also, according to family records, in 1852 that the senior Mr. Needler built the large red brick homestead, on the hill overlooking the mill property, which is now owned by Mr. R. H. N. Rowland, of 363 Woburn Ave., Toronto. One could hardly imagine a more beautiful site for a country home, and the substantial manner of its building means that it still stands four-square, and only in minor details has it been impaired by the passing years. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Stewart, formerly of Toronto, are occupants of part of the house at present, the owner, with his wife and family making it their home during the summer months. Mr. Rowland has added modern conveniences since it came into his possession, and further improvements are contemplated.

A wide verandah ran round three sides of the house, when it was first erected, but this has since been torn down.

Associated with his father, and for some years owner of the historic Cavan mill, the late Mr. George Needler, in 1865, bought the large, three-story flour mill at Millbrook, and moved to this village to reside. The homestead, which has been in the family ever since, is now the property of his youngest son, Mr. A. A. Needler and has one of the finest locations, for beauty and conveniences, in the community. For a short time, after Mr. George Needler moved to Millbrook, his brother, William Needler, and his father, were in charge of the "Lower Mill", until they moved to Lindsay, where, as is well known, William Needler for many years had large and prosperous milling interests. Following that, George Needler, and his eldest son, Walker, carried on with both mills. Later, another son, Charlie Needler, came into the business, and after the death of both father and brother, became sole proprietor. Several years ago the mill was destroyed by fire, caused, it was thought by spontaneous combustion in a quantity of grain stored on the second floor.

One of the most popular and best known, of the millers put in charge of the "Low Mill", during the Needler period of ownership, was Nicholas (Nick) Wyatt, who had learned his trade in the Old Country, he and his family occupying the 'big house'. In 1920, the mill was sold to Henry C. Attwooll, who lives in Millbrook, and owns and operates the smaller grist mill that replaced the one which was burned. He sold to Henry McLeod, who, in turn, disposed of the property to the late William G. Rowland. Since his time, it has not been used for grinding, and is in process of falling down.

Tourists drive down to Cedar Valley to see the ancient landmark, possibly to fish in the mill pond, or on a hot afternoon to swim. And, in the summer season when the scenic beauty is at its best, artists have come to sketch or paint. During the Rowland occupancy, the wife of the owner won popularity by operating "The Cedar Valley Tea Room", in the old home. The small boy of earlier years, who padded bare footed along the dusty road, with his primitive fishing outfit, and can of worms for bait, caught mudcats and sometimes bass; today, it is claimed, speckled trout may reward the ardent fisherman. In 1920, when H. C. Attwooll was owner, the "Lower Mill" was 'halved', and part of it torn down, since the building was, by then, larger than its patronage required. A use for the lumber elsewhere was indicated. In this mill grinding was always by the stone method, the more modern rollers never having been installed. One of the original stones, cut in half, provides doorsteps at the homestead; half of another is on the lawn at the Clarry home; and Lloyd Byam has the remaining half at his property, Anne Street.

Le monde recompense plus souvent les apparences du merite que le merite meme.
—La Rochefoucauld.

The only part of the so-called national wealth that actually enters into the collective possession of modern peoples is their national debt
—Karl Marx: Das Kapital.

In the horse and buggy days, a favorite pastime was to get up a party and walk, occasionally drive, the three miles to "Slabtown", there to picnic, fish, or swim. One such Millbrook party went by democrat and team in 1876, and left proof of their visit by inscribing their names on one of the pine walls, on the second floor of the mill. They had dinner at the home of Mr. Brown who worked in the mill at the time, and picnicked on the shore of the pond for their tea. The names are of interest: Fred Turner, brother of Dr. H. A. Turner, still resident at Millbrook; Albert Williams, son of 'old Mr. Williams' who, years ago, kept a sort of general store near the CNR station; Harry, Charlie, Mary and Etta Needler, members of the mill owner's family; William T. Wood, in the banking business with his father, Archibald Wood, and much later, Warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham; and Annie Sloan, who became Mrs. John Fitzgerald, and now late in her nineties, is still living in Toronto, with her daughter, Miss Matie Fitzgerald. The only other surviving member of the happy party is Dr. G. H. Needler, now retired after more than forty years as Professor of Modern Languages at the University of Toronto. He was head of his department at the time of his retirement.

Besides the names already mentioned, this historic mill has been known as "Old Needler's", probably a careless way in which the settlers distinguished between the mill at Millbrook and the one at Cedar Valley; it might more properly have been "Needler's Old Mill," "Hog's Hollow", and "Sheepskin Flats" were other names in earlier use for the locality, but their origin, and significance, has been lost in the mists of the passing years.

It has been supposed that there would naturally have been a little settlement, or at least, a cluster of log houses, grow up around a pioneer mill site, furnishing homes for such necessary citizens as a cooper, a blacksmith, perhaps the miller and his family, and maybe a small store.

If such existed, as some claim they did, all have long since disappeared, along with the senior Mr. Needler's saw-mill. Soon, too, the mill itself, will be matter of past history in the annals which link Cavan township with pioneer days.

Legion Defeats Sarnia, 8-3 To Go One Up in the Finals

Sinking the Sarnia Sailors 8-3 on Lindsay ice last night, the local Legionnaires took a lead in their best-of-five OHA Senior "B" final series. It was the first game, with the second one slated for tonight in Lindsay, and the remaining contests billed for Sarnia on Easter week-end. A good sized crowd saw a fast, clean tussle with Legion having a definite edge the first two frames to rack up a safe lead. They were in front 4-1 in the first chukker and outscored the Sailors 3-1 in the second to tote a 7-2 lead into the even third period. Sarnia drove hard in the third to hold their own but Legion looked better for two stanzas.

Led The Way

Bob Greenlaw led the local marksmen with four points, as his line-mates, Bill Crowley and Joe Rochetta, were in on three apiece. Bob Parnell and Toodie Greenlaw of the second line were in on a pair each, with Al Burns and Johnny Godfrey each figuring in on one. The whole Legion team worked well, going and coming, with their usual hustle to throw the 1948 champs off their stride most of the way. The defence went well as did Goalie Ross Nicholls, though he wasn't overworked. The first line of Kowcinak, Garvin and Cousins was the main threat for Sarnia.

Less than a minute of the first frame had gone by when Legion scored, Bob Greenlaw racing in to rap home Rochetta's passout at close range. Dodds went off for interference and Godfrey came close. Then Parnell made it 2-0 as he roared in alone to drive a hot angle shot by Rutter. With Dodds back, Legion continued to press and Sarnia had but one good shot on goal in the first 10 minutes of play. Toodie Greenlaw battled out of a corner to the goalmouth and bashed the biscuit home to make it 3-0. Fryia came close and O'Bright got in to test Nicholls. Burns went over for elbowing and Kowcinak counted on a slap shot from Dodds' in-close pass. Crowley got it right back when he tipped in Bob Greenlaw's pass late in the heat.

Piled It On

Bob Greenlaw scored early in the second on a fast in-close passing play with Rochetta, and it was 5-1. Parnell was gated for crosschecking and Sarnia scored shortly after he returned when Garvin batted the bootheel home, aided by Kowcinak and Cousins after Ross had come out and made one save. Maughan got it for hooking but returned with no damage done. A Combs-Godfrey thrust was close and, with Dodds off for interference, Bob Greenlaw got another on Crowley's passout on a smart play by both inside. Bell added one more from Rochetta and Burns as they poured in to hold a definite edge on play as the frame finished.

The Sailors fought back better in the third and Kowcinak almost dented the hemp early in the third. Bob Greenlaw was waved away for interference but got back with no scoring done. It was fast and pretty even then for a space till O'Bright was gated for high-sticking. He returned and Garvin got it for interference, and Parnell scored in close on a passout with Toodie Greenlaw and Godfrey getting assists. Godfrey was chased for tripping as it picked up speed and Sarnia pressed. All were back and Haddon pulled a good try, when Coombs was penalized for interference. It cost a goal late in the chukker as Cousins' slap shot inside on Fraser's pass hit the mark.

The teams:

Sarnia—Goal, Rutter; defence, Dodds and Haddon; centre, Kowcinak; wings Garvin and Cousins; alternates, Beauchamp, Allen, Fraser, Kirkland, O'Bright, Maughan, Butler, Neeham and Mattingley.

Marlies Down Sydney 5-4 In Real Thriller

TORONTO, April 9 (CP) — Lucky or not, Toronto Marlboros were good enough to win the same hockey game twice—that's the reason the Maple Leaf farm hands are waiting to meet the Quebec champions in the Eastern Canada Senior hockey final.

The All-Ontario champions won their berth by slapping down Sydney Millionaires Friday night — not once, but twice. They seemed to have the game won, coasting along with a 3-0 lead in the third period. Then the roof fell in and the Marlboros had to come from behind for a 5-4 triumph in overtime.

The victory spoiled a Sydney comeback—four goals in six minutes—that had the crowd of 9,500 shaking Maple Leaf Garden's rafters with cheers for the underdogs.

It gave Marlboros the best-of-five Eastern Canada semi-final 3-1 in games, with one game tied. A Sydney victory—and the Cape Breton Islanders came within 45 seconds of doing it in regulation time—would have forced an extra game.

Coach Joe Primeau's strategy in taking out goalie Howie Harvey with 52 seconds left in the third period gave Marlboros their second chance. With six men in the Millionaires zone for a face-off, left winger Scotty Mair fired the puck home from a scramble at 19.15 to tie the score, 4-4.

Finish Millionaires

Centre Johnny McCormack's goal at 6.15 of the 10-minute overtime—coming after Sydney missed several set-up chances — finished the Millionaires.

Marlboros now meet either Sherbrooke or Ottawa Senators for the right to play the Western Canada champions for the Allan Cup. The Senators lead the best-of-seven Quebec final 2-1 in games, with one game tied. They meet Sherbrooke tonight and again tomorrow night.

Mair's game-tying goal was the second of the night for the veteran former pro in the United States Hockey League. He also drew an assist on McCormack's winning tally. Johnny McLellan and Ray Hannigan were the other Toronto scorers. Their tallies and Mair's first one built a 3-0 lead for Marlboros in the first two periods.

The Millionaires couldn't find the range until Cliff Roach scored from a scramble at 6.30 of the third period. Less than four minutes later Johnny Arundel sparked a rally that produced three goals in 2½ minutes and then shot them into a temporary 4-3 lead.

The 21-year-old defenceman from Winnipeg helped both Bruce Gallagher and Alex Birukow to score, then tallied himself on a pretty play after a pass-out from behind the Toronto net.

TO HANDLE REMATCH—Manager Jim Laidlaw announced today that he had secured the services of Strangler Ed Lewis, pictured above, to handle a rematch between the Masked Marvel and Fred Atkins. The bout will be next Wednesday night, the regular wrestling night at the Brock Arena. Last night's bout between the Mask and Atkins was just about the wildest ever staged here, and before the largest crowd of the year. Next Wednesday's match will be a no-time-limit affair.

PCVS Damsels Lose Out In COSSA Play

TORONTO, April 9 — (CP).—Eight teams battled it out Friday night in the opening games of the Central Ontario Secondary School Association girls' basketball meet. Play continues to-day in the final series.

In the junior girls, Georgian Bay district High School defeated St. Catharines 32-28, while Napanee ousted Peterborough 24-23.

In the senior event, Owen Sound defeated a scrappy St. Catharines squad 23-19. Belleville's Albert College eliminated Peterborough 21-19 in the other game.

To-day Georgian Bay and Napanee will clash for the junior title and Owen Sound will meet Albert College in the senior final.

The Georgian Bay team was paced by a 17-point splurge by tall Marion Ladoucer, as the squad overcame a 23-12 score at half-time.

Carol Dean followed up for the winners with eight points while Helen Lewis garnered five points and Lorraine Watson sniped two points.

Julia Anzik was unable to lead her team to victory although she came up with 18 points to take scoring honors of the night. In the dying moments Julia raced in time and again, but each time she counted the Georgian Bay crew would drive back.

A Close one

Napanee drove from behind in the last quarter and a basket for Nona McConnell with less than a minute remaining in the game gave Napanee the decision. Only fine defensive work by the winners kept the Peterborough squad from scoring.

Nona chalked up 15 points. Betty Murphy and Sylvia Dale got five and four points respectively.

Mary Craw notched 11 points for Peterborough with Donna Howson getting seven and Dorothy Pentall and Lois Hutchinson two points apiece.

In the senior tilt, Owen Sound seniors had little trouble disposing of St. Catharines. They held a 14-6 edge at half-time and led 23-13 at the end of the third quarter.

Little June Scott notched 10 points to lead her team to victory. Shirley Reid followed up with nine while Jean McMeekin got four, Betty Johnston and Kay Schenk each garnered six for St. Catharines. Helen Ws olek and Phyllis Honsberger scored four and three points respectively.

A Late Win

In the senior semi-finals, Peterborough went down to defeat when Peggy Dyer scored a basket in the last 25 seconds.

Rachel Freeman was the big gun for the winners hooping seven baskets for 14 points. Madelyn Webster came next with four points and Peggy Dyer followed with three.

Lester Patrick, then, as now, big chief of the New York Rangers, 21 years ago tonight went into goal in place of Lorne Chabot for more than half a Stanley Cup game, and held Montreal Maroons to only one goal. Manager Patrick was 44 years old then. Rangers won the game 2-1, the Cup and the League championship that year.

From near and far, they flocked into Peterborough yesterday and this morning for the annual OBA convention. Delegates and officials from all parts of the province. Good to see them all. And good to see Jake Solomon on hand as a visitor from the States. Back in 1918, Jake helped to organize the OBA, Peterborough being one of the eight charter members. He organized the senior Petes and he had much to do with forming the old Central Ontario Baseball League. The other OBA charter members are: Toronto, Hamilton, Branford, Oshawa, Kitchener, Dundas and Preston. The OBA has grown a great deal since 1918, as the raft of work being handled at this convention shows. It's a big baseball business now.

Their Last Showing

Legionnaires are off again tonight for Lindsay to face the Sarnia Sailors. Second game of their best-of-five OHA senior "B" finals. After tonight, the clubs will wind it up in Sarnia, Legion going there next week-end by train for one, two or three games, if necessary. Should be another jampacked crowd in the Scugog arena this evening as it'll be the last time Legionnaires will be on display before the home crowd this semester. Win, lose or draw, tonight winds up their home stand. So, get in there, gang, and give the fans a slambang performance as a seasonal windup!

* * * * * *

It could be that the long haul from Sarnia had the Sailors' legs land-lubbery, but Legion certainly earned that 8-3 win in Lindsay last night. They looked "hungry" again and hustled all the way to have a good margin on play. It might be that the 1948 champs will rise in their wrath tonight and pull out the duke to gain an even split on the series up this way, but we doubt it. They'll have to play better hockey than that to beat the scrappy Legionnaires. The place was comfortably filled but no jampacked—and we think a lot of folks are scared away, thinking they won't get seats. There are plenty of seats, only a small section being reserved. So, don't pass this one up tonight.

Beaten Quite Soundly

Play was plenty fast throughout and pretty clean, too. Refereeing was okay, and we got mad and told off one of the timers who intimated that the officiating wasn't so hot. We said: "With the score 8-2 you've got the nerve to blame the referee—you're team is just taking a beating from a better club, that's all!" And we asked him how Orillia ever lost to them! Maybe, we're premature and they'll be plenty tough later, but they didn't have it last night. All our gang went good, with the first line leading in the scoring, the others clicking well, and the defence right up to par. Goalie didn't have too busy a night. One more in the bag tonight and we'll leave for Sarnia with a lot of confidence in this final series.

A full house at the Brock Arena last night saw a wild main pro mat bout. Atkins and the Masked Marvel went to a draw, ye ref refusing to take a beating any longer. He was Frank Valois, doubling in brass after staging quite a duel in the semi-final and then acting as referee for the main mauling, Frank stepped between the hooded horror and the scrappy Australian once, and 'twas just too bad. He cleared the top rope with space to spare. Both matmen were peeved at the final verdict and tried to maim the hapless Valois, with Pat Flanagan and the Cardiff Giant coming to his rescue. Yes, sir, it was quite a madhouse for a time with Ben Morgan also getting into the "hey rube" affair. Crowd loved it. Atkins and the Mask will meet again next week with Strangler Lewis in charge. Cardiff Giant won the semi-final and the prelim went to a draw. Nick Vicchiarelli refereed the first two okay.

Klukay's Goal Gives Leafs 3-2 Victory In Overtime

By JACK SULLIVAN

DETROIT, April 9 (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs today were on the right track in the hunt for their third Stanley Cup triumph.

They got the "big one," a 3-2 overtime victory over Detroit Red Wings in the best-of-seven series opener Friday night. But they had to battle all the way for it against the Wings, who ended the regular 60-game schedule at the top of the six-team National Hockey League to take the championship.

Fair-haired Joe Klukay, 27-year-old right winger from Sault Ste. Marie, tucked the victory away with a blazing backhand shot that found the corner after 17.35 minutes of overtime. His "million-dollar" goal broke a 2-2 deadlock and clipped the Wings, who went into the game slight favorites in the betting.

A capacity crowd of 13,445 was stunned into silence as Klukay's drive popped in under goalkeeper Harry Lumley's outstretched arm.

Leafs defeated the Red Wings in four straight in the playoffs last year and supporters now are calling them to set National Hockey League history by taking the cup three years in succession. Leafs defeated Montreal Canadiens 4-2 in games in the 1947 series.

Klukay picked up another point getting an assist on a first-period goal by Max Bentley which tied the score at 1-1. Wings opened the scoring, George Gee netting in a pass from Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe.

It was a so-so game for most of the regulation 60 minutes but both clubs, eager for the sudden-death clincher in the overtime, pulled out all the stops.

Jim Thomson scored Toronto's second goal while Sid Abel, one of Detroit's big guns and captain of the club, sat in the penalty box for elbowing. The 2-1 Leaf lead appeared safe until big Bill Quackenbush tied it up at 10.33 of the third session, sending the clubs into overtime.

Big Bob Dawes missed a chance to give Leafs the game in regulation play when his shot—from about five feet out—hit the goalpost and trickled on the line until goalkeeper Harey Lumley dived to the ice to stop its roll.

Both clubs missed golden chances in the overtime. Gee, one of the stars of the game, set up scoring plays early in the period but the Wings couldn't capitalize on them.

But it was Klukay's drive that settled it. He cut in from the corner and shot and few in the Arena saw it hit the nets behind Lumley.

Titles Taken By Three In Girls' Loop

Nurses Seniors, Collis Intermediates, and Normals Juniors won the chacmpionships of the Girls' Basketball League in final games last night at the YWCA. Nurses defeated Neill's 30-22 to capture the cup by just five points. CGE defeated Collis 20-13, but lost out on the round by 12 points. Lockey's also made a battle of it in the junior tilt, winning 15-13, but losing the round by 11 points.

The junior go was a tight one all the way as Lockeys tried to close the gap. Normals' zone defence beat them. The Normals led at the half 8-7, but were outscored 8-5 the last half. Lockeys got nine of 14 foul shots, with Betty McIlwaine, May Knox, Joan Patterson and Dorothy Jackson leading their attack. J. McCurdy, M. Bayne, M. Pearse and M. Brown shone for the winners.

Down Too Far

CGE were down too far in their tilt but made it a fine fight to win the last game. Irene Stewart led them in the first half with six points with sister Betty also going strong later to score six the last session. These two with Marg Kennedy and Mary Perrin sood out. For Collis, Ruth Henderson, Ann Metheral, and Marion McKee starred. CGE scored two of nine free throws as Collis counted three in 13. The teams:

Senior Fray

Nurses were full value for their senior win, but it was a tight series all the way, ending in a five-point margin. Play was fast and close with Nurses finally gaining a two-point lead to be but a point down three-quarters way through. They led 22-19 to tie up the rough in the final quarter end, with two minutes to play they took a poin lead With Neill's pressing hard, Shirley Curtis broke to score two quick baskets and settle it. They got eight of 24 foul shots and Neill's counted 10 of 21. Wilma Floyd, Don Callan, Jean Vass, and Marg Freeman turned in a whale of a game for Neill's. Shirley Curtis, Anita Davis, Bev Pringle, and Barb Deyell all starred for Nurses. The teams:

Takes City By Storm

By JOE REICHLER

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9 (AP) —It was strange to hear Jackie Robinson say "I wouldn't change shoes with any man in the world."

But stranger still was the tremendous ovation given to the star negro second baseman of Brooklyn Dodgers by the white fans of Atlanta when he stepped up to the plate for the first time in Friday night's game between the Dodgers and the Crackers of Atlanta.

To be sure, there was some spotty booing at first. But they were quickly drowned out by cheers from the majority of some 15,000 fans who came out to watch the first negro ever to play here with a white against another white team.

Just to show they were sincere in their welcome, thousands stood up and applauded when Robinson responded by slapping a single over the second baseman's head. This from the fans of Atlanta, the home of the Ku Klux Klan and the core of southern segregation.

Atkins and Mask Go To Draw As Bout Ends In "Hey Rube"

One of the wildest grappling forays of the whole year in the Brock Arena ring ended last night when Fred Atkins wrestled the Masked Marvel to an exciting no-decision draw. The largest crowd of the season viewed three red-hot bouts.

Frank Valois, who was pressed into additional service as referee after having wrestled in the semi-final spot, finally could stand a series of battering, bumping and colliding no longer and called a halt. Valois got in the way of more elbows, flying tackles and body bumps than he did while he was wrestling. The end came when he inadvertently stepped in between the two huskies during a charging series. The Mask's muscular 251 pounds caught the hapless official and he went catapulting right over the top rope. Both grapplers landed out almost on top of the prostrate referee just one moment later. Atkins tried desperately to get back in the ring but the Marvel dragged him out by the leg. They stood toe to toe and slugged with their fists and neither backed up an inch.

Meanwhile Pat Flanagan who had wrestled on an earlier bout on the card helped the limping Valois back into the ring where he signalled to timekeeper Basil Phelan to ring the bell.

Valois' decision made it a double disqualification but the Mask wanted no part of that ruling and neither did Atkins. Both of the big fellows took swings at the referee and Flanagan leaped in to help. Pat got an elbow on the chin from the Mask and then the 330-pound Cardiff Giant rumbled through the ropes. For a full minute the ring looked like a herd of stampeding elephants as big Ben Morgan decided to join in the melee. Atkins and the Mask continued their hostilities until the sheer weight of the other four behemoths became to much for them.

The first fall went to Atkins in 17 minutes with the Kangaroo Klamp. The Marvel evened it up with a toe-hold in 10 minutes and when they came back for the third round you could see that the fur was going to fly.

Manager Jim Laidlaw rematched the feuding pair and will he will bring in the famous Strangler Ed Lewis to handle the rough, tough chore of refereeing.

Cardiff Giant Wins

The semi-final resulted in a win for the Cardiff Giant over Frank Valois of Montreal. Outweighed by about 90 pounds Valois made a valiant effort to cut the mighty Cardiffian down to size but it was a hopeless effort. Valois tried everything he knew and he was plenty rough in spots but once the bearded Giant applied his famed bear-hug the issue was never in doubt. The fall came in just seven minutes.

Finish In A Draw

The first match saw big Ben Morgan battle to an uproarious draw with speedy Pat Flanagan. Pat, who is definitely the popular lad around these parts, handed huge Ben some of the best belts to the face and body ever seen in a prelimnary bout. Morgan used his great weight, 313 pounds, to smash Flanagan around the ring and a good deal of the Tennessee blacksmith's holds were illegal but Flanagan never stopped trying and his drop kicks and flying tackles evened up the points.

Nick Vicchiarelli handled the first two bouts and did a good job.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Herman Keiser, who putted his way into the 1946 Masters Golf title, hit another hot streak Friday and went into a tie with Lloyd Mangrum for the lead in the 1949 Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga.

At the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament, Keiser and Mangrum each had totals of 143, one stroke under par. Keiser shot a second round of four under par 68 to go with his first round 75. Mangrum, the first day leader at 69, fired a 74 for his second round. One stroke behind them came Johnny Palmer, Badin, N.C., who had 73-71—144.

At New York, Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said Friday he had received a telegram from Ray Robinson in which the welterweight champion said he signed to defend his title for the tournament of champions.

Harry Markson, general manager of the 20th Century Sporting Club, said that if Robinson had signed with the rival T. of C. organization he would file suit against the welterweight king. The 20th claims Robinson signed an exclusive five-year contract with it in 1945.

At Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sal Maglie, former New York Giants pitcher, said Friday night he has signed with Drummondville in the Canadian Provincial Baseball League. Maglie is under suspension from organized ball for his part in the 1946 exodus to the Mexican League.

Vince Foster, welterweight contender from Nebraska, was awarded an unpopular split decision over Chuck Taylor, ex-coal miner of Coalport, Pa., in a bloody 10-round battle in the Chicago Stadium Friday night. Referee Johnny Behr voted for the surprising Taylor, while the two judges gave the honors to Foster by a slight margin.

Who says they never come back?

Orville (Jimmy) Brown climbed into a racing saddle at Bowie, Md., for the first time in 10 years Thursday. And he won the race on Beggar. Brown is 41 years old and weighs 108 pounds.

Preaching "Beyond Jordan" Part Of Christ's Ministry

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

We call Jesus "the Man of Galilee," and we think of His ministry as chiefly in that region where He grew up. In the home of His parents, where was the Sea of Galilee from which He called the fishermen to be His first disciples; and of Jerusalem and its environment in Judea, where were Bethlehem, and Bethany, and the Mount of Olives.

A glance at the map of ancient Palestine, with a reference to the details in the four Gospels, shows how large and important a part of the ministry of Jesus was in other parts, outside of Galilee and Judea. In John 4, it is stated that when He was in Judea He wished to go to Galilee, and that He "must needs go through Samaria." The map shows why that was so, for Samaria lay right between Judea and Galilee, all the way from the Jordan to the Mediterranean. We are glad that Jesus had to go through Samaria, for that necessity gave us the wonderful story of His meeting with the Samaritan woman at the Well of Jacob, with the declaration of His Messiaship, and the great words concerning true worship.

There was, however, another way that Jesus might have gone, if He had chosen to cross the River Jordan twice. And on His last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem it was this that He did, entering Judea from the farther, or eastern, side of Jordan. It is not quite clear at just what point He crossed the Jordan, but the journey with His disciples to Jerusalem from beyond the Jordan brought them through the region known as Perea.

Perea was a region of high mountains, wooded slopes, rich fields, and fertile valleys, where mountains streams watered great olive groves and vineyards. It must have been an alluring region for a Master who so loved the land and its treasures; but the shadow of the Cross was looming heavily upon Him. He sensed the dangers awaiting Him at the end of that journey, and mystery and sadness encompassed the disciples as they heard the words they so little understood.

It was on this journey that He blessed the little children; the rich young man came to Him and went away sorrowful, renouncing his great opportunity; the sons of Zebedee, the "Boanerges," still full of the idea of an earthly kingdom, were out to get the preferred places, and to them and to the ten other disciples, "Moved with indignation," Jesus sought to impart the lesson concerning true greatness, in humility, ministry, and service. It was a most significant journey, and one that the disciples were long and deeply to remember.

Their enlightenment only came after the Resurrection. Then they understood the words that were so full of puzzlement and mystery. But the experiences of that journey must have had a large part in their new faith.

Perhaps we, also, must journey with Jesus "beyond Jordan" if we would understand the mystery of His mission, and ours.

Redemption In Christ

REV. E. R. JAMES

I Live, Yet Not I But Christ Liveth In Me. The Life Which I Now Live I Live By The Faith Of The Son Of God, Who Loved Me And Gave Himself For Me. Gal. 2; 20.

No man hath seen electricity at any time; you see its effects, results. You push the button and the light comes on; you turn the dial of your radio and a voice enters your rooms. It is wonderful. In a reasonable way you can say:—"The life I now live I live largely by faith in electricity. Yet electricity has always been in this world. It is an energy; a power which has been developed in this generation. Nearly 50 years ago this writer was invited to call on a parishioner. Her son wished to speak to her on Christmas Day. She and the writer went to the phone office. When she heard his voice she exclaimed:—"It is Tom; I never expected to hear his voice".

Nineteen centuries ago a band of Jews went forth and told people that a new Power had entered into this world. This Power had always existed in the world. "In the beginning was the Word and the Word was God. All things were made by Him." But in the fulness of time God sent forth His Son to take upon Him our complete human nature and be Man. It is a tremendous fact that at a definite time in the history of this world God became Man and by His indwelling powed in men save them from the power of sin.

In the days of His ministry Jesus Christ made great claims. No wonder men were shocked when He claimed to forgive sins. "The Son of man hath power to forgive sins" and He proved it by speaking of the Power word of healing. "Take up thy bed and walk". Again He said:—"I have power to lay down my life and have power to take it again. I am the resurrection and the life. The Son of Man was not only a Example; a Teacher; He is more; He is a Saviour. "Jesus saves".

Think of His saving Saul of Tarsus. He was a highly educated Pharisee who clearly saw that this new sect within the Jewish sect would spell separation and division. When St. Stephen died with the prayer on his lips:—"Lord Jesus, receive my spirit", Saul was fearfully shocked. He thought it was the thin edge of pagan teaching entering into the Jewish faith. Every Jew was taught to say at the hour of death:—"Hear, O Israel, the Lord they God is One Lord."

At Damascus the Lord met him and Saul became convinced that the Crucified Jesus is indeed the

Appalling Crime Record Of Older Teen-Agers, Special Treatment Needed

Half of the thefts of cars and a third of all other types of thefts are committed by people between the ages of 16 and 20, J. Keiller MacKay, the Ontario Supreme Court judge investigating the allegations at Belleville, told an audience of more than a hundred lawyers, doctors, engineers and other university graduates at a meeting convened by Peterborough University Women's Club on Friday at Queen Mary School.

Mr. Justice MacKay was speaking about some of the problems of administering the criminal law, drawing particular attention to the necessity for giving serious consideration to young criminals over the age of juvenile court jurisdiction and under the age of 21.

There were, he said, new ways of dealing with the youngest age group on principles new to the legislator but no such progress had been made in dealing with the older teen-agers.

Referring to crimes against property, including burglary and larceny, Mr. Justice MacKay said that this age group committed twice as many burglaries as the people between the ages of 25 and 30 and approximately 30 times as many as those of people over 50. They committed twice as many ordinary thefts as those between 35 and 40 and nearly nine times as many as those over 50. In auto thefts they predominated to such an extent that they nearly tripled the rate of the 25 to 29 year-olds and exceeded those above 50 more than 125 times.

Appalling Record

Most of the crimes committed by those between 16 and 20 years of age were first offences. Having never appeared in juvenile court, there had been no opportunity to apply the carefully planned treatment given to the younger offenders. It appeared, therefore, that the appalling record of criminality in this youth group was not wholly attributable to lack of care and control during childhood.

The younger the person was at first conviction, the greater was the likelihood of his coming into conflict with the law again, Mr. MacKay revealed by quoting statistics. He said that a person who committed a property crime was more likely to relapse than one whose crime was committed against a person.

One theory for the correction of criminals and especially those who had not reached their majority, was to treat each offender individually after making a study of him. By this method the "penalty" would be calculated in such a way as to make the criminal a good citizen. Each person would require a particular treatment to be determined after making careful study. This course was likened to treatment used in clinical medicine, but Mr. MacKay pointed out that there were two fundamental differences in the circumstances which had to be taken into account before assuming that this would be a successful method.

Individual Treatment

The doctor acted at the urgent request of the patient, Mr. MacKay said. The criminal had treatment forced on him against his will. And the doctor adjusted conditions to suit the patient, relieving him from responsibility and strain. The criminal had to adjust himself to conditions and his rehabilitation depended on his making an effort. Only by self-discipline could he correct his weakness and gain the strength and self control to meet the conditions which society imposed on its members.

Mr. Justice MacKay claimed that the treatment of crime called for the widest possible knowledge in many fields. It was related closely to social conditions, to disease, both of body and mind; to economical factors, heredity and environment, conditions of life in infancy, childhood, youth and in adult life.

What was needed was a calm, dispassionate view of the problems, balancing the needs of the offender with those of the community. The judge found that when most people spoke of prevention, they usually mean deterrence. This aspect was worthy of the most searching and careful consideration.

Theory of Retribution

Another view of punishment regarded by most as salutory was the idea of retribution. There were others who said that nothing was to be gained by adding fresh evil to wrong already done.

The underlying and governing idea in the desire for retribution was in no way an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. The community was anxious to express its repudiation of the crime committed and to establish and assert the welfare of the community against the evil in its midst.

Mr. MacKay was introduced by Miss Margaret McCullough and vote of thanks was proposed by Mrs. C. G. Boyd.

Baseball Training School Mooted At OBA Meeting

Recommendation that the members of the Ontario Baseball Association approve a proposal to set up a new Baseball Training School for the benefit of promising young players was made by the executive of the association as the annual meeting of the OBA opened Friday afternoon in the Empress Hotel, Peterborough. The recommendation came before the association at the first general meeting which opened this morning at 10.15.

The school would be operated by the Toronto Baseball Club, with the assistance of Philadelphia Nationals and the Toronto Evening Telegram. It will be held for one week in Toronto around the end of May or the first part of June, and similar week-long schools would be held in some half-dozen other Ontario centres in subsequent weeks.

The school will be conducted by outstanding coaches of the Philadelphia and Toronto clubs and those attending will receive the best of instruction.

Mileage Claims

The executive named a special committee which met later Friday evening to deal with a claim and counter-claim over mileage allowances between the Peterborough and Toronto Stafford clubs. The committee will report back to the association today.

The Hamilton Japanese Club was granted Intermediate C classification.

A claim against Toronto Leaside Intermediate Club by the Napanee Club was laid over for consideration later in the convention. The same applies to a claim of Port Hope vs. Oakville.

Applications of the following for reinstatement as amateurs were approved by the executive: John Barbeau, Sudbury; James Muldoon, Smiths Falls; George Fisher, Hamilton Application of William J. Arnold of Bickford was laid over until Saturday. All are former professional ball club players.

The following applications for change of residence were approved: Stanley Lipka, Toronto to Brantford; John Lockington, Strathroy to Brantford; George Fisher, Hamilton to Brantford; John Barbeau, Sudbury to Waterloo; James Muldoon, Smiths Falls to Waterloo. Donald C. Gallinger, RalphRowlandResigns FromAssessmentDept.

City council has accepted the resignation of Ralph Rowland of the assessment department, effective April 30. Mr. Rowland is going to the mortgage department of the Imperial Life Insurance Co., Toronto, beginning his work with the company May 2. He has been two years and two months with the city as one of its assessing staff, and has acquired a practical knowledge here that should be valuable experience with the Toronto company. Mr. Rowland was well regarded by the city council, and leaves behind him a rather short record, but also a service that has been appreciated in his department and the treasury of the council.

The Goderich Arena Committee has accepted the tender of the N. O. Hipel construction company of Preston of $146,500, for the erection of a new artifical ice arena.

Ask Undertakers To Avoid George Street With Funerals

"It doesn't affect me greatly, but it might prove embarrassing to some of the other funeral directors of the city, and I would like to speak for them," said Ald. P. J. Anglesey in referring at the council meeting to a committee of the whole recommendation that "where possible", funerals should avoid George St. "paticularly at peak business hours"

"The recommendation is left wide open," said Ald Doug Miller, "and I do not think it would cause inconvenience or hardship to anyone. It says "where possible", and for that reason I don't think it is worth while taking out the clause. The council is just asking funeral directors not to use the main street for funerals, where possible. It was thought that funeral directors should discourage the practice when the traffic of the main street could be avoided."

Ald. Anglesey said that funerals were the last expression of respect to citizens. None of them were during the peak business hours. "It looks like a black eye by the city, to start pushing the dead around like that."

Ald. Hugh Waddell said Chief John Thompson and City Engineer A. E. Chalmers were present when the traffic regultions were being discussed. There was no implication of any refusal of the right to use George St. for funerals no disrespect was thought of, but it was felt that a request might be made to the funeral directors of the city that if it was possible to avoid George St. they might do so because of the usual volume of traffic on the main street. Ald. Waddell said there was no intention of going beyond that request.

The clause was left in the report of the committee of the whole which was adopted on the motion of Ald. Waddell and Ald. Gillespie.

Square Milk Bottles Fail

Some Ottawa dairies are going all out these days to streamline their milk business by using square milk bottles instead of the conventional round ones that have been in use so long. There is nothing new in this approach since they have been used in Sudbury, Hamilton, Toronto and Windsor for the past five or six years.

"It is a future trend in the retail milk business," was the opinion of manager W. G. Ovens of the Campbell Dairy. His firm has found that they break more readily in cold weather than the old-fashioned round types. He feels that ceramic engineers will eventually come up with a square bottle that will stand Peterborough's cold winters.

Manager J. E. Weir, of Silverwood's Dairy was of the same opinion as Mr. Ovens and added further that although square bottles fit mechanical filling machines, some adjustments would have to be made in the washing operation. He doubts whether square glass bottles will have a longer life than round ones which at present stand more than 50 trips each before breaking. "It will also mean an added expense to dairies," he said in having to make new cases to fit them.

County Council Pay Less For HS Pupils

This year the Peterborough County budget for secondary education has been set at $8,093.20. Last year the county ratepayers had to provide $25,057.61. This very large decrease between 1948 and 1949 is not as real as it looks. The actual cost of secondary schooling for county pupils has not decreased. What has happened it that another way of financ- in August. He boarded on Town-

The County Council has been responsible for paying the costs of secondary schooling for its students. Since most of them go to PCVS this mean reimbursing the Peterborough Board of Education. Now the county has been divided into three High School Districts, except for the townships of Dummer, Douro, Ennismore and Galway-Cavendish. The most populous is the Peterborough Suburban District which includes North Monaghan and parts of Otonabee and Smith.

These High School Districts are administered by their own boards who, like the city Board of Education, make their own assessments. Therefore the County Council is no longer required to set a secondary school tax rate, except for pupils in the area outside the three High School Districts that is in Dummer, Douro, Ennismore and Galway-Cavendish.

The total cost, which the County Council must provide for the secondary schooling of pupils in these non-District areas is, this year, $14,593.20. Of this sum, $5,292.90 will be paid to the Peterborough Board of Education for pupils attending PCVS. The council does not need, however, to find all $14,593.20, since it has converted to current account its Educational Reserve Fund of $6,500. Therefore the total the county is providing for in its 1949 budget is $8,093.20.

That is one side of the financial story—the County Council's side. Now, for the Peterborough Board of Education's side. Originally the total 1949 cost of secondary education for county pupils was set at $34,957.78. Of this the County Council would have paid $28,747.67 to the Peterborough Board. When the method of financing through the High School District was adopted, costs had to be assessed differently. The new method was adopted by the Suburban Peterborough District Board when it found that it could avail itself of the 70 per cent grant on approved costs which is offered by the Department of Education. The grant is payable only if the Suburban Board and not the County Council pays the city Board of Education.

CHANGED RESIDENCE

James Nicholson, arrested in Toronto this week and wanted by Peterborough city police for theft of a $100 bond from Miss Phyllis Morrison, 269 Townsend St., went to live at 263 Townsend St. after the date of the alleged offence in August. He boarded on Townsend St. from November to January, leaving the city for Toronto at the beginning of the year.

RUMPUS IN CAFE

James Doyle, Perth, Ont., was fined $10 with $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty at city police court to being drunk on April 1. He had been held in custody on remand for a week. Chief Constable J. Thompson told Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. that there had been "a rumpus" at a cafe as a result of which Doyle was arrested.

LIONS VISIT BOWMANVILLE

There will be no meeting of the Lions Club on Monday; instead a bus will be available to take members to Bowmanville for a send-off party for Dr. George Miller of Bowmanville, Deputy District Governor of District A-3. Dr. Miller will take the office of secretary of the World Health Federation in Geneva, Switzerland. The bus will accommodate only 35 passengers, but several members with private cars will be at the depot to take the overflow.

WEST MOVES IN

Residents of Water St., just north of Park Hill Rd., are bewildered. Somehow a cow's skull complete with horns, has found its way to the edge of the street Friday. One resident on the bus Saturday morning suggested that the people in the district start to wear "their shootin' irons."

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Wire Home For Comfort Without Extravagance

When electric wiring is installed make certain the cables are adequate to care for the varying loads for each circuit. Otherwise, you will pay for more electricity than you actually benefit from. The fact that there are minimum code requirements does not mean that electric wiring should be held down to those limits.

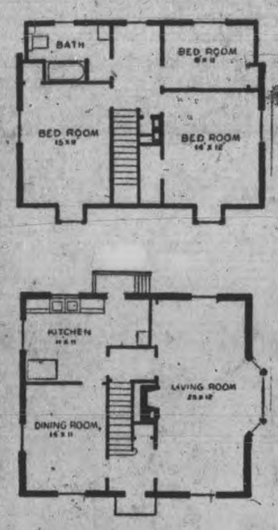
Your home should be wired for convenience without extravagance. The use of Romax insulated twin or triple cable with an outside insulation, making a double-covered wiring system, is assurance of safety.

In living-rooms, you should have convenience outlets every ten feet with a switch to control one or two outlets. The inclusion of a radio plug wih ground and aerial equipment though not required is a definite quality feature in a home. Dining-rooms should have a centre light, switch and convenience outlets for every ten feet.

Kitchens should have a centre light, switch and two convenience outlets, and a sink light with switch. The bedrooms should have a centre light, switch and convenience outlet every 15 feet. Bathroom should have one or two lights as required. In basements there should be a light for every 200 square feet and an additional light if there is a fruit cellar or closet; also convenience outlets for electrical apparatus or any special equipment.

It is general practice on the part of a custom-builder to permit the buyer to make his own selection of lighting fixtures.

Doors



When you come to the doors, there are two distinct kinds that must be considered, exterior and interior. All outside doors should be at least 1¾ inches thick. Front doors should be 3 feet wide; grade or rear doors usually 2 feet 6 inches wide, and should have solid white pine stiles and rails. It is well to remember that should you desire a special door the cost is approximately double that of a standard stock door of like quality.

In lower priced homes, two-panel inside doors are installed. This type of door is strong and serviceable, due to the wide centre rail which holds it rigid. The stiles and rails should be of solid white pine and the panels ¼-inch plywood.

Hardware

Because beautiful hardware adds distinctive charm to your home it should be in keeping with design of your home in addition to being modern and efficient in operation. The hardware in a home gets extreme usage and hence its quality is of the utmost importance. Cheap hardware requires early replacement, whereas good hardware will last as long as the house. There are many points at which you can check quality in finish hardware and expert workmanship in installation. For example, the butts with which the doors are hung should be sufficiently heavy to carry weight and withstand constant swinging. Outside doors should have three 3½ x 3½ butts; inside doors two 3½ x 3½ butts, and be nickel-plated for kitchens and bathrooms.

HOUSE No. 250—Did you ever see a more appealing living room? Not only is it huge, but it is blessed with a bay window that must be seen to be appreciated fully. The fireplace, centred on the inside wall, is a treasure too. All six rooms in the house are airy and bright. Notice the spot for a desk or sewing table in the upstairs hall. To Build Bridge

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP)—Dr. P. L. Pratley, 65-year-old Montreal consulting engineer, Friday was placed in charge of building the $13,500,000 bridge to gap the Strait of Canso between Cape Breton Island and the Nova Scotia mainland. The appointment was announced in the Commons by Transport Minister Chevrier. Construction of the bridge, which has been urged by Nova Scotians for years, is expected to be complete by about 1953. It will replace a car-ferry service now operating across the 3,000-foot stretch of water.

Helicopter To Rescue

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 9 (CP)—A United States Coast Guard Helicopter Friday brought to hospital a seaman who became critically ill aboard the freighter Bronson in Lake Superior 85 miles west of here. The Helicopter landed on the deck of the ship and took off seconds later. The same aircraft Thursday assisted the freighter Fort Wildoc, damaged in a collision with another vessel in Lake Superior.

Never Saw Carr

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP) — Health Minister Martin in the Commons Friday denied a statement by Sam Carr, convicted Soviet spy, that he had seen Mr. Martin in 1945 on election negotiations. Speaking on a question of privilege, he said Carr's "reported statement as absolutely untrue." He never had seen Carr "about such a matter".

The name "blimp" comes from the fact that English non-rigid balloons were known as "class B-limp."

Guild Supplies Paint For Work On Rectory

OMEMEE, April 9 —(ENS)— The Women's Guild of Christ Church met in the church basement Tuesday. After they had served dinner to the men of the church who were moving the old shed, the president, Mrs. H. Laidley called the meeting to order.

Some necessary renovations were discussed. It was decided to re-decorate the north room of the rectory. Mr. Evans' offer to paint the Guild room was accepted, the Guild to provide the paint. They also agreed to supply linen for the new purificators.

Mrs. Jacob and Mrs. Stephenson were appointed a Decorating and Publicity committee. Arrangements were made for a sale of home cooking and plants, on Saturday May 7, in Mrs. F. Clark's shop. One dollar for talent money is to be given each member at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. S. Nurse, Thursday May 5.

Baseball School

Port Colborne to Waterloo; Brian Kerr. St. Catharines to Waterloo; Larry Archambault, Philadelphia to Waterloo; John Giffen, Brockville to Waterloo.

Problems of minor baseball were discussed at a committee meeting on Friday evening as a prelude to bringing recommendations before today's general meeting, which is slated to continue all day, with both morning and afternoon sessions.

Fred Bradley, president, of Hamilton, is presiding, with W. J. Snyder, also of Hamilton, as secretary.

Evening Meeting

Mr. A. J. ("Bunny") Morganson of Toronto told the evening meeting that Peterborough had expressed a desire to be included in the baseball school project, but ball officials were not sure if the local field could be made ready in time.

At this point in Mr. Morganson's address, W. J. Smith, of Toronto, one of the original founders of the Ontario Baseball Association, interrupted for a moment in order to introduce to the delegates His Worship Mayor M. J. Swanston of Peterborough. The mayor extended a cordial welcome to the visiting ball executives and expressed the hope that Peterborough could be included in the school itinerary. Mr. Smith said the mayor was in his early days one of the best baseball catchers in the province.

The new Baseball School was outlined in greater detail to the representatives of various minor baseball leagues by Mr. Morganson, of the sports department of the Toronto Telegram. He described it as definitely an "educational" project and not in any sense intended to be a "try-out" for the major American leagues. No scouts would be permitted to attend. The school will be preceded by a "clinic" for coaches and managers of amateur baseball teams to be held on or about May 14.

During a discussion which followed Mr. Morganson's talk several delegates expressed approval of the proposed school, saying it was a long felt need, as heretofore it had been difficult to obtain coaches with sufficient expert knowledge of the game to efficiently coach the youngsters coming up.

Angus McDonell, of Ottawa, representing the Eastern Ontario Baseball Association, suggested that baseball instructors of the Toronto Baseball Club's school conduct classes in Pembroke and Cornwall, in view of the fact that professional ball teams were operating in Hamilton, Ottawa and Kingston.

Revise Playoffs

The remainder of the evening was largely devoted to a discussion of observations made by Don North, president of the North Toronto Baseball Association, on various problems which arose during the OBA playoffs last season. He said that his association feels that the whole playoff system should be revised. He suggested that the province be divided into four zones, and that playoff arrangements in each zone be placed under the jurisdiction of a committee with arbitrary powers to set playoff dates, and at the same time act as protest committee for that zone. The OBA should set a date for each zone to declare a champion.

A Napanee delegate expressed opposition to Mr. North's zoning proposition, declaring that he could not see the feasibility of it when "the teams are so few and the province so big." He said he felt that the idea of an Ontario championship should be done away with altogether in favor of the idea of cutting the province in two at Toronto and having two cups.

The meeting was presided over by S. H. Armstrong, president of the Toronto Minor Baseball Association.

City Carpetball

No reports have been received as to the balance of the games for the doubles and we again show the games to be played with slight changes.

(A) W. Morley, W. McMahon vs. Cummings, A. Sims. If either of these teams cannot play by this Thursday they will lose by default and the other team will play J. Douglas, P. Gahagan.

(B) D. Bartley, T. Nice vs. A. Robinson, R. Ralston. If either of these teams cannot play by next Thursday they should default and the other team play L. Jackson, A. Price.

The ultimate winners of A to play the winners of B.

The winners of the A versus B results to play the winners of the F. Parsons, A. Bromley vs. F. Honor, G. Whitehead match for the finals.

Time is running along and we are sure that all concerned want to see the season brought to a close.

The holders of the Hope Cup, Bleasdell Shield, Elsie Bennett Cup and the President Cup and the Bill Grace Memorial Trophy are requested to take same to the Elsie Bennett Gift Shop for naming.

Grows Inch A Day

MARMORA, April 9—(ENS) A tomato plant in the Marmora Herald office window is attracting considerable attention. It's story is interesting.

Mrs. H. W. Sabine, wife of the editor, obtained some earth from F. Trennum who lives near Blairton, for changing the earth on her house plants. After a while, a tomato plant was observed to be shooting up. After being transplanted three or four times it has now reached a height of more than four feet. It grows about an inch a day, so that by the usual time for its outdoor planting, arrives, it should be like a miniature tree.

In addition to several clusters of blossoms, there are a few small tomatoes, one being about the size of a small plum. Brows are now being furrowed over the questions: How high will it grow and how much will be the fruits thereof?

Jake Solomon Recalls Old Ball Days

"Kids get all the breaks in baseball today," Jake Solomon said yesterday in an interiew at the Empress Hotel. "We never could raise enough money to sponsor clubs in the old days but the service clubs and everyone else helps out today." Jake, former ball promoter and manager, is in Peterborough on a visit from Philadelphia, taking in the annual OBA convention here.

Looking very little older than in the days when he used to cavort around in the third-base coaching box in the early 20s at Riverside, Jake is tickled to be back for a few days in this city. His hotel phone rings constantly and visitors pour in. He toured the city Thursday with Mayor Max Swanston. who used to catch for him around 1921-22-23. Jake left here in 1924—he ran a bowling alley on Water St. near Simcoe for years—and went into the photography business in Philadelphia, recently retiring. He returned here in 1929 for the Old Home Week celebration, and is busy now renewing old acquaintances.

One of Finest

"Roy Cherrett was one of the finest ball players I ever handled here," he said, "and he might have eventually made the big leagues. Max Swanston was a scrappy catcher, always crabbing at the other players but always getting things done. He and Josh Craig used to form my advisory committee before games on what pitcher to use and so forth. We had some fine players in fellows like Al Heckman, Hap Harrison, Mickey Murray, Shiner Johnston, Tomy Holyman, Howard Kirn, Shag Shaughnessy, Herb Wolff, Red Legon, Comolli, Ansaldo, Jim Hall and several more."

Jake recalled the day when Umpire Alex Kay chased him from the bench. He went to the grandstand and eventually was chased right out of the park. He climbed on top of the ticket booth just over the fence and blasted the umpire in safety the rest of the game. Alex was on hand for the story and chuckled heartily.

Times have changed considerably in Peterborough, Jake said. It is much bigger and busier now and young ball players are getting more breaks than in the old days. He thought the class of ball in the early 20s was quite high but the cost was too high for those times, too. The city then didn't appreciate the fact that athletics were important for young fellows, and only a few really got behind the game financially to keep baseball going. He believes that the sport here, as elsewhere, is now assured. Jake dismissed with a shrug the tribute that he was one of the OBA and COBL organizers back in 1918 and also one of the main ones to form the local senior baseball organization at that time,

Find Missing Ship

MIAMI, Fla., April 9—(AP)—The pilot of a coast guard rescue plane reported Friday night that he dipped over the missing schooner Keewatin several times and all hands appeared in good condition. The Newfoundland-built Keewatin was located by a coast guard Amphibian late Friday in the Penascola Island group, British West Indies. Discovery of the vessel ended a vast aerial search by coast guard.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

It was 1909. Lurching and bumping over the rough ground at Baddeck, N.S., the Silver Dart rose into the air, piloted by J. A. McCurdy. It was the first aeroplane flight in Canada—and it made history.

History was written in the air again in 1919. Alcock and Brown flew from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Ireland, and brought Canada to the doorstep of the old world. Then came the intrepid bush-pilots, opening new pathways through great wild spaces to new discoveries.

In 1924, Canada's Air Force was born. Through the years it worked quietly, efficiently. Then came the war, and Canada's men of the air emblazoned their names forever in the annals of the world's great.

Now celebrating its Silver Jubilee, the Royal Canadian Air Force is carrying out a work of peace. Lives are being saved by mercy flights . . . the uncharted North is being photographed . . . scientific knowledge of aeronautics is broadened. By opening up many new horizons in this country, the men of the R.C.A.F. are proving there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited!

14-year-old Swimmers Try For Honors at Detroit Meet

Two 14-year-old Peterborough swimmers are south of the border today, in Detroit, making their first bid for international honors in the first Novice Synchronized Swimming Meet. Maureen Finn and Mary Rutherford of the Ornamental Swimming Club entered duet competitions which commenced this morning in St. Clair Recreation Centre Pool, Michigan. They are accompanied by club coach and trainer Mrs. Jas. Forbes.

Billed as the "Music Box Twins", the girls execute a routine to the catchy tune of "Music Box Revue." Like dancers they twirl in water snapping fingers in time to the opening bars. Then they glide smoothly into a series of synchronized swimming tricks that have been combined to fit the rhythm perfectly. To do this has required playing the recording many times while Mrs. Forbes directs the girls in land drill. Copies of a master sheet naming each trick used are given the judges with their entry.

Majority of the tricks have a high degree of difficulty marked for the judges at 1.9. What is considered the most difficult swimming trick is listed at 2.0. Swimmers who have tried them agree with the scores, and few, if any, can perform them with any grace without long weeks of practice. For instance, the figure known as "front outstretch somersault" cannot be accomplished properly if the back isn't arched just right, and errors in form and timing cause loss of marks.

Difficulties In Practice

Chief handicaps to Peterborough girls entering competitions in other cities are the size of pools and the time for practice. Both girls are students at St. Peter's High School and for the past week have spent their lunch hours in the YWCA pool which was made available to them through kindness of Mrs. Powell, swimming instructor. Here changes in position have to be made to get deeper water for some tricks, but in larger pools this trouble is not encountered. However, the difference in routine means more to remember under stress of competition. Scarcely one competitor they will meet has had less than an hour's practice each day for the past several months.

Bathing suits chosen for this number are black trimmed with white bars of music. One girl wears notes of the treble cleft and the other the bass, and these are also painted in black on their white bathing caps.

CGIT Doing

Knox

There were 26 members present at the regular meeting of Knox CGIT this week. During worship service Dorothy Drummond read Scripture and Miss Inez Barrer led in prayer. A poem was read by Frances Clarke. The girls planned a progressive party. The meeting closed with a sing-song under leadership of Joan Carveth.

Trinity

A portion from the Revised Version of the New Testament was read by Anna Edmondson and formed the basis for her meditation on the thoughts of a bystander at the time Christ bore His cross through the streets of Jerusalem.

President Joan White gave the report of Girls' Council and read a letter which dealt with the 1949 CGIT camp which is being held at Camp Kawartha on Clear Lake from August 24 to September 3.

After dividing into groups, the intermediates were instructed in the art of making pie face lollipops by Mrs. A. Legon. These lollipops will be their donation to the Girls' Work Board tea.

Senior girls were reminded to bring to the next meeting their lists of articles for the bale which they are packing in response to the appeal for the needy of Europe.

The following girls were delegated to represent the senior group at the Girls' Work Board tea: Joan Henry, Barbara Huffman and Helen Lancaster as pianists, Betty Crowe and Joanne Watson to assist in the tea room and Joan Hastie to help with the sale of candy.

George Street

"Sharing In All Work" was the theme chosen for the worship service at George Street when Wilma Mahood, Victoria McKim, Carol McKenzie and Arleigh Brotherstone took part.

Joyce Copp was in the chair during a brief business session which was followed by the girls dividing into groups, alternating between fudge making and taking part in a discussion period led by Miss Beryl Hart.

St. Paul's WMS Studies Formosa

A meeting of St. Paul's WMS was held in the Guild Room Friday afternoon. Mrs T. H. Taylor was in the chair in absence of the president, Mrs. D. T. Diplock. Miss E. O. Simpson took the devotional exercises. A beautiful solo was contributed by Mrs. L. R. Mitchell, who was accompanied by Mrs. W. L. McNeill.

Mrs A. J. Craig was in charge of the study period. Her subject had to do with the early history of the island of Formosa, it's people and religion. From early times this island has been known by several names but that used by the Chinese is Tai Wan, meaning "terraced harbor."

The island has had varying occupants. Dutch, Portuguese, Spanish. and small numbers of Europeans, who have come and gone, but most of the inhabitants are Aborigines and Chinese. The Aboriginal tribes diverge greatly as to actual objects of worship but all are spirit worshippers. Religion of the Chinese is closely akin to that of China itself.

The Japanese first invaded the island in 1874 but were driven off. They gained control at close of the Chinese-Japanese war and held it until the end of the last war when it went back to China. Formosa has been the responsibility of the Presbyterian Church in Canada since pioneer missionary Dr Geo. Mackay went there late in the last century.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Taylor.

Shown here in the arms of her mother, Sandra Joan has already cut six teeth and both doctors and dentists terms such cases as "extremely rare." The first tooth put in an appearance when she was five weeks old and since then more teeth are appearing almost daily. Having teeth at birth is said to be more common.

Of Interest to Women.

Says Observant Man Knows If Girl Will Be Good Mate

DEAR MISS DIX: Are there any reliable earmarks by which a man tell before marriage what kind of a wife a girl will make? I have known so many girls who were everything that was sweet and gentle and angelic before marriage but shrews and hellions after marriage, that I get cold feet whenever I get within walking distance of the altar.

What are a man's chances of getting a wife who will come up to expectations, instead of keeping him wondering why he picked her out?

JONOTHAN

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: Well, son, there are plenty of ways by which a man can tell before marriage what sort of a wife a girl will make. The trouble is that men look for guardian angels to protect them, instead of depending on themselves, yet the matter is absolutely in their own hands. For a woman can no more conceal her mental deformities than she can her physical ones.

If, therefore, you are engaged to a girl who has fits and hysterics every time you notice another woman, be warned in time. Break off your engagement before you let yourself in for a lifetime of misery. She will make the sort of wife who will keep you in terror all your days. She will go through your pockets looking for letters from other women, sniff at your clothes to find out if they smell of perfume, and scrutinize you to see if there is any lipstick on your shirt. She would be forever popping into your office to see what you were up to, and you wouldn't dare employ a stengrapher under 60.

See Her at Home

Every man has a horror of being bossed, and well he may. So before you get really serious, take a good, long squint at a girl in her own home and see whether she bosses her family. If she rules the roost, duck and run though you may be on the very steps of the altar. For the girl who can rule her family can manage her husband with one hand tied behind her.

When you go to pick out a wife, son, look for a girl who is sound in wind and limb and who won't be a perpetual doctor's bill. Pass up the girl who is nothing but a clothes rack, who dresses beyond her means, Step high, wide and handsome around the girl who lets Mother do all the cooking while she keeps her hands perfectly manicured. Don't marry the girl who is selfish and self-centered and who has to always be appeased. And, above all, don't marry a girl unless she has good, hard, horse sense.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 37 years old, although I am never taken for more than 28. I am now dating a fellow who is 36 and who keeps asking me my age. I am quite sure that he would not like it if he knew I was older than he was, so I have given him hints to allow him to think I was about 33. No one has ever been told my correct age.

Shall I tell this man my age and suffer the consequences, or shall I tell him I am 33? Frankly, I would feel more at ease having him think I am younger than I am.

ANSWER: According to the presumably honest data that you give me, you are only one year older than your boy friend; and I can't see how that can cut any ice in your love affair unless he suspects you of being much older than you are, in which case it would be the part of wisdom to tell him the truth and produce your birth certificate.

At any rate a man is greatly lacking in good taste and good manners if he keeps nagging at a woman about her age. If she looks young and beautiful to him, that's all that is necessary, and if he is a real gentleman, he will imitate a friend of mine who calls his wife "Girlie" although she is well in her eighties.

In reality, the smart thing for a woman of 37 to do is to celebrate her birthdays, instead of trying to hide them, for that stops all speculation and criticism about her age. People no longer are interested in guessing her age, and their comment is how young and pretty she looks for her age, instead of how old and faded.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a dissatisfied husband. I have ten children and have been married 31 years, but I am getting tired of my wife. I want to marry a woman 22 or 23 years old. How can I divorce this elderly woman for a young one? What is your advice?

WORRIED HUSBAND.

ANSWER: My earnest advice to you is to stick to the wife who has stuck to you for 31 years. Believe me, not many young girls are going to be chasing after an old married man with ten children.

Bullock-Barton Two Ring Wedding

In Trinity United Church at Vankleek Hill the marriage was solemnized this afternoon of Merle Audrey Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. F. Barton, and Braden Orville Bullock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Bullock of Lakefield. The Rev. W. D Reid performed the double ring ceremony.

Spring flowers and fern decorated the church and wedding music was played by Mrs. Harvey Dunning of Vankleek Hill. During the signing of the register Miss Lois Allen of Cornwall sang "Because."

The bride was wearing a gown of white slipper satin trimmed with net and lace. Her veil of net was caught to a crown headdress and she carried American Beauty roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Attendants were Miss Joan Barton, maid of honor, frocked in yellow taffeta, Miss Gladys Reid in mauve and Miss Freda Hughes in green, as bridesmaids. Each wore a matching headdress of net and carried a Colonial bouquet.

The groom was attended by Mr. Owen Bullock. Ushers were Delbert and Keith Barton.

After a reception, held in Vankleek Hill Curling Rink, the couple left for a trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a grey suit with accessories of navy and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock will live in Dalkeith.

GRAHAM—In memory of a friend, Bert C. Graham, who left this world April 10, 1948.

—Always remembered by a friend.

KELLY—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Jackie, who passed away one year ago.

God knew that he was suffering.
The hills were hard to climb,
So He closed his little eyelids,
And whispered "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful home of God,
In that beautiful land so fair,
Some day, somehow, we know not when,
We'll meet our darling there.
—Sadly missed by Mother and Daddy brother and sisters.

PILLING—In ever loving memory of Eric, who left us three years ago today.

He has solved it, life's wonderful problem
The deepest, the strangest, the last,
And into the school of the angels,
With the answer forever has passed.
How strange he should sleep so profoundly
So young, so unworn by the strife
While beside him brimful of hope's nectar
Untouched stood the goblet of life.
God knew all about it, how noble
How gentle he was and how brave.
How bright his possible future
Yet put him to sleep in his grave.
God Knew all about those who love him
How bitter the trial must be
And right through it all God is loving
And knows so much better than we.
—Mom, Dad, brothers and sisters.

Dr. Wilson Ford Otonabee MOH

The Otonabee council is expected to set the tax rate next week. The township rate itself will likely be about the same as in 1948, 10.30 mills, but the school and country rates may be advanced.

The new county high school areas which were set up this year will make some substantial changes in county costs, but the provincial grants are large, and in the local council discussions, it is thought that the cost to the taxpayers should be moderate.

Dr. Wilson Ford, veterinary of Keene, has been appointed medical officer of health, approved by the provincial Department. He replaces Dr. H. G. Carleton who was acting M. O. H. following the departure of Dr. Wright of Keene who left for Europe on an assignment by the Dominion Government.

Assessor Re-Appointed

John Cooney of the Warsaw Road near Peterborough has been appointed assessor for 1949, continuing the work he began last year. On account of the new county assessment system it was felt by the council that the position should be advertised. That was done and applications were considered before the re-appointment was made final.

Several deputations have been asking the council for road improvements of major proportions. It has been explained to them that the road program is already laid for 1949, and that there are not sufficient funds for additional construction work this year.

The rink committee recommended that the township accept the title to the agricultural show grounds which had been given to the rink committee. The council has accepted the grounds, and the legal deeds are being prepared. The township must own the grounds where a rink is built to qualify for provincial grants.

Road Allowance Sold

Some discussion has been directed to the closing of a road allowance and selling it to Arthur Elmhurst. He has agreed to give a road allowance to the lake for the old one that is being closed. A surveyor is to draw a map of allowance.

Several meetings of the council have been concerned with the approaching lawsuit of Bell Telephone Co. vs. the township of Otonabee. The council has determined its action. The case will be heard this months.

Call Off Strike

NEW YORK, April 9—(AP)—A week-old strike of taxi drivers was called off Friday by a union official who angrily assailed Mayor William O'Dwyer. He called O'Dwyer the 'No. 1 double-crossing, strike-breaking mayor of all time."

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Don't suffer needlessly the pains of rheumatism. Start now, to use Rumacaps. Not one, but three pain relieving ingredients go to work instantly to help soothe nerves and relax painful muscles. A fourth ingredient works as a purifier to help cleanse the kidneys and remove one of the chief causes of backache and rheumatic pains. Ask for Rumacaps at your druggists. 50c and $1.00 economy size.

Purdy Young Buried At Tweed

Funeral service for the late Purdy Young, 66, of 696 Victory Crescent, was held at the home of his brother-in-law, Fletcher Deline of Sulphide on Tuesday at 3 p.m. The Rev. Experimenting Farmers Have The Seasonal Opportunity of Planting Hybrid Corn For Stock Feed.... 216,000 Young Ttrees Arriving Soon in Peterborough County....Farm Group Wins $25,000 Community Hall.

A young farmer in the Ottawa Valley is credited with a crop of 7,200 bushels of hybrid corn off 100 acres last year. His yield averaged 72 bushels to the acre.

Reports last fall indicated a substantial increase in acreage of grain corn throughout eastern Ontario, but almost any increase might be considered substantial from the fact that farmers throughout this section of the province to the Ottawa district have been reluctant to take a chance on the hybrid varieties. Some of them, however, maturing around 85 days have actually been demonstrating that this grain crop is now practical.

R. H. Peilson says the advantage of economy in feed commends hybrid corn to the farmer who is closely watching his costs of production. If an acre of barley yields 26 or 30 bushels (48 lbs. to the bushel) the feed volume is approximately 1440 pounds.

Assuming 70 bushels of corn at 56 pounds to the bushel, that same acre would provide 3,920 lbs. of feed.

"On that basis the enterprising farmer is going to ask himself: "Am I wasting half the land by leaving hybrid corn out of my program?" . . . If you divide the 1,440 lbs. of feed from barley by the 56 lbs. of corn to the acre, the corn crop would be only 25 bus. to the acre, and that would be a ridiculous figure for returns from corn."

The experience from local farmers who have ventured into seed corn has proved to them that their experiments were successful. The latest testimony to that effect was the report recently published from Earl Petrie of Otonabee who concluded his account with the comment that results warranted inclusion of hybrid corn in this season's planting. His story and also that of W. W. Dawson a year ago indicated that there was no serious difficulty in the handling of the crop.

Mr. Peirson tells of one farmer who milled both grain and cobs with highly satisfactory feed results.

Ernest McWilliam has been advocating and demonstrating hybrid corn for the last three or four years and is convinced that it should be more generally sown in this area.

But, the final decision rests with the farmers themselves. If they have any doubts about returns from their own planting, and of methods to be employed, including the use of fertilizer, they should consult any of the seed men, or farmers like Will Dawson and Mr. Petrie in the Otonabee neighborhood.

FORESTRY CLUBS

W. A. Anderson has 216,000 young trees arriving in Peterborough any day now from the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. That number was the total of applications. The largest allotment will be planted in Chandos.

The Department is encouraging boys and girls forestry clubs for the first time this year. Each club must have at least ten members between the ages of 12 and 21. The purpose is to stimulate interest in reforestation on non-agricultural land, planting of windbreaks and shelter belts.

Mr. Anderson considers the care of trees in their early stage as their planting.

FOUR-YEAR CHEESE CONTRACT

A prop of stability in the form of a four year British contract was approved in principle by the executive of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association at Brockville this week.

They were told they could have it, if they wanted to, but it was emphasized that the patrons would have to assume their part of the responsibility in fulfilling it. Directors not only approved the principle of this proposal but also offered the federal Department of Agriculture full cooperation in seeing that the contract would be carried out by Canadian producers.

The volume of cheese contemplated was not less than 35 million pounds in any one year, up to 50 million. The price for this year was to be 30 cents a pound, to be negotiated in succeeding years with a possible variation of 7½% up or down, depending on circumstances. Sir Andrew Jones recently said the British Food Ministry was anxious to get all the cheese it could.

It was announced at the meeting that the provincial government will pay a quality premium on cheese this year. Britain is paying approximately six cents a pound more for Canadian cheese than for New Zealand this year.

NO SERIOUS ANIMAL DISEASE

Eradication of serious animal diseases is emphasized in the 1948 report of the Veterinary General of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Anthrax is seldom in this country; no case of dourine has occured since 1919; of sheep scab since 1927. Glanders has not appeared since 1937. Mange affected only one horse and 57 cattle in 1947, and official treatment prevented its spread. No case of rabies was reported in 1947 except among foxes and sled dogs in the Northwest and Yukon territories, and control measures held that outbreak in check.

Canada is free of foot and mouth disease, contagious pleuropneumonia, rinderpest, fowl pest and other destructive animal plagues. Only by constant vigilance by all, in the interest of the whole livestock industry, can Canada be kept free of animal disease.

BUTTER DEMAND IMPROVES

Sale of creamery butter in Peterborough has definitely improved during the last week to ten days, W. J. Ovens, manager of Campbell's dairy, said to day.

"This is a real fact," Mr. Ovens said. "We saw the effect of the introduction of margarene, but of late there has been a noticeable turn in the tide of demand. Our dairy farmers producing churning cream probably have noticed the appeal of the Ontario Department of Agriculture for first grade cream."

The following is a quotation from the government statement: "Creamery operators do not want any cream that will not make first grade butter. They know only a quality product will pay dividends, and we are urging their producers to improve their product."

Mr. Ovens corroborated that advice. "There are some people who are careless about the cream they ship, and they must know it is good only for second grade butter. There is no place in the market today for that kind of butter. If the industry is sincerely way of meeting it is by cerely concerned about the opposition of margarine, the most practical way of meeting it is by turning out top quality cream. That is their job, and then it is up to the creamery to make the the butter.

I think our patrons would like to know that there has been this recent improvement in the butter demand. Several retailers have reported the same observation, and I think the trend is going to continue with the coming of warmer weather."

EXAMPLE OF THE GRANGE

First of their projects which won Schley Grange a $25,000 community hall last year was the improvement of their church grounds.

"We landscaped the grounds of Mars Hill Baptist Church, made driveways, planted shrubbery and flowers, sowed lawn grass seed, etc." said Fred T. Reitzer, Master of Schley Grange, near Hillsboro in North Carolina, in outlining the program that won for them the splendid award. The other projects on their list of achievements were: field day demonstration, rural telephone line, home beautification, recreational youth centre.

When farm forums, Federation of Agriculture and the Junior Farmers of this district are thinking of community efforts they may remember the precedence given by those Schley Grangers to the opportunity and neighborhood value of beautifying their church grounds.

Schley Grange has only 64 members. It is named after Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley of the Spanish-American War.

The community service contests of the National Grange induced farm folks in 1,393 communities in 1949 to think up things that would enhance their localities, and then carry their projects to completion. Thousands of Grange members labored to produce improvements of many millions in value.

"They have turned out so many betterments as to promise a great change in rural America in the next ten years, a gain that is likely to hold many boys and girls on the farm," writes F. W. Carr in The Christian Science Monitor. "State contests were climaxed with a national contest. Prizes of around $50,000 in all were distributed. For this year the national awards consist of a Grange hall costing not less than $25,000; Grange hall or kitchen equipment of $1,500, a similar prize of $1,000, and seven like awards of $500 each. Grange leaders expect 2,500 Granges to compete, more than 1,000 above last year."

Second prize winner last year was Greene Valley Grange of Halcott Center, N. Y. in the heart of the Catskill Mountains where the main farm business in dairying. They won $1,500 in Grange hall equipment. They made a basement dining room under their Grange Hall, accommodating 100 persons. Eighty per cent of their 137 members helped.

"We were discouraged many times," said Robert Johnston. Grange Master, "but our building committee just kept plugging away, and we had our work done by Sept. 27." Some other activities were: organized the first juvenile Grange, built four ponds for fire protection, collected books and made scrapbooks for the nearest hospital, conducted two clothing drives for garments to send to the needy overseas, arranged with a local boy to take a short course in milk testing at Cornell University. He now handles 20 dairies in his community.

Two of the Schley Grange projects, their field-day demonstration and rural telephone project involved an amazing contribution of labor from a group of 64 members. For the telephone job, they secured a right of way and put up 20 miles of poles. The Grange contests reflect an ardent rural spirit in the 37 competing States last year. The Grange is old in years, but is manifestly vital—vital when it can stimulate in its membership so much practical enthusiasm for improving community services and beautifying local rural neighborhoods. The Schley demonstration field day alone was a big undertaking, but it was only one of the projects completed by a Grange of 64 members.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

Alex Huston, county weed inspector, will attend the conference on weed control in Toronto April 12 13. Developments in chemical control of weeds is one of the main subjects.

CATTLE ON THE FARM of Phillip Schoepp, near Edmonton, seem more interested in the photographer than in the well in the distance which is making Canadian oil history. The scene contrasts with the excitement of old-time oil rushes. Imperial Schoepp No. 1 Well has encountered the greatest thickness of producing limestone yet recorded in Canada. Oilmen are hoping further wells will show that the limestone extends over great enough area to mean establishment of a new oil field.

BIGGEST CURRENT DEVELOPMENT in Albert's oil fields is Imperial Schoepp No. 1 Well, 22 miles southwest of Edmonton. So far, drillers have gone through some 500 feet of oil-bearing limestone, more than three times Redwater's producing thickness and about 13 times that of Leduc. Until more wells are drilled, however, the extent of the formation is not known. The limestone, known as Devonian No. 3, was encountered at 5,362 feet. This Imperial Oil photo shows oil, contaminated by mud, water and chemicals used in drilling, being burned off in a flare several hundred feet from the well.

MYSTERY WOMAN GIVES UP IN SPY CASE

Well Rescuers Too Late Kathy Drowns, Body Wedged 100 Ft. Down

Weary Workers Digging For 52 Hours As 15,000 People Watch; Doctor Says Child Dead Since Friday

By BILL BECKER and GRAHAM BERRY

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 11—(AP).—The world is a little sadder today. Little Kathy Fiscus was brought up dead from her well tomb after 52 hours. All mothers and fathers shared in some measure the grief that overcame David and Alice Fiscus when the body of their tow-headed three-year-old was found lying in water, wedged about 100 feet down in the 14-inch pipe. The announcement of death, by drowning at 8.58 PST Sunday night brought to a tragic end the tireless digging of weary rescuers and the anxious waiting of sympathizers everywhere.

Little Kathy, running at play, stumbled into the weed-covered well opening last Friday afternoon.

Even though nothing had been heard from the child since about an hour after she plunged into the abandoned old casing, hope and prayer filled most human hearts.

Rescue efforts watched by more than 15,000, took, in all, 52 hours but it would have been the same if she could have been reached in two hours.

Dr. Robert McCullock, family doctor, said Kathy had been dead "since last heard from Friday afternoon."

The body was finally found on a warm Palm Sunday as O. A. Kelly cut through the tough old casing.

Bring Up Body

There was sadness in the sweat-and-dirt streaked faces of the 50 or more volunteer workers as Bill Yancey, one of the heroic diggers, came up the cable with the body wrapped in a gray blanket.

It spelled "finis" to the two-day and two-night vigil for the distraught parents, who had received hundreds of telegrams from well wishers, many offering suggestions how to rescue the child. Fiscus is San Marino branch manager for the company which sank the well in 1903. Only last week he had urged enactment of a state law to cup up all old wells.

The old well was used for irrigating purposes until 1932 when the pipe parted at a depth of 230 feet. The original well was logged at 784 feet.

The question of how the top of the water pipe remained unprotected and merely covered by weeds was unanswered. Neighbors reported that there had been boards over the top but that some time ago the field had been plowed and this protection may have been knocked out by the plow.

Below Cut

Rescue workers knew they were in for trouble when a water table was struck at about the 40th hour of operations. However, hopes were kept up in the belief that the child was trapped above the water level. Besides, they reasoned, the well had been abandoned as dry.

But when the rescue team of Kelly and H. E. (Whitey) Blick-

Church Wrecked By Explosion, 6 Die At Prayer

MARION, S.D., April 11 (AP)—This small South Dakota town today planned a mass funeral for the six holy week worshippers killed Sunday as a blast destroyed St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop William O. Brady of Sioux Falls, diocesan head, tentatively set Wednesday for the mass rites for the elderly victims who died as they knelt in prayer. Forty-seven other persons were injured, several critically.

The brick church was shattered by a basement explosion a few moments before the 9 a.m. Palm Sunday mass was to begin.

Church officials attributed the blast to escaping bottled furnace fuel gas. Phil Wachendorf, a parishioner, said "everything blew up" when he threw a furnace switch.

The church had a seating capacity of 250 but only about 75 worshippers were in their pews.

The priest, Father Joseph Zimmermann, 73, was preparing to enter the palm banked altar. When some of the parishioners complained the church was cold, Wachendorf volunteered to turn on the furnace. A moment later the church was in ruins.

Calls Doctors

Miss Agnes Kleszak, rectory housekeeper, said she was leaving for church when she heard the explosion and saw the walls crumble, the roof cave in.

"I started putting in calls for doctors," she said.

Attracted by the explosion, townsmen rushed to the church to help with the rescue work.

Defer Action On Television

OTTAWA, April 11.—(CP).—The CBC Board of Governors has again deferred action on applications from private radio stations for television broadcasting licenses, it was announced today.

The deferrment was recommended to give private stations an opportunity to associate themselves for the purpose of applying for television licenses.

The announcement made on behalf of the Board by A. D Dunton, CBC chairman, drew attention to the Government's recently announced policy which stated that private stations were not to have more than one channel in any area or city, including Montreal and Toronto.

Sending Icebreaker With Load Of Food

ST. JOHN'S, April 11.—(CP).—R.C.A.F. and private planes awaited improved weather conditions today to resume mercy missions to six starving southern Labrador hamlets.

The Canadian icebreaker Saurel arrived here today and started loading supplies. She will leave as soon as possible in an attempt to smash through the Labrador ice barriers.

Premier Joseph Smallwood, head of Newfoundland's provisional government arranged to have the aid sent after receiving distress messages from Dorothy Jupp, International Grenfell Association nurse at St. Mary's Bay, and Dr. Gordon Thomas, stationed at the Grenfell Mission of St. Anthony.

Against Barriers

ANNECY, France, April 11 — (CP). — Dana Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner in London, today said the need for reduction of all trade barriers is fundamental. Wilgress formally opened a three-month session here of some 700 representatives from 34 countries meeting in top-secret trade negotiations. The session is intended to bring 11 new countries into the 1947 Geneva tariff and trade treaty, already enforced by the 23 original signatories, including Canada.

Self-Government Given In Part West Germans

BONN, Germany, April 11 (AP)—The Western Allies have given Germany a treaty returning a measure of self-government to that defeated country. But the Germans say it doesn't give them enough freedom to run their own affairs.

The treaty—called an occupation statute—was handed Dr. Konrad Adenauer, president of the German parliamentary council, yesterday by representatives of Britain, the United States and France.

The parliamentary council is charged with writing a constitution for a German republic composed of the occupation zones of the three western powers. The occupation statute would become effective as soon as this new German government is set up. This may be by July 1.

The German press lost no time in attacking the treaty.

The Berlin Sozial Demokrat, party, called Allied control of organ of the Social Democratic scientific research "intolerable" and declared "the German economy will be able to compete on world markets only if it is allowed to develop its industries technically."

Allied control of research was intended to prevent German development of any new means of war potential.

Under the statute the Germans will have full independence in domestic matters other than those specifically reserved to the three Western powers. They will have a free legislature, executive and control of their own law courts.

The three Western Countries will continue to handle Germany's disarmament and foreign affairs; they will rule the Ruhr—iron and steel centre which was the German arsenal in the last two world wars—and decide what big business trusts should be broken up; displaced persons will continue an Allied responsibility as will the custody of convicted war criminals.

One provision of the statute gives the Allies the right to enforce respect for the constitution." This will enable them to break up any attempt to seize power by either Fascists or Communists.

34 MISSING ON SHIP

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 11 — (AP)—A wide search was under way today for the 1,951-ton freighter Oswaldo Aranha, missing 10 days with 34 persons aboard. The vessel was en route from Santa Catharina to Rio with a cargo of coal.

US Air Force Works Out New Technique In Bombing

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The United States Air Force is working out a completely new bombing attack technique to fit its ultra-long-range B-36 strategic warplanes.

Because the six-engined B-36 bomber operates so high and so far it was necessary to build an aerial camera which could take pictures at altitudes of more than eight miles to show targets and attack results on those targets, Maj.-Gen. C. B Stone of the USAF's air material command disclosed.

He explained that with the new K-40 cameras the B-36s could "come in, take a picture and go out without being caught."

No other existing plane in the USAF can fly as far as the B-36. It was designed for 10,000 and some airmen believe it eventually can exceed 12,000. Therefore only a B-36 can be used for the reconnaissance essential to any strategic attack.

In bombing attacks a preliminary flight is made by a plane to photograph and study with radar the prospective target. Then the bombing mission itself is made.

This is followed by another reconnaissance flight to determine the result of the attack and show whether further bombardment is needed.

The USAF is confronted with the fact that it must divert part of its B-36 fleet from bombing to reconnaissance missions. The USAF has announced plans, up to now, for only four B-36 wings. With these wings at the newly-planned strength of 30 planes a wing, the USAF would have total of about 120 B-36s. Because of the demands for reconnaissance less than half of the force might be available for bomb-carrying missions.

200 Farmers Put Out Fire Save Houses

Two Unknown Boys Started Blaze In Four-Foot Grass

STROUD, Ont., April 11.—(CP).—More than 200 farmers summoned by a 16-year-old telephone operator yesterday successfully fought two running grass fires which threatened summer cottages at nearby Alcona on Lake Simcoe. Stroud is 25 miles north of Toronto.

Two unidentified boys were reported to have started the fire just after noon Sunday. The blaze gained quickly in the four-foot grass and raced toward the resort centre.

Winds and dry grass aided the fire's spreading through the four feet tall grasses. In its wake the fire burned down several wooden fences, and streaked along them to start new outbreaks in other places.

A second fire later, about three miles north of the Alcona resort, was brought under control by the same farmer-fire fighters.

Property damage was slight and no one was injured in either fire.

Italy Pleads For Colonies

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 11 (CP)—Italy's Foreign Minister today pleaded with the United Nations to return her pre-war African colonies.

Count Carlo Sforza told the 58-member political committee of the General Assembly that Italy would prepare the three territories for early independence.

Italy lost her colonies of Eritrea, Italian Somaliland and Libya during the Second World War.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's first Deputy Foreign Minister, told the committee Saturday his government still insisted on placing all the former Italian colonies under a collective U. N. trusteeship. He accused the western powers of developing the African territories as bases for aggression against Russia. British and United States spokesmen denied the charge.

Britain and the United States favor giving Britain control over Cyrenaica, in Eastern Libya, under a U. N. trusteeship. They also want Italy to administer Italian Somaliland under a U. N. trusteeship and favor Ethiopian annexation of Eastern Eritrea, including the Red Sea port of Mawwawa.

France wants Italy to regain control over all the colonies except for a portion of Eritrea which would be given to Ethiopia.

Five Nazi Officials Convicted By Court

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 11—(AP).—Five of Hitler's leading government officials were convicted by a United States war crimes court today of helping him plan aggressive war.

They were the first Germans to be convicted of war plotting by an American court. Not since the international military tribunal convicted Goering and 18 other high Nazis nearly three years ago had any German been found guilty of this charge.

One of those convicted today was Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, state secretary in Hitler's Foreign Office and one time German Ambassador to the Vatican. He was found guilty of plotting aggressive war against Czechoslovakia.

Also convicted were: Wilhelm Kepplar, 66, Hitler's economic adviser and founder of the "circle of friends" of the Gestapo Chief, Heinrich Himmler. Ernest Woermann, 61, chief of the political division of the Foreign Office. Henrich Lammers, 69, one-eyed chief of the Hitler Reich Chancellery, and Paul Koerner, 55, industrialist who was Goering's deputy in the four-year plan.

2-YEAR SENTENCE

TORONTO, April 11 — (CP)—Barbe Flett, 19-year-old Montreal song writer, to-day was sentenced to two years in Penitentiary for the washroom attempted robbery of Mrs. Natalie Brown, who was beaten over the head with a toy gun in a downtown restaurant a month ago.

CANADIAN ENVOYS—Discussing world affairs as the United Nations Assembly opened at Lake Success are two of Canada's representatives to the U.N., Hon. L. B. Keays Puts Wife On Stand Before Royal Commission

BELLEVILLE, April 11—(CP).—Constable J. E. Keays today put his wife in the witness box before a Royal Commission hearing his allegations against police and Crown officials. Mrs. Keays, short, dark-haired and smartly dressed, was the 42nd witness to come before the commission in the 26 days of its inquiry into allegations of fraud, perjury and maladmistration of justice.

She said her husband had no intention of pressing complaints against eight fellow officers and B. C. Donnan, the Hastings County Crown Attorney. She said her husband wanted only to leave the Provincial Force and work in another city.

Mrs. Keays testified after John B. Badgley of Belleville, a friend of the constable's and a former RCAF Wing Commander.

Mr. Badgley said he had interviewed Attorney General Leslie Blackwell about Constable Keays last August. The Attorney General told him, Mr. Badgley said, to have the constable put his charges in writing but "if he couldn't prove it, he'd be fired.

The constable's allegations were directed at B. C. Donnan, Hastings County Crown Attorney and seven Provincial police officers: Commissioner W. H. Stringer, Inspector W. A. Page, Inspector T. W. Cousans, Sgt. J. A. Stringer, Cpl. Sam Ervine, Constable G. R. Purdy and Constable J. B. Driscoll.

The Commission, headed by Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay is expected to finish its hearings today.

Discusses Phone Calls

Sgt. E. F. Hartleib of the Belleville Provincial Police Detachment was recalled to the stand. He testified about three telephone conversations with Deputy Commissioner W. C. Killings in connection with Constable Keays investigation of E. M. Carefoot in 1945 and 1946.

Constable J. W. Richmond was recalled and testified that he watched Constable Keays take fingerprint impressions from the butt of a rifle found beside the body of Jean Badgley who was shot at nearby Frankford in November, 1947.

Islanders Get Food First In Four Days

SNAKE ISLAND, Ont., April 11 (CP)—The population of seven persons on this Lake Simcoe island ended a brief famine Sunday night when they ate their first food since Wednesday. The three-day fast was brought on when ice between the island and Keswick broke up suddenly last week.

Caretaker Harold McGee had crossed for food a week ago, but brought back only enough food for a few days.

A small channel opened in the ice Saturday and McGee rowed across, only to be caught on the mainland when the channel closed. On Sunday he borrowed a steel-bottomed boat and smashed his way to the island with food for his wife and two sons and for 87-year-old Jim Ashquabe and his two sons.

The island is held by the Chippewa Indians and McGee is the Indian affairs department's caretaker there.

Mine Pump Falls 5 Men Injured

SUDBURY, April 11—(CP).—Five men were injured and six others escaped possible serious injuries here Saturday when a 500-pound mine pump hurtled 2,400 feet down the shaft at Murray Mine of the International Nickel Company.

Glito Buncic had his right arm severed by falling pieces of metal from the pump, which shattered against the shaft walls while falling. The four others injured, D. Scott, B. M. Hines, D. McIvor, and G. Chiesa, suffered cuts. All five are in hospital.

Company officials said the men were preparing to blast off a round at the 2,400-foot level during shaft sinking operations. The pump was fastened to the bottom of the skip to keep the bottom of the shaft pumped out.

The skip was taken to the surface for unloading. The cable holding the pump became fouled and was severed. The pump hurtled down the shaft, breaking up as it struck the side walls.

Company officials are inevestigating the accident.

13-YearOld Girl Given Liquor, Attacked

TORONTO, April 11 —(CP)—Michael Rivney, 19, and Don Cormier, 19, were remanded to April 16 today, charged with raping a 13-year-old girl who had been fed liquor and left unconscious in a laneway Saturday night.

Two men, who live in an apartment above a fish and chip store, Michael O'Toole and Wallace Gilzean, are charged with supplying liquor to the 13-year-old girl and her two teen-age chums, who have been charged as material witnesses.

Sought More Than 2 Years By Mounted Police Freda Linton Surrenders

Disappears Shortly Before Inquiry Breaks Not Heard From Since; Charged With Acting As Spy Contact

MONTREAL, April 11—(CP).—The "mystery woman" of Canada's Russian espionage case, known as Freda Linton, but married now and soon to have a baby, surrendered to the RCMP in Montreal today. Sought for more than two years, she will be arraigned tomorrow on a charge of conspiring with Fred Rose to contravene the Official Secrets Act.

Police refused to divulge the woman's married name. Miss Linton is due to become a mother in June, The Canadian Press learned.

The woman consulted first with Attorney Joseph Cohen, KC, and then, on his advice, surrendered to RCMP Inspector William Brady.

She was immediately lodged in cells.

Mr. Cohen, who said he would undertake her defence, just as he defended Fred Rose, who was convicted of conspiracy and sentenced to six years in penitentiary, said the woman was surrendering "for personal reasons."

Later it was indicated the fact she was married and soon to become a mother influenced her decision to give herself up.

Her surrender followed by less than a week the conviction of Sam Carr as a king-pin in the alleged espionage ring and his being sentenced to six years in penitentiary.

Acted As Contact

Miss Linton, who was also know nas Lipshitz was said by the Royal Commission to have acted as a contact for the spy network.

She disappeared shortly before the inquiry story broke and had not been heard from since.

Attorney Cohen said he did not know where she had been keeping herself in the interim.

"I would not tell, anyway, even if I did know as is might harm her defence," he said.

She was the last of 20 persons to be taken into custody in connection with the spy probe.

Carr was the 10th Canadian convicted on charges arising out of the 1946 probe. Nine were acquitted.

Inspector Brady, one of the key officers in the prosecution of Fred Rose, said he had no idea where Miss Linton was or that she intended to surrender until he received a telephone call from Mr. Cohen.

"Mystery Woman"

Her absolute disappearance during the time she was wanted made her a "mystery woman," the subject of all sorts of conjecture as to what had happened to her.

"The surrender came as a complete surprise to our department," said Insp. Brady.

She was placed in detention cells after being interviewed briefly by Insp. Brady.

From Insp. Brady's office she was sent to provincial police cells, pending arraignment tomorrow.

BREAK UP PICKET LINES

MONTREAL, April 11 (CP).—Police to-day dispersed three picket lines of the striking Canadian Seamen's Union in three different downtown areas of the city.

Communists Delay Deadline On Nanking's Peace Answer

NANKING, April 11 (AP) —Semi-official sources said today the Communists had postponed until Friday the deadline for the government's answer to peace proposals.

Originally the answer to the Red demand for virtual surrender of government troops was due tomorrow.

Assurances have been given, Chinese sources said, that the Reds will not cross the Yangtze river before Friday.

The sound of artillery fire was audible in Nanking Sunday night. Red troops attacked a Nationalist bridgehead on the north side of the Yangtze six miles from the city.

The capital was jittery. The whole Yangtze front extending from the sea inland 650 miles looked for the Communist smash southward.

Newspapers said Communist leader Mao Tze-tung was taking an active part in peace talks at Peiping. They said Mao conferred Friday with Nationalist delegation chairman Chang Chih-chung and with other Nationalist negotiators Saturday.

The main point being discussed by Nationalist generals here today was concessions to be made on the Communist demand for joint reorganization of the army. Only Gen. Tan Gen-po, supreme commander of the Hangchow-Nanking-Shanghai area, was not present. He was at Chinkkiang directing the defence of the vital Kwachow bridgehead, 40 miles northeast of Nanking.

Communist troops still were attacking east from Icheng toward Kwachow. Capture of the bridgehead would give the Reds artillery positions that would allow them to disrupt traffic on the railroad to Shanghai.

Murder Charge Follows Housewarming

TORONTO, April 11 —(CP)—James Patrick Murray, 22, today faces a murder charge in the death of his brother-in-law, William Ross Wilson, 31, following a fist fight at a Saturday night drinking party. He was scheduled to appear in court today.

The events which led to Wilson's death started with a husband-and-wife argument over another woman. Wilson slapped his wife Mabel, Murray's sister, in the face during the quarrel and Murray protested.

Police said Wilson then went outside the house where he and his wife and Murray had been attending a housewarming. Murray followed him, hit him in the face several times and knocked him down, police said. Murray returned to the party and friends took Wilson to hospital.

Police said today they believed Wilson fell head-first against the hub cap of a parked automobile.

The front of Wilson's face was crushed in. He was bleeding freely from the nose and had small cuts and bruises covering his face. His nose, eyes and lips were swollen and discolored. Wilson died 45 minutes after admission to hospital.

An autopsy by Assistant Coroner E. C. Fielden showed that both Wilson's cheekbones were broken. Dr. Fielden said Wilson strangled in his own blood.

Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said Wilson's wounds probably could not have been inflicted by fists alone.

Engineer Killed In Train Smash

BELLEVILLE, April 11 (CP).—Hunter Faulkner of Belleville was killed on Sunday night when a yard engine with which he was switching four freight cars crashed into the side of a freight train with his brother, J. B. Faulkner, also of Belleville, a the throttle.

The yard engine toppled, pinning Hunter Faulkner under it. He was scalded by the steam.

Ten or 12 freight cars were derailed and the collision ripped up a stretch of the main line track on which J. B. Faulkner's 25-car freight had been travelling.

The trains met near the east-end of Belleville's main yards, about 1½ miles from the station.

Trains on the CNR's Toronto-Montreal main line were routed around the wreckage by an alternative track through the Belleville yards.

Hit-and-Run Victim Not Likely To Live

WINGHAM, Ont., April 11 (CP)—While an 11-year-old boy was being rushed to hospital in Toronto in critical condition with a fractured skull, police here sought a driver who struck the boy on Saturday and drove off.

The boy, staggered into his home here, said "I'm hurt," and collapsed. He was unable to tell his parents what happened and another child, Gregg Brent, four, would only tell about a "car."

Earl was first taken to hospital here but later was sent to Toronto. Doctors said an operation will be performed today but give little hope for his recovery, since the boy also has a heart condition.

Believes Russia Expanding Because Fear Of Atom Bomb Growing

Maj.-Gen. Burns Warns If War Comes Moral Force Must Predominate; Must Be Certain Of Who Aggressor Is

TORONTO, April 11—(CP)—Fear of the atom bomb has sparked Russia's uncompromising policy to expand, Maj-Gen. E. L. M. (Tommy) Burns said today. The military strategy specialist who commanded a Canadian corps in Italy during the Second World War and now is Assistant Deputy Minister of Veterans Affairs, spoke before the Toronto Canadian Club.

If war should come again, he said in a speech prepared for delivery, there must be no doubt in the minds of the North Atlantic Treaty peoples and of the world who the aggressor is.

There must be a preponderance of moral force—as well as military and economic strength—behind the nations of the North Atlantic Pact.

"The morale of the fighting men will depend, in the end, on the moral force that inspires the national will," Gen. Burns said. "The fighters must be convinced their cause is just, beyond apy possible doubt.

"They must be sure it is our enemies who are the aggressors. Hence, at the present time, the North Atlantic Pact nations must be careful not to shut the door on any possibiliy of an agreement with the Soviet."

International Deadlock

There was an international deadlock, he said, caused by the refusal of the Russians to the majority proposed of the United Nations atomic energy commission for the abolition of atomic weapons and the control of production of atomic energy.

The principal point that has split the commission is that the Russians want an immediate convention to outlaw atomic warfare and the destruction of existing stocks of atomic weapons.

Other nations insist this would not provide security, which could only be achieved after an international system of inspection and control is set up. The Russians, on the other hand, do not agree to the type of inspection other nations think necessary.

"The crux of the matter appears to be whether Russia will agree to international inspection—and so far she has clung stubbornly to her cloak of secrecy."

Attlee Says Kremlin Has Divided World

GLASGOW, April 11—(AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee Sunday declared responsibility for dividing the world rests squarely on the shoulders of the rulers of the Kremlin.

The usually mild Prime Minister picked bitter words for use in an address at a party rally in this shipbuilding centre where Communists are relatively strong.

"There is no personal freedom in Russia; there is the all-pervading oppression of the police. There is no freedom of election. Only the single list of the single party is allowed. There is no freedom of speech or even of thought."

Will Leave Korea

SEOUL, Korea, April 11—(AP).—Authoritative sources said today United States troops will leave Korea as soon as the Korean republic feels its own army is sufficiently trained. There was nothing, however, to confirm week-end rumors mentioning late this summer as the probably withdrawal time.

Strike Ended Wages Same

PARIS, Ont., April 11 (CP).—The strike at the Penman's Limited Mills started last January 18 is over, settled Saturday without granting of union demands for wage increases of 15 cents an hour and for union security.

Union sources said the settlement terms included a "no discrimination" clause. Thus the 325 workers the union claims answered the strike call will be eligible to be rehired. Company officials said, however, that there are not sufficient vacancies for all strikers to return to work immediately.

With approximately half of the firm's 650 employees staying on the job, the textile mills continued to operate throughout the strike. Non-strikers passed through he union picket lines while Provincial Police stood by to prevent violence.

A number of persons, mostly union members, were arrested. They were charged with intimidation, assault and creating public disturbance. Feelings over the strike issues ran high and many families in this town of 5,000 persons were divided in their attitude toward the strike.

At one time the union threatened to extend the strike to nearby Brantford by calling out employees of the Watson Manufacturing Company, a Penman-owned plant. The threat was not carried out, as Watson employees now have their own wage demands—similar to those at Paris—before a conciliation board.

Premier Smallwood announced the appointment of Mr. Bown, former editor of the weekly Bell Islander. Nine other ministers had been appointed earlier.

Life's Savings Swindled In Poker Game

PEMBROKE, April 11 (CP)—Police said Sunday night that Herbert Kruschenski was swindled out of his life's savings Saturday in a $1,500 poker game with two men in a Pembroke hotel room.

They had little to go on except the barest of descriptions and that the men registered at the hotel, giving a Sudbury address. One of them was described as "about 30;" the other fairly elderly.

Police said the men accosted Kruschenski at the market square. One flashed a roll of bills and invited their victim to their room.

During the game, Kruschenski lent one of the strangers $900 who lost it to the elderly player. The younger player persuaded Kruschenski that if he lent him another $600, he was sure to win it back.

Kruschenski went to the bank, drew out the $600 and returned to the game. When the younger stranger lost this to the elderly man, he told Kruschenski to accompany him to a nearby house where he would return the money by cashing bonds.

On the way to the address, he suddenly asked Kruschenski to return to the hotel room to make certain the elderly stranger did not disappear with the $1,500. When Kruschenski got back to the hotel, the elderly man had checked out. The younger man had also disappeared.

ensderfer dug through mud and water and cut into the pipe, they found Kathy lay below, not above the cut.

Kelly said he and Blickensderfer broke between eight and 10 cutting wheels on their electric drills before breaking through the tough old casing.

The actual discovery and determination of death were made some two hours before the announcement was made public. Engineer Raymond A. Hill, supervising operations, clamped on the secrecy ban. Later it was explained this was "to ease the blow for the parents." But it was tough on reporters and a waiting world.

The parents received the news at home. Thus culminated the most concerted rescue attempt of an individual since Floyd Collins was fatally trapped in a Kentucky cave in 1925. That lasted days, this hours that seemed like days.

Send Help

From all of Southern California men came with equipment to free the tot from the narrow pipe after she was unable to fasten a rope around herself as firemen had hoped.

Bulldozers, clamshell cranes and rotary well diggers went into full swing. One pit, 30 feet wide, went down more than 75 feet, before it was abandoned. Its sides started to slide just after Kelly had cut a window at 57 feet and said he saw the girl's arm and dress. When it was abandoned, a smaller 30-inch shaft was drilled down beyond 100 feet and a 24- casing was sunk. That was the rescue shaft through which Kathy finally was reached.

Early today the final chapter was written. Bulldozers were working full tilt filling up the rescue pits.

And so there would be no repetitions for other Kathys and their moms and dads, a giant bulldozer dug in and bent the top of the old well casing over double and sealed it tight.

Strike Cripples Exports

LONDON, April 11 — (AP)—London's second big strike in 10 months put a crimp in Britain's export drive today and held up unloading of vital food cargoes. Forty-four ships were idle. Some 7,564 dock workers—about one-fourth of the port of London's total—failed to report for work as a protest against the firing of 33 of their fellows by the National Dock Labor Board.

BODY FOUND

Body of 5-year-old Jackie Lindsay, missing in Port Hope for more than a year, was found Saturday at the mouth of the Ganaraska River, about half a mile from the spot where the child disappeared during the floods last spring. Body of the child was identified by his father, Bruce Lindsay. It was believed the body had been caught on rocks or debris at the bottom of the river after the boy drowned.

A weak disturbance moved northeastward from Texas into Kentucky Sunday, and by early this morning it was causing showers extending to near Lake Erie. The disturbance has stalled now and will continue to weaken as a new storm develops in the Gulf of Mexico. Consequently clear, fine weather will prevail in most of the province today and Tuesday.

A burst of very warm air overspread the prairies Sunday, and Edmonton reported a high of 75, the highest temperature on record there for April 10. While no section of Ontario is expected to experience the warmest part of this outbreak, Tuesday's temperatures are forecast to reach 60 at most places.

5,000 Uninvited Get Free Meal On Cobden Farm

COBDEN, Ont., April 11 (CP)—Huge hungry flocks of some 5,000 Canadian wild geese today are busy gobbling up some 60 bags of grain provided them by the Ontario government.

They are the persistent annual visitors to the nearby farm of the despairing Harry Berry, just a short distance from the shores of Muskrat Lake some 50 miles northwest of Ottawa.

The big honkers, famished after their long trip from the south, have been landing by the hundreds on Berry's farm lands durig the last week, waiting for the northern waters to unfreeze.

Searching for food, they tear up his meadows each year on their annual trip northwards. In addition, he provided them with 300 pounds of grain out of his granary to feed them every day.

Berry's plight began 25 years ago when he befriended a flock of a dozen geese. Since then the flock has grown and they keep stopping at the Berry farm.

Berry's representative in the Commons, R. M. Warren, a Renfrew North Liberal, appealed to Health Minister Martin to do something about the birds. Mr. Martin said he would refer the matter to the Agriculture and Resources departments.

A Free Meal

Meanwhile on Sunday, Ontario wildlife officers, armed with the 60 bags of grain, rushed to the Berry farm to provide free food for the hungry birds and so save the fields from devastation.

Members of the Renfrew Fish and Game Club and Ottawa Fish and Game Association helped spread the grain.

Each year they arrive with the regularity of clockwork and remain for two or three weeks before moving northward. Luckily, they don't stop on their way south.

This was the first year the Ontario Wildlife Department has fed them, to save the young grass and clover in the meadows.

New U. S. Atomic Proving Ground?

Reports from Australia say an agreement giving the U. S. use of a rocket range in the desert areas of central Australia (dotted line) in conjunction with Great Britain and Australia will be made soon. It was reported the U. S. needs more space than that available at Los Alamos and White Sands, N. M., ranges. American atomic experts have been hampered by the fact that the latest atomic warhead rockets at their maximum distance would land in inhabited areas in New Mexico.

A sister of the driver Annie Hrubal was discharged after being treated for a laceration of the nose. Their condition this morning was described as satisfactory.

Council Asks $8,000 Grant From Utilities

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (ENS) — Deputy-reeve Ralph Locke, chairman of the finance committee of the town council, asked for a grant of $8,000 at a meeting of the Public Utilities Commission Saturday night. He said that fixing the tax rate for this year depended largely on the amount of money received from the commission.

Commissoners Benor and Meyers said that the commission would have to spend large sums this year to meet the repair program. Giving the customers good service was the first duty of the commission. Commissioner was in favor of making the donation even if the money had to be borrowed. After further discussion, it was moved and carried that the grant be made to the council at the end of the financial year.

Seek Co-operation

Mayor Donald suggested that a joint meeting of the commission and council be held in the clerk's office the latter part of April. Chairman Benor thought that the meeting would bring about better understanding and greater co-operation between the two boards. The date of the meeting was set for Saturday, April 23.

Manager Percy Denyes reported that the receipts for the first quarter of this year were $1,644.48 mor than for the same period in 1948. He said that a new automatic chlorinator had been installed at a cost of $4,156, and that the old machine had been put in perfect working order for standby service. Commissioner Meyers announced the total pay sheet at $6,942.

Resign! Resign!

Colonel George Drew, Opposition Leader in the Commons, Wing Commander Lawrence Skey, Toronto Conservative M.P., and Lt.-Col. Alan Cockeram, Conservative member for York South, have echoed each other in the last four days in calling upon the Minister of National Defence to resign. These three Toronto members who sit on the opposite side of the House from the Government are displeased that Mr. Claxton is disinclined to make public in Canada, and therefore for the benefit of the rest of the world which includes Russia, how large Canada's armed forces are and the condition of its equipment. Mr. Drew has discovered several aeroplanes, bought by the Department of National Defence, which are presently in storage, and thereupon, when Mr. Claxton did not give a full, exact explanation, made the first resignation call.

• • •

This Opposition call of Resign, Resign, is as old as Parliament Hill, and as any parliament anywhere. We doubt that even Mr. Drew expects anyone to take the cry as more than a politician's time-worn phrase of disagreement with the policies of a Government or a Cabinet Minister.

• • •

If the Opposition critics were as astounded as they pretend to be by the way the Department of National Defence is being operated, they are rather illogical. If the danger of war is so pressing that there is truth in the Opposition's criticism that our defence forces are woefully inadequate, then the danger is so urgent that it would be extremely unwise for Mr. Claxton to give out any information at all about our defence forces. That is, there should be absolute secrecy. If, on the other hand, the Opposition is justified in its demands that more information be given, the situation is not as dangerous as they claim, and therefore the vast expansion of our forces (which they also demand) is not justified at this time.

• • •

Should the forces be greatly enlarged? No one can say with any degree of certainty, since the international situation is not foreseeable. The recently signed North Atlantic Treaty gives Canada a better guarantee of security than it has had since the war was won. If our defence forces are sufficient to meet the allocations for the pooled strength of the Treaty nations, we should not need to worry about building up vast, expensive services. The equipment and strength of our armed services is being increased considerably. The estimates in the Budget show this.

• • •

We hope that military people like the three Conservative critics who shout Resign, Resign, and other patriotic Canadians in and out of Parliament, do not believe that Canada is a major world power and should have the armed strength of ten minor ones. We could never take on the world single-handed. We have not the men, the resources or the money. None of the friendly western nations expects us to arm to the teeth. Canadians have other work to do for the world than sloping arms and spitting fire from practice planes. Let us not become swollen-headed about our might and our international duty to arm.

U.N. Assembly Reconvened

Amidst the western fanfare and the eastern protests which accompanied the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty last Monday, the opening next day of the General Assembly of U.N. was almost unremarked by the outside world. U.N.'s importance has lost lustre in these last three years; nevertheless U.N. is still mankind's largest hope for a saner, safer international world, and the Assembly the chief platform to express the world's hopes and fears.

Both hopes and fears will be heard from Lake Success this month, many of them arising from the North Atlantic Treaty. The significance of the attendance of all the signers of the new treaty at the opening session last Tuesday morning will not be lost on Russia and its satellites. Andrei Gromyko, Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister, who heads the Soviet delegation, will assess this unanimity and show of strength made explicit in the new Treaty, as a force to be reckoned with. He need not consider it belligerency, for the countries who have signed the Treaty have repeatedly stated that it is solely a defensive, and not an aggressive measure. The actions of the countries united by it, their history over the last twenty years, prove that Russia has nothing to fear unless it intends to attack.

The Atlantic Treaty will be one of several new measures considered at this Third Assembly, which was reconvened to deal with an agenda uncompleted last December in Paris. Then the Secretary-General Trygve Lie said in reference to the gloom and lack of achievement, "I am sure that a fresh start next April will make it more likely that the General Assembly can achieve constructive results... than could be expected under conditions of physical weariness, complicated by political tension, that now prevail". The political tension has not decreased. If there is more regional confidence because of the success of E.R.P. and the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty, there is as much pessimism about U.N. and the Assembly. Perhaps the magic in the name "Lake Success", where the Assembly has reconvened, will give a fillip to the U.N. It is a slender augury on which to base a profound hope.

One good which still accrues to U.N. is that, divided as the world is, there at its Assembly East and West are still meeting around common tables. As long as Soviet Russia remains a member of U.N., there is a platform bridging the chasm between the two great groups of nations.

No Influential Racketeers In The U.S.?

A story in the news last week may indicate how far the people of the United States have advanced from the days when the rulers of the rackets were dread powers in the land. It seems that a Dr. Singer, a dentist, had been nominated as candidate for head of the U.S. Assay Office in New York City. He seemed a deserving candidate; he had been a Democratic political worker for years, and was twice an elector for the late Franklin Roosevelt. However, he was also Frankie Costello's nominee, and many people think that Frankie is the head of a very large racket, or several of them.

These people became indignant, and wrote the White House, protesting against the appointment of Frankie Costello's dentist to a Federal post. Then the suggestion was made that Dr. Singer's career be investigated. That settled the matter. The doctor suffered dizzy spells immediately and said he was too ill to consider taking the post.

It would have been a far different story some twenty-odd years ago. That was a time when leading mobsters in the United States were really influential. It is doubtful if many persons in those days would have dared to criticize a candidate for any office running with the support of Al Capone, Ownie Madden, Dutch Schultz, Jack Diamond or any of their counterparts. Certainly there are many accounts of honest storekeepers and distinterested witnesses so terrified of these men and their gangs that they refused even to act as witnesses against them.

It is difficult to say just when this attitude began to change. It may have been after Capone was convicted by a Federal Court, following many years of thumbing his nose at lower tribunals. If so, it was thoroughly consolidated when Thomas E. Dewey prosecuted Lucky Luciano, and others, for Dewey was able to promise protection to his witnesses and keep his promise. That, perhaps more than anything else, broke the hold of fear which the gangsters had clamped on the people generally.

We do not suggest for a moment that Mr. Costello should be classified with the ruthless gangsters mentioned above. He has been identified, however, as the probable head of the nation-wide slot-machine syndicate in the United States, and a gangster with a billion-dollar business in the old days would have been a power indeed. Mr. Costello, however, mournfully declares he cannot "fix" even a parking ticket, and surely that must be the bottom level in political influence across the border.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A sailor in Tennessee recently injured his head by poking it through a rotating fan. The charitable thing is to assume that he is short-sighted.

The dog-catcher in Listowel, Ont., is annoyed because boys bark at him on the street. This can be stopped by appointing him truant officer.

A man died in Ohio the other day, apparently without a friend or relative in the world, leaving $900,000. Now he has quite a family.

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

ON the occasion of the Sixtieth Anniversary of Confederation, in 1927, the Government of Canada brought Sir George Cartier's daughter, Miss Hortense Cartier, to this country as a guest of the State. She was accompanied across Canada by her cousin Jacques Cartier, who tells this interesting story

While at Vancouver, they decided to drive up to the chalet on top of Grouse Mountain, which commands one of the most glorious views in the world. Cartier registered their names, and a lady tourist from the United States happened to see the signature, "Jacques N. Cartier".

"Oh, Mr. Cartier", she exclaimed, "your people came over on the Mayflower, didn't they?"

The quick-witted clerk of the chalet cut in, "No, Madam, Mr. Cartier's people came over on a ship of their own."

✧ ✧ ✧

WICKAM Steed, one of the best English journalists once said that when Alfred Harmsworth founded The Daily Mail and sold it at a halfpenny, he doubted whether a dozen men in Fleet Street foresaw the revolution that was beginning.

Alfred—who later became the famous Lord Northcliffe—detected that the content of a paper did not mean as much to the public as the way in which it was sold. Once it is talked about they will buy it.

Back in 1880, George Newnes was cashing in on his idea of giving the ordinary people what they wanted by way of anecdotes and gossip when Alfred decided that he would run a paper as a rival. Newnes was publishing Tit-Bits, and Alfred started up Answers. He sold it fairly well at first, but circulation never climbed—at least not enough for Alfred Harmsworth. He decided to dangle bigger bait as a prize than had ever been offered to the public before. A pound a week for life was to be assured to the competitor who came nearest to guessing what, on a certain date, was the value of the bullion in the Bank of England vaults. Each guess was to be written on a postcard; five persons had to witness each competitor's signature. So, every competitor meant that at least six people had heard of Answers and its enterprise.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT that wasn't enough. He decided to offer another prize for another guess, knowing that the police would interfere. It was illegal, a "lottery". To one infringement of the law they had benevolently closed their eyes, but it could not occur again. It set everyone talking once more. Some thought the police were right, others blamed them. More and more copies were bought every week.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALFRED Harmsworth had a brother Harold, later to become Viscout Rothermere. Never were two brothers less alike. One lived by imagination, the other by his calculating faculty. Harold was persuaded to leave the Civil Service and work for Alfred on figures. He cared little for papers themselves—only for what they could be made to produce.

Once, when he was launching the Newfoundland enterprise which put them in possession of a large territory where they could cut down their own trees, make their own pulp, and turn it into paper, he sketched its future between two sets of lawn tennis.

"I can foresee the time", he said, "when this Newfoundland colony of ours will be one of the greatest organizations in the world. We shall own cities, railroads, harbours, mines, huge mills. We shall have to provide a big population with everything they need. And attached to this tremendously successful colonizing experiment will be a little newspaper called The Daily Mail. People will ask how on earth the connection between them was established. And we shall discuss the question of cutting ourselves away from it. It will be a nuisance, a hindrance. Eventually we shall let it go."

Brother Alfred listened to this with frowning brow, with angry eye. He said irritably:

"You're talking nonsense. Let's get on with the game." He was annoyed, hurt even, that The Daily Mail's importance should be underrated. Newfoundland had one importance for him—that was for his paper.

IN his charming A Belgian Manor In Two Wars, Charles D'Ydewalle tells a characteristic story of Philippe de Hautecloque, who chose to be known as the famous General Leclerc.

He married, and served in Morocco, after which he was appointed instructor at St. Cyr where he quickly made his mark. In 1932, while riding at the head of his squadron on the concrete road of the Val d'Enfer, his mare, a rather refractory beast, slipped and fell on her near side, pinning him underneath her.

His leg snapped on the spot, but he got up and vaulted into the saddle. An hour later, more observant than ever of the Academy time-table, Captain de Hautecloque returned at the head of his squadron. When the time came to put his foot on to the ground, he collapsed quietly into his orderly's arms. The broken leg held firm inside the boot when pressed hard against the stirrup, but on the ground refused to co-operate. Next day the following notice appeared in the Squadron Orders:

"Captain de Hautecloque, thrown from his horse while riding on the slippery verge of a tarred road, is hereby reprimanded....

Signed: HAUTECLOQUE.

HARRY Higgins was friend of all London actors thirty years ago. His pet abomination was a bore, and he never failed in his endeavour to silence one if possible. His classic remark to a big-game hunter who had been boasting of his prowess with the rifle, much to the annoyance of a party of long-suffering men at supper, was perhaps the most effective silencer ever made.

The hunter was continuing his stream of uninteresting anecdotes unceasingly, and was describing his shooting of a very fine lion in the following words:

"Imagine," he said, "the predicament I found myself in. Here was I in a clearing in the jungle all alone with no means of retreat. In front of me was a roaring lion and behind me a yawning chasm."

"Really", said Harry Higgins, "that must have been awful, but are you quite sure the chasm was yawning as much before you arrived?"

✧ ✧ ✧

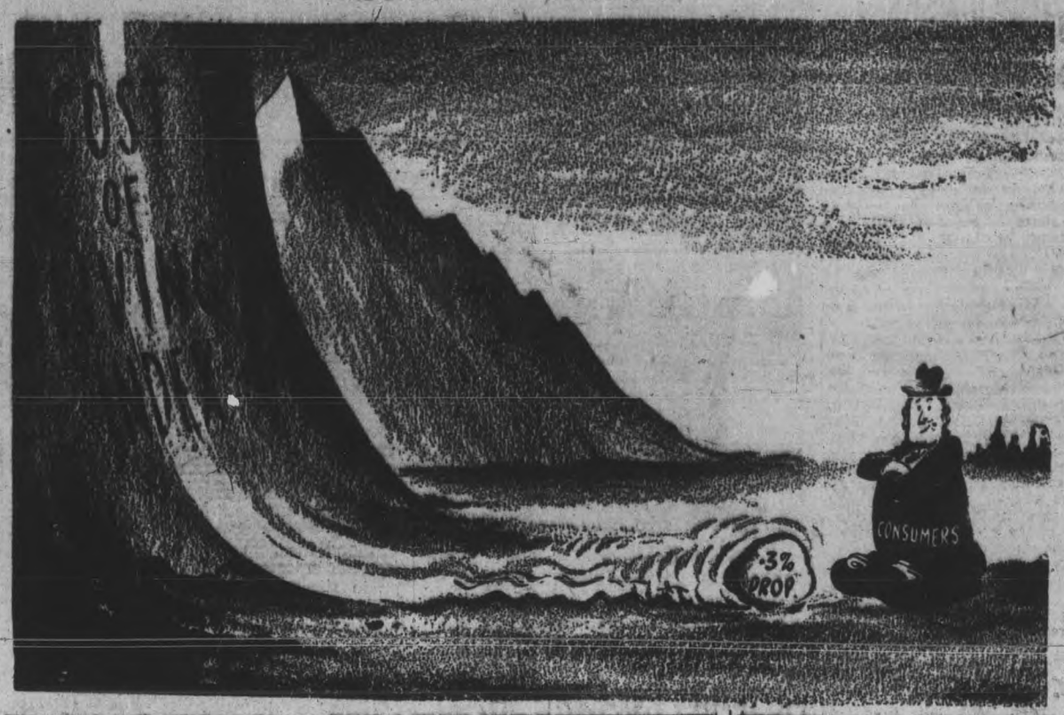
ONCE too, at a luncheon party Harry Higgins put an end to the most appalling technical chatter of a crashing bore in the Flying Corps. This worthy had been holding up all forms of ordinary conversation for half an hour and had very nearly reduced the room into Irving's Sleepy Hollow when, having as everyone thought, come to an end of his harangue, he opened out again by saying:

"You know, under my command I have many officers. Now the Flying Corps has two sorts of officers."

"Oh! I know it has," said Harry, "respondents and co-respondents." After this sally the party was able to renew general conversation on ordinary subjects.

✧ ✧ ✧

TALKING about cutting replies, there's the famous occasion when Lord Haldane and Lord Carson found themselves face to face at a dinner party. Haldane had a well-earned reputation for writing books which only he himself could understand.



"What authors do you most read?" Lord Haldane asked Carson.

"Edgar Wallace and P. G. Wodehouse," Carson replied.

"But don't you ever read difficult books?" Haldane asked.

"No, I leave it to you to write them," said Carson.

MOUNTAIN TO MOHAMMED

Letter To The Editor

WILL FIGHT BYLAW TO A FINISH

Sir: In your evening paper of April the 5th I see where the Garage Operators have very definitely given their answer to the motoring public. Regarding the gasoline bylaw, after all are we independent service station operators not going to have a little say on this very important matter? The garage operators seem to think that a vast majority of the motoring public are in favour of this bylaw. I wonder if they dare put it up for a public vote? I don't think they would.

It is all very well for any garage to stay open to do repairs, painting and body work but the little fellow that don't do this work must stay closed. He can't sell gasoline to the public, and why? Is it because some of the big operators are afraid they may lose some of their trade? These same big operators will admit that gasoline sales are not very important to them, and still they are driving the same trade out of the city to get their gas and oil. Is it fair that we should be dictated to? After all we fought two wars for the right of freedom and have we profited by it.

When this questionnaire was finally analyzed, why were we independent operators not called to the meeting? The very same operators that signed this bylaw, are the worst offenders in breaking it. On Sunday, April 3rd I was bringing a wrecked car up George St. at 5.35 one station was selling gas, on Water St. at 5.40 another station was selling, and still I get fined for doing the same thing. Is that democracy? It's about time the public had something to say in this matter.

Why should I have to operate my towing service from my home? Why should I be forced to close my pumps at 7 each day and all day Sunday, when another station because they are a few feet out of the city is allowed to remain open; is that democracy?

We built our station the hard way, by the sweat of our brow. We pay taxes, business and property, and still we don't get any protection; the tourist trade is fast approaching, and what will happen? Money that should be left in Peterborough will go other places. I've fought this bylaw from the start, and, Mr. Garage Operators Association, I'll fight it to a finish. Come on you motorists, have your say.

Yours for free enterprise,
JOHN A. RUSSELLE.

Archbishop's Error

Even archbishops, who are usually the souls of discretion and tact, occasionally let slip remarks that get them into hot water. Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, the Archbishop of Canterbury, so far forget himself the other day as to say that there are only three kinds of people in the world. According to His Grace's classification, these are (1) Communists, (2) convinced Christians and (3) amiable nonentities.

Granted, there are Communists, too many of them. Granted, there are convinced Christians, probably not enough of them. But to dump everybody else willy-nilly into the nonenity bin, is, as the English would say, coming it a bit thick, even for the successor to St. Augustine and St. Thomas a Becket.

His Grace's own eminent scholarship has taken him along many paths of learning, and there he has walked with men, his equals in intellectual endowment, who are neither Communists, Christians nor nonentities. The greatest of the living philosophers, Bertrand Russell, for instance, is cerainly, no Christian. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, one of the noblest of India's sons, is amiable, but an Agnostic.

So one might go on, adding the names of great and almost great persons who are Buddhists, Confucians, Taoists, Mohammedans, Jews, Agnostics and even Atheists, until a rather imposing list had been made out.

Perhaps His Grace of Canterbury was confining his remarks to a specific group or section. Or (this is usually a good "out", whether one be an archbishop or an apothecary) maybe he was misquited.

Bible Message

And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying....Speak ye unto all the congregation of Israel, saying, In the tenth day of this month they shall take to them every man a lamb, according to the house of their fathers, a lamb for an house... And they shall take of the blood, and strike it on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the houses, wherein they shall eat it....

For I will pass through the land of Egypt this night, and will smite all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast; and against all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgment: I am the Lord. And the blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye ate: and when I see the houses where ye are: and when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you, when I smite the land of Egypt. (Ex. 12: 1, 3, 7, 12, 13.)

And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate....And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing....

And the soldiers led him away into the hall called Praetorium; and they call together the whole band. And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, and began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!...

And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him. (Mark 15: 1, 3, 16-18, 20.)

High School Area Project Outlined At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, April 11 (ENS)—Mr. C. W. Booth, High School Inspector from the Department of Education, Toronto, was guest speaker at the meeting held at the school on Thursday evening. He came to give detail information on the High School Area project, which is gaining in importance and interest throughout the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland.

Mr. Booth was accompanied by Mr. E. R McClellan, also a High School Inspector from the Department, who amphasized the need of a specific course in agriculture in the High Schools of the province. He cited several instances where such a course, along scientific and practical lines, had increased enrolment, given many pupils training they were anxious to have, decidedly enriched the curriculum, and added to the prestige of the school in the community.

Mr. Booth was introduced by Dr. M. E. Hobbs, chairman of the local school board, and the large number present included representatives of the municipal councils, and schools of Cavan, Millbrook, South Monaghan, Hope, Port Hope, and Manvers. More than 50 letters of invitation had been sent out from Dr. Hobbs' office, and the response showed a vital interest in the proposed area scheme.

Mr. Booth clearly explained how the movement for better secondary education for rural pupils to give them an equal chance with pupils in urban schools, has grown in the past few years. By now 70 to 80% of southern Ontario is organized into High School Areas, and many of the schools have been operating for a year or more with marked success. While he acknowledged that Continuation schools are doing a good work, yet he considered they have grave limitations as to staff, program, and equipment, as well as enrolment. "The whole problem is to give a new deal to rural pupils, and to give them such training of mind and hands as will fit them for the work they are to do in life. We must suit different types of pupils, according to their ability, and the trend of their minds."

Like 400 Pupils

An Area is better not to be either too small, or too large, Mr. Booth explained; The Department considers a school of from 300 to 400 pupils a reasonable size, and a good working machine. For such a school a population of 10,000 in needed, and assessment of $10,000,000. If 250 pupils, the ratio would be on a basis of 7 to 7, and Bancroft, in North Hastings County, and in a sparsely - settled district, was cited as producing excellent results in a fine school, with 200 pupils, drawn from 300 miles of territory with transportation difficulties overcome, a competent and sufficient staff, and a curriculum that fully meets the pupils' needs.

The department does not favor a school of 150 pupils, as would be the case should Millbrook Cavan, South Monaghan and Manvers unite for an area, be-because it does not offer wider options for better instruction, and fails to meet the very ideals had in view. Approximate costs for various population and assessment figures were cited, adding from 3 to 4 mills to taxes, not much in excess of what is being paid under the present set-up.

Forms Available

Request forms are available for any section desiring to make application to enter a High School Area, the first step being to approach the municipal council. If they favor the resolution, it will go on to the Counties' Council to pass the necessary by-law at its June session. The present school areas must be dissolved to pave the way for forming such a High School Area. If the Counties' Council passes the by-law, it becomes operative by January 1 next, and a new board must be set up.

In centres of 3,000, such as Millbrook and the adjoining townships, this board will have eight members; one each appointby the municipal councils; one by the Counties' Council; and one from the school area having the five largest enrolments. The board will decide the site for the new school, but certain 'musts' are obligatory: Nearness to an urban centre; availability of water; good drainage; readiness of transportation and sufficient land. Detailed information as to assumption of assets and liabilities was given. Continuation Schools become the property of the public school to which it must pay rental equal to full maintenance, and cost of upkeep of the rooms. High Schools immediately become the property of the new broad. "Our Department will be glad to co-operate with any municipal body that is interested", was the speaker's assurance. A survey to determine how many pupils would be likely to attend was urged as a preliminary to undertaking the project.

For a fair 'pick-up,' 23 miles was mentioned, the cost per pupils being probably from $100 to $150, and the service free to parents, expense being included in the general sheet.

Pays to Buy Bus

Some districts are finding it pays to buy their own buses, the Highways Department determing the type, "and we certainly have a great deal to say about the efficiency and character of the drivers", Mr. Booth averred.

An open forum, took up the concluding hour of the meeting. Among those who spoke were members of municipal councils of the district, High School principals Mackenzie, of Cobourg, and Douglas, of Port Hope, and other school officials. Mr. Douglas positively declared that Port Hope and Hope township are going to have a High School Area," and it will be a good one. We would cordially welcome East Durham should it decide to join in with us." However, transportation of pupils the long trek from Manvers to the lakeside town seemed a barrier.

Mr. Carleton, P. S. I., added considerable information regarding lines to follow in bus routes, and in making divisions within the different section. A hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was voiced by Dr. Hobbs.

COLORFUL M.P.—Jean-Francois Pouliot, ebullient independent Liberal member of Parliament for Temiscouta, can usually be counted on for a novel twist in any contributions he makes to House of Commons debates. Mr. Pouliot recently rose on a question of privilege in the House to complain of an unsigned letter which described him as a "jackal." First elected to the Commons in 1924, the member, who hails from Riviere-du-Loup, Que., comes from a long line of politicians. His father, grandfather, and great-grandfather were all politicians.

23 Fatalities Reported In E. Canada At Week-end

By The Canadian Press

The discovery of the bodies of nine persons previously reported missing swelled the total of deaths reported in Eastern Canada during Palm Sunday week-end to 23. Five persons died as the result of traffic mishaps—three of them involving bicycles.

A Canadian Press compilation reported 17 deaths in Ontario, four in Quebec, two in Nova Scotia and none in New Brunswick, Cape Breton Island or Newfoundland.

In Toronto James Patrick Murray, 22, was charged by police with murdering his brother-in-law, Ross Wilson, 32, in a fist fight which culminated a family quarrel during a housewarming.

The bodies of two persons were taken from the St. Lawrence River near Montreal on Sunday. One, Joseph Germain Deseves, 65, had been missing since Dec. 4. The other was a nude woman found at St. Sulpice. At Ste. Christine, Que., the partly decomposed body of Edmondon Loranger was found on a newly-purchased farm.

At Port Hope the body of Jackie Lindsay, five, who disappeared in spring floods in March, 1948, was found at the mouth of the Ganaraska River. A fisherman near Timmins in Northern Ontario, hooked the body of a man identified as Pietro Candusio, 67, in the Mettagami River. Near Campbellford, in Central Ontario, a body tentatively identified as Fred Hickey, was recovered from a lake. Hickey's boat capsized last fall.

Bodies of three persons were found at Toronto. An unidentified body with scrap metal pieces tied to the feet was taken from the harbor while the body of elderly Arme Byykko was found in a city park.

The body of William Archibald, 82, missing since April 4, was found beside a bridle path on Toronto's outskirts.

Dies In Explosion

A dynamite explosion at the Mersey River power development near Liverpool, N.S., took the life of Forman Whynott, 44, and at Bridgewater, N.S., Franklin Knox, seven, was hit by a motorist. Fifteen-months-old Ronald Letourneau died in a Montreal hospital after an orange peel had stuck in his throat.

The body of Mrs. Dora Szwec, 53, was found in a pond on her farm near Welland. She had been reported missing on Friday. Daniel Anderson, 27, a Welland canal worker, was drowned Saturday in the canal near Thorold.

Collision between two shunting trains in railway yards at Belleville caused the death of Hunter Faulkner of Belleville, engineer of one of the locomotives.

In two Ontario sawmill accidents Charles Kozlowski was fatally injured near Brantford by a flying piece of wood and Bernard Pfohl, six, of Galt, was buried under a pile of lumber on which he was playing.

The deaths were reported Saturday of Christine Casey, 13, and Denise Gaudfroid, 14, who were struck near Sturgeon Falls, while riding their bicycles Friday night. And at Colborne, George Ireland, 39, was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile and left dying in a ditch.

Mrs. Emily Ludlow, 59, of Oshawa, died in an auto crash several miles west of Oshawa. At Toronto the body of J. W. Tye, 68, was found near railway tracks at suburban Lakeview and police said he was struck either by a train or motorcar.

White-Spotted Fawn

NEW YORK, April 11—(AP)—A white-spotted fawn, a nearly-extinct species of deer which once roamed the Imperial Park near Peking, was born Sunday at the Bronx zoo. William Bridges, curator of publications at the zoo, said the species, known as "Pere David's Deer," is considered the rarest in the world. It is the first of the species ever born on this continent.

Rescue Woman

TORONTO, April 11.—(CP) — Two police constables plunged into the ice-cold Don River here Saturday night to save 25-year-old Lena Oyradnyk, who, police said, jumped from a bridge. Constables Robert Stirling and James Raffan swam 50 yards to save the woman. She was taken to hospital for treatment for shock and exposure.

Labor Leaders Say Budget Costs Ground

LONDON, April 11 (CP)—Labor leaders said today that had they more time to explain the new budget they might not have lost ground in last week's county elections in England and Wales.

Labor received a staggering blow from the Conservatives who, on still incomplete returns, gained 344 seats. Labor lost 336 seats altogether.

Four whole counties previously held by Labor were lost. They were Middlesex, Essex, Northumberland and the west riding of Yorkshire. Their only gain was Carmarthen in Wales.

gan, Monmouthshire, Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire. It also claims to have retained London County Council although control will be decided Wednesday when a chairman and 11 aldermen are to be elected.

In the London county elctions Conservatives wiped out a 56-seat Labor majority. Both parties won 65 seats with the other going to the Liberal party. Ten aldermen, all Labor, are carried over from the old Council.

Labor's hopes to maintain control hinge on electing the chairman, perhaps an outsider, and the aldermen.

Sir Percy Harris, the Liberal, may hold the balance of power between the two parties.

Issue Undecided

Whether Labor members will be able to manoeuvre 11 party men into the vacancies or whether Sir Percy will force them into accepting a proportion of Conservatives remains to be seen.

Morgan Phillips, secretary of the Labor party reviewing the results, attributed the success of the Conservatives to "redistribution of seats and to the exploitation by the Tory party of the election as an artificial referendum.

"It is by no means a challenge to our political philosophy but it is a warning that we cannot ignore. We must review our organization immediately so that we may give a better account of our selves in the next round of our fight."

The budget, brought down last Wednesday by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, gave Britons the prospect of another year of heavy taxation and severe austerity measures.

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep"

Whatever our creed or language, we have all felt the impulse to pray. We may worship in various forms . . . we may call our God by various names . . . but, somehow, most of us express our faith in a Higher Power. When our loved ones are spared, we give thanks. At times of confusion or danger we call for guidance. When confronted by a mighty mountain, or the perfection of a tiny snowflake, we are awed by the wonder of life. We teach our children our faith, so that they will not be alone as they face the world.

FAITH is a family affair!*

FAITH is not just for holy days. Faith is for every day . . . at work, at play, in the quiet times the family has together.*

We need faith — and never so desperately as today. The world is filled with voices of confusion. It is easy to feel helpless and alone. But faith in a Power outside ourselves can be a bedrock of family unity, a shield for family happiness.

Faith unites families for greater happiness

L-198

A return to faith can give men and women a broader view of life—a sense of perspective. Then they are better prepared for the give-and-take of family living. The family united in faith has a strong and lasting bond.

Children naturally turn to faith when it is a daily part of the family life. And when they know the real meaning of faith, they will be tolerant of those who express their faith in other ways.

The home atmosphere is far different when a family stops trying to walk alone, when it sees its place in the bigger scheme of things. It works together for the things it can control — and trusts its God for guidance in problems beyond its control. Such a family can't help feeling closer together, more sure of itself, happier!

To keep alive the family's faith calls for a positive plan — just as you plan for your family's material welfare. How your family expresses its faith is a matter of choice. What is important to you is that you do express it!

Basketball here ends for the season tonight and tomorrow eve at eight in the Collegiate gym when the Quebec juvenile boy cagers clash with PCVS in the Canadian finals. These should be two streamlined hoop tilts between the best in Eastern Canada—the west not challenging. The senior PCI-ers wound up their season Saturday in great fashion and our hearty congrats to the COSSA champs. There was some talk of St. Kitts being tossed out after taking the OABA intermediate "A" finals—which might have put Marines back in the hunt—but this has been denied by Secretary Leeson of the OABA, so that's that.

OBA annual convention has come and gone. Lot of work done at it, and we're glad to see Cy Whatley elected to the executive. Eddie Murphy and his committee in charge did a good job and the delegates all seemed to enjoy their stay here. Dave Kerr and his staff made everything pleasant and it was nice meeting all these ball men from about the province. Mayor Max Swanston—who talks the language of the diamond as a former star player and official—made the guests welcome at the civic dinner Saturday, ably conducted by Ald. Adam Sands, who left hospital just for the occasion. Yes, the whole convention was well handled.

Another Jam Session

If the Brock Arena was filled last week to see Australian Fred Atkins and the Masked Marvel, it should be jammed Wednesday e'en when this pair clash again. The main melee ended in a "hey rube" mixup with the referee chucked out of the ring and a whole raft of wrestlers getting into the jam session. This time, they'll have Strangler Ed Lewis as referee and there won't be any fooling with the former world's heavyweight champ. Atkins has promised to dehood the mystery man here and it might well happen this week. Two good supporting bouts make it a real grapple card.

Well, sir—and you, madam—it looks like Legionnaires are about in there, eh? Beating Sarnia Sailors 7-2 in Lindsay on Saturday, they're two up now after two games have been run off in the best-of-five OHA senior "B" finals. They entrain for Sarnia Thursday night to stage the third tilt Good Friday. Fourth would be Saturday if necessary, there and fifth Monday in the tunnel town. But Legion think they can wind it up in three straight and return to Peterborough on Easter Saturday with a provincial crown. They'll be hard to stop now, as this sure looks to be their year. So, it's "on to Sarnia", fellows!

Who Minds It Rough?

The Sailors tried to soften Legion up with rugged tactics Saturday is a swell scrap. That suited the scrappy ex-servicemen fine. They'll rough it, too, if you want it that way. But their speed and hustle were too much for Sarnia once more. They all played bang-up hockey, goalie, defencemen and forwards. And were they tickled to tuck that second victory away and make it look pretty much of a cake-walk in! Though the Sailors in their home port will fight bitterly to stave off elimination this coming week-end. Still, they'd have to win three in a row. Yeah, it looks like Legion's year. Bill Crowley got a nasty lump on the cheek from a high stick but he was as jubilant as the rest after. "Who minds a cut or two when you're on the way to a championship?" he asked. That's their spirit.

Bill Dundas led the males in single with 380 and threesomes with 916, while Harold Mesley had the leading average of 218 for 63 games. Legionnaires Go Two Up With Victory Over Sarnia

Legionnaires outfought Sarnia Sailors 7-2 in Lindsay on Saturday night to make it two straight in as many starts of their best-of-five OHA Senior "B" final series. They go now to Sarnia Friday to wind up the series. About 1,200 fans saw a swell scrap Saturday, with Legion having a definite edge to take a commanding lead in the provincial finals.

Sarnia Sailors changed tactics this game, roughing it up considerably in an effort to slow down the speedy Legion forwards. This was right down the alley of the scrappy Vitarelli pack, and they had a margin on play in every period. However, it made for an exciting tussle for the fans. The referees kept control of the game, handing out 17 penalties, seven to the winners. The score was 2-0 for Legion in the first and 5-1 for them going into the third period.

Led the Way

Joe Rocnetta led the scoring parade for the victors, being in on four goals, and scoring the picture marker of the game. Fast-stepping Bob Greenlaw was right behind him with three points, and Johnny Godfrey starred defensively and on attack, being in on a pair. The third line hustled more this tilt, and the whole team from the goalie out looked good. They had to step as Sarnia gave them a battle all the way. Butler, Kowcinak and Cousins were always dangerous on the attack, with Dodds solid back of the blue line.

Garvin drew an early penalty for interference but no damage was done in his absence, though Godfrey and then Coombs tested Rutter. Coombs went over next for interference and returned as Vitarelli got it for hooking. Play kept fast and rugged, with Maugham chased next for elbowing. Legion claimed a goal but it was not allowed. Birkland got the air for holding and Hill scored for Legion on a neat bit of combination inside with Coombs and Godfrey. Cousins was robbed by Nicholls with both sides again at full strength and Bob Greenlaw almost counted one of his backhand specialties, whirling by the goal like a streak. Cousins was chased for interference and Bob Greenlaw made it 2-0 on fine passing and finish with Crowley and Rochetta right in there.

Hold An Edge

Legion had a 3-1 scoring edge in the second but both sides were stepping fast and keeping the rival goalies on the jump. Joe Rochetta got the nicest goal of the night on a rink-length solo rush, splitting defence fast to go right in on Rutter and hit the hemp. Butler came close and then Godfrey's screened shot from the blue line caught a corner to make it 4-0. Parnell went off for cross-checking, Garvin and then Cousins following for high-sticking as play kept rather rough. All were back and Beauchamp made Ross jump when Burns was waved away for elbowing. Butler promptly scored on fine passing in close with Fraser and Kowcinak. Bob Greenlaw nearly notched one, and then with Maugham off for cross-checking, Bob batted in Rochetta's corner passout on Rutter's doorstep. A rush by Parnell and T. Greenlaw nearly paid off, too.

Sarnia ganged up to open the third and kept Legion on the defensive for some five minutes Kirkland rushed hard and a Hill-Coombs thrust was close. Hill got it for holding and he was followed by Garvin and Crowley for high-sticking. All were back when Fraser was waved off for boarding and Fryia tipped in a forward pass from Parnell at the crease edge. Garvin almost hit the twine string and then Needham notched a nice one inside on a good pass over from Butler as they tramped in fast. Bob Greenlaw got that one right back from Rochetta at close quarters his shot blasting by Rutter too fast to see. Crowley was waved away for roughing and Maugham followed for elbowing. A drive by Fryia and Parnell was almost good as the game wound up.

The teams:

Sarnia—Goal, Rutter; defence, Dodds and Haddon, centre, Kowcinak; wings, Garvin and Cousins; alternates, Beauchamp, Fraser, Kirkland, O'Bright, Maugham, Butler and Needham.

Saints 1949 Champs Of U.S. Hockey League

TULSA, Okla., April 11 (AP)—St. Paul Saints are the 1949 champions of the United States Hockey League.

They won the crown by defeating Tulsa Oilers 5-3 Sunday night in their fourth straight victory of the final playoffs. Tulsa won only the opener in the best-of-seven series.

A savage stick battle involving all players of both teams and both officials delayed Sunday night's game almost half an hour. Scalp wounds were suffered by Jack McGill, Saints' goalie, Joe Shertzl of the Oilers, and Referee Harry Ornest.

St. Paul's Hal Brown scored two goals while Eddie Young and Hal Brown were in the penalty box following the fight.

Curtains For Marvel This Wednesday?

John Katan

The biggest wrestling crowd of the whole season is expected to pack the Brock Arena on Wednesday when the British Empire champion Fred Atkins meets the Masked Marvel once more. There will be no time limit and the great Strangler Ed Lewis will come in specially to officiate. Atkins and the Mask battled to the wildest draw perhaps ever seen here last week and their treatment of Frank Valois as referee was something to see. But with the Strangler in there (he was five times world champion and still is tough enough) there should be a final decision.

Two established main-bout wrestlers will meet in the semi-final when Ray Villmer tackles Sliding Billy Hansen. The match should be a mat classic. Irish Tom Collins takes on John Katan in the opener.

Senior PCVS Basketeers Capture COSSA Title In Overtime 61 to 57

For the first time in COSSA history its senior boys' basketball championship left the Niagara Peninsula when PCVS defeated Niagara Falls 61-57 in overtime, at Hart House, University of Toronto Saturday afternoon. The Peterborough team had just failed to win in regulation time as McManus scored the tying basket with 10 seconds to go.

The five-minute overtime period was packed with action as first Peterborough went ahead on Griffin's hoop. Niagara Falls came back with three double pointers when McManus scored twice and Merstorf once. Grafstein reduced the margin to two points with a much-needed field goal. With 30 seconds to go, Griffin was fouled in the act of shooting. Don cooly sank both tries to tie the game once more. The clock started its last 30 seconds with Niagara Falls in possession. However, an alert interception and Griffin was in possession. Though checked, he still got his shot away and Peterborough was again in front with seconds remaining. Once more an alert interception paid off, this time to ensure victory as Griffin fired again for another two-pointer as the bell went to end the game

Even Terms

The teams fought on even terms throughout the entire game. Niagara Falls scored first and led 5-0. PCVS narrowed the margin to 5-4 and went up 6-5 only to have Niagara once more take the lead and hold it at the quarter 16-12. The entry of Hugh Dibben and Don Richardson into the game in the second quarter seemed to help swing the tide in Peterborough's favor as PCVS outscored the Falls team 16-10 and went into the 10 minute rest, ahead, 28-26.

The third quarter was a continuation of the same exciting, closely-contested first half. Niagara Falls scored one less basket but had three foul shot scores to reduce the margin to one, 38-37. The Peninsula team seemed headed for certain victory mid-way through the last quarter. They forged ahead by eight points as PCVS seemed to tire. However, that finishing kick which defeated Sault Ste. Marie the week before was once more produced. Ten straight points on four field goals and two foul shots put PCVS in front with a minute to go. A successful ball-control effort seemed to be paying off for Peterborough until a quick shot had to be taken to save a travelling violation. Niagara got possession and scored when high scorer McManus counted with 10 seconds to go and forced overtime.

Big Scorer

Don Griffin scored eight of the 10 overtime points for PCVS and had a grand total of 29 for the 45 minutes of play. Only six others were used by the local team and all six had a share in the scoring. McManus with 26, and 6 ft. 6 in. Swain with 17 were the high scorers for Niagara Falls.

In the semi-finals played immediately before the final, Niagara Falls had no trouble eliminating Bracebridge High School 54-12, while PCVS defeated Belleville CVI 33-18. Al Northcott had nine points and Don Richardson seven to lead the local scorers in a slowly played game, Galbraith and Buchanan had six each for Belleville.

The teams:

Semi-Final:

PCVS—Griffin 6, N. Thompson 6, Northcott 9, Dinsdale, Grafstein 2, H. Dibben 3, D. Dibben, B. Thompson, Richardson 7, Taylor, Sergeant, Hempstead. Total 33.

Belleville—Galbraith 6, Lepore, Summers 2, Buchanan 6, Ketcheson 4, McMillan, Dudley, Pappas, Scott, Burke. Total 18.

Leafs Make It Two Straight Trim Detroit Red Wings 2-1

By JACK SULLIVAN

DETROIT, April 11—(CP).—There isn't much doubt about it—Toronto Maple Leafs are the "money" club of the National Hockey League. They operate in championship form in chips-down competition. The Leafs, an unimpressive fourth in the standing after the regular schedule, defeated the league champion Detroit Red Wings 3-1 here Sunday night to go two games up in their best-of-seven final round Stanley Cup series. They took the opener 3-2 via the overtime route Friday.

And Leafs can toss an assist to Pittsburgh Hornets, their farm club which didn't make the American Hockey League playoffs. It probably was a good thing because Leafs wouldn't be able to call on Sid (Buff) Smith, 24-year-old Hornet left winger who, so far, has won two of their seven playoff games.

The kid from Toronto just about "ruined" the Wings Sunday night before a bulging 14,325 crowd, scoring all three goals. It was his second pay-off effort in the Leafs drive for their third straight Stanley Cup.

Wizard Shot

He almost single-handedly defeated Boston in the fourth game of the Bruin-Leafs semi-final round scoring two goals and assisting in a third as Leafs won it, 3-1.

The Leafs and Wings meet again in Toronto Wednesday and Saturday and—unless the Wings start flapping harder than they have here—it wouldn't surprise anybody if Coach Hap Day's team takes the prized mug as last year—four straight over Detroit. Victory in this series would make Leafs the first club in 22 years of NHL history to win the cup three times in a row. They defeated Montreal Canadiens in the 1947 series.

Sunday night's game was a sizzler throughout most of the 60 minutes. Leafs, through Smith, went into a 2-0 first period lead and they continued the pressure as if they were trailing.

Smith, who led the AHL scoring race this season with 55 goals and 57 assists for a point total of 112, banged home his final counter at 17.58 of the second period to give the Leafs a 3-0 lead.

Beats Broda

Pete Horeck, who was off on the Toronto player's first two goals, partially made up for it at 5.30 of the third session when his drive from near the blueline had goalkeeper Turk Broda beaten all the way.

The Wings took goalkeeper Harry Lumley out with just over a minute to go and they bottled up the Leafs in their own territory but they couldn't beat goalie Turk Broda. Sid Abel, Red Kelly and Gordie Howe were parked almost on top of the Turk but their drives were held out.

Joe Klukay, who scored the sudden-death overtime goal in Friday's game, almost got another in the final minute but his rink-length drive missed the empty Detroit net by about five feet.

There's an ironical touch to this series—to Detroit fans at least.

In six league games this season between the two clubs on Detroit ice, Toronto managed to salvage only one point, a 2-2 draw Jan. 9. And Leafs—who were never able to win three games in a row in the regular schedule—opened the series here with a two-straight record hangover from the Boston series and now they've rung the bell for four in a row.

Royals Bounce Flyers 3-1 In Big Upset

TORONTO, April 11 (CP) — Montreal Royals, of unknown calibre to Toronto fans, today had proof of their hockey prowess on the record books here.

The fans got an eye-full Saturday night when the Royals scored a 3-1 victory over the powerful Barrie Flyers in the opening game of their best-of-seven series for th Eastern Canada junior hockey title.

The second and third games will be played in Montreal Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The Royals matched speed and ruggedness with the Flyers as they chalked up their 13th playoff win in 14 starts and prevented the Flyers from tying a playoff record.

The Barrie squad had registered 12 straight wins and was one victory away from duplicating a performance by the famous Toronto St. Michael's College majors in the 1933-34 season that has stood for 15 years.

Bert Hirschfeld, Neale Langill and Tommy Manastersky tallied for the Royals while Rick Hogg got the lone goal for the Flyers.

Get 22 Penalties

A Maple Leaf Gardens crowd of 11,293 fans watched officials Stan Pratt and Sparky Nicholson hand out 22 penalties. The Royals got 13 of them.

Hap Emms' Ontario champions, out of a competition for a week, didn't play with their accustomed sparkle as the Royals fought through a scoreless first period, went up 1-0 in the second and then outscored the Flyers 2-1 in the third period.

Manastersky, a defenceman, scored the first goal at 19:32 of the first period and drew five penalties by bouncing everyone who wore a Barrie sweater.

However, the game was only decided in the last few minutes of play when Hirchfeld scored on the open Barrie nets, after goalie Gil Mayer had been taken out in favor of a sixth forward.

The Royals were hanging on desperately when Emms yanked Mayer. The Flyers stormed the Montreal nets from the face off but Hirschfeld intercepted the puck, made his way to centre ice and blasted it home.

Picture Play

The Royals' second goal, at 2:39 of the third period, was the picture play of the night. Langill skated in with Hirschfeld, who barged into the defence, and left the puck just inside the blue line. Langill skated right in on Mayer and caught the open corner.

Six minutes later Rick Hogg put the Flyers back in the game when he tallied on a 20-foot, waist-high shot that goalie Bob Bleau didn't see. Hogg took a short pass from Hal Hopper in the Montreal territory and beat Bleau cleanly.

Then the Flyers put on the pressure. Time and again they drove into Montreal territory, but every time they went in Manastersky was there to stop them.

The Flyers suffered a severe loss when their ace defenceman, Stan Long, was injured in the first time minutes of play. Long checked Lou Appelby and Appelby fell on top of him. He was taken to hospital with a dislocated shoulder.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Apri 1 11—(AP)—Hershey's vastly improved Bears held a 2-1 edge over Providence Reds today in their American Hockey League best-of-seven Calder Cup series.

The Bears took the series lead Sunday night by pinning a 5-2 defeat on the Reds before 6,567 fans.

Arnie Kullman netted a 55-foot shot in 40 seconds of the first period to give the Bears a one-goal lead. Then Hershey moved in front 4-0 in the second stanza on goals by Phil Maloney, Jerry Brown and Kullman.

The Reds, who spread-eagled the eastern division in regular season play, fought back in the finale. Eddie Kullman tallied with a 15-foot shot in 38 seconds and Jack Stoddard scored at 6.03.

But the Providence attack slackened and veteran Herb Cain insured the victory for Hershey with a seven-foot tally.

Plan To Feature Van Johnson, Lawford Team

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 11—(AP)—Ah, there's good news tonight for bobbysoxers. Van Johnson and Peter Lawford will star in a film together.

The two heroes of the adolescents are slated for "Please Believe Me," in which they'll struggle for the hand of Deborah Kerr. It's a story about a British girl who inherits a vast ranch in Texas.

Robert Montgomery is heading for Britain. He has written a screen play which he'll direct and star in over there after "Come Be My Love." The rest of the cast will be British.

Bob Taylor, Fred MacMurray, Walter Pidgeon and Peter Lawford put on one of the funniest acts I've ever seen the other night. They were rehearsing their song-and-dance act for the Friar Frolic this Saturday night. They'll be joined by Van Johnson, Ray Milland, James Stewart and Robert Montgomery for the highest priced chorus line of all time. Barbara Stanwyck was among those watching the hilarious antics. . .

Across a studio street I found a ballet team of no small proportion rehearsing. Among the sylphs were Rod Cameron, Dennis O'Keefe, Brian Aherne, Cesar Romero, Jack Oakie and Buster Keaton. The show will benefit the motion picture relief fund. . .

Other Notes

Jeanette MacDonald, who tossed a party for Lotte Lehmann told me she won't be doing another film until November.

Maureen O'Hara is seeking a color picture after "Father was A Fullback."

Van Johnson reports that his stock with his stepchildren has risen considerably. He took the boys to the circus and lion tamer Clyde Beatty came over to sit with Van. The boys think Van is an important man now.

IT'S SPRINGTIME IN TEXAS—And the white blanket covering the green foliage just adds to the color . . or that's the Chamber of Commerce way of explaining the snow in Odessa in April. A recent spell of peculiar weather caused snowfalls in several parts of the state.

Film Produced 23 Years Ago Remains Popular

By JOHN L. SPRINGER.

NEW YORK, April 11— (AP).—Twenty-three years ago the great master of the spectacle Cecil B. De Mille, completed a motion picture This week that movie probably will be the most widely shown film in the world.

It will be screened in 65 theatres in the Metropolitan New York area alone. It will play in Europe, in Japan, China, the Philippine Islands. Mennonites will show it at their meetings, missionaries will screen it in Libera's jungles, priests will project it from trailers in the Tennessee hills.

The film is "The King of Kings," the story of the life, passion and death of Christ. It is estimated to have been seen by close to 800,000,000 persons since its world premiere in 1927.

In the last weeks of Lent, use of its 600 prints in circulation reach a peak.

Alan F. Martin, vice-president of the Cinema Corporation of America, who directs the film's distribution around the world, says there are few countries which have not seen "The King of Kings."

In Britain a law against displaying any member of the Holy Trinity in a place of public amusement at first prevented its showing there. De Mille's representatives asked six bishops of Eskimos at Point Barrow, Alaska.

Like most De Mille films, "The King of Kings" carries the mark of authenticity. He spent 1½ years on research, recreating the costumes and settings of the times. He wrote the script with the aid of a rabbi, priest and minister. He ordered thorns especially mission to screen the film for the public.

Standard Equipment

Prints of "The King of Kings" are standard equipment for many missionaries.

"The King of Kings" was the first sound movie ever seen by the Church of England to see it privately, and finally got perbrought from the Holy Land for the crown of Christ.

De Mille extracted signed agreements from all his principal actors to stay away from parties and night clubs during the production period. He banned smoking on the lot.

He was even more strict with H. B. Warner, who played the role of Christ. Warner was ordered to spend his time on the set in solitude. He ate his meals alone and wore a veil on his way to and from his dressing-room. The perfectionist De Mille said he wanted Warner to be as reverent toward the role as was humanly possible.

Police System Identification Second To None

Peterborough city police force now has an identification system second to none in Ontario according to Cpl. A. K. Dakin of Ottawa Identification Branch of the R.C.M.P.

This week Cpl. Dakin and City Police Identification Officer William Aggas brought the city's files for identifying criminals into line with the best methods used by police in the larger centres.

Since the new identification bureau was added to the city police system this year, Identification Officer William Aggas has been engaged in the process of changing over from the old filing system of records to the new methods of classification.

Within three minutes Mr. Aggas can now tell whether any person arrested here has a previous record with the police of this city or whether he is wanted by the police in other parts of Canada.

And he does not have to rely on the name given by the arrested person. He can short circuit the complications arising from people usipg names other than their own thanks to the modern classification of finger prints.

1,000 Sets of Fingerprints

Since 1940 a record of 1,000 sets of finger prints has been set up representing all those who have been charged with indictable offences. If a criminal wanted for an offence committed on the other side of the Rockies, in northern British Columbia or on the east coast, should be arrested on a comparatively minor offence—perhaps the theft of a $1 bill—he would soon be recognised by Mr. Aggas.

Cpl. Dakin speaks highly of Peterborough's identification of criminals and wanted persons and describes the department as "outstanding in its co-operation" with the R.C.M.P. and the Provincial Police.

Mr. Aggas attended the R.C.M.P. identifications classes in Ottawa last year, learning several aspects of finger print classification, photographing scenes of accidents and methods of criminal operation.

Hunter's Body Found In Rice Lake Bay

The body of Fred Hickey 304 Maitland Ave 41-year-old CGE draftsman who drowned in Rice Lake while duckhunting on November 13, has been recovered. Extensive dragging operations in an effort to locate the body continued until freeze up.

Don Clark of Peterborough found the body on Sunday afternoon in Webb's Bay, about a quarter of a mile from where the drowning occurred. Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings was called and also Coroner Dr. R. A. Wilkinson of Cobourg.

Identification was made by personal belongings found on the body.

Mr. Hickey was one of a trio that went to Rice Lake for a day's duck hunting. Rough water swamped the 14-foot flat-bottomed skiff they were using and they were thrown into the water.

Born In Peterborough

Mr. Hickey was born in Peterborough and apart from 11 years' residence in Renfrew he lived his lifetime here. He began as an apprentice in the drafting room of the CGE later becoming a full-fledged draftsman. He would have completed 20 years service at CGE this month.

Well known in local sporting circles, he was at one time a crack first-baseman with Crescents in the East Peterborough League, and also played with the Raybestos intermediate baseball team. He was a member of the Curling Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anna Caroline Simpson, a son Frederick David, age 11, three sisters Mrs. (Dr.) E. M. Crough (Margaret) and Miss Myra Hickey and his father, James J. Hickey.

The effort to locate his body was one of the most extensive ever undertaken on Rice Lake. Workmates and friends volunteered to help in dragging operations but they met with no success. When ice formed over the lake operations were abandoned for the winter.

Funeral will be held on Tuesday from the Anglesley Funeral Home to St. Peter's Cathedral where requiem mass will be said at 9 a. m. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Maurice Jeffries, 22, Port Hope, fell from a window on the top floor of a local hotel Saturday evening and was found sometime later by Clem Galvin, assistant manager, lying on the roof of the kitchen, 12 feet below. His neck was broken. Jeffries is now in St. Joseph's Hospital and was reported today to have spent a comfortable night.

Jeffries was visiting Peterborough with a group of four other young men and had checked into the hotel Saturday afternoon. He was seen lying on the roof, dressed only in under clothing and was carried to his room by Mr. Galvin.

At 8 a.m. Sunday, Dr. Donald Whyte was called and later Jeffries was taken to his sister, Mrs. Russell Kidd's home at Bailieboro by his friends who called a taxi from Port Hope.

Dr. M. E. Hobbs of Millbrook attended the boy Sunday afternoon and he was removed to the hospital in Peterborough.

Collides, Fights Field Fire Finds Car Fired; Fey Day

Fire which broke out Saturday on open land on Highway No. 7 near White Rose gas station was checked before it spread to nearby pine bush. Five acres of land near property owned by Constable Leo Murphy were burnt before a group of farmers and men of the city subdued the flames.

A few hours after Gerald Develine, 21 Cricket Place, had been helping to fight the fire, he was called from his house to a fire in his car. He saw smoke issuing from inside the car and a hole had burnt in the front seat, which he believes was the result of a stray cigarette stub.

Earlier in the afternoon, Mr. Develine had a minor collision with another car on George St., causing damage to a fender.

Highlights of the conference were addresses by Dr. S. R. Laycock, Dean of Education, University of Saskatchewan, and Charles K. Brigham, vice-president of the American Recreation Society.

Quirt McKinney was re-elected vice-president of the Ontario Recreation Association.

Mr. Dane acted as membership chairman and reported to the conference resolutions set down by the membership committee. Active membership in the O.R.A. may be taken out by any member of a governing body of a recreation organization. He explained that the Recreation Commission memberships are graded on a population basis.

Demonstrations and discussion groups were held on story telling, captain ball, volleyball, water activities, fencing, field and track, folk and square dancing.

As entertainment for the delegates a dramatic group staged part of the play, "Fortune, My Foe," written by Robertson Davies.

Mr. McKinney at the closing dinner invited the O.R.A. to hold the next annual meeting in Peterborough. St. Thomas also extended an invitation.

Churches Mark Palm Sunday

Rarely does the Lenten season pass without a rendering of Stainer's Crucifixion at one of the city's churches. St. John's Anglican Church choir sang this cantata Sunday evening and Palm Sunday was observed at other churches throughout Peterborough with appropriate lenten music.

Trinity Choir sang Maunder's "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," and the evening theme at George Street was given a musical interpretation by choral work from Bach to Stainer. Children of the Roman Catholic churches returned home from morning services with traditional palm branches. Holy Week services are being held in various churches and under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, culminating in Good Friday devotions.

"Crucifixion" at St. John's

Stainer's "Crucifixion" has been sung many times by the St. John's choir under the direction of F. G. Mann, L.Mus., who played the organ accompaniment Its familiarity does not detract from the beauty of he work and the small group of singers, which included a number of boy sopranos as well as adult voices, derived and gave enjoyment.

The cantata makes heavy demands on the baritone soloist who this year was Roy Pitchford. Chief tenor soloist was Douglas Crawford. J. Branson and Walter Howell sang tenor solos also and Leslie Dyer and E. Brown took bass solo parts.

The cantata was followed by the anthem There is a Green Hill sung by Mrs. Douglas Landry and Mrs. G. Kilborn.

Alcoholics Are Diseased AA Meet Told

In Alcoholics Anonymous, alcoholics find there is more fun and laughter with a non-drinking group than with the drinking, the Rev. Dr. George A. Little, Toronto, said in the Collegiate auditorium Sunday night. The occasion was the first annual meeting of the Alcoholics Anonymous of the Lift Lock Group.

"They speak of it as their return to sanity. They get contentment, happiness, radiance. Many of them have personality plus. The one condition of membership is the sincere desire to stop drinking."

Dr. Little then read Dr. James Smart's comment on the AA in the Presbyterian Record. Dr. Smart is a former minister at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Peterborough and is now in Philadelphia. Dr. Little said Dr. Smart understands the approach for rehabilitating alcoholics.

"This is the new attitude of people in the Christian churches."

Dr. Little explained there is nothing esoteric or magical in the AA. The Twelve Steps, which are the heart of the program, are he said, universal principles. With equal love, forgiveness, patience, common sense and devotional discipline, church members could do miracles in evangelism similar to what the AA can show.

Reprieve, Not Cure

"While there is no permanent cure, there can be a reprieve. The new technique is to treat alcoholism as a disease and the alcoholic as a patient, sick in body, mind, and spirit, facing realistically the decree that once an alcoholic always an alcoholic."

At the present rate at which drinkers are becoming alcoholics, he added, the problem has got out of control. He denounced the legal treatment of alcoholics comparing it to a revolving door, the chronics coming back over and over again. He said such things as the Gold Cure, serums, modern spine puncturing or conditioned reflex with emetics are not helping the alcoholic adequately to help himself.

"Sanitarium treatment with medical and psychiatric care is preferable. Teaching of hobbies, new skills or a long course of re-education does have some success but such treatment is expensive."

"Personal evangelism on the part of church members and temperance workers is of the essence of spiritual rehabilitation. Christ touched the leper. There is no record of Christ ever dealing with an alcoholic, but alcoholics are among the likeable sinners he loved and came to save."

AA Methods

Dr Little maintained that the average person can be trained to do this work. He said it was largely a matter of trying and not being afraid to make mistakes. He explained the work must be done blithely, gaily, without criticism or scorn, with no holier-than-thou attitude, no putting of creed above souls.

In opening the meeting an anonymous Member George explained that since an ad to which six people responded was put in the local paper a year ago the Peterborough AA has grown to approximately 40 members. He said the local group have two meetings a week in the Dixon House Tuesday and Friday nights.

Another member of the Alcoholics Anonymous told the people of his case. He explained some of the Twelve Steps used by the AA.

El Jones, W. S. Jones and Frank Hamon led in a short singsong before the meeting began. The meeting was carried on in the usual AA meeting style with God Save the King, speakers, collection and the Lord's Prayer.

THEY NEVER GROW UP

Peterborough had its air exercises on Sunday, too. The sky was full of kites in that section of East City adjoining the Otonabee. Excited children were whooping it up as their kites swooped and dived with each passing breeze. And the crowd wasn't all children, either. One stout middle-aged man was working himself into quite a lather as he tugged at the string in an effort to make the kite soar. His young son was plaintively watching the operation from the sidelines. Then, wanting to join in the fun, he reached up to grasp the string. "Ah-ah-ah! Now leave it alone," admonished the father. Crestfallen, the young son resumed the role of spectator while father played on. D. W.

Peterborough Unit Has Part In 'Operation Lakehead' Largest RCAF Manoeuvre

Peterborough's 50th HAA Regiment RCA, with its associated 37th HAA Workshop, RCEME, had a busy day Saturday, when they took on two outstanding jobs and completed them with success. Most interesting was participation in Operation Lakehead, the RCAF attack on Toronto and Hamilton, when the mobile radars and wireless of the regiment were called into action to assist in the defence of the Toronto area from attack by Atlantic Command Lancasters and fighters.

The local gunners, with workshop personnel in a watching brief, made a successful run from Peterborough to a position just east of Bowmanville, and set up their complicated radars and wireless equipment well before the "enemy" aircraft arrived in the area. As the bombers roared it, the regiment's wireless crackled with reports and the interception was completed immediately over the 50th's radar site. Air officials sent a special wireless message to "Bowmanville Army," as the local detachment was tagged for the exercise, at its completion to thank them for their participation.

Two-Day Attack

Forty-three aircraft took part in the two-day raids. Auxiliary squadrons from Montreal, Hamilton and Toronto were joined in battle by heavy bombers from regular squadrons of the RCAF.

Chief casualty in the exercises was the Steel Company of Canada at Hamilton. Protected by radar batteries and interceptors from Montreal and Hamilton, the steel plant was an easy target Sunday for eight Harvards from No. 400, City of Toronto Squadron.

The first major skirmish, however, was fought Saturday over an uninhabited stretch of countryside east of Oshawa. Radar installations at Scarboro, Downsview and Bowmanville detected the attackers when they were 60 miles from Toronto.

In the formation were two Lancasters from Summerside, PEI, and one from the RCAF's Central Flying School at Trenton. Flying top cover were 12 Harvards from No. 401, City of Montreal Squadron.

The Harvard defending force was scrambled when the first messages came through from radar and took off on the initial interception. They were guided accurately to the combat point by radioed instructions from the radar batteries.

Cutting through a dark cloudbank, the bombers were first sighted when 10 miles separated the two forces. The eight Harvards continued climbing until they had reached 9,000 feet. The 15 raiders came in from the east at 7,000 feet, their every change of course charted by Toronto radar.

While the radar and wireless boys were miles away, the gunners of the regiment were busily engaged in setting up their heavy AA gun site outside the Armoury for the spring training and forthcoming Army Week which starts on May 15. Gunners spent the entire day in readying the big guns, placing them, cleaning and oiling the parts to enable them to withstand the weather.

Five Dollar Syrup Has Few Takers

Five-dollar maple syrup went begging for buyers toward the close of the Saturday market, and the remnant appeared to be due for a return trip home.

The liberal offering of the maple bush product moved freely in the early stage of the market, but the quantity on the counters was more than the customers could absorb. The quart price of $1.35 was too high pitched for many of them who are counting their dollars more cautiously than they did during the war.

Some of the people in the buyers' row were only mildly curious about bushmen's stock. They remembered an experience during the war in a brief and minor black market. Few farmers had sufficient time and help to tap the maple trees, and the result was a record price level, wherever you could find syrup for sale. That was when you kow-towed for a can of syrup, and the experience of doing without it three or four years left something of indifference in the appetites of buyers who really are inclined to drool at the sight of the familiar cans and quart bottles of the sweet stuff.

Swimming Duo In 5th Place At Detroit Show

Fifth place honors came to Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club duo, Maureen Finn and Mary Rutherford, at Detroit Saturday. The girls were the youngest entrants by three years in duet competition in the first international novice synchronized swimming meet held by the Amateur Athletic Union of the US.

Not only was this the first swimming competition in which the 14-year-olds have taken part, but they were the only entrants in the meet who had not been in competitions before. Opposition was particularly stiff since any experienced swimmers who had not happened to take first, second or third place in other meets were eligible and girls of national senior calibre were entered.

Mrs. Jas. Forbes, coach, who accompanied the swimmers, is exceedingly proud of the fine showing. She is originator of their swimming routine, "Music Box Twins."

Win High Praise

Spurred by praise and high marks from the judges for their duet routine, the Peterborough girls made a second entry in the meet. With the girls of University of Western Ontario team who had finished in seventh place, they formed a team of four for the special team competition and won second place for their swimming, but were listed as third because all were not from the same club.

This effort enabled the local girls to bring home a medal. Outstanding showing of this team was made with only two hours' preparation. With a change of bathing suits and colored scarves at the waist the girls entered their number as "Rainbow" and used the music of Rachmanoff's Concerto. They were coached by Mrs. Forbes and Mrs. McKellar of Western University.

Plan Search For Uranium

DETROIT, April 11 (CP)—A discarded Detroit street railway bus is being transformed into a home on wheels by two Detroit uranium prospectors.

They will use the 10-year-old vehicle as a base for their mining operations in Canada's uranium fields.

The prospectors are Carl White, 58, a bank guard, and William Clark, 50, an electrician.

Clark said he has collected thousands of dollars worth of Geiger counters and other uranium detecting equipment for the Canadian journey.

The men plan to leave next Monday for north of Peterborough.

They bought the bus from a junk dealer for $350. Since January, they've been ripping out the seats and converting it into living quarters.

Fred Bradley Re-elected OBA President

Fred Bradley, of Hamilton, was re-elected president of the Ontario Ba[illegible]ball Association as the [illegible]nd a [illegible] ended its two-day session on Saturday in the Empress Hotel. Characterised as the most largely attended meeting in the history of the association by President Bradley, with a total of 71 voting delegates in attendance, the convention saw much spirited discussion pro and con on a long list of suggest amendments to the constitution and by-laws.

All other executive officers of the Association were also re-elected as follows: first vice-president, Fred H. Young, Chippawa; second vice-president, W. F. Nickel, Stratford; and secretary-treasurer, William J. Snyder, Hamilton.

The following were elected as members-at-large of the executive: Vern Clark, Hamilton; M. L. (Tory) Gregg, Wingham; James Millman, London; and C. E. G. Whatley, Peterborough; Four more executive members will be named by the president, with five others to be nominated by minor baseball associations of the province.

Secetary's Report

A leading feature of the morning session on Saturday was the submission by secretary-treasurer Snyder of his annual report, which noted "an increase in the good work accomplished in years previous." He reported that the association continued during the year to "improve its position to the point where it is now considered sound" and also gave a great many more teen-age boys a chance to play baseball under proper supervision, while at the same time its senior and intermediate members continued to improve playing conditions in their respective communities.

Mr. Snyder said that association memberships now represented a total of 161 leagues participated in by 819 clubs. These figures show an increase over 1947 of 22 leagues and over 100 clubs, the increase occurring mainly in the lower minor groups. Total registration of players in 1948 was 14,553, an increase of 6,196 over the previous year.

During the year, the report noted, the president had appointed S. H. Armstrong of Toronto to fill the vacancy on the board of minor representatives created by the retirement of Dr. H. J. McCann.

The secretary said that there had been an increase in the number of applications for change of residence, 120 transfers being granted and six refused. ive players and two clubs were placed under suspension by the league executive for violating league rules. After a short penalty period begranted and six refused. Five play ers are again in good standing. Seventeen players were granted reinstatements under the rule governing try-outs with professional clubs.

One hundred and fifty-five clubs participated in the various 1948 playdowns, although playoffs in the senior A and B groups could not be completed "partly through weather conditions and to some extent through the non-cooperation of the clubs concerned."

Mr. Snyder paid tribute to two valued members of the association who died during the year, P. M. "Pat" Kennedy, of Toronto, president of the association in 1922, and Ken J. Colling, of Belleville, a member of the OBA executive for the past ten years, and former sports editor of the Belleville Ontario-Intelligencer.

Report of Treasurer

In his report as treasurer Mr. Snyder said that returns from affiliations, certificate tax, and transfer fees were greater than in 1947, but returns from playoff games were $1,000 below the previous year. He said it was "his firm belief that the association will have to devise ways and means of keeping a more efficient check on gross gate receipts of many playdown games."

The financial report showed that the "association was in a very healthy condition financially." The association closed the year with "a fairly good surplus even though we had an operating loss of $152.52."

Mr. Snyder declared, in reference to minor baseball; that "it is absolutely necessary to foster and promote the game among the teen-agers, not only from the point of giving the boys good clean recreation, but also for the purpose of developing players who in the near future will be taking their places in the Senior and Intermediate clubs." He said the association was "happy to carry on the great work accomplished among the minors, regardless of the cost, which was approximately $1,800 in 1948, with revenue received from the minors amounting to $280.

Many well-worded tributes to the devoted service of the secretary-treasurer were paid by various members following Mr. Snyder's re-election. Among those voicing these sentiments were: James Millman, London; S. H. Armstrong, Toronto; Don North, Toronto; G. E (Ernie) Gibbard, Napanee; William Smith, Galt; Mr. Clark, of Hamilton, assistant secretary; A. J. "Bunny" Morganson, Toronto. On the suggestion of Past President W. J. Smith, Toronto, who presided during the election of officers, the newly appointed finance committee was instructed to consider the possibility of paying Mr. Snyder a fixed annual salary, instead of the honorarium he is now receiving. The committe was set up at the morning session to study the whole financial set-up of the association, with a view to putting it on an even stronger basis.

On motion of second vice-president W. F. Nickel, a vote of thanks was extended to the people of Peterborough for the fine hospitality extended to the delegates. E. E. Murphy, of Peterborough, was chairman of the convention committee.

An invitation offered by a Niagara Falls delegate to the association to hold its 1950 convention in that city was unanimously accepted.

Some 27 suggested amendments to the constitution and by-laws, offered by delegates representing various leagues and by the executive itself, were considered, practically the whole day being taken with discussing them. Fourteen of them were passed, several of them being amended in certain particulars. Four were withdrawn by the movers and seconders.

One of the proposed amendments which provoked the most discussion, and which was defeated, was that proposed by the Niagara District Baseball Association, which advocated that "the matter of policy concerning senior business voting be restricted to leagues or associations having Senior classifications."

The association approved an amendment proposed by the Inter-County Baseball Association which would make it possible for any player who signed a contract with a professional baseball club and who is put on the voluntary retired list prior to July 15, to become eligible to play in the OBA immediately he returns to him home city.

Approval was given to an amendment offered by the Western Counties Baseball Association which has the following effect: in villages or towns with a population of three to five thousand having a B club or a higher classification and also a second club, that the second club has the right to be re-classified in a lower group, or as the OBA sees fit.

MAKES OBA—Cy Whatley, former catcher for the Petes, and shown here in baseball togs, was elected to the OBA executive on Saturday at the annual convention held in Peterborough. It was Cy's first try for the OBA.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Dick Button Saturday night easily won his fourth straight United States men's figure-skating championship at Colorado Springs, Colo. The Englewood, NJ, skater, three-time winner of the North America title and the holder of the world and Olympic championships, went through a dazzling figure-skating exhibition. Runner-up for the second straight year was 17-year-old Jimmie Grogan of Berkeley, Cal. Yvonne Sherman, 18-year-old New Yorker, won senior women's title. Her victory ended the six-year national reign of Boston's Gretchen Merrill, who finished second.

At Hamilton, Shirley Gladding of Stratford, former Ontario ladies' junor badminton champion, won top honors Saturday night in three events of the Westdale badminton tournament. She won the ladies' singles final by beating Helen MacDonald, also of Stratford, 12-10, 11-1. In the ladies' doubles final she paired with Miss MacDonald to eliminate Muriel Sealey and Dorothy O'Loughlin of Hamilton 15-12, 15-11.

With Jack Koehler of Kitchener as her partner, Miss Gladding defeated Bob Menzies of Kitchener and Dorothy O'Loughlin of Hamilton 15-11, 15-4 to win the mixed doubles honors. In the men's doubles, Koehler and Menzies beat Jack Pequegnat and Bill Butler, both of Kitchener, 17-14, 12-15, 15-8.

Dick Irvin, coach of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League for the last nine years, has been offered a new two-year contract, General Manager Frank Selke said Sunday at Montreal. Irvin neither rejected nor accepted the contract, said Selke who added: "But he will be back."

Failure of Ontario Amateur Basketball Association official referees to appear caused postponement of the second game of the Port Hope-Port Colborne OA BA Intermediate C finals at Port Colborne Saturday night Port Hope came here with a 44-34 lead for the second game. It is hoped to have Port Hope return Wednesday night.

At Brampton, Napanee cagers beat out three other teams in a day-long tournament here Saturday to take the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association Junior B championship. In the final, Napanee defeated St. Marys 52-27. In the semi-finals, Napanee edged Tecumseh 41-39, and St. Marys handed Brampton a 70-44 trouncing.

Olympia, the odds-on-favorite, romped to an easy victory Sunday in the 1 1-16 mile Experimental Handicap No. 2 at New York's Jamaica Track, covering the route in 1:44 2-5 for the fastest time in the stake's brief history. The Kentucky Derby favorite, with Jockey Eddie Arcaro aboard, was never even threatened by four others in the small field.

Atlanta Team Whips Brooklyn Dodgers 8-4

ATLANTA, April 11 (AP) — Brooklyn's southern tour may be the most profitable spring training trip in history.

With seven games to go, four in big league parks, the Brooks already have played before 143,060 in exhibition games this spring. The final total should be more than 250,000.

Jackie Robinson, the Negro second baseman, was the big attraction yesterday when 25,221 paid their way into Atlanta's Ponce de Leon Park to see the hometown Crackers thump the Dodgers, 8-4.

Despite the threat of a Ku Klux Klan boycott, the only trouble the Dodgers had was in counting the money. They really packed them in.

Negro fans, to the number of 13,885 overflowed the special bleachers in left and right field. They stood 10 deep around the outfield, forcing special ground rules.

The park, which seats 14,500, had about 10,000 extra.

Civic Dinner Enjoyed By Ball Men

"This is the best meeting we've had in more than 10 years," said W. J. Smith of Toronto, past president and life member of the Ontario Baseball Association, at the civic dinner in the Empress Hotel on Saturday. The dinner was conducted by Ald. Adam Sands, chairman of the council's reception committee, who left the hospital for a few hours to act as master of ceremonies. He is recuperating from a broken leg.

Mayor Max Swanston, himself a former baseball star and OBA executive member, welcomed the 130 delegates at the dinner. He praised the work of the association and said he had learned many valuable lessons during his time as a player back in the 20s.

Main Speaker

The Hon. Harold Scott introduced the main speaker, Hon. Leslie Blackwell, Attorney-General of Ontario. A former athlete, the big, pleasant provincial official emphasized that baseball contributes to good Canadian citizenship. He felt it was a real deterrent to juvenile delinquency and deserved the support of the government, city councils and service clubs. Mr. Blackwell also paid tribute to Fred Steele, who was present, the recently-appointed Ontario Athletic Commissioner.

Fred Bradley of Hamilton, OBA president, expressed the thanks of the meeting to the city council, the hotel staff and to Chairman Eddie Murphy and his committee on arrangements for the two-day convention. The head tabel guests were introduced. Supplying vocal numbers during the dinner were Shirley Harris, Joan McIlwaine and Marg Lang with Mrs. Dora Harris at the piano. A men's quartet, comprised of Johnny Cairns, Bob King, Bob Baldwin and Jerry Dyrun, also entertained.

Meeting To Discuss Rink Poorly Attended

WARKWORTH, April 1i — (ENS)—Only a small number attended a recent meeting to consider the financial aspects of building a rink for the village.

The chairman Reeve Art Wartman explained that while he thought $10,000 could be obtained through grants and a good portion through public subscription, the remainder would have to be obtained through the township for which a vote would have to be held and debentures raised.

It was also said that it would cost at least $10,000 to widen the old building and this project was not considered worth while.

After discussing other suggestions Arthur Wartman, A. B. O'Connor for a speaker from the Dept. of Agriculture and perhaps, from other towns which have recently built rinks, to visit the village for further discussion.

Miss M. Dulmage Hostess To Circle

Miss Mabel Dulmage was hostess to the girls of the Jean Wagar Mission Circle at her home on Friday night, assisted by Miss Zetta Wood. They welcomed the guests and led the worship service. Easter was featured, beginning with the reading of the story of the Easter bells by Connie Wagar. Another timely story was the Rebirth of Tony, read by Mabel Dulmage.

Mrs. Norma Ephgrave read an Easter poem and Miss Gladys Langton offered prayer.

A talk on temperance was given by Mrs. Alma Hunter, in which she pointed out reasons why the sale of alcoholic liquor should not be increased in Canada.

The president, Miss Langton, welcomed the WMS visitors, especially Miss M. Bowers, the acting president, who contributed a humorous reading, entitled "The Irish Girl and the Telephone." Mrs. A. Haddon, as speaker, told of her first Easter in Bolivia where she and her husband went 31 years ago, as bride and groom. She pictured conditions in Bolivia before the advent of Christianity and traced its improvements in the years following the coming of the missionaries 50 years ago. The contrast between the early celebration of a carnival and the Christian Easter was described. Today they have religious liberty in Bolivia and Christianity has made a revolution in the ideals of the people.

In closing Mrs. Haddon asked for the prayers of the circle for the missionaries in this field, where her own daughter is serving as a nurse.

The Easter offering was received and the dedicatory prayer offered by Mrs. Dorothy Martin.

It was decided to change the night of meeting from Friday to the third Monday of each month. The May 16th meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mel Hunter, Sherbourne St. An interesting contest and the service of refreshments closed the meeting.

Auxiliary Gives Scholarship

At a general meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday evening at the nurses' residence, Mrs. A. E. Cauley and her committee were congratulated on the very successful tea held on St. Patrick's Day.

Sister Ligouri stated that the sewing room opened at the residence was being put to good use, all the parishes being well represented in making articles for the hospital and patients. It was decided that owing to willingness of the workers and the amount of sewing to be done, another sewing machine be purchased. Other reports submitted showed that considerable work is being done by the members of the auxiliary.

A cheque was given the hospital as a part payment on the infant resuscitator. Purchase of this equipment is one of the main projects of the auxiliary for 1949.

Nurses' graduation exercises will be held on May 10 and the Ladies' Auxiliary will be in charge of the reception and tea on that day. A $50.00 scholarship awarded by the auxiliary will again be given this year. This scholarship is given to the nurses for the purpose of advanced study at a university. Rev. Mother Priscilla described the progress that is being made on the new wing of the hospital. The auxiliary are planning to completely furnish a hospital room in this addition.

The meeting was honored by a visit from Rt. Rev. Monsignor O'Brien of the Sacred Heart parish, who praised the work of the ladies for the hospital and expressed keen interest in their activities.

Hazel Aldred Weds Kenneth Ward Jay

The marriage of Hazel Mary Aldred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Aldred of Norwood, to Kenneth Ward Jay, son of Mrs. Franklin Jay of Oshawa and the late Mr. Jay, was solemnized in the parsonage of Whitby United Church by the Rev. Charles Malcolm on April 2.

The bride wore an aqua gabardine dressmaker suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. She was attended by Miss Dorothy Delby, who was in green gabardine dressmaker suit with grey stray hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of red and white carnations.

Groomsman was Mr. Vernon Robson.

The reception was held in the new home of the bridal couple, Hillcourt Drive, North Whitby. The bride's mother was in a two-piece dress of figured silk jersey and brown crepe and wore a corsage of tinted rosebuds. The groom's mother was in similarly styled flowered silk jersey and blue crepe and had a corsage of white carnations.

Bridge Party Lady Golfers Of Kawartha Club

It was truly a spring hat feast in the Kawartha Golf Club rooms Saturday afternoon where the ladies' section bridge party was the big event. Delightful creations of straw and flowers were charming and gay and matched the spirit of the players who filled 35 tables.

Mrs. F. M. Somerville, one of the oldest members of the club, made the draws for prizes. The tallies were put into pretty trough baskets covered in the Easter colors.

With assistance of the club president Mrs. Adam Sands, and convener Mrs. J. F. Reed, prizes were given to: Mrs. F. Bowness, Mrs. J. P. Watts, Mrs. C. Gagnon of Montreal, Mrs. M. G. McCarney, Mrs. N. Finnie, Mrs. W. L. Hardwicke, Mrs. J. King, and Mrs. C. B. Muir.

Special prize of a beautifully embroidered work bag was won by Mrs. V. A. Selkirk. This was made for presentation by Mrs. G. C. Solmes, co-convener of the bridge.

Mrs. Gordon Hill, social convener, was assisted in serving by Mrs. L. Browne, Mrs. F. Dunfield, Mrs. D. A. Anderson, Mrs. V. A. Selkirk, Mrs. E. Riley, Mrs. W. G. Ovens, Mrs. Charles Shaw of Omemee and the conveners.

CGIT Girls Tea Hostesses At Board's Annual Event

CGIT girls of the city were tea room hostesses for the Girls' Work Board at the annual Easter tea on Saturday afternoon in the YWCA Green Room. DOROTHY DIX

Men Can't Be Unromantic Expect Happy Marriage

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man 29 years old and am going to be married in June. My fiancee loves me dearly now and I want her to keep on loving me after we are married, so how about giving me a few DONT'S that I should observe after our marriage?

Dorothy Dix

AN IMPERFECT MALE.

ANSWER: As per your request here are a few DONT'S that might help you along the rocky road of matrimony:

(1) Don't stop making love to your wife just because you are married. She craves love just as much as she ever did. Don't think that marriage makes a woman sensible so that she won't care for romance and flattery, or want the man she loves to hold her hand. A woman goes on feeling like a bride until she is 90.

(2) Don't expect your wife to make a happy home alone and unaided. That is a two-handed job. Don't expect her to meet you with a glad, sweet smile when you return home of an evening unless you are a little ray of sunshine yourself.

(3) Don't think that being married to you is picnic enough for any woman, and that she never needs to be taken out and shown a good time.

Give Her Allowance

(4) Don't begrudge your wife an allowance. She earns it over a dozen times.

(5) Don't throw your mother up to your wife and tell her what a marvelous manager she was, and how she kept house on thin air.

(6) Don't tell your wife home truths. She can stand criticism from anybody else in the world better than from you. Don't knock her faults. Don't expect her to be a combination living picture, highbrow, fashion plate, cook, baby-sitter. It can't be done.

(7) Don't save all your charm and wit and chivalry and good manners for other people. Used in the home, they make for happiness.

These are only a few of the DONT'S for husbands. There are many others.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My mother is constantly in the dumps. She worries all the time over everything under the sun. She worries if my sister comes in a little late from work. If I get a touch of sickness, she cries for fear I will die. My husband is a traveling man and she is forever saying that she just knows he will be killed in an automobile accident.

Her attitude toward life is so depressing that it is getting to the place where my family stays away from her as much as possible. What can we do?

A DAUGHTER.

ANSWER: There are lots of women who are never happy unless they are miserable, and they go on an orgy of tears as a man goes on an orgy of drink. It is hard on other people, but they are having a grand time with which it is cruel to interfere.

I suppose you should take her to a good psychiatrist who would be able to get at the root of her trouble and show her how to adjust her life and rid herself of the fear complex.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife has a sister who is cock of the walk in her home. Her husband turns his entire salary over to her and she buys his clothes and doles him out a little lunch money and carfare, and the poor sap has no say-so at all in his home.

Now this sister talked my wife into trying out this method on me and there was a violent clash, for that kind of stuff is like dynamite to me. I am the head of my home. I handle all the money. I buy my wife's clothes and she asks my permission before she does anything. I refuse to be henpecked. Don't you think I am right?

C. H. T.

ANSWER: I think a man is not only weak but foolish when he lets his wife dominate him as your brother-in-law does. No woman has any respect for a husband she can ride over roughshod, and I have never yet seen a wife who loved the husband she henpecked.

But all the domestic tyrants do not wear petticoats, and it seems to me that you are just as autocratic as your sister-in-law, and that you are oppressing your wife just as much as she is her husband. After all, you know that while it is well and good for the man to be the head of the house, he isn't the whole works. Nor is a happy marriage a state of peonage for either the woman or the man.

Think this over and try to give your wife a fair deal, or else she will come to hate you as much as the henpecked man hates his tyrant. None of us love our jailers.

TWO MONTHS' WORK—J. A. Poulin of Timmins, stands beside the 21,000 toothpicks and 17 tubes of glue which he moulded into a miniature ferris wheel in two months of his spare time. The model stands four feet high with 17 tiny cabins and revolves perfectly. One toothpick out of place would have put the entire wheel out of balance.

Does a Lemon Sponge Roll or a Daffodil Cake appeal to your imaginations — to serve during the Easter season?

The cake (a complete dessert in itself) that I am going to describe to you today is like a jelly roll, but filled with a creamy lemon filling instead of jelly, and looks as if it were made by a professional, and when it is sliced on a prettily dessert plate it is a picture. The cake only requires 2 eggs and is quite economical.

Have ready the prepared and cooled filling, a sharp knife, a clean tea towel sprinkled with icing sugar, so that you can work quickly, cutting off crisp edges of cake, and filling it and rolling it up as soon as it comes from the oven.

LEMON SPONGE ROLL

Filling: (Make this first). In top double boiler mix 1/3 cup sugar with 1½ tablespoon cornstarch, and 1 tablespoon flour. Add ½ cup boiling water, stirring until thick. Cook, covered, stirring occasionally, for 20 minutes. To 2 beaten egg yolks add grated rind 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon soft butter and 1½ to 2 tablespoons lemon juice, and pour cooked mixtures over these stirring, then return all to double boiler and cook two minutes. Cool. When cold and just before spreading on cake, fold in ¼ cup heavy cream, beaten until stiff.

Sponge Cake for roll: Onto a sheet of paper sift ½ cup flour, ¾ teaspoon baking powder and shake of salt. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff and gradually beat into them ¼ cup sugar. Beat 2 egg yolks until very thick and gradually beat into them another ¼ cup sugar, and 1½ tablespoons water and ½ teaspoon lemon extract. Beat this 2 minutes, add egg-whites and beat a little, then add sifted flour mixture and beat 1 minute. Pour into gressed paper-lined pan about 8x12. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. about 50 minutes or 1 hour.

Cake should be light golden brown and slightly shrunken from sides of pan. When baked, remove at once, quickly onto cloth covered with icing sugar, cut off crisp edges from both sides, spreading on filling—leaving about 1 inch uncovered at far end as the rolling presses out enough filling to cover this. Roll snugly in the sugared cloth, and placed end of roll on bottom, to set and cool.

Daffodil Cake

Make above sponge cake in loaf pan or angel food cake pan, baking at 325 deg. Fahr. until cake is golden and slightly shrunken from sides of pan. When cool frost with.

Double Boiler Frosting

Combine in top of double boiler 2 egg whites, 1½ cups white sugar, 5 tablespons water, 1 tablespoon corn syrup, and beat over fast boiling water, with rotary beater for 7 minutes or until frosting is fluffy and will hold its shape. Remove from heat, add 1 tablespoon vanilla and beat 1 minute more.

To decorate for Easter, slice lemon jelly candies in very thin flat slices, and make a little sunburst of them at centre of cake.

This frosting is lovely with bittersweet chocolate swirls on it. Melt one ounce chocolate, and pour over the frosting in a long thin stream, moving around cake, and with other hand holding toothpick, outline swirls with the chocolate as it settles.

Or the sponge cake recipe may be used for layer cakes, and the lemon filling used for filling it, and the frosting used for topping it. This is a well-nigh foolproof recipe and I hope you clip it for your permanent cake file.

Menus For Special Purposes

Low Calorie Dinner

Fruit Juice or Tomato Juice (6 oz. glass—28 cal.) Broiled Calves' Liver and Bacon (2-oz. and 1-oz. 225 cal.)

Canned or Fast-Frozen Green Beans (1 cup—no butter—37 cal.)

Cabbage and Tomato Slaw (with 1 teas. boiled dressing—1 cup—20 cal.)

Pineapple and Orange Fruit Cup (fresh—no sugar—¾ cup 75 cal.) clear Coffee (0 cal.)

High-Calorie Dinner

Boiled, Baked and Glazed Picnic Ham Pan Roasted Carrots and Parsnips (see notes Chopped Buttered Spinach. Peach Pie (from home-canned peaches—see note.) Coffee.

One-Burner Dinner

Boiled Shin Beef with Noodles (see notes). Beet and celery Salad with Mayonnaise. Strawberry Bavarian (using strawberry jam) (see notes.) Coffee.

Directions

For pan roasting carrots or parsnips prepare them by paring or scraping, but leave in chunky pieces. Parboil if you wish, but they roast nicely raw. Put in pan when you start baking the boiled picnic shoulder; put glaze on about 20 minutes before baking time is up. If the glaze drips on the vegetables all the better.

A very good Peach Pie may be made with 2 No. 2 cans of peaches if they are well-drained. To them add about ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, grated rind of 1 or 2 lemons and 2 tablespoons minute tapioca; mix well and put in unbaked crust. Bake in very hot oven—about 450 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes, and bake about 10 minutes longer at 350 deg Fahr. If the filling is allowed to stand for ½ hour after tapioca is added it is an improvement.

I think I described the shin beef stew with noodles last November, but if you have forgotten it is simply this: buy a piece of boned shin beef; boil in water to cover, very gently, with salt and pepper and at least 2 bay leaves for 3½ hours; then add 1 package fine noodles and boil until tender. Serve meat in centre of platter; arrange noodles in border. Pass horseradish with this dish. Shin beef cooked like this slices nicely when cold.

Strawberry Bavarian

Soak 2 tablespoons gelatine in ¼ cup cold water 5 minutes. Dissolve over boiling water stirring. Add ¼ cup sugar, stir until dissolved. Remove from heat and add 3 tablespoons lemon juice, and ¾ cup strawberry (or raspberry) jam and 1 cup water. Stir well, and chill until mixture just begins to congeal. Fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, and chill. Serve with Custard sauce left from 2 remaining whites if desired.

BLUE RIBBON COFFEE always delicious

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

Question: (Calorie Charts) will you please send me the chart for low calories. My doctor says I have to reduce. What I want is a list of food that is not fattening. Mrs. J. P.

Answer: I have sent calorie chart (also one to G. E.) but would like to mention this one point to Mrs. J. P. Actually all food is fattening and you must choose not only foods of low calorie value but foods that will provide tissue repair—roughly speaking these are the protein foods like meat, eggs, milk, nuts, cheese.

To show you the type of meals you could eat in one day and on which you would reduce I will tell what I have eaten in the past three days, and on which diet I have lost three pounds—plus exercise.

Breakfasts

(1) 2 oranges (large) 1 cup coffee with no sugar and a little homogenized milk instead of cream.

or

(2) 1 poached egg on ½ half-inch thick slice whole wheat toast unbuttered; half grapefruit (no sugar) 1 cup coffee as above.

or

(3) 1 boiled egg with 2/3 slice rye bread (no butter); 1 orange; 1 cup coffee as above.

Lunches

(1) Sandwich of 2½-inch slices whole wheat bread (not graham—genuine all whole wheat bread) no butter, no mayonnaise—with thick slice all lean meat, lettuce (mustard if desired) salt and pepper; 1 orange or half grapefruit; 8 oz. skim milk.

(2) Whole wheat bread sandwich of chopped hard-cooked egg with chopped pickle (no butter or mayonnaise) salt. 12 to 15 imported grapes; 8 oz. skim milk.

(3) Whole wheat bread sandwich of cheese, walnuts and lettuce; (no butter or mayonnaise) salt; 1 dessert apple (or unsweetened applesauce); 8 oz. skim milk.

Dinners

(1) One 3-oz. slice broiled calves' liver, ½ white bread hard roll, ½ pat butter; 1 cup green salad (lettuce, cabbage, celery, tomato) with 1 teaspoon mayonnaise, salt; ½ grapefruit; coffee with homogenized milk,—no sugar.

or

(2) One ground steak broiled meat cake (weighing 4 oz.); 1 very small (2-inch) baked potato with ½ pat butter; tomato and head lettuce salad with 1 tablespoon cottage cheese; ½ grapefruit; cup of coffee with homogenized milk—no sugar.

(3) One ¾-inch thick pork chop with all fat trimmed off—broiled; 1 oz. unsweetened applesauce 6 oz. scalloped tomatoes with onion and very little breadcrumbs; 4 oz. hot cooked rice with ½ pat butter; 1 ripe banana; 1 cup coffee with homogenized milk, no sugar.

You will notice I say to boil the meats; this is to avoid putting my fat on them in frying or baking pans.

However, you should show your doctor these suggestions if you intend to adopt them. He may think they are too drastic. I also stretch my arms above my head and bend sideways at full stretch—to pull my waistline thin, and do this 25 times—increasing this to 3 times a day and to 30 bends each time. Walk one hour per day or work in the garden. Drink plenty of water; and an 8-oz. glass orange juice during the evening.

Edward Fennell Of Havelock Dies Aged Eighty

HAVELOCK, April 11 (ENS)—The funeral of Edward Fennell, 80, took place today from his home on Kin St. to Havelock United church, where a service was conducted by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh. Burial was in Maple Grove cemtery where a graveside service was conducted by Royal Lodge IOOF.

Mr. Fennell died on Saturday in Peterborough. He had undergone an operation about 10 days ago.

Had Shoe Store

Born in Napanee, Mr. Fennell was a son of the late John Fennell and Alicia McKim. He came to Havelock with his father on March 3, 1895, and opened a retail boot and shoe store which included a shoe repair department in the old Jeff block, destroyed by fire some years ago. The partnership continued until 1901 when his father returned to Napanee. Mr. Fenell then moved the business to the Knox block, where the Bank of Toronto is now situated, and which was destroyed by fire in 1918.

After the fire Mr. Fennell carried on the boot and shoe business adding groceries to his stock in the cement block building now occupied by Sanderson's Hardware.

Changed Business

In 1921 he disposed of the business and opened an insurance office at his home which he operated until 1946 when he sold out to Reeve E. J. Leeson.

Besides being one of the pioneer business men of the village, Mr. Fennell served this community in many other capacities. He has been secretary of the Board of Education, town clerk and treasurer, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, the Belmont Egg Circle, C.P.R. Commercial Telegraph and for several years was the clerk of County of Peterborough.

He has always been deeply interested in the work of the United Church (formerly Methodist). He served on the session, was secretary for many years official board and was also Sunday school teacher and superintendent. He was a member of Royal Lodge IOOF No. 286 and had recently been presented with a 50-year jewel by that organization.

Leaves Widow

Surviving besides his widow are two daughters, Mrs. J. Keefer (Helen) of Toronto and Mrs. Kenneth Kemp (Barbara) of Peterborough; two sons, Vanalstyne Fennell of the registrar's office, Toronto University and Denike Fennell of the Collegiate Institute staff at Timmins and a brother Arthur B. Fennell of Toronto who has recently retired from the position of Registrar of the University of Toronto.

Liquor In Wrong Place

Verral Brown, 196 Cambridge St., was fined $15 kith $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today for having liquor in a place other than his home. Sergeant J. Napies, city police force, said a case of beer had been found in Brown's car Sunday.

Anniversary Program For Centreville Pair

BAILIEBORO, April 11 (ENS)—Celebrating the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Caldwell of Centreville, 250 friends and relatives gathered in the Centreville Sunday School hall. A program was arranged, with Mr. Harry Campbell as chairman. It included solos by Miss Beryl Challice of Garden Hill, readings by Mrs. Roy Whittington and Mrs. Ada Montgomery, pianoforte number by Mrs. Joe Edgerton, vocal duet by Sylvia and Sandra Muspratt, piano duet by Shirley and Phyllis Beeke, a quartette by Mrs. Grace Muspratt, Miss Allie Berry and Messrs. George Berry and Jake Isbister, and vocal duets by Harland Seens and Eldridge White.

Two lounge chairs were presented the celebrating couple married fifty years ago April 5th by Jake Isbister and Harold Tate. Five-year-old Sandra Muspratt presented Mrs. Caldwell with a bouquet of carnations. Earlier in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell received at their home. Guests from Cobourg, Toronto, Millbrook and surrounding district attended.

Broadside Collision

The side of one truck and the front of another were damaged when they had a broadside collision at the entrance to the city yard on Townsend St. today.

Paul J. Russell, RR 4, Peterborough, was driving a truck from the yard onto the road when the front of a truck driven by John Legrow, 174 Lock St. hit the side of his vehicle. Constable Claire McGillen investigated.

No Toronto Triumph For Y Volleyballers

Peterborough YMCA volleyball team placed fourth in the Ontario volleyball championships played at Toronto Central YMCA Saturday afternoon. In all they were defeated in three out of the five games played. The three games lost were lost to the top three teams.

In the first game of the day Peterborough easily defeated the Windsor team, winners of the Western Ontario region. They went on to defeat the Kodaks, winners of Toronto playoffs, in the second game.

The Kitchener team, in the third game, pulled out a close verdict, winning 16 to 14. Peterborough had the game won except for one point. The ball changed hands four times, Peterborough finally erroring twice to lose. In a poorly played game the Young Men's Hebrew Association sunk the chances of a Peterborough championship. In the last game Hamilton, led by two husky Polish DP's, defeated Peterborough.

Kitchener were again senior volleyball champions of Ontario, with Hamilton, the intermediate A champions and YMHA the intermediate B champions. The other teams finished with Peterborough, Windsor and Kodaks in that order. All the teams were winners of either a league or a district.

Al Clark said Monday the results of the games showed how the standard of the teams is improving. He explained that in other years at least some of the teams were pushovers, but this year all the teams were strong.

"Those two Polish DP's were the strength of the Hamilton team," Mr. Clark said.

Thinks Alberta Going Places

ABOARD PRIME MINISTER'S TRAIN, April 11 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent yesterday described Alberta as the "land of tomorrow."

Mr. St. Laurent told a press conference aboard the train carrying him on his first invasion of the west since taking office that Alberta holds the promise of making Canada self-sufficient in oil and coal within five years.

The Prime Minister said that this self-sufficiency could loosen dollars to open up new trade possibilities with the United States.

Mr. St. Laurent devoted considerable attention to old age pensions about which there have been reports of probable boost to $40 a month from the present $30. The government intended to work towards a goal of a contributory system, like that for unemployment insurance.

He admitted that the more satisfactorily a non-contributory system operates, the longer it will take to condition the mentality of the people to press for the shared system. He said that abolition of the means test, such as has been suggested by some sources, would cost the federal treasury $200,000,000 a year and therefore was not immediately practical.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT
1889 1949

In the years following 1889, the cycling craze swept this continent. Men and women, both young and old took to wheels. For the first time, people began to see the country, and a demand arose for better roads. The development of automobile transportation in the present century was made possible by further expansion of our highway system and the use of Nickel alloys for important parts of automobiles. The use of these stronger, tougher alloys greatly reduced breakdowns and made the automobile safe and reliable.

How Nickel Benefits Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

HEROIC TRAM MOTORMAN HALTS DRIVERLESS TAXI

WINS DOW AWARD

S. B. MATHER of Toronto

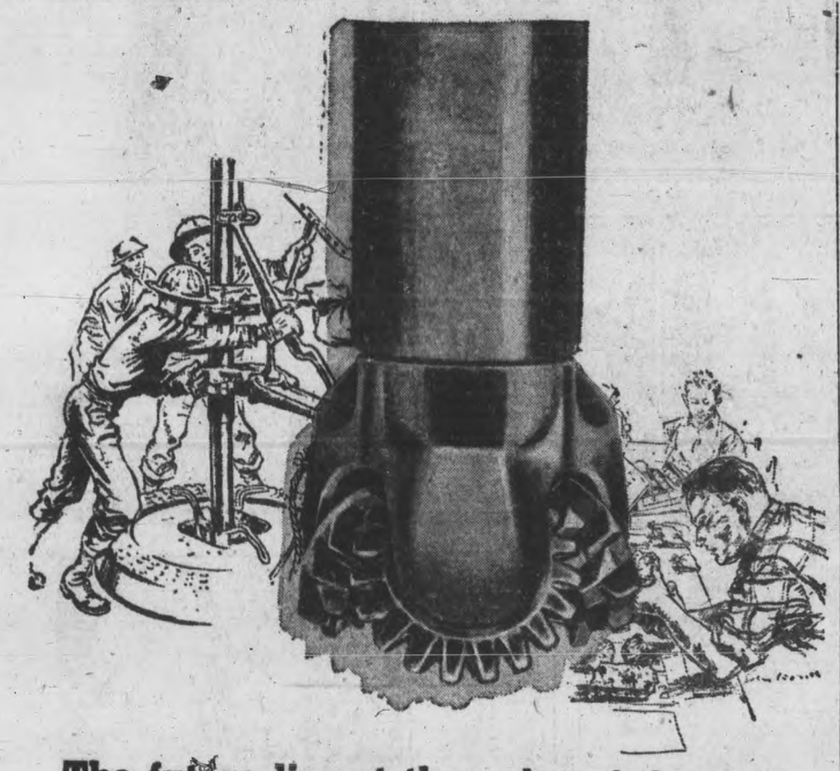
brings runaway cab to stop against parked street car

On duty in his Bay Street tram, S. B. Mather noticed a taxi running wild — with no driver — careening down Avenue Road! Realizing the disaster it could cause, Mather raced his street car until he had passed the taxi. Then, stopping his tram, he rushed out... leaped on the taxi's running board and got the door open. With difficulty he managed to get inside, grab the wheel and bring the cab to a halt.

S. B. Mather has been given The Dow Award.

1. It was about 7 o'clock on a Saturday evening when Mather noticed the driverless cab gaining speed as it rolled down Avenue Rd.

2. Racing his tram until he had passed the taxi, the fast-thinking motorman got out and jumped on the running board.



3. The emergency break wouldn't hold . . . and Mather was forced to bring the cab to a halt against the front door of his parked street car.

The future lies at the point of the drill

The names of Canada's new oil fields have been heard from coast to coast . . . Leduc, Woodbend, Redwater.

They are fields discovered in the greatest search for oil in Canada's history. Already they have brought benefits to all Canadians; and in the west where they are turning back the tide of expensive imports the direct savings are counted in millions.

But before the fullest benefits can reach everyone even more oil must be found.

The successes of the past two years have been possible because there were people willing to go on risking millions in the search in spite of repeated disappointments.

Now, after the barren years that went before, these new fields seem large—and they are large! But they are far from enough to make Canada self-sufficient.

Canada is still dependent on foreign countries for more than 80 per cent of her oil and so her own resources must be developed. Exploration must be continued. More and more wells must be drilled so that markets can be expanded.

There is not yet enough oil to justify the big investments that will be needed if all Canadians are to enjoy the fullest benefits of western resources. Pipe lines, for instance, cost a lot to build; but over the years they provide low-cost transportation—so necessary to reach out to wider markets. The Edmonton-Regina line planned by Imperial is but a beginning.

Further discoveries are the only means of breaking through the distance barriers that hem prairie oil with transportation costs. The future lies at the point of the drill.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

If you're interested in facts . . .

While it is now estimated the known oil in Alberta is roughly equal to our needs for the next five years, actually this oil could not be produced efficiently in less than 20 years.

To meet her present oil requirements it has been estimated Canada needs reserves of several billion barrels.

Imperial's 450-mile pipe line from Edmonton to Regina is expected to be in operation by the end of next year. Cost is estimated at between $35 and $40 million. It is a step towards wider markets.

Bringing you oil is a big job— and a costly one.

Gravel Contract Let In Manvers

BETHANY, April 11—(ENS)—Tenders for crushing gravel were opened at the monthly meeting of the Manvers Council which met last week in Bethany. Cheques are to be signed by the Reeve and Treasurer for the following accounts; Harry Jones, snow removal; S. S. No. 7. S. S. No. 13 and S. S. No. 15, school money; Dr. G. M Longfield, medical services; Daily Commercial News, ad for crushing gravel; township treasurer, road voucher; J C. Cummiskey, salary; T. W. Davidson, cow injured by dogs. and E. Mitchell, relief.

Communications were read from the Department of Public Affairs concerning Relief and outstanding accounts, from the department of Highways with a statement of subsidy on the 1948 road expenditure and from W. A. Sanderson, District Engineer regarding the snow removal.

Next meeting of the council will take place Tuesday, May 3.

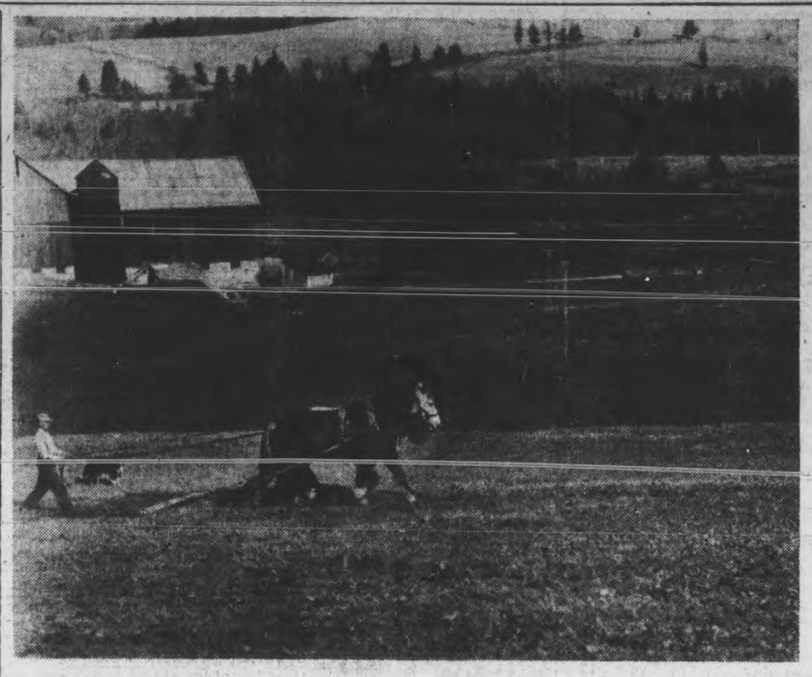
Leslie Frost Candidate For Leader

Fourth Man Planning To Try For Job As Head Of PC Party

TORONTO, April 12 — (CP)—Hon. Leslie Frost, Ontario Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Mines since 1943, today announced he will be a candidate for the Provincial Leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party.

He is the fourth man to announce he will seek leadership at a party convention in Toronto April 25-27. The leadership was left vacant last fall when George Drew resigned to take up the post of National Leader Hon. T. L. Kennedy succeeded Mr. Drew as Leader and Premier on a temporary basis and is giving up both posts immediately after the convention.



Hon. Leslie Blackwell, Attorney-General, was the first to announce himself for the leadership. He did so last fall, before Mr. Drew resigned. Kelso Roberts, former member of the Legislature and Toronto mining lawyer, announced his candidature during the winter. Hon. Dana Porter Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, got into the race with an announcement last Friday when the Legislature prorogued.

Offers Services

The announcement of Mr. Frost's intentions was issued by his office in the temporary absence of the Minister. It said simply that he had decide to offer his services to his party and the province and would be a candadate at the convention.

Mr. Frost, a 53-year-old lawyer, was born at Orillia. He served overseas in the First World War and took up law practice at Lindsay. He first entered the Ontario Legislature as member for Victoria in 1937 and acted as chief financial critic for Opposition until his party won the 1943 election. Then he entered the Cabinet.

Another possible leadership candidate, who may announce his intentions in the next few days, is Hon George Doucett, Minister of Highways. There has been speculation also that R. H. Saunders, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, may be in the race.

Second Strike Paralyzes London, 60 Ships

LONDON, April 12 (CP)—The great port of London today faced almost complete tie-up in the second major dock strike in 10 months. At least 60 ships lay idle in their berths, some with vital food cargoes.

The Dock Labor Board announced that more than 13,000 of London's estimated 20,000 dock workers now are striking. Some union spokesmen claimed as many as 16,000 had walked out.

Most were stevedores, who began their strike yesterday protesting dismissal of 32 men. Their numbers were swelled this morning by thousands of dockers who Monday night voted to strike despite a stay-at-work order from the Transport and General Workers Union, which regards the walkout as unofficial.

Tonight lightermen—men who ply cargo barges in the Thames—will meet to decide whether they will join the strike.

All along London's miles of docks export goods are piling up—automobiles, machinery and textiles. Of the 60 ships made idle many have large quantities of meat, wheat, flour, cheese and coca awaiting discharge. Among them are the Canadian freighters Beaverglen which was discharging wheat and the Beaverford which arrived today with a cargo of wheat.

There now are 82 ships in the port of London. Another 40 are due to arrive this week but will be unable to dock unless the strike ends and the ships now in berth are cleared.

The London Star said that if the stoppage continues authorities are expected to consider sending troops to the docks to shift perishable cargoes as was done in the dock tie-up last June.

Labor Hopes To Win Vote On Second Five-Year Plan

LONDON, April 12—(Reuters).—The Labor Party today staked its electoral hopes for 1950 on a "second round" of nationalization. The announcement of the party program was issued the week after some dramatic Labor reverses in County Council elections all over the country. It proposed plans for the state to take over insurance companies, the sugar manufacturing and refining industry, the cement industry, water supplies and "all suitable minerals."

This program, which must be endorsed by the party's national conference in June, will be put into force if Labor wins next year's general election.

In its first four years in office Labor has nationalized fuel and power and transport and has announced legislation for the nationalization of iron and steel from May 1, 1950.

The party's second five-year plan was made known today in a 30-page manifesto called "Labor Believes in Britain."

Controls over capital investment, distribution of industry, industrial building and foreign exchange will be required as permanent instruments of planning in a thriving national economy, the manifesto said.

In view of the need for state competition to private enterprise "where private enterprise fails to act in the national interest," the manifesto made three proposals:

"Government power to start up new enterprises; continuation of the present power to take over inefficient concerns; and Government readiness to acquire suitable existing concerns where these are willingly offered for sale."

Farmer Barely Escapes Flames

LINDSAY, April 12—(CP) — Archie Fisher, Janetville district farmer, had time enough to save a few cattle and his life when flames suddenly enveloped the barn and burned it to the ground. Fisher had been putting down some straw from the mow and when he came down into the blazing ground floor he was able to save only six calves before the barn burned to the foundation. Neighbors drew water from a nearby creek with the help of the Lindsay fire department pumper and saved the Fisher home. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Death On Parking Lot Brings One Arrest

TORONTO, April 12 (CP) — Walter James Hedger, 46, was found dead Monday night on an east-end parking lot suffering facial injuries, Detectives said he may have been injured in a fight.

Kenneth Blair, 19, was held on a vagrancy charge and police were looking for a second man who might have been with Hedger last night.

Blair told police that Hedger had been struck by a truck. He disappeared after reporting the death to police and was picked up in his rooming house several hours later.

Hedger's clothing was torn and marks in the mud indicated he had been dragged into the lot.

Police said Hedger had been drinking heavily and had lived from place to place in recent months. He was a Second World War veteran and was father of two children.

Wartime House Fire

TORONTO, April 12—(CP) — A flash fire early today roared through a five-room wartime housing unit here destroying most of its furnishings and driving the family of five into the streets in their night clothes. Firemen said the fire, of undetermined origin, caused some $600 damage to the house and about $1,000 damage to its contents.

Canada To Make New Jet Fighter

OTTAWA, April 12 (CP)—Production of a new jet fighter plane may be started in Canada in about 18 months, Defence Minister Claxton said today.

Discussing development of the Dominion's air power at a press conference, Mr. Claxton said he hoped arrangements could be completed within the next few weeks to pave the way for construction of the single-jet F86 in Canada.

Mr. Claxton said there was a possibility the F86 would be fitted with a Canadian-designed engine—the Orenda—now in the test stages at the Toronto plant of A. V. Roe.

The Orenda, plans for which were drawn up to enable it to compete with any jet engine in the world, has been under test for a year in the prototype stage.

German Democrats Reject Republic Plan

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP) —Plans for a new Western German Republic soon may be tossed back into the laps of the "Big Three" Foreign Ministers, who whipped these plans into shape here only last week.

Leaders of the German Social Democratic Party rejected the terms as outlined by State Secretary Acheson, Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Schuman and the Socialists are strong enough to block necessary approval by the German Parliamentary Council at Bonn.

The Social Democratic Party is holding out for a stronger central government than the Allies are willing to grant.

US Opens Pocketbook To Reward Rescuers

Doctors Decide Little Kathy Suffocated After Her Second Fall

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 12 (AP)—The United States is opening its pocketbook to reward the heroes who lost their race with death in their attempt to rescue little Kathy Fiscus.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reports that money is coming in from all parts of the country for the 50 to 60 men who toiled under most hazardous conditions long beyond the normal exhaustion point.

President Earle V. Grocer of the Chamber explained the purpose of the fund is not to pay the men for the long, hazardous hours they donated, but rather to give them financial recognition. The fund address is: The Rescue Fund Committee, c-o Postmaster, Los Angeles.

Meantime, H. E. (Whitey) Blickensderfer, "foreman" of the rescue effort, expressed the feelings of his gangs when he said:

"I'm no hero. It was just a matter of simple humanity."

Dr. Paul Hanson, family physician, said 3½-year-old Kathy might have lived through the 53 hours of rescue work had her knees not been jammed against her chest.

Child Smothers

Dr. Hanson said the jack-knifed position in the 14-inch casing prevented her from breathing except with great difficulty. A preliminary autopsy report blamed suffocation for her death.

Dr. Hanson and Dr. Robert J. McCullock said the child probably died painlessly and likely within an hour and a half after she fell 90 feet into the abandoned well Friday afternoon. They said she was conscious when a rope was dropped to her but she couldn't hold onto it and somehow fell another four feet. Dr. Hanson said he believed it was at that time that her legs became wedged against her chest.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus, urged friends who planned to send flowers to Kathy's funeral tomorrow to send the equivalent amount of money to the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles.

Through such contributions, they explained, "we feel that our little Kathy's untimely death might be the cause of saving some child for a useful life."

Boy Friend Kills Self Out In Barn

Breaks Into House Carrying Rifle In Search Of Girl

LISTOWEL, April 12 — (CP) —A 23-year-old construction worker wounded his girl friend's mother with a rifle shot, then killed himself in a barn early today, police said.

They said Wilfred Parker was aiming at 25-year-old Mrs. Eileen Doig when his rifle shot hit Mrs. James Huston, 49 in the arm.

Parker had taken Mrs. Doig, mother of an eight-year-old daughter, to the movies before the shooting.

Mrs. Huston flung herself across the bodies of her daughter and granddaughter as Parker crept into their house, armed with a .22-calibre rifle. The three women had been sleeping in a large double bed when Parker entered the room.

Parker's body was found in the barn of Stewart Elliott, near this town 30 miles of Stratford. The barn was just 150 feet from the home of James Huston.

Investigates House

Parker crept into the house in his stocking feet, and first entered the room of Mr. Huston, who was weak from a recent illness.

"He turned to me and ordered me to lie down," Mr. Huston said. "He waved the rifle at me, so I closed my room door for half a minute, then reopened it. I watched him go into my wife's room and then I heard a shot. A moment later, he came running past me and leaped down the stairs."

Parker was found shot between the eyes with a single bullet. The rifle was found lying beside the body.

Mrs. Huston received a blood transfusion in hospital here and her condition was reported improving.

Mr. Huston said Mrs. Doig and Parker had stayed outside the house talking Monday night after they returned from the movies, but there was no indication of a quarrel.

"Eileen stopped going out with Parker about a month ago," Mr. Huston said. "She never spoke of him after."

Parker's body was found after a night-long manhunt.

Mr. Elliott said he found Parker, apparently kneeling and leaning against a corner of the barn.

Parker's father said his son, who came here from Milverton two years ago, seemed quite normal" last night. "He came in to supper, and I didn't see him again."

Asks Senate Approve Treaty

WASHINGTON, April 12 — (AP)—President Truman called on the Senate today to approve the North Atlantic Treaty as a means of preventing Russian Communism from smashing the free nations of Western Europe as it has those in the east.

"The people of the North Atlantic community have seen solemn agreements, designed to assure peace and the rights of small nations, broken one by one and the people of those nations deprived of freedom by terror and oppression," Truman said in a message.

"They are resolved that their nations shall not, one by one, suffer the same fate."

Provincial Police Recalled From Paris

PARIS, April 12 (CP)—Provincial Police officers who patrolled textile Mills of Penmans Limited here during a 12-week strike, have been withdrawn. The strike, called by the United Textile Workers of America, ended Saturday.

The special force at times numbering 60 men was busy at times as pickets clashed with non-union workers who entered the plant. A number of arrests were made and strikers faced charges of intimidation, assault and creating public disturbance. Cost of special policing was borne by the Ontario Attorney-General's Department.

FREDA LINTON, wanted since 1946 for alleged espionage activities, appeared in the office of her lawyer in Montreal recently, and 15 minutes later was turned over to RCMP. The Linton woman was the last person wanted in connection with the espionage cases. All the other cases were disposed of.

Abbott Raises Quota 25% For U.S. Cars

OTTAWA, April 12— (CP). — Twin developments indicating a still further improvement in Canada's trading position with the United States were announced on Monday by the government.

Finance Minister Abbott disclosed that Canada's reserves of gold and US dollars climbed from $998,000,000 at December 31 last to $1,067,000,000 at March 31, an increase of $69,000,000.

At the same time, the Trade Department made a partial relaxation in import restrictions against American-made motor vehicles, allowing importers to bring in 25 per cent more automobiles and trucks from the United States, effective immediately.

Mr. Abbott's announcement stirred speculation as to whether the government might not soon grant even further relatations, perhaps increasing he amount of US dollars individual Canadians now are allowed—$150 a year—for pleasure travel across the border.

The Finance Minister said that at $1,067,000,000 the country's gold-dollar holdings were $459,000,000 better than they were at March 31 last year when they totalled $608,000,000. They had dropped below the $500,000,000 mark when the dollar-conserving import restrictions were applied in November, 1947.

Hard Currencies Up

From $998,000,000 at December 31, the stock of "hard" currencies went to $1,022,000,000 at January 31 and $1,044,000,000 at February 28, touching the new high mark of $1,067,000,000 at the end of last month.

U.S.-Canada Establishing Joint Committee For Industrial Mobilization

Group's Responsibility To Co-ordinate Plans In Event Of Emergency, Will Work With Permanent Defence Board

WASHINGTON, April 12—(AP).—The United States and Canada today established a joint committee to co-ordinate their plans for industrial mobilization in the event of an emergency. The State Department made public an exchange of notes between Laurence A. Steinhardt, American Ambassador in Ottawa, and External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada, creating the joint United States-Canada industrial mobilization committee.

United States members of the board are Dr. John R. Steelman, acting chairman of the National Security Resources Board, and Donald F. Carpenter, chairman of the Munitions Board. Canadian members are Harry J. Carmichael, chairman of the Industrial Defence Board, and S. D. Pierce, Associate Deputy Minister of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

The committee will have the function of exchanging information "with a view to the co-ordination" of industrial mobilization plans, and making recommendations regarding such plans. It also will be responsible for co-operation with the existing permanent joint board on defence in industrial mobilization matters.

U.S. Deal Eases Nail Shortage

OTTAWA, April 12 — (CP) — Steel Confroller D. A. Jones said Monday night an extra 138,000 kegs of nails will be made available to the Canadian building trade this year through negotiations just completed with the United States government.

The extra kegs, expected to be made available beginning in May, will boost the annual nail production in Canada by about eight per cent.

Even though Canada has been running at its peak annual steel production—producing about 3,200,000 ingot tons a year—she still could not produce sufficient nails and other steel products to meet the country's demand.

Canada's nail production in 1948 amounted to about 1,700,000 kegs.

The extra steel supply will be over and above the steel quota the Dominion gets from the U.S. It will come in the form of nail wire and rod which will be turned over to Canadian steel producers who will turn the steel into nails.

Jury Acquits Betty Ritchie In Coat Theft

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 12 (AP)—A jury took 58 minutes Monday to acquit 24-year-old Betty Ritchie of charges of accepting stolen property from Gerard Dennis, international society burglar.

The former Toronto schoolteacher was charged with accepting a $3,500 mink coat, knowing it was stolen.

Prosecutor Mervyn Aggeler said Miss Ritchie had lived with Dennis long enough as his common-law wife to know his character.

Her lawyer, Robert A. Schwamb told the jury his client had suffered enough and she should be permitted to return to her native Canada to take up the threads of her life.

Miss Ritchie was arrested in Dennis' apartment in Beverly Hills shortly after Dennis, a native of St. Catharines, was arrested in Cleveland, on charges of committing many gem burglaries in the homes of wealthy New Yorkers.

Her lawyer said she would be surrendered to U.S. immigration authorities and voluntarily return to her home at Fenelon Falls.

Son Of Rich Parents Freed For $33,000

LOS ANGELES, April 12 (AP) —The Examiner said today that the son of a wealthy Beverly Hills family was kidnapped and returned yesterday after payment of $33,000 ransom.

However, Capt. W. W. White, chief of Beverly Hills detectives, said police had no knowledge of the deed.

The Examiner identified the boy as Joey Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goodman.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation made no comment.

Arrest 127 Union Seamen In Strike Incidents At Many World Ports

S U Member From Montreal Faces Charge Of Attempted Murder Following Friday's Riot On Halifax Dock

By The Canadian Press

From Capetown to Montreal new threats of violence rumbled today in the Canadian seamen's strike even as the Trades and Labor Congress called in Ottawa for a judicial inquiry into a bloody clash in Halifax last week. So far, some 127 members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) and the rival Seafarers' International Union (AFL) have been arrested in connection with incidents arising from the CSU strike called March 31.

Canadian ships in Vancouver, Montreal, Saint John and Halifax have been tied up by the work-stoppage and Dominion shipping also is idle in such foreign ports as Liverpool, Capetown, Brisbane, Georgetown, British Guiana and Rouen, France.

Percy Bengough, president of the TLC, said in a statement released in Ottawa yesterday:

"The wounding of striking seamen on the docks at Halifax by trigger - happy strikebreakers from Montreal must be roundly condemned."

He referred to a clash last Friday when members of the anti-Communist SIU took over three Canadian National steamships vessels from the alleged Communist-led CSU. Shots from riot guns were said to have been fired during the brawl and a number of CSU men were injured.

Fight Injunction

Across Canada, here was the picture in the union tug-of-war today:

In Vancouver, CSU crew members of the SS Seaside have accepted writs ordering them off the freighter. James Thompson, CSU western vice-president, said union lawyers would go to the courts today to attempt to have the Supreme Court injunction against the strike set aside.

In Montreal, CSU crew members of the freighter Mont Alta continued their sit-in strike.

In Halifax, Harry Pilgrim of Montreal, an SIU member, was charged with attempted murder following last Friday's riot. John Baldwin of Vancouver, a CSU member, was charged with assault.

An SIU official charged that three seamen off the United States freighter Alcoa Partner were "assaulted by men who identified themselves as CSU members."

The CSU had charged earlier that one of its members had been "knifed" by SIU men.

Won't Obey Orders

Elsewhere in the world:

In Georgetown, British Guiana, 28 members of the CSU have been charged with refusing to obey orders of their captains. A similar number of CSU men have been arrested on similar charges in Liverpool, England.

In Brisbane 30 more CSU members have been arrested for refusing to obey captain's orders.

In Rouen, France, it was reported that a naval court may be set up to end the dispute which has tied up the freighters Westminster County and Sun Valley. The CSU-manned ships are still tied up by the sit-in strike of crew members and by the refusal of French dockers to load cargo.

In New York, 400 pickets representing the SIU and the Sailors' Union of the Pacific (AFL) charged the Marine Cooks and Stewards' Union (CIO) with being Communist-dominated. The Cook and Stewards' Union has announced its support of the CSU.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Peterborough farmers are poised for another season's work. Monday's sun and its warmth was kindling agricultural plans into action. Rollers levelled meadows loosened by the winter's frost and spring's thaw. Little puffs of dust rose in their wake down fields that are soon to be prepared for spring grain seed beds.

Cultivation was under way, some farmers were sowing seed. Grass was greening, lambs were full of play, and the landscape beyond the borders of the city had unfolded "the glory and the freshness of a dream." Woodchucks were drowsing in the sun, meadow larks were piping their liquid notes from fence posts and top rails, and the song sparrow was lilting his lyric sweetness that seems the joyful essence of spring.

To farmers it was a familiar and cheering scene with all the appearance of assurance in the bright sunshine and security, in their investment of work and capital and estate. But, above their designs for the new harvest year is the uncertainty of the seasons before the grain is ripe and of the markets and the prices that should bring reward for their work if the industry is to sustain itself as it merits in its service of providing food for the nation.—H.T.

In its announcement, the Trade Department said the relaxation will apply only to cars and trucks wholly produced in the US. It means a 25 per cent increase in shipments from such motor car manufacturers as Hudson, Packard, Nash, Kaiser-Frazer and Willys-Overland.

The import quotas had allowed importers to bring into Canada motor vehicles to the value of $2,30 for every 10 vehicles they had imported in the basic period ended October 13, 1947. That had meant a cut to between 10 and 15 per cent in imports.

There is no change in automobile parts. Canadian manufacturers still are limited to 75 per cent of what they normally imported in American-made parts, but the gap has largely been made up by increases in domestic prodution.

Swede Generals Oppose Neutrality Plan

STOCKHOLM, April 12—(AP)—Swedish generals have joined a loud civilian opposition to the government's policy of neutrality.

But the government remains firmly of the opinion that Sweden should remain outside the North Atlantic Alliance at present, even though she is the only free democracy in Northern Europe in that role.

Sweden's highest military leaders, including Gen. Helge Jung, commander-in-chief of the armed forces, and Gen. Nils Swedlund, chief of the defence staff, do not argue for Sweden's outright incorporation into the North Atlantic Pact.

They plead instead for military co-operation with the West even though Sweden remains outside the pact.

In brief, the generals believe: Sweden is capable of fighting a single-handed delaying action for a long time if Russia attacks. But she could not escape Russian occupation without military aid from western powers. In order for such aid to be swift and efficient it must be prepared beforehand. Sweden should co-operate militarily with Norway and Denmark even though they have joined the Atlantic Pact.

Swedish government leaders say such preparations in peacetime whatever the military advantages, would mean the deliberate scrapping of Sweden's traditional policy of neutrality as between the big powers.

The government still hopes this policy offers at least a slim chance of escaping war in event of another conflict.

Bradley Hints 1950 Election

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., April 12 (CP)—State Secretary Bradley hinted here Monday there will be no Canadian election this year.

However, his remarks drew no confirmation from other government sources.

The minister told an interviewer that a "by-election must be held in Newfoundland in the next three or four months if the province is to be represented at next January's session of parliament."

Although there has been considerable speculation that a federal election would be held this year, there has been no mention of a January session which would postpone a nation-wide contest until later in 1950.

Stock Prices Continue Slump In Toronto

TORONTO, April 12—(CP)—Trading was practically at a standstill as prices continued slipping into lower ground on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. A few industrials were fractionally easier and junior gold producers showed losses ranging up to five cents. Base metals were mixed and western oils held steady.

Volume for the first three hours was 311,000 shares, about 6,000 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

Changes were held to fractions in the few industrials trading as activity continued at the slow pace prevalent seven months ago. A few papers also weakened.

Kerr Addison and Lake Shore improved the minimum fraction in senior golds while a handful of junior producers weakened.

Consolidated Smelters recovered an early loss in base metals, gaining ¾ at 97.

175 Men, Radio Stations Will Be Added To Ont. Provincial Police

Will Extend Service To Northern Ontario To Aid Crime Prevention; Total Strength Will Reach 1,142 Men

TORONTO, April 12 (CP).—The Ontario Provincial Police radio system will be extended to Northern Ontario, Attorney-General Blackwell said Monday night. First step in expanding the police radio communication, which now reaches only as far north as Burk's Falls, will be to establish a network in the North Bay and Temagami-Haileybury - New Liskeard areas, Mr. Blackwell said in a 15-minute broadcast.

"It is proposed to establish 250-watt stations at Haileybury and North Bay, with 300-foot towers and a 60-watt station at Temagami, and to equip the police cars patrolling this area—now numbering some 15 cars — with radio and as well to establish a Provincial Police radio-equipped cruiser on Lake Temagami."

Mr. Blackwell said 11 principal stations cover Southern Ontario.

"There were knowledge of the effectiveness of the Provincial Police radio communication system in crime detection actually operates for crime prevention," the Attorney-General said.

Mr. Blackwell said 175 men will be added to the Provincial Police force this year to improve highway traffic control and to strengthen certain detachments engaged in general law enforcement. This will bring the total strength to 1,142, compared with 467 at the end of 1943.

One of the main reasons for the increase in personnel was assumption by the provincials of policing duties in small municipalities which lack funds to maintain a qualified municipal force, Mr. Blackwell said.

Russians Blast Peace Guards

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 12 (CP) — Secretary-General Trygve Lie was reported ready today to fight back at Russia's blast against his plan for an 800-man force to guard United Nations peace missions over the world.

The Soviet attack on Lie's guard proposal developed yesterday in the assembly's 58-member political committee No. 2 at Lake Success. Both Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik and Polish delegate Juliusz Katzsuchy charged the Lie proposal violates the U. N. Charter.

Malik went farther and described the plan as a scheme to by-pass the Security Council and give the United States and Britain a chance for military and political interference in the affairs of other countries.

The committee voted yesterday to set up a special body to study Lie's proposal and report back to the assembly next fall.

A U. N. spokesman recalled that this was not the first time Lie had been under fire from the big powers.

Kinsmen Hear Rev. J. Maloney

CAMPBELLFORD, April 12 (ENS) — Rev. J. C. Moloney, parish priest of St. Mary's Church, chose for his subject "What Christianity has done for the world" at the supper meeting of the Kinsmen Club in the Woodlawn on Monday. "The pessimist exclaims," he said, "that Christianity has failed while others declare that it has never been tried.

"The sculptor," he stated, "who works in marble or the artist who paints on canvas can almost reach perfection because they are working with predictable materials but Christianity that deals with men cannot hope to reach the same degree of perfection because men are unpredictable."

He declared that there was no divine revelation before Christ Man had come to the irrational conclusion that there were very many gods with superhuman powers and men's failings Some Greek philosophers with unaided reason had taught that there was but one God but the age was not ready to accept their teachings.

The early pagans, he said, believed in gods that loved to torture and plague men. Father Moloney said that Tennyson in the "Lotus Eaters" had given a clear picture of pagan religion. He quoted how Ulysses from Troy had come to an island and his "followers partook of lotus like the gods together, careless of mankind."

The incarnation had changed everything, he said. God the Father had become man and the gods of fear had become the one God of love. The Sermon on the Moun had given the people a new law. It was no longer an eye for an eye but love ye one another.

Plato wrote many beautiful things about children, he continued, but they were never put into practice. In pagan days, he said, children did not belong to their parents but were assets of the state. When they ceased to be assets they were discarded. Christianity has improved the status of children by giving them their rightful place in society. He referred to the heroic efforts of Christian people to save the life of little Kathy Fiscus.

"The work of service clubs is Christianity in action," Father Moloney said, "but the work must be more than purely humanitarian. It must be supernatural. When we supply food and clothing to our neighbors we must see in them the image of God. If we supernaturalize our motives our work is not wasted effort."

Forrest Dennis introduced the speaker and Paul O'Sullivan moved the vote of thanks. President Dr. F. B. Brintnell of Warkworth, was in the chair.

Paper was invented in China by Tsai Lun in 105 A.D.

Hircock, Cobourg assessor and tax collector, where they were addresed by Max Sloan of Peterborough, supervisor from the Dept. of Municipal Affairs. Mr. Sloan outlined the new assessment procedure.

The Hon. George Dunbar visited the meeting and pointed out that re-assessments of municipalities would provide an equitable and balanced assessment, which was desired on a province-wide basis. It was also Mr. Dunbar's 71st birthday and the 40 assessors present, tendered him birthday greetings via the "Happy Birthday" song.

Mr. Fraser And The Film Board

Mr. Gordon K. Fraser, the parliamentary representative for this district, said in the Commons last week that he considered the film which the National Film Board made of the opening of Parliament "a disgrace". When the Hon. Douglas Abbott disagreed with him, Mr. Fraser said that Mr. Abbott's face must have been the only thing in focus in the film.Mr. Fraser has been a sharp and persistent critic of the Film Board for several years. The Examiner admires the work of the Film Board, with a few exceptions, and thinks that it is doing an important job inside and outside Canada.

* * *

In this particular case we cannot understand what Mr. Fraser is complaining about. We have seen the film of the opening of Parliament, and we think that it is exceptionally good. We did not see anything that was out of focus; indeed, considering the fact that the film had to be taken without special lighting, we thought it wonderfully clear; neither the Commons nor the Senate is brightly lit, and in this film there are some remarkably clear shots, taken from considerable distance, of the Governor-General and Lady Alexander, of the Speakers, of House officials and of parliamentary personalities. Mr. Fraser is himself an amateur photographer of no mean attainment, and we are surprised that he was able to withhold his admiration from this film.

* * *

The handling of the subject — the ceremonies attending the opening of Parliament—seems to us to be admirable. The arrival of the Alexanders, the processions to the Speakers' chambers and to the Senate, the opening prayers of the Commons, the Speech from the Throne—all of these deeply interesting things, which not one Canadian in a thousand ever has a chance to see, are shown in this film, and its effect upon us was to increase our respect for the Canadian system of government and the British system from which it is derived. We hope that this film will be given the widest possible exhibition in schools (it is the perfect Empire Day film) to adult groups, and to new Canadians; and we hope also that it can be shown widely in the U.S.A. and in other neighbour countries, for it shows a combination of ceremonial with sincerity and dignity which reflects the greatest credit on our country.

* * *

We admire Mr. Fraser's many good qualities, and we think that he does a good job for Peterborough at Ottawa, but we disagree strongly with his estimate of the Film Board, and in the matter of this particular film we think that he is completely wrong.

* * *

The Film Board serves this district—Mr. Fraser's own constituency — extremely well; hundreds of showings every year are given in this city and in the rural area around it, and they command large audiences. This work is carried on by Mr. Ronald Ward, and we don't think that any government agency has a harder-working or more obliging local representative. Mr. Fraser may not like what the Film Board does, but his constituents disagree with him.

End Of The First Year Of E.R.P.

The European Recovery Program has entered its second year. The first of its four years has been as successful as General Marshall and other sponsors hoped when the original American proposal of this program of "enlightened self-interest" was made. Its very success in the one year which ended March 31st is leading Congressmen to believe that they can cut the E.R.P. estimates approved by the Administration, for the next fifteen months. They total $5,580,000,000.

Mr. Paul Hoffman, Economic Cooperation Administrator, who is charged with the American supervision of E.R.P. spending, has said that it is the biggest bargain the American people have ever got, and warns that "The real proving period lies ahead... We can now say with assurance that Europe is through the first phase of its economic recovery. In the months ahead Europe must tackle the more difficult problem of making major readjustments which break away from its traditional...ways of paying its way in the world". E.R.P. cannot continue to fulfil its purpose if after one successful year its scope is limited, its moneys inadequate.

The Program has been directly an economic success: indirectly a major political one. Without the backing of these American dollars the North American world might not have had Italy lined up on its side, nor would Benelux or the Brussels Pact have been effective. Would there have been any North Atlantic Treaty had there been no E.R.P?

The cost to the American taxpayers is heavy. The next fifteen months' 5½ billion dollars is no small sum — though in direct recompense there is a resulting support to American production and trade. In addition to the $5,580,000,000, Congress is being asked to provide 1.5 billion dollars for aid to China, 1.8 billion dollars to help rearm the Western powers, and an unknown sum to support President Truman's "bold new program" for the world's underdeveloped areas. If the Americans fear that new taxes will be facing them, they can take a consoling look at the new British budget. It has no new ones; there is no room for them in the heaviest-taxed country in the western hemisphere.

One observation should be made. Never before in the history of civilization has a victorious nation not only taken nothing for itself out of the victory but given largely of its money and substance to support allies and vanquished alike after the war has been won. This the U.S.A. is doing. It may be enlightened self-interest. It is also generosity in the grand manner.

The Lights Of London

On April 2 the lights of London were turned full on for the first time since the autumn of 1939. During the war the city suffered the nuisance of a necessary blackout, when not a gleam was shown anywhere after dark, and pedestrians groped their way through the streets with flashlights, swathed in three layers of tissue paper. After the war only a few necessary lights were permitted, because the coal which would have created the electric power was needed for other purposes. But now the lights are on again — street lamps, the lights of theatres and shops, electric signs—everything.

A lighted city is always a gay sight. To come into the harbour of New York in winter dusk, when the skyscrapers are alight, is like entering an enchanted city. The lights of Paris are the gayest, most dancing lights, perhaps, in the world. We have even heard an artist say that the Canadian city of Hamilton, viewed from the Mountain by night, made a half-hearted stab at beauty. But about the lights of London there is something special; perhaps the smoky, foggy quality of London air gives them that comforting, promising, festive yellow glow. This special quality was recognized by the playwright George Sims, who named his most famous melodrama The Lights of London, and touched the hearts of a generation with a scene in which two wayfarers see those lights from afar, and recognize their promise and their beauty.

The lights are on in London again. Let us hope that they are a good omen for a world in which light of all sorts has been dim for ten weary years.

Hamlet Hurts Hollywood

There is always something funny about a bad loser. Hollywood's response to the news that the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has awarded the prize for the best picture of 1948 to the British film Hamlet is much funnier than any of the films that Hollywood made in the same year. The roars of anguish and wounded pride have been so violent that Jean Hersholt, the president of the Academy, has resigned; it is hinted that the Academy may go out of existence. And the strangest thing of all is that nobody connected with the Academy will admit to having voted for Hamlet.

Yet a majority of those entitled to vote must have done so. It is suggested in Hollywood that a group of soreheads — underlings who wanted to revenge themselves on their bosses—must have done so. For of course it is quite inconceivable (in Hollywood) that a film made outside California could be better than one made in the hub of the film trade.

It is too bad that this blow should have fallen upon Hollywood at a time when movie business is bad. Of course, movie business has not been bad because movies have been sillier than usual—perish such a disloyal thought! But it does seem a shame that Hollywood's supremacy should be questioned at this time. Probably Communists are at the bottom of it.

The Pre-Raphaelites In British Art

By ERIC NEWTON
Art Critic of the London Sunday Times

A HUNDRED years ago a small group of Britons in their twenties decided to call themselves the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood. Not all of them were geniuses: not all of them were even artists. And, in spite of many discussions in each other's houses, they never managed to formulate a definite creed. Yet they were held together for a brief period by a common enthusiasm and a common set of dissatisfactions with the kind of art that was most admired by their contemporaries. But, what was more important than their immediate achievement was impetus they imparted to their friends and admirers. Long after the Brotherhood had officially disintegrated, the spirit of Pre-Raphaelitism cropped up in unexpected places and in unexpected forms. The publications of the Kelmscott Press and the early pen and ink drawings of Aubrey Beardsley in the nineties were Pre-Raphaelite by inspiration. They would never have happened if Millais, Holman Hunt and Rossetti had not met and talked and encouraged each other to paint in 1848.

✧ ✧ ✧

IF the spirit behind the movement is complex and elusive, its factual history is simple. Its leaders were John Everett Millais, the brilliant young pupil at the Academy Schools, William Holman Hunt, his elder by 12 months, more patient and sustained in his enthusiasm and Dante Gabriel Rossetti, a poet by nature, son of a fiery political emigre from Italy. To these were added four more, Rossetti's brother William Michael, destined to become the historian of the group, Woolner the sculptor, James Collinson and Frederick Stephens.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE phrase "Pre-Raphaelite" was no more than an indication of their feeling that Raphael, with his insistence on grace and suavity had somehow robbed art of its earlier force and sincerity. To get back to Nature, but especially to the detailed clarity of Nature was their aim, but not their only aim. To be meticulous though not slavish was their method. But beyond that their pictures must be vivid, sincere and imaginative in the sense that they must be passionate reconstructions and not sentimentalised indealisations of the chosen theme. The theme itself must be a worthy one, free from all taint of triviality. And a natural love of bright colour and enamel-like paint gave them a genuine sympathy with mediaevel art, and occasionally led them into a kind of Gothic archaism, a deliberate quaintness of form or gesture.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT was in this spirit that the leaders of the Brotherhood painted their first pictures and sent them to the Academy of 1849, where they were hardly noticed. Three more pictures from the trio followed in the Academy of 1850. They were among the best pro-Raphaelites ever painted — Rossetti's "Annunciation", Millais' "Christ in the Carpenter's Shop", violently attacked by Dickens, and Hunt's "Christian Priests escaping from Druids". Dickens' attack was followed by Ruskin's defence, and the young artists found themselves in the position of front-line troops unexpectedly bombarded and sustained by heavy artillery.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOUR years later the Brotherhood was, technically, at an end, though its influence was only beginning. The three protagonists whom a single enthusiasm had hitherto given a single style, began to assert their own individualities. Millais painted a handful of brilliantly sincere and moving pictures and then gradually slipped into an easier, more popular style which eventually brought him a vast income and the Presidency of the Royal Academy. Holman Hunt doggedly refused to abandon the meticulous inch-by-inch manner of painting with which he had begun, but as the years passed, he lost the eagerness and freshness of his youth. Rossetti, who had none of the determined patience of the other two, developed into a watercolourist of extraordinary power, a colourist of strange intensity. In his early watercolours his romanticism found its fullest expression. Subjects from Dante provided him with outward inspiration; but behind this mediaeval facade, the inward inspiration came from his wife, Elizabeth Sidall, who died in 1862 and left him, a haunted romantic, divided between poetry and paintings. As he grew older his painting became more and more nostalgic. Feminine mystery and beauty were almost his only theme.

✧ ✧ ✧

MEANWHILE the earlier paintings of the Brotherhood with their hard, bright detail and their curious emotional intensity had fascinated a few young painters who had never been members of the Brotherhood but who found in it a temporary inspiration and who, under its influence produced a few memorable pictures of which Arthur Hughes's "April Love" is an outstanding example. And an older artist, Ford Madox Brown, fell under the Pre-Raphaelite spell and painted a few masterpieces which are among the most vital and enduring pictures the Movement produced. Among them are a crowded canvas called "Work"—a symposium in paint, of human activity, manual and intellectual, and the great series of frescoes in the Manchester Town Hall.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT was, however, Rossetti, the poet and dreamer, whose influence lasted longest and who stimulated what might be called the second generation of Pre-Raphaelites, the leaders of which were William Morris and Edward Morris and Edward Burne-Jones. Burne-Jones was, in essence, a weaker version of Rossetti himself, and during a long life he painted romantic pictures based on a world of legend and mediaevalism. What Dante was to Rossetti, Malory was to Burne-Jones and the Arthurian legends provided him with plenty of subject matter. As he grew older, the purely decorative side of his art asserted itself more and more. At the end of his life his pictures had lost all the fire and intensity of the early years of the Brotherhood.

✧ ✧ ✧

The Five Little Bears

(DAN McCOWAN IN THE CALGARY HERALD)

FROM a Canadian Press item one learns: "Five black bear cubs were found beside the body of their dead mother in a cave near Coalspur, Alberta." Two weeks later a picture of three of the surviving cubs, then being bottle fed in the Calgary Zoo, appeared on the front page of The Calgary Herald. The caption under the picture made mention of the fact that five cubs at a birth is unusual.

The advent of the Coalspur quintuplets is not only an unusual event; so far as my knowledge goes it is unique in the annals of natural history. While twins and triplets are common in black bear families and there is record of a grizzly bear in San Francisco Zoo having had four cubs at a birth, this Alberta litter of bears is, in all probability, without parallel.

Black bears do not actually hibernate—not in the true sense of the term. They lie dormant and sleep intermittently as do the tree squirrels. The usual winter dormitory is in a rock cave, under shelter of an upturned tree root or beneath a pile of brush. Prior to retiring in late autumn, pregnant females may possibly upholster the den with grass and moss, but otherwise little attention is paid to creature comfort. The forthcoming snowfall provides quilt and blanket to the drowsy animals. The period of gestation is seven months, and most cubs in Alberta have birthdays in January or February.

YET, somehow, the mother contrives to protect them from the rigors of a Canadian winter and succeeds in providing them with nourishment sufficient for their needs. Adult bears, of course, depend upon reserves of the body fat to tide them over the annual period of food scarcity, but one is at a loss to shed light on the subtle process whereby a large portion of fat in a she-bear is converted into milk for her hungry offspring.

After a period of about eight or ten weeks in strict seclusion, the growing and thriving cubs, now well-clad and wide-eyed are permitted to come out for an airing and to become acquainted with the genial sun. They remain in company with the mother during the summer and autumn of their first year and, denning up with her through the following winter, are henceforth entirely independent. Members of the tribe are not at all sociable. In fact, it is doubtful if even two adult bears have been found sharing one den during the season of frost and snow.

From the behaviour of captive black bears and from the circumstance that the cubs are in the yearling class when the time comes to bid mother goodbye, it is presumed that, in the wild state, individual females breed only in alternate years. Mature on reaching their fourth year, or thereabouts, they may continue to add to the bear population until well over 15 years of age. The average life span may be reckoned at between 20 and 25 years. A bear of this species was imprisoned in the former Banff Zoo for a quarter of a century, and another unfortunate member of the clan, caged in the Philadelphia Zoo, served a life sentence of no fewer than 34 years.

An interesting and authentic record of black bear progeny is that in which a pair of these animals in captivity in Akron, Ohio, produced 21 cubs in 12 years. Only in two years during that period—years in which cubs were permitted to remain in company with the mother—did they fail to breed.

That the mothers of black bear cubs are devoted to their young is evident to all familiar with the dusky-coated animals. It is doubtful if in any quadruped on this earth the maternal instinct is more highly developed than in the black bear, and more ardent than in the grizzly bear of the Canadian Rockies.

And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him. And very early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre? And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted. And he saith unto him, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you. (Mark 16: 1-7.)

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Eight teams are in the Felt Cup puck tourney over in Lindsay the first three nights of this week. Finals on Wednesday. This is quite a noted district tourney with the trophy being fought for during the past 37 years. Two Port Hope teams went last night in one game with Hank Goldup's West York Meteors playing 'Caygeon—Ross Nicholls of Legion being slated for goal. Tonight, it's Club 72 (of Peterborough juniors) going against Lindsay Mustangs, and the Petes playing Toronto Meteors. Latter are said to be bolstered while the Petes were banking on some added material like Freddy Mortimer, Red Sullivan, Arn Dugan and Jake Wade.

As a windup to the winning of shirts for Legion home games, Isadore Black advises that the three stars at Friday's fray were: Bob Parnell, Bob Greenlaw and Ned Vitarelli. And the trio Saturday were: Bob Greenlaw again, Johnny Godfrey and Ross Nicholls. Nice going. The Legion are drilling away this week and getting set for their third OHA senior "B" final fixture in Sarnia on Good Friday. They hope to be home Saturday with the title. The Sarnia sheet describes them as being a fast-skating and close-checking crew which earned the first victory, but also claimed the Sailors were below form and bothered by a small ice surface. Well, we'll see.

"Refused To Lie Down"

The Grimsby weekly didn't have so much to say last week after Legion took their Peach Kings in two straight. Their scribe said: "With speed to burn, the Petes are a great bunch of team players, superbly coached and, when they broke away, they went up the ice three strong. The loss in our books is registered as an upset, but then that is hockey, and no matter how many words are minced, the Peterborough team definitely earned their way into the Ontario finals. A fighting bunch of Legionnaires from the liftlock city refused to lie down and be good fellows, and so walked out of Grimsby with a 5-3 win over a series-weary Peach King team." And they'll do likewise in Sarnia, chum.

With the OBA convention over, baseball rumors will continue to roll around for quite a spell. 'Tis thought the CNR Diesels of Belleville will join the COBL now, which would bring in Napanee, too. Ernie Gibbard, former vice-prexy of the OBA, was here for the convention and 'twas nice to see him again. Kingston will have a club, as will Batawa and the Petes. Word out of Oshawa is that the Merchants are completely re-organized and should field a strong senior squad this season. Al Tyson is manager with Doug Sutton dropping back to the role of a player. An early workout promised. Yes, they'll be in there with a strong club this campaign.

PCVS One Point Down

Montreal's YMHA juvenile cagers clash again at eight tonight in the Collegiate with the PCVS boys to settle the Canadian championship. YMHA hooped one with two seconds to go last eve to grab the opener 55-54—yes, sir, just one point up in the sizzling series. A honey of a game to view as both teams turned it on all the way. YMHA-ers had a slim lead all through the first half, then the PCIers got hitting the strings to hold a slight margin and it looked like they were in by a few points till that late drive by he visitors. Lake led their attack while Don Griffin topped Bev Goulding's team with 19 points. The fans whooped it up throughout, and it sure was a nifty number. Anybody's series yet. Local B'nai B'rith chaps entertained both clubs at dinner today in the Empress.

Crown Taken By Artists In YM League

Artists won the championship of the YMCA Men's Five-Pin League by a scant 2 points over the Quakers. Going into the final game these two teams were tied for the championship. After one of the most sensational drives since this league was organized the Quakers dropped their final game to Commercials and with it chance to tie or win the league. They had won 23 straight games in their quest for the title.

Half-way through the schedule the Artists looked like a cinch to take the title, so far were they out in front. But the Quakers put on a rally that just failed by one game to land them in top spot.

Artists, who had piled up such a commanding lead early in the schedule faded badly toward the end as the Quakers whittled down their lead. They lost 4-2 last night to Jay Bees. Quakers took a 4-2 win over Commercials just dropping the last game by 24 pins.

In the other contests CPC defeated Tip Tops 4-2 and B'nai B'rith blanked the Aberdeens 6-0.

Jay Bees had high triple of 3305 and high single of 1263.

Tom Curvin topped the individual efforts with a smashing 821. Pat Blodgett was next in line with a hefty 809, Fred Willison 798, Bob Miller 749, Zimmel Levine 725, Aaron Black 718 and Ray Bennett 714.

Willison walked off with single honors with a corking 366 score, followed by Miller with 352, Blodget 326, Curvin 322 and Mike Doris 302.

Eddie Dixon won the high three for the season with a 900 count. He also took down single honors with 375.

Montreal One Point Up On PCVS In The Finals

Nosing out PCVS basketball team by 55 to 54 Monday night in the Collegiate gym, the Montreal YMHA Juveniles took a one-point lead in the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association juvenile championship series. The second game of the points-to-count series will be played Tuesday night.

With two seconds to go the Montrealers went one up on a basket by Lake which made the 400 fans groan. All through the game there were tense moments with only a point margin separating the teams. This tended to make the game rough and fast.

Don Griffin, star of the PCVS squad, shone with his offensive play, getting 19 points to lead the scorers. Lake for Montreal followed close behind sinking the ball for 18 points. He also starred with his brilliant backchecking. Northcott and Grafstein backchecked well for the PCI'ers. Late in the third quarter two stars, Grafstein for PCVS and Fox, were sent from the game for having five fouls against them.

Got the First

Merlin on a passing play with Rotstein sank the first ball of the game. Grafstein hooked a rebound to start a play up the floor. Thompson was fouled by Merling. He made one of his two free throws. Griffin sent PCVS ahead with a long shot. Sherman put Montreal one up on the return play. Blocked by Sherman, Dinsdale dropped a free throw to tie the score. Two baskets by Rotstein and a return by Thompson sent Montreal up 8 to 6. Merling fouled by Grafstein made it 9 to 6. Sokoloff and Rostein got baskets to make the first quarter score 13 to 6.

On the first play of the second quarter Caplan backhanded a basket from under the hoop. Grafstein retaliated with a long shot. Merling made one point when he was fouled by Northcott. Merling got two free throws when Griffin slashed him. Points by Northcott, Grafstein, Griffin and Thompson brought the score up to 18 to 16. Lake sank three baskets to keep the Montreal score up. Play became rough with fouls being given to both sides. When the quarter ended the YMHA boys were only one point up on the PCVS team, 27 to 26.

Pulled Up

Montreal started the scoring in the last half when Lake got one of his long shots. Northcott charged Sokoloff who failed to make the free throw. Dinsdale had a one-hander to make it 29 to 28. Northcott on a pass from Thompson put Peterborough up for the first time in the game. Thompson caught a rebound which he sank. Merling got a return basket which was followed by a free throw made good by Grafstein. Fox was tripped by Thompson and made his throw good.

Soccer Loop Receives Four Entries

Four teams entered the Peterborough & District Soccer Association at a meeting last night in the YMCA: CGE, Lindsay, O'Halloran's, and the Petes. No application came from Legion, winners last year. The secretary will write the City Council asking use of King Edward Park again. Other parties who might be interested in entering will be contacted, too. All teams may sign 20 players, the fee being 50 cents for signing forms. Transfers will cost $2, and must be okayed by the committee.

A committee of five independent members was named as follows: Tom Garland, chairman, Peterborough; Asa Downer, Peterborough; Stroyan Leith, secretary, Peterborough; Reginald Cox of Lindsay, and George Anderson, Lindsay. The president of last year, Bill Gracie, opened the meeting, with Tom Garland later appointed chairman for the session.

Canada's Teddy, last year's outstanding handicap horse on Ontario tracks, Monday at Toronto was reported seriously ill in a veterinary hospital. The horse worked out at Woodbine track last week and was taken ill Sunday. The ailment is believed to be intestinal.

Canada's Teddy, owned by Mrs. Morris Fishman of Toronto, is the son of Teddy Wrack out of Toddler II. Last year the owner refused an offer of $25,000 for him.

Miss Tilly and Bangaway, winter book co-favorites for the Hambletonian, won't meet until the $67,000 trotting classic is staged at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 10.

Lists of nominations to Grand-circuit stakes disclosed Monday that Miss Tilly and Bangaway are named to three-year-old stakes worth $61,000—but never in the same race.

Miss Tilly, owned by C. W. Phellis of Greenwich, Conn., and Bangaway, from Toledo, O., stable of C. M. Saunders, were quoted equally at 3 to 1 in the official early line.

Miss Tilly earned $49,876 in purses last year to become the biggest money-winning two-year-old of all time.

St. Catharines Masons took a one-game lead in the Ontario Minor Hockey Associations finals at Toronto Monday night by defeating Toronto Marlboros 3-2 in overtime. The win gave Masons a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five series. Masons twice came from behind to send the game into overtime play and clinched it on Robertson's tally at 7:26.

Sugar Ray Robinson won all 10 rounds and scored two knockdowns as he whipped durable Don Lee in a non-title fight at Omaha, Neb., Monday night. Both Robinson, the welterweight champion, and the Edison, Neb., veteran, were well over the 147-pound limit. Robinson weighed in at 153¾, Lee at 159¼.

Badminton Club Victorious Over Port Hope

Peterborough Badminton Club players made it a clean sweep in the return matches here with Port Hope racquet-wielders. They took all events in ladies' and men's doubles and in mixed doubles.

With Strangler Lewis Refereeing The Match Hood Should Be Removed From Marvel

Strangler Ed Lewis will referee the all-important main bout in the Brock Arena when Fred Atkins meets the Masked Marvel.

Fred Atkins

Ray Villmer

After the scrap those two big powerhouses put up last week Manager Jim Laidlaw felt that it would take a man of the Strangler's known ability to handle the match. There will be no time limit and if the British Empire champion wins the mask must come off the secretive wrestler. That is a result that the fan have been waiting for with high hopes. On his record Atkins should turn the trick tomorrow night, because Lewis is one official that will see to it that there will be no shenanigans by the Marvel.

Sliding Billy Hanson and Ray Villmer will hook up in the semi-final and this bout should be a mat classic for both are smart, clean, scientific wrestlers. Irish Tom Collins meets John Katan to open up what may well be the biggest night of wrestling here. The house should be packed.

Leafs Worried Wings May Take First Toronto Tilt

ST. CATHARINES, April 12 (CP)—Toronto Maple Leaf coach Hap Day today was added to the casualty list. He's sporting a taped finger—the result of a biting habit during games.

Day, who has guided the Leafs to a two-game lead over Detroit Red Wings in the best-of-seven final for the Stanley Cup, is also plagued with butterflies in his stomach.

Lounging around the Leaf training quarters here, Day foresees a determined Detroit bid to win the third game of the series in Toronto tomorrow night. Toronto won the first game 3-2 and the second 3-1.

"We took the opening two games from Boston in the semi-final series away from home," he said. "However, we lost the third to the Bruins right on our home ice. . . and I'm afraid of a repeat in Toronto Wednesday."

A three-day rest may be all the National Hockey League champion Wings need. Although the Leafs, who have won the cup for the last two years are in good form, the Red Wings have shown the effects of their tough seven-game semi-final series against Montreal Canadiens.

Day is expected to send in the same starting team as in the first two contests. Max Bentley will pivot a line with Joe Klukay and rookie Ray Timgren. Protecting 34-year-old netminder Turk Broda will be the much-improved Garth Boesch and burly Bill Barilko.

Start Off With McNab

Coach Tommy Ivan will likely start off with Max McNab centering a line with Gerry Couture and Nels Podolsky. Defenceman Bill Quackenbush and Red Kelly will front Harry Lumley in the Detroit nets.

Also on the Toronto casualty list today was right-winger Bill Ezinicki, who suffered a gash over his left eye in Sunday's game that required three stitches to close.

However, Ezinicki, who's back to his heavy-going form after a previous injury, doesn't take the injury seriously. "I forgot when I got it," he said.

Eastern Canada Finals May Open On Friday

TORONTO, April 12.—(CP). — The Eastern Canada senior hockey finals may open Friday night. It depends upon the outcome of the Sherbrooke-Ottawa Senators series.

Ottawa leads the best-of-seven series 3-2, with one game tied, and can wind up the series with one victory, or a tie. However, if Sherbrooke wins tonight, a special Canadian Amateur Hockey Association meeting will decide when the eighth will be played.

If the Senators win tonight, the series final will start in Toronto Friday night and then switch to Ottawa next Saturday and Tuesday. The fourth and fifth game, if necessary, will be played in Toronto April 21 and 23.

Former Kings, Queens Of Filmdom Retired Or Trying Other Jobs

By BOB THOMAS,

HOLLYWOOD, April 12 (AP)—Where are they now? What has happened to the Glenn Fords and the Ava Gardners of yesteryear, the men and women whom fame has touched and then has left behind?

Recently AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Dewitt Mackenzie presented me with a list of his old-time movie favorites and asked what has happened to them. Herewith are my findings about them, as well as some others who slipped from stardom:

Gloria Swanson and Eric Von Stroheim, once great feuders, are back in Hollywood to do a picture together. Ramon Navarro, lately a real estate man, has also made recently film comebacks.

Pola Negri and Mae Murray were recently in town, trying to peddle their memoirs to the studios. Francis X. Bushman acts in radio soap operas in Hollywood.

Billie Dove is married to socialite Robert Kenaston. After a session as a producer here, Bebe Daniels has returned to England, where husband Ben Lyon is an executive for 20th Century-Fox.

Charles Farrell operates the Palm Springs Racquet Club, favorite resort for the movie crowd. His former co-star, Janet Gaynor is retired and married to designer Gilbert Adrian.

Clara Kimball Young is retired and lives alone in a Hollywood bungalow. Maurice Costello and his daughter Helene live at the Motion Picture Country Home, and he does occasional bit roles. Dolores Costello, once wed to John Barrymore, is now married to a Los Angeles doctor.

Retired Film Queens

Among the former film queens who have married and retired are: Theda Bara to Director Charles Brabin; Corinne Griffith to the Washington football Redskins' George Marshall; Marian Nixon to Director Bill Seiter; Laura Laplante to Irving Asher, MGM official in London; Ann Harding to Conductor Werner Janssen; Louise Fazenda to Producer Hal Wallis.

Clara Bow and Rex Bell live on a Nevada ranch. Colleen Moore is wealthy and retired in Chicago. Nils Asther is a civil service delivery clerk, earning a $1 an hour.

Tim McCoy is making Westerns for television. Buster Keaton is a gag man and actor at MGM; Monte Blue does character parts at Warners.

Norma Talmadge is married to a Las Vegas doctor and Constance to a New York broker. Sue Carol became an agent and managed her husband to fame. His name: Alan Ladd.

Buffaloes Move On Trip Moose Jaw 5-3

MOOSE JAW, Sask., April 12 (CP)—It's Calgary Buffaloes and Brandon Wheat Kings for the western junior hockey crown.

Buffaloes moved into the sectional final last night by pounding out a 5-2 victory over the lighter Moose Jaw Canucks. The triumph gave Buffs the best-of-seven series four games to two.

The Albertans and the Wheat Kings open their best-of-seven series in Calgary April 14 with the second game also there April 16. It's probable that the Wheaties will open as at least slight favorites on their performances over the season.

Canucks had plenty of fight in last night's contest, played before 2,500 fans, but they simply couldn't match strides with the bulkier Calgary club. Calgary's goals were scored by Bob Gilhooly, Ross Tyrell, Sid Finney, Jack Steele and Bob Carlson. Moose Jaw scorers were Jack Shave and Red Mellor.

GALT MAN FIFTH

Ab Morton of Galt, veteran marathoner who finished fifth in the Boston marathon in both 1946 and 1947, entered the 1949 event Monday. He did not compete last year.
